

THE BOSTON FAMILY OF MARYLAND

Second Edition

Revised

with Supplement

by

Matthew M. Wise

To Leslie Dryden, the most astute, resourceful, and painstaking genealogist I know of, professional or amateur, without whose thoughtful insight and continuing kind and generous assistance and sharing over many years this work in its present form would not have been possible.

In deep appreciation,
Matt

PREFACE TO SECOND EDITION

Not every compiler of a family history has an opportunity to correct the mistakes of the first edition in a second. After the original copies of this work were exhausted in 1977, a sufficient number of requests continued to arrive so that I finally decided to prepare a new edition, welcoming the opportunity to correct the innumerable errors, not only typographical but also especially factual, that I had discovered or that readers had called to my attention.

Instead of merely compiling a supplement, I early made the decision to retain the original format (I still had the original mock-up sheets from which the first edition was printed) and to add at the end a supplement of updated material. My initial aim was fairly modest: to try to account, so far as possible, for the whereabouts of everyone in the book who was living at the time of the 1967 edition, by discovering and recording either the date and place of death or a current address.

Because of interest expressed, I soon recognized that I would have to offer to all family members I could locate the opportunity to update their family records. The first job was still to update my file of addresses, an enterprise that really proved to be more successful than I should have had any reason to hope. At first I naively expected that examination of available telephone directories and 200 or 300 letters to key members of the family would yield virtually all available addresses. But the search rapidly expanded, and I was overwhelmed by the interest generated and the response from family members. One led me to others. Once I had started tracking down addresses, I felt unsatisfied until I had exhausted all possible channels. In the end, I wrote over 1300 letters and mailed over 1500 questionnaires. There are still addresses that I could seek, but I waited for responses from some of my leads until it was too late to try new ones. As the information accumulated, doubts arose as to whether it could all be squeezed between the covers of one volume. (The publisher assured me that one volume could accommodate 704 pages without any problem.) Although I could wish for updating of 100% of the family, fortunately many for whom I have addresses did not respond so that it was just possible to pack all the available information between the two covers. Nonetheless, as a consequence of all the material so generously sent, the work of preparing this volume became a mammoth undertaking. The size has, in fact, been increased by 40%.

The new edition contains everything in the original, on the same pages, with the following exceptions. As I acknowledged in my 1967 Preface, one of the most risky features of a family history is tracing an American family to its European origins. I learned subsequently that the English origins of the Dixon and Minshall families were based on faulty evidence; their supposed English forebears, therefore, together with their noble and royal ancestry, have been removed. The only change in pagination was necessitated by deletion of the English Minshalls. The only major change in the original text is the substitution of a correct Lankford family (Nos. 316-318, 734, 1464-67, 2156-61) for an incorrect one.

Otherwise, I have attempted to retain family groups exactly as they appeared in the first edition (pages 11-355). For most of the text, therefore, the family is as it was in the early and mid-1960's. If small corrections or additions (such as a death or a current address) could conveniently be inserted in an original family group with little or no alteration, I have usually inserted them there. I have identified current addresses in the original text by a dot ●. (If there is no dot, nor a death recorded, I have been unable to locate the family.) I have used "Res." (for residence) as a convenient abbreviation, even if the address consists of a route and box number or a P.O. Box. As a security precaution I have not generally included apartment numbers. No consistent attempt was made to update occupations (which thus remain as they were in the 1960's) or to indicate that an individual has retired. If the death of a numbered head of a family is recorded, I have not tried also to record it under his (her) parents' entry. In a very few instances updating was done right in the original text, notably on pages 283-287, 298, 348-349, and partially in the Lankford family (above); a heavy sprinkling of dots provides the clue. But even there occupations have not generally been updated.

Corrections small and large will be found in the SUPPLEMENT, which occupies pages 458-617. If corrections and especially additions were so extensive that there was not space in the original text, they have been recorded in the Supplement, to which the reader is directed by a notation in the original family group (for instance: See S2272, p. 557). The same numbers are used as in the original text, but prefaced by "S." The index also contains both locations of each name. Since only families are included in the Supplement for whom updated information was made available, there are naturally gaps in the sequence of numbering.

Additions to early generations are sometimes material that I already had in 1967 but that had escaped my attention, or they may be new evidence. For instance, Mr. L. P. Dryden supplied details from the 18th century Somerset County tax lists in the Maryland Historical Society to help determine ages, which have subsequently been corrected where necessary in the original text.

But for current generations my objective was to bring the family record up to date primarily in terms of dates and places of marriage, birth, and death, and generally I requested only this information. I did not seek parents of spouses, education, occupations, retirements, or causes of death, but if such data was sent, I usually included it. However, even if a spouse's parents were sent, I usually omitted them if they had no grandchildren. Much of the Supplement is therefore largely a catalog of names and dates, but from time to time a nugget of other information may provide livelier reading.

In preparing the Supplement, I tried to repeat as little as possible from the original text, only enough data to identify the individual and to establish his (her) place in the family, mainly as a connecting link for adding information on the children. If parents of a family were already deceased in 1967, only years of birth and death are provided. Each entry consists of the individual's full name; the name of the parent who is a Boston descendant (only the father if he is the family member, or father's initials and mother's name if she is the family member), followed by the number of that parent in the original text; the individual's date of birth (but not place); an abbreviated name of the spouse (date of birth only if his or her death is also recorded). Additions for the head of a family, aside from a record of death, mainly consist of dates (and places where known) and other information on new marriages and divorces since the early 1960's, and current addresses.

If in the original entry all the children are assigned their own numbers, they are not included under parents in the Supplement. Most children who were not originally assigned numbers are listed in the Supplement under their parents (unless updated in the original entry), their full names and full dates of birth, plus new information: marriage(s), spouse(s), address, children, usually all the information that was sent to me. And if the parents had one or a few very young children in 1967, and their family has grown, all the children are normally listed. Usually addresses for children under 21 or 22 are not indicated, for they are presumed to reside with parents. If all, or some, children are not included in a Supplement entry, the reader is usually directed: "for children, see main entry" or "for other children, see main entry." Some readers may be disappointed not to find their family or parents' family in its entirety all in one place, but to have made this possible would have swelled the Supplement beyond the scope of a single volume.

In addition to updated material for families in the original edition, the Supplement also contains three other substantial branches that were "discovered" after the first edition was published (identified by the letters S-G, S-H, and S-J), as well as other family groups that I did not know about in 1967 (for instance, Boston of Wichita Falls, S169; Carter, S325; Brioady, S750; and Lathbury, S935a). Since all these appear here for the first time, they have usually been dealt with more fully than those that also appeared in the original edition.

Though errors of various kinds abound throughout the original edition, the greatest concentration of factual errors is found in APPENDIX III, where I rashly included a number of families from one or more of which most of the Bostons are descended. I was trying to explore the murky past without adequate light to penetrate into shadowy corners. Over the past nineteen years that light has been provided largely by Mr. Leslie P. Dryden of Hyattsville, Maryland, whose tireless researches and compendious knowledge of Eastern Shore genealogy have rescued me from many a trap. He has been a close collaborator in my revision of this section. Principally through his help with voluminous new evidence I have extensively revised some families (e.g. Covington, Griffin, Long, Powell, Scott, Williams, White) and partially or completely restructured others (Cottingham, Henderson, Lankford, Merrill, Tilghman, Tull). New material was even added for Atkinson, Minshall (Mitchell), Porter, and others, but Mr. Dryden's handiwork is to be found almost everywhere. If there was more evidence than could be fitted into the original pages of the Appendix, it has been added in NOTES TO APPENDIX III. Throughout the text I have tried frequently to make cross-references to Appendix III and the Notes more convenient by inserting page and entry numbers instead of merely directing the reader to the family name.

A few observations about general characteristics of the Boston family in the mid-1980's, which reflect the nation as a whole, may be of interest. Most notably, the family has become increasingly mobile in the past twenty years, a fact which explains why it took so much time and effort to track down the 4497 for whom I have addresses (an increase of over 1000 since 1967 in spite of those who could not be located). Since I began updating addresses in January 1984, fully 10% of the family has moved, and some have made two or three moves. Marriages now occur commonly between people who grew up at opposite ends of the country.

The greatest concentration of the family, as might be expected, is still in the homeland of their American origins, along the Atlantic seaboard, the Eastern Shore of Virginia and Maryland, a total of 1016 addresses, and if we add the 201 in Delaware, it brings the total to 1217, just over 25% of the family. (Numbers refer to heads of families or to individuals with their own residences.) The highest concentration of all is in little Pocomoke City, Md., and its nearby environs, where 107 reside. For Maryland as a whole, there are 805, including the 499 on the Eastern Shore, and 144 in Baltimore and suburbs, the most in any one metropolitan area. For Virginia as a whole there are 548 (of which 317 are on the Eastern Shore).

Heavy concentrations are also to be found in the three states to which early westward migration carried several groups of the family: Kentucky (339), Missouri (288), and Indiana (243), nearly 20%. But recent migration to the Sun Belt shows comparable concentrations: 292 in California, 270 in Texas, 118 in Florida, accounting for nearly 15%. (Not merely the elderly or retired now move to Florida, but those of all ages.) If we throw in North Carolina (18), Georgia (40), Alabama (28), Arizona (28), South Carolina (18), New Mexico (13), and Mississippi (12), we have 875, nearly 20% in Sun Belt states.

The remaining 35% of the family are scattered in every other state but Rhode Island: Colorado (113), Pennsylvania (107), Wash. (95), Tenn. (92), Okla. (74), N. Y. (65), Ark. (60), N. J. (58), Ohio (57), Ore. (56), Ill. (44); 40 each in Iowa and Mich.; La. (39), Kan. (36), Mont. (30), Wyo. (25), Idaho (20), Wis. (12), Nev. (11), Alaska (10), Utah (9), Minn. (9), W. Va. (7), the Dakotas (6 - only 1 in N. Dak.), and 4 each in Hawaii and Nebraska. There has been least migration from Maryland north to New England, where only 47 reside (Conn. 23, Mass. 10, Maine 8, N. Y. and Vt. 3 each). The Washington, D. C., area accounts for 84, with only 10 in D. C. proper, the others in suburban Md. and Va. More of the family named Boston reside in Texas (26) than in any other state (22 in Ky.). Although my address file is not computerized, for the interested family member I have the capability of fairly easily assembling family addresses for a particular area.

Among other characteristics reflective of current trends is the high rate of divorce, which at a glance seems higher than the national average, and there is a considerable number of second, third, and even fourth marriages. Causes of death (when reported) reveal a greatly increased number of violent deaths, mostly in automobile accidents, but there are also a death in a mine disaster and one alleged murder of a mother by her son. The sampling of occupations that are included in the Supplement indicates enormous variety. There are still characteristic employees of the U. S. Postal Service, and teachers. There are two retired college presidents, a delegate to a state legislature, a couple who are "Grand Ole Opry" performers, and another couple who are TV stars.

I have taken great pains to proofread carefully to try to correct all old errors and to avoid new ones, but somehow errors have a way of escaping the attention of the most diligent and informed observer: new ones are always turning up in already proofed pages. With thousands of names and dates and hundreds of page cross-references, some errors are inevitable. If I have misspelled a name, or overlooked a child, or omitted a name from the index, or distorted a year of marriage so that the child appears to have arrived exceptionally early, I offer my apologies. Sometimes I misread a spelling or a date in information that was sent, and I could not always take time to double check. I have tried to copy exactly what was submitted to me. Undoubtedly I have omitted a page cross-reference or supplied a wrong one, changed one cross-reference and neglected to change the corresponding one, missed identifying a current address with a dot. In pasting and patching over hundreds of corrections and small additions in the original text, I have surely neglected to cover over some old address, or a patch may have worked loose so that an unintelligible group of letters will be visible. I only hope that the errors now are at least less frequent than in the first edition. I apologize for inconsistencies in style, capitalization, abbreviations, punctuation, and for vagaries of typography, such as broken or slipped letters, for it has been a continuous struggle with the antique IBM Executive on which the copy is typed, and I could not always wait for service.

I wish to express my deep appreciation to all the hundreds of family members who have generously supplied information, many of them for the second time. I would especially like to thank Mrs. Mary Frances Carey of New Church, Va., for research on the Taylors at Accomac; Dr. William R. Bishop, Jr., of Reading, Pa., for corrections on Denwood and Marshall (of Va.); Dr. Robert F. Jones of Gainsboro, Tenn., for corrections on Paynes; Mr. Willis Clayton Tull of Cockeysville, Md., for details on the Tull-Minshall line; and Mr. Charles S. Waller for permission to use material from his Waller in America (1979). I owe special thanks to family members for their particular generosity: to Mrs. A. D. Merrill for help with many Pocomoke, Md., families; to Mrs. James R. Havens of Evansville, Ind., for help with her kinfolk; to Mr. Roger Mackey of Newburgh, Ind., for substantially reconstructing his family for me; to Mr. Ralph R. Reid of Louisville, Ky., Mrs. Verda Pasila of Lewiston, Idaho, and Mrs. Bessie Richey of Leesburg, Fla., for collecting and sending material on dozens of (respectively) the Jeffersontown, Ky., Boston-Miller-Bradbury families; the Knights-Smiths, etc., of Washington and Oregon; and the Indiana Bostons; and to Lt. Col. Woodrow T. Wilson of Crisfield, Md., for his kind permission to borrow many details, small and large, from his very informative Thirty-Four Families of Old Somerset County, Maryland (1974). Most of all I wish to thank Mr. Leslie P. Dryden, whose generous aid I have already acknowledged, but no expression of gratitude can ever be adequate for his rich assistance. Although I regret that I cannot thank him in person, I wish to express my deep appreciation to the late Walter L. Jones for his generous contribution of the work he was doing on the Taylor family. I must also thank my wife, Nancy, and our good friend, Homer Bast, for the laborious work of helping with the index. And finally I wish to express my appreciation to all the members of the family who have recently written to thank me for the effort I have put into this project, "for caring about the Boston family."

A family history is never completed, not simply because new members are constantly being added by birth and marriage and others lost by death, but because new evidence is always turning up for earlier generations. Despite all the research in the past twenty years, no proof has yet been found for my connection with the Boston family, and I have come to feel that there is actually no direct connection, yet I continue to hold out hope that the crucial evidence will some day be discovered. Nevertheless, through other families I am related to about half the Bostons, and through extensive correspondence with many, and telephone conversations and actual acquaintance with some, I feel closer to the Bostons than to most of my known relatives.

PREFACE TO FIRST EDITION

This study, which began in curiosity about my ancestors, has grown to proportions beyond all expectation. Fairly early in my investigations I fixed on the Boston family for special concentration because other ancestral lines proved too elusive or provided a confusing wealth of similar names, and by contrast because the Bostons appeared to have left a fairly clear trail in the public records but were yet comparatively few in number. Encouraged by discovering two others who were also collecting material on the Bostons, I widened and intensified my efforts, challenged by the elusiveness of my "missing link" and stimulated by the sheer pleasure of "sleuthing." Following every clue, I gradually accumulated a large and growing body of material, not only for Bostons but for many related families as well. Interest grew among members of the family, who urged me to make available this material in published form. Ironically, amid all the evidence for several thousand Boston descendants, proof of my connection with the family has failed to turn up.

This compilation is designed to be a comprehensive survey of all known descendants of three sons of Henry Boston, immigrant to the Eastern Shore in the 1640's, to the thirteenth generation. (His eldest son evidently had no offspring, and to have included descendants of his daughters would nearly have doubled the scope of the book.) A few other lines through female descendants, which have remained incomplete, may yet be completed with further research. Publication was originally planned for 1963, to mark the three-hundredth anniversary of the arrival of the Bostons in Maryland, but mounting volume of material and other circumstances have delayed it until now. Every effort has been exerted to make the record complete to 1963, although in some parts of this account will be found dates of events as recent as June 1967.

Virtually no help was afforded by published materials on the family. The only earlier effort at a family history was that made by Charles Elliott Boston, who compiled a short account of his father's family, a typed copy of which is to be found in the Indiana Room of the Indiana State Library, Indianapolis; it provided valuable dates and other information as well as confirmation of connections with other branches of his family. Charles Anderson Boston supplied a brief lineage for inclusion in Mackenzie's Colonial Families in America, III:54. The present account is therefore based largely on original research in the Maryland Hall of Records and (now incorporated with it) the Maryland Land Office and in courthouses principally in Virginia, Maryland, Kentucky, Indiana, and Missouri, on parish registers, on death records from health departments primarily in Virginia and Maryland, on census and military service and pension records in the National Archives, on marriage records, tax lists, and other materials in the Maryland Historical Society, on cemetery records and monuments, and especially on family Bible records and other information provided through visits and correspondence with members of the family. All available information from public or family sources before about 1870 has been included, but for the family in the last century usually only the minimum vital statistics are recorded here. Some readers may be disappointed that there are not more colorful anecdotes about their relatives, but the scope of the work unfortunately precludes them.

A few members of the family may be offended by the freedom with which I have included some information from early records which, it may be felt, should be suppressed and forgotten, but this is after all a history, not a panegyric; the behavior of one's forebears does not reflect on his descendants; similar situations can be found in almost any family, and many a noble European family proudly displays a "bar sinister" on its coat-of-arms.

Much of the variant spelling, especially of proper names and place names in early records, has been preserved, but it must be remembered that the spelling was usually that of the clerk recording the will or deed rather than the testator or land owner.

All reasonable care has been exercised to insure completeness and correctness in text and index, but errors have certainly escaped our vigilance, and a few names, regrettably, may be missing from the index, especially since information was still being received after much of the index had been compiled. I especially crave the reader's indulgence for occasional inconsistencies in form; the manuscript was typed over a period of many months as time could be found in the midst of other work. A more consistent and polished work might have been produced if I were willing to allow more time, but I wanted older members of the family to have the opportunity to see this history, and I know that more time would simply result in further research and a more bulky compilation.

The arrangement of the material follows standard forms. Every child and descendant of Henry Boston who is known to have had children is assigned a reference number. (Children who remained single or those who married but had no children of their own are recorded under the parent.) In each entry will be found not only the reference number for the particular individual, but also the number assigned to his parent and the numbers for all his children who are carried forward. The numbering is continuous from one generation to the next; that is, all Henry Boston's children are numbered consecutively 2-5, his grandchildren 6-9, his great-grandchildren 10-22, and so on. Five groups of Henry Boston's undoubted descendants (as well as several individuals) for whom precise proof of connection with the family has not been found are collected in Appendix I, where the same numbering system is employed.

A respected genealogist justifiably defended his decision not to include the parents of husbands and wives of his family's descendants on the grounds that the bulk of errors in most family histories is found in such data, and tracing descendants on a scale such as this in itself entails considerable risk of error. In disregarding his example, I not only increase the normal possibility of errors, but I have risked compounding error by venturing to trace the ancestry of many of these husbands and wives, in Appendix III, which has become a small compendium of many Eastern Shore families. Such a course is the more defensible here since in a fairly closed society where the same families have resided for three centuries marriages are constantly occurring among a fairly small number of families (though cousin marriages are uncommon); moreover, research into the Boston family inevitably turned up quantities of information for related families, and the exhaustive researches of Mrs. Anne G. Greene, of Philadelphia, into all her Eastern Shore ancestors has produced a wealth of supplementary information, and other relatives have also been generous in contributing the results of research in their own families. Only a small portion of all this material could be condensed and edited for inclusion here.

If difficulties confront the historian attempting to trace an American family back through the American Revolutionary period, the attempt to identify the European ancestry of an American family is fraught with even graver dangers. I have perhaps unwisely risked all these dangers. Insofar as there is any validity in the findings, I offer them for the enjoyment of Henry Boston's descendants. (A word of caution should be offered: the fact that one's family name happens to be the same as that of a family in Appendix III does not necessarily mean descent from that family, for frequently more than one family by the same name settled on the Shore, for instance, Marshall, Jones, Smith, Taylor.)

The Bostons may be disappointed that no coat-of-arms is included. Since, however, Henry Boston's origin has not been determined, it would be impossible to know whether a Scottish or English crest might apply. It may be interesting to note that individuals named Boston now living in this country have had such diverse origins as Ireland, Germany, and Bohemia, as well as Scotland and England.

Any compiler of a family history of this scope must be heavily indebted to many people. I wish first to thank the hundreds of Boston descendants who kindly cooperated in supplying information for their own families and those who have kept in touch with me and provided continued encouragement. I particularly wish to thank Mr. Thomas W. Joy of Silver Spring, Md., who helped to launch this project by making available his uncle's papers, and whose "moral support" has been deeply appreciated; Mr. and Mrs. George B. Ward of Marion Station, Md., who continued to help in many ways; and those who generously contributed extensive information: Miss Margaret Myrtle Lankford of Laurel, Md., Mrs. Bessie B. Coburn of Ft. Lupton, Colo., Mrs. Wilbur B. Fryling of Tucson, Ariz., Mr. F.O. Townes of Danville, Ky., Mr. Woodrow T. Wilson of Crisfield, Md.; particularly Mrs. Opal Schulte of Gerald, Mo., Mrs. June Brockelmeyer of Hermann, Mo., Mrs. James Fordice of Union, Ore., Mr. Buel Richey of Central City, Ky., and Mr. Guy L. Boston of Jeffersonton, Ky., for collecting data for entire branches of their families; and above all, Mrs. Anne G. Greene, who in addition made possible much of Appendix III. I especially wish to thank Mr. Mark C. Lewis of Parksley, Va., for sharing information from his compilation of Accomack County marriage bonds, and Mr. Leslie P. Dryden of Hyattsville, Md., for most generously contributing the results of his research on the Dryden and Powell families and for undertaking further investigations at the Library of Congress, especially for Appendix III.

For kindly making available family portraits and photographs I wish to express my sincere appreciation to the following members of the family: (p. 39) Mrs. Henry W. Decker of Aylett, Va. (28 and 55), Mrs. Preston B. Taylor of Norfolk, Va. (89); (p. 43) Miss Margaret Myrtle Lankford of Laurel, Md. (58), Mr. Guy L. Boston of Jeffersonton, Ky. (60), Mrs. E.C. Cross of St. Petersburg, Fla. (65), Mrs. Glenn D. Irwin of Terra Haute, Ind. (133); (p. 49) Mrs. Frank O. Bowman of Carmel, Calif. (74), Mr. Albert D. Boston of Plainview, Tex. (78), Mrs. Thelma Boston Harral of Louisville (79); (p. 51) Mrs. Wayne A. Mitchell of Kinston, N. C. (47), Mrs. Charles D. Kinnard of Pendleton, Ind. (80, 80iv); (p. 53) the late Dr. Rufus Town Stephenson (46, 82), the late Mrs. Jewel Taylor Wheeler (81); (p. 59) the late Mrs. Myrna Stevenson Dennis (109), Mrs. Daisy Boston Wise (254); (p. 61) Mrs. John Schmitz of Pocomoke City, Md.; (p. 67) Miss Opal King of Owensboro, Ky. (335, 144viii), Mr. F. O. Townes of Danville, Ky. (144, 340); (p. 69) Miss Opal King of Owensboro (342), Mrs. Bessie Coburn of Fort Lupton, Colo. (145), Mrs. Opal Schulte of Gerald, Mo. (149), Mr. Edward P. Harris of Snow Hill, Md. (386b); (p. 287) Mrs. Harold C. Smith of Cape Charles, Va. (A4); (p. 301)

the late Miss Daisy Ward (B10), Mrs. George B. Ward of Marion Station, Md. (B11), Mrs. Frederick B. Mills of Silver Spring, Md. (B4), Mr. Thomas W. Joy of Silver Spring (B12, and also B15 on p. 303); (p. 329) Mrs. Franklin Wright of Sturgis, Ky. (C3), and Mr. Buel Richey of Central City, Ky. (C2).

The map on page 4 is derived from Atlas of Wicomico, Somerset and Worcester Cos., Md., by Lake, Griffing, and Stevenson, Philadelphia, 1877, kindly loaned by Mr. Thomas E. Ward of Baltimore; that on p. 5 is based on maps showing the original patents in Somerset Co. compiled and drawn by the late Harry L. Benson of Baltimore, kindly made available by Mr. Garner of the Maryland Land Office, Annapolis. I especially wish to thank my nephew, James M. Wise, for preparing these maps for inclusion here.

For assistance in making records available I wish to express my appreciation to the staffs of the Maryland Historical Society; the county courthouses at Eastville and Accomac, Va., Snow Hill, Princess Anne, and Salisbury, Md., and Sullivan and Terre Haute, Ind.; the Indiana Room of the Indiana State Library; the Kentucky Historical Society at Frankfort; the Central Search Room of the National Archives, Washington, D.C. (for census and military records); and the Maryland Land Office (until this year a separate office) and the Hall of Maryland Records, at Annapolis.

Permission has kindly been granted by the National Archives for including pension records for Jacob W. Boston, William H. Boston, and James A. Mattingly, and bounty-land warrant application for Zorobable Landon from Record Group 15, Records of the Veterans Administration; and for including service records for John T. Boston, Davis Richey, George R. Rowe, and James A. Smith from Record Group 94, Records of the Adjutant General's Office.

Special authorization has also been granted by the Hall of Maryland Records to quote extensively from wills (pp. 15-16, 19, 24-25) and inventories (pp. 13-14).

I particularly wish to thank my own family for assistance and encouragement at every stage of this venture over many years. My only regret is that my father did not live to enjoy the results. My wife Nancy deserves deeper appreciation than can be expressed for assisting in collection of material, in preparing the manuscript, and in organizing the index, but above all for undertaking the laborious task of proofreading most of the typescript. Her patience and forbearance as this was taking shape have done much to make publication possible.

A NOTE ON USING THIS BOOK

It is hoped, of course, that every Boston descendant will read this book from cover to cover, but for speedy tracing of one's ancestry, the following procedure is recommended: the index will refer the reader to the entry in the body of the text where his name is to be found. If by some unfortunate oversight a particular name has been omitted from the index, reference to the name of a brother or sister or a parent in the index will direct one to the appropriate entry. When the reader has located his name in an entry, after the name of his parent who is a Boston descendant he will find a number which will lead him to an earlier entry in the book; thus by following the reference numbers for parent, grandparent, and so forth, one can trace his lineage back to Henry Boston. Moreover, in reverse order, if one will follow the reference numbers assigned to the children of his great-grandfather or great-great-grandfather, for example, he will be able to locate all his cousins. In addition, each reader will find in the entry for at least one of his ancestors a direction such as: (see WARD family) or (See p. 436, No. 6). If no page number is provided, it will be found in the Index to Appendix III at the end of the volume. Reference to the Ward family will uncover a line of Ward ancestors; there the reader may also be instructed (see LONG family) or (See p. 415, No. 18). In this way, following such references from family to family, many whose names appear in this book will discover dozens more ancestors besides their Boston lineage.

Matthew M. Wise, Ph.D.

The late Matthew Montgomery Wise, Ph.D., a noted Eastern Shore family historian, was the great-grandson of Thomas G. Ward of Manokin in Somerset County. Wise was a retired professor of English and department chair at Roanoke College. His education included a B.A. from George Washington University (1944), M.A. George Washington University (1946), and Ph.D. from Columbia University (1955). Wise conducted comprehensive and meticulous research for his publications. He and his wife Nancy interviewed and corresponded with many descendants of the early settlers of the Eastern Shore, making many friends along the way.

His book, "The Boston Family of Maryland" (Second Edition Revised with Supplement) was published in 1986 and is no longer available in print. It has been reproduced in its entirety on Nabb's website with the permission of the Nancy Wise, widow of the author. The book contains a wealth of information about the Boston family and its affiliates.

Dr. Wise also wrote "The Littleton Heritage: Some American Descendants of Col. Nathaniel Littleton (1605-1654) of Northampton Co., Virginia, and His Royal Forebears." This latter book, published in 1997, details information about many branches of the Littleton family. Whittington, Long, Roach, Bell, Wilson, Savage, Waters, Eyre, Tazewell, Robins, Denwood, Gilliss, Winder, Fassitt, Tingle and Purnell are but a few of the families mentioned. Happily, the "Littleton Heritage" is still available in hardcopy through the Nabb Research Center.

At the time of his passing in June of 2000, Dr. Wise was at work on his next publication concerning the Long family, on which he had researched some 30 years. Mrs. Wise presented his research materials to the Nabb Center and one of our dedicated volunteers, Polly Batchelder, has spent several years writing, reviewing and editing the material. She has completed her work and we are in the process having the data entered for publication. We hope this will be accomplished in the near future and will also be available online on Nabb's website.

Regarding the "Boston Book" available here on our site, in order to keep the index page references correct, the book has been divided into two parts. The first section includes the title page, prefaces, table of contents, list of maps and illustrations, and notes explaining abbreviations and sources. The second section includes the introduction, the book itself, supplements and indexes. Names can be researched using the indexes and the page numbers indicated in the index will correspond with the pdf document page numbers (except for two small exceptions due to the layout of the original). Bookmarks are also included to separate the chapters.

This project and the Long Book project would not have been possible without the approval of Mrs. Nancy Wise, the support of the Fair Play Foundation, and the encouragement of Thomas Fooks V, Board member emeritus of the Nabb Research Center.

INTRODUCTION

THE BOSTON FAMILY OF MARYLAND

The origin of Henry Boston, immigrant to the Virginia Eastern Shore in the 1640's, has not been determined. A tradition survives in the family that he was Scottish. Descendants in Missouri and Colorado of James Boston (1778-1833), who migrated to Louisville in 1805, preserve a tradition that Esau Boston (38), father of James, was "from Scotland," and Jacob Boston (61) of Baltimore possessed a volume of sermons of the Rev. Thomas Boston (1676-1732), a noted Presbyterian minister of Ettrick, Scotland, who Jacob Boston maintained was a relative. It is doubtful that Jacob knew of an exact connection, though he too may have heard that the family was of Scottish origin and inferred that the minister must be of the same family. The minister of Ettrick left an account of his family which traces the origins to 1609 in Duns, Berwickshire, but unfortunately the name Henry does not appear in his records. That the Non-conformist Henry Boston was probably a Presbyterian would lend support to the tradition of his Scottish ancestry, but by 1640 Calvinism was also widespread among the English.

An English family of Lincolnshire named Boston, which probably derives its name from the town of Boston (originally St. Botolph's town), has been assumed by some to be Henry Boston's family. Examination of available parish records for the period reveals only the christening in the parish of Langton by Horn-castle of a "Heneri" Boston, 7 May 1601, a date which seems rather early for the Henry Boston of Somerset County, Maryland.

It had been thought that through marriages all of Henry Boston's descendants could claim British ancestry, but evidence does not support such claims. Henry's eldest son, Isaac, married Elizabeth Long, whose mother's family, the Minshalls, almost certainly came from Cheshire, England, and the wife of Isaac's son, Isaac, was descended from a Parker family of Southampton, England. Levin Boston, the grandson of Henry's youngest son, Richard, married a woman whose forebears, the Drydens, came from Scotland. Otherwise European ancestors have not been found for the spouses of Henry's descendants.

Henry Boston came first into Virginia about 1642 as an indentured servant to the Puritan surgeon, Col. Obedience Robins, whose plantation was located at "Cherrystone" (Cheriton) Creek, just north of the present town of Cape Charles, on the Virginia Eastern Shore. The first settlement on the Shore had been made in 1614, with a notable increase in immigration after 1622. In 1634 Accomack (an Indian name meaning "Across-the-Water-Place") was formed on the Eastern Shore as one of eight original "shires" in Virginia, but after 1634 it was called the county of Northampton, which was divided in 1663, the southern portion known henceforth as Northampton, the northern as Accomack County. The region in which Henry Boston spent his first twenty years in the New World is a low-lying peninsula between the Atlantic Ocean and the Chesapeake Bay, the sandy coastline broken by innumerable marshes, coves, inlets, and creeks, on which the settlers established themselves, principally on the Bay side. Stephen Charlton, for whom Henry Boston was a head-right in 1650, was granted land at Matchepungo Creek, on the seaboard side, just north of what is now Eastville. Henry Boston himself seems to have located in the northern part of (now) Accomack County, for in 1661 Anne Boston testified on behalf of the wife of William Silverthorne, whose family was in that area.

Henry Boston, a recognized Non-conformist, evidently became closely associated with others like himself, particularly the Quakers, with whom he publicly expressed sympathy in their persecution under the laws of Virginia, which the Quakers resisted and defied, suffering fines and imprisonment. For his outspokenness Boston himself in 1660 was fined a sum roughly equivalent to $200, remitted from $1000 (if we consider that raw tobacco brought 3 shillings a pound, and if a shilling is reckoned at about 16 cents). Boston may have been among those in 1661 who signed a petition (now lost) to Lord Baltimore, expressing a desire to "transplant" themselves and their families into the province of Maryland. As early as April 1651 Lord Baltimore, the Lord Proprietor of his province of Maryland, had urged upon the provincial governor the necessity of encouraging permanent settlement on the Eastern Shore of Maryland, for the purpose of protecting his claims to that region as expressed in his original charter, for there was danger from Virginia's claim to the area. And again in October 1656 in instructions to his governor and council he emphasized the importance of securing the boundary line between his province and Virginia.

As an inducement to settlement an Act of the Proprietor, 22 September 1658, offered 50 acres of land for every person "transported" into the colony. On 6 November 1661, in response to the petition of the (Quaker) residents of Northampton County, Virginia, Governor Philip Calvert issued a proclamation (endorsed by Lord Baltimore) granting permission to the petitioners to settle below the Choptank River. Lord Baltimore welcomed dissenters, for an Act of the Proprietor, issued at London 2 July 1649, had granted religious toleration and protection to "bodies professing trinitarian Christianity."

It was evidently a group of Quakers, unwanted in Virginia, who came first into the region, early in 1662. By May there were reportedly fifty tithables in the growing colony. The first settlements were on the Bay side on the south side and near the mouth of the Big (Great) Annessex River and along the Manokin River and its tributaries (and the areas came to be known by the names of the rivers), but settlement gradually spread along all the watercourses. At Annessex the majority of settlers were Quakers or their sympathizers, but at Manokin the settlers were predominantly Church of England. Even in Maryland these people still suffered harassment, for Virginia laid claim to the area, and Col. Scarborough, representing the Virginia authorities, with a company of four commissioners and forty mounted militiamen invaded the settlements in October 1663, venturing to coerce the settlers into recognizing the authority of the Virginia government and its right to tax them. His high-handed efforts at Annessex were defied by Stephen Horsey, Ambrose Dixon, and George Johnson, who were placed under nominal arrest, and perhaps resisted more peaceably by Henry Boston. (The boundary was finally drawn between Virginia and Maryland in June 1668.)

Lord Baltimore by proclamation 22 August 1666 created Somerset County, embracing all that area north of Virginia and south of the Nanticoke River and roughly the present southern boundary of Delaware, including the present counties of Wicomico, Worcester, and Somerset, and the county was divided into hundreds: Pocomoke, Annessex, Great and Little Monie, Morumsco, and Manokin. (The county was named in honor of Lord Baltimore's sister, "the Lady Mary Somerset.")

The general region in which Henry Boston settled, the most southeasterly part of Maryland, between ocean and Bay, is pre-vaillingly flat, lying mostly within forty feet of sea level, though some elevations in the western portion of what is now Worcester County rise to forty or fifty feet. The land is loamy and sandy, and numerous shallow streams, bordered by marshes, flow sluggishly into tidal "rivers" or inlets. This system of water-courses provided an admirable and convenient means of transportation two and three centuries ago when, it may be supposed, the creeks were less clogged with silt, though the Pocomoke River is still a major waterway.

From the beginning Henry Boston was one of the leaders in the new colony. He was a justice of the peace as early as 1664 and as such was named in Lord Baltimore's 1666 proclamation. When the first court of Somerset County met 4 September 1666, and the first marriage banns were published on the door of the place where the court was held (the second couple on the list being Thomas Tull of Annessex and Mary Mitchell [Minshall] of Morumsco), Henry Boston was sitting on the court with William Thorne, John Winder, and William Stevens, presiding, and Boston continued as a justice from time to time for the remaining ten years of his life. Henry Boston's descendants apparently remained out of public office until Daniel Boston (28) became a constable early in the nineteenth century.

From the time of Henry's death for the next half-century the Bostons remained in close proximity to each other in Morumscow. Isaac and Esau Boston in 1688 bought "Boston's Purchase," a tract near a large bend of Morumscow Creek about three miles from its mouth and about two miles due west of the present location of Rehobeth. Their brother Richard grew up a few miles to the north, on Robert Catlin's plantation, "Hartford Broad Oak," and Richard's son William remained in the vicinity, acquiring land nearby in 1746 between the Catlins and the Bostons. The first to move away from the family center was Jacob Boston (17), but only about three and a half miles distant, for he took up land in 1749 at Pitts Creek, very near the Virginia line, in the newly organized Worcester County, and at about the same time Jacob's brother, Lazarus (19), moved to the northeast, establishing himself at Dividing Creek, but both evidently kept in close touch with their relatives, for their father Esau continued to live at Morumscow until his death in 1768, and his sons continued to attend the same church until several years after that.

Although Henry Boston's sympathy, and associations, with the Quakers might lead one to conclude that he too was a member of the Society of Friends, he is more likely to have been a Presbyterian, in view of later associations of his family with Catlins (who married into the Presbyterian Williams family) and especially Whites, though the fact that Bostons do not appear in the surviving Presbyterian Sessions records suggests that they were not active. The earliest record in Coventry (Episcopal) Parish register of a Boston is that of the baptism of Henry's eldest great-granddaughter, Abigail Boston (11), daughter of Isaac, Jr., born 24 Feb. 1724, but the position of the entry in the register indicates that she and her husband Henry White were both baptised at the time of their marriage, 11 May 1746; perhaps they had met at Presbyterian services and were expressing dissatisfaction (they and their family remained in the Church of England). The Presbyterian minister Mr. Traile had located near the Bostons by 1686 and a Presbyterian Meeting House was erected at Rehobeth in 1705 (Torrence, p. 175). There is no indication of religious affiliation for any other of the Isaac Boston family (they were not members of Coventry) until the early nineteenth century, when the Daniel Bostons (28) became devout Baptists, even producing two Baptist clergymen, and the (presumed) descendants of Isaac Boston (10), the families of Joseph F. Boston (A4) and of William A. Ward (B4), became Methodists.

For the other two branches of the Boston family, descendants of Esau and Richard, Coventry Church became the religious center of their lives. Coventry Parish had been established in 1692 and a church built by 1705 at Rehobeth, a few hundred yards from the Meeting House. This original building stood only about four feet behind the present walls of the second church, which was built about 1785-86. Esau Boston, Jr. (16) had a child baptised in Coventry Church as early as 1745; his second marriage took place there, 1751; and his death is recorded in the register, 1760. Esau's brother Jacob (18) was also married there in 1747, and most of his children were baptised there (1748-1772). For Jacob's family, at Pitts Creek, attending services in the church at Rehobeth would have been a matter of only a short boat ride up the Pocomoke River, but his children married into Presbyterian families at Pitts Creek and became members of the Pitts Creek Congregation (a church still stands at the state line, near a famous "marrying oak" under which many of the family from Accomack County have been joined in wedlock). Even among Jacob's descendants who migrated to Kentucky, Presbyterianism has remained strong.

Mary Boston (18), sister of Esau and Jacob, was also married at Coventry, 1745, to her cousin, John Cottingham (descendant of the Quaker, Ambrose Dixon), as were her younger brothers Lazarus and Mathew (19, 20), and most of their children were baptised there (1746-1766). None apparently remained active parishioners except Esau Boston (38), son of Lazarus, who in 1788 held a quarter of pew 20, and in 1791 he was elected a vestryman in place of Joe Gunby, but since he failed to qualify, Levin Boston (22) was chosen. Esau's descendants, however, who settled in Kentucky, and especially those in Missouri, became devout Presbyterians, probably through marriage.

Richard Boston's son, William (9), was a parishioner at Coventry, for his son Levin (22) was baptised there in 1747, and son Richard was married there, 1751. Levin was particularly active in the parish for a time; he was married there in 1781, his three sons were baptised there (1782-90), and he was elected a vestryman in 1791.

Although Bostons were not active in public life in colonial Maryland, they were involved in the American Revolution. Despite the strong Tory sympathies prevalent on the Eastern Shore, most of the young men in the family served in the county militias, although there is insufficient evidence to indicate how active was that service. Since there was some danger of invasion of the peninsula by the British, most of them may have remained part of the "home guard" to protect the local communities against such an invasion. At the time (August 1777) that Sir William Howe sailed a fleet of 200-300 British war vessels up the Chesapeake Bay it is possible that some of the men (including Bostons) from Somerset and Worcester counties may have been among the volunteers called, but whether any Bostons were involved is unknown.

According to records, the one Boston most personally involved, before the actual outbreak of the war, was Daniel Boston (15), who, with his sloop, was captured in November 1775 by a company of William Barclay Townsend's men, bent on sailing down the Chesapeake, joining Lord Dunmore, and with him capturing the Committee of Safety at Newtown, but the vessel ran onto a mud bank and was abandoned by the conspirators. (General Dunmore never actually attempted to seize the Eastern Shore.)

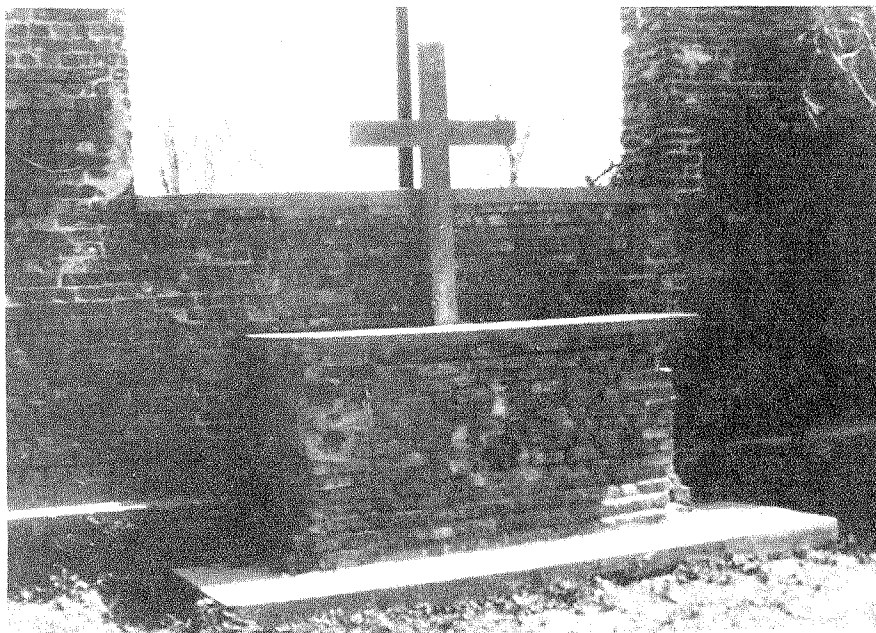

Those Bostons who served in the local militias were: Naboth (14) and Esau (31), in Captain Layfield's Company of Worcester County Militia; and in the Somerset County Militia, Daniel (15) and Richard Boston, son of William (9), in St. Asaph's Company, under 1st Lieutenant Benjamin Schoolfield; Levin (22), in Great Annemessex Company, under Captain Isaac Handy; Esau (38), in Captain Elsey's Company; James (40), in Little Annemessex Company, under Captain Henry Mister; and Joshua (37), a sergeant in Pocomoke Company under Captain George Davis. (Joshua Boston also took the oath of allegiance to the colonial government 27 January 1778.) Isaac Boston (43) was reportedly "drafted" for military duty in the state militia, 1 May 1781.

Unlike his cousins, Elijah Boston (42) enlisted in the 9th Virginia Regiment (organized 1775), which late in the autumn of 1776 marched north to join the Continental Army at Morristown, New Jersey, headquarters of General Washington, commander-in-chief. The 9th Virginia Regiment, under Lt.-Col. George Matthews, was combined with four others from Virginia in a brigade under General Muhlenberg, part of the division under Major-General Nathanael Greene. Greene's division participated 11 September 1777 in the battle of Brandywine, which failed to prevent Howe from entering Philadelphia, but in Washington's forced retreat Greene's division protected the army with continuous rear-guard action; the Virginia 9th is referred to with praise in published accounts. On 4 October 1777, at the battle of Germantown, in General Washington's unsuccessful surprise attack on Howe, the 9th Virginia Regiment under Colonel Matthews fought with distinction: the troops broke the right wing of the enemy force and took many prisoners, but they advanced too far, and were surrounded and eventually forced to yield, after heavy casualties in killed and wounded; they were the only American prisoners taken in this battle (see Dr. Susie M. Ames, "The Revolutionary Era," in Clarke, I:161).

As for geographical distribution in general, the largest concentration of Boston descendants is still found on the Eastern Shore, in the counties of Accomack (in Virginia) and Somerset and Worcester (in Maryland). Of the three male lines of descendants from Henry Boston, all those from Isaac (2) remained on the Shore until quite recent times, distributed largely between Sussex County, Delaware, and Accomack County. Several branches of the line from Esau (4) have remained in Worcester County; of his family, only Mary Cottingham's (18) offspring have remained in Somerset County. Most of Esau's descendants, however, migrated west. The descendants of Richard Boston (5) continued to reside at Morumscow until about 1813; then in the space of about ten years nearly all left, so that no descendants of Richard Boston today reside on the "Shore." (The chart on page 8 illustrates the geographical distribution of all known branches of the Boston family. Generally it has been carried down far enough only to indicate the principal location of each branch, at which point descendants today can identify their own connection with the family.)

If the families of Esau Boston (4) and Richard (5) are most frequently represented in parish records, the names of the family of Isaac Boston (2) are most commonly found in judicial records. In the fifteen years after the death of Isaac (6) in 1751 his widow and sons were involved in numerous cases of petty litigation. Potentially the most interesting is the action of libel brought by Solomon Boston (13) against Stephen Riggan, who had evidently accused Solomon of having killed his brother David Poston, but the record provides no further circumstances of the incident. Solomon won his case.

Soon after his libel suit Solomon moved away from Somerset County, settling at Messongo, in Accomack County, Virginia, about six or eight miles below Pitts Creek and the mouth of the Pocomoke River and only a short trip by water from Shelltown, Maryland, where later settled his brother Daniel (15), with whom he maintained contact. Solomon probably became acquainted with his future wife in his work as a waterman, liked the neighborhood where she lived, and settled there. Solomon's descendants who still remain in Accomack County comprise the largest concentration of Boston descendants anywhere in the country, though the name died out among them over a century ago. In nearly every community in Accomack County members of the family may be found operating the local post office, or as proprietors of automobile agencies, stores, restaurants, garages, or as teachers or farmers. Solomon's son, Solomon (26), like his father a waterman, about 1800 became acquainted in his sailing ventures with a young lady in Delaware, married her, and settled at Seaford, acquiring an island in the Nanticoke River; the family maintained contact with relatives in Somerset County for fifty years or more.

The descendants of Solomon's younger brother, Daniel (15), moved about considerably since as the family of Baptist clergymen they were required to go wherever the "call" should require, but Warrenton, Virginia, has become a general center for them. But the principal known descendants of Solomon's and Daniel's eldest sister, Abigail White (10), Walstons and Morrisises, have remained in Somerset County.

Dispersal of the descendants of Esau Boston (4) has been much more widespread and covered a longer period of time. The removal in 1749 of Jacob (17) to Pitts Creek and of Lazarus (19) to Dividing Creek (mentioned above) marks the beginning. Descendants of Jacob's eldest son, Esau (31), have remained in the Pitts Creek area, gravitating to Newtown (Pocomoke City), but a few removed to Baltimore, some to Quantico (in present Wicomico County) and to Dorchester County. Several of the family of his granddaughter, Mary Pryor Boston Jones (110), after her death, migrated first, about 1878, to Atlantic, Iowa, then in the 1890's to California.

Elijah Boston (42), son of Mathew, lived at first in Worcester County, where his descendants, the Jacksons, have lived principally in the vicinity of Newark and Snow Hill, whence many have removed to Delaware, but Elijah lived the latter part of his life in Accomack County, where his descendants the Taylors (S -J3) have remained to this day. Elijah's brother, Isaac Boston (43), after taking up residence near Pitts Creek, lived for a time (1792-96) in Accomack County, just below Pitts Creek, before removing permanently (about 1798) to Dorchester County (unfortunately none of his descendants has been traced). Both Jacob Boston (32) and his nephew Esau (58) also lived for a time in Accomack County, the former (1797-1809) at Pitts Creek, probably near his wife's family, the latter (about 1807-10) near Greenbackville, on land his wife had inherited, but whereas Esau ultimately made his home at Pitts Creek, Jacob migrated to Kentucky, after one of his sons, Jacob, Jr. (61) had removed to Baltimore, about 1818. Levin Henderson (D1), another nephew of Jacob (32), lived at Pitts Creek, but his children scattered to Baltimore, to Missouri, and to Accomack County, whence his descendants in the Walters family ultimately settled in Pocomoke City.

The widow of Henry Boston (41), son of Lazarus, about 1817 removed with her sons from Somerset County to Worcester County; they established themselves near Newark, and the family today is most thickly concentrated in Snow Hill, Newark, and Berlin. A niece of Henry, Sally Boston (E1), apparently resided with an aunt near Pitts Creek and later married John Payne; the Paynes still reside in the area, many of them in Pocomoke City.

Pocomoke City is roughly the geographical center of all those descendants of Henry Boston who remained on the Eastern Shore as it was for nearly two centuries the commercial center not only for the Bostons but the whole section of the country. Edward Stevens in 1679 purchased from Henry Smith a tract of land known as "Blake's Hope," part of which remained in the Stevens family until 1759. About the same time (early 1680's) a ferry was established, which came to be known as Stevens Ferry, so named for this family, not for Col. William Stevens, as widely believed (and as recorded in Rev. James Murray's History of Pocomoke). The ferry ran apparently between the southern end of "Blake's Hope" in Somerset County and the northern end of what is now Pocomoke City, where the present bridge enters the city, the site known then as Meeting House Landing, from a Presbyterian meeting house that was located nearby (Torrence, p. 267, and Mr. Leslie P. Dryden). After a tobacco warehouse was established at the site about 1700 (tobacco having been made a legal tender by the legislature), the location came to be called Warehouse Landing. By 1776 the name had been changed to New Town (Newtown), so named in references to the Committee of Correspondence which met there. For many years a small collection of houses around a public square, Newtown began to prosper and expand in the nineteenth century, when Boston descendants and their relatives moved there to establish businesses, the Stevensons becoming undertakers who served the entire area. The town was incorporated in 1865 and the name was changed in 1878, by act of the General Assembly, to Pocomoke City.

As in Accomack County, Boston descendants, particularly in Worcester County, from Pocomoke City to Berlin, may be found in the post offices and as farmers, teachers, bankers, insurance agents, and proprietors of various other businesses, and throughout the entire Maryland Eastern Shore they engage in the leading industries of the Shore: raising chickens, farming, canning, and processing frozen foods, everywhere helping to carry on the life of the community. Approximately a third of Henry Boston's known descendants are today distributed in Virginia, Maryland, Delaware, and the District of Columbia, but as many as twenty per cent still reside on the Eastern Shore, between southern Delaware and Cape Charles, Virginia.

Western migration began in the family in 1805, when James Boston (69), son of Esau and grandson of Lazarus (19), in the wake of his uncle David Long Ward travelled across the mountains, according to family tradition on horseback, to Jefferson County, Kentucky, on the Ohio River, and settled near his uncle just north of Louisville, though he later moved to a farm south of Louisville. None of his family remained long near Louisville after his death in 1833. His eldest son William (144) and daughter Rebecca Calloway (147) moved farther down the Ohio River to Daviess County, Kentucky, settling in what was to become McLean County, at Comer, near Beech Grove, south of Owensboro. Beech Grove has remained the center of this branch of the family, though several of William's sons and a daughter migrated to Texas: Ann Brown (336), Andrew (341), Arnett (342), and Lewis (343), but only Andrew stayed, in Mason County; all the others returned to Kentucky. Their sister Amanda Franklin (337) removed to southern Missouri, where her descendants, the Ortons, still live.

Another daughter of James (69), Mary A. Smith (146), with her family settled for a time (1836-55) at Chesterfield, St. Louis County, Missouri, but they returned to Kentucky, settling also near Beech Grove; their eldest daughter, Sarah Yokel (353), however, remained at Chesterfield, and their eldest son, James Smith (355), eventually removed to Clay County, Arkansas, where his descendants are to be found today. While the Smiths were living at Chesterfield in the late 1830's, Mary Ann's brothers David Long Ward Boston (145) and Joshua M. Boston (149) joined them and settled there for a while, but in 1854-55 brothers and sister separated, the Smiths returning to Kentucky; David removing 200 miles across the state of Missouri to Johnson County, settling on a farm six miles southwest of Holden and forty miles southeast of Kansas City; and Joshua Boston moving sixty-five miles southwest of St. Louis, settling near Bourbois, Gasconade County, near Gerald in Franklin County.

These locations have remained centers of these families for over a century, though many have moved farther west and south, particularly to Colorado, Oklahoma, and Texas. (By a curious coincidence, David Long Ward Boston gave four of his sons names identical to those of the four sons of the first immigrant, Henry Boston: Henry, Isaac, Esau, and Richard.)

The next group of western emigrants in the Esau Boston branch was from among the Pitts Creek Bostons. In the 1820's Jesse Boston (33), with his wife and four children, and his brother Jacob (32), with three of his sons, and a young cousin, Silas Boston (C1), also migrated to Kentucky, settling at Elk Creek, in the northwestern part of Spencer County, near the Jefferson County line; in fact, Jacob's son John (62) settled in Jefferson County, near Jeffersontown, and late in the century other members of the family also moved into Jefferson County, to the same locality. Jesse Minor Boston (66) and Edward (65), two sons of Jesse (33), in the early 1850's removed to Lewis township, on the border of Sullivan and Vigo counties, Indiana, which remained a center of the family for nearly a century, though many have now settled in Terre Haute or moved elsewhere. The two children of Silas Boston (C1) moved to western Kentucky, Nancy Richey (C2) with her family in October 1855 to Muhlenberg County, some twenty-five miles south of the Bostons at Beech Grove; and Jesse T. Boston (C3), after a brief sojourn (1859) in Vigo County, Indiana, settled near Sturgis, in Union County, nearly thirty-five miles west of Beech Grove.

Of the descendants of Esau Boston (4), a son of Joshua (37) and first cousin of the James (69) in Kentucky, another James Boston (68) remained in Somerset County, accumulating land. After his death in 1836, however, except for one married daughter in Newtown, all his children left, his other daughter Mary and two younger sons, Francis (141) and Samuel (142) moving to Baltimore with their mother, his two elder sons migrating west. William A. Boston (138) by 1844 settled in north central Missouri, at Wakenda, in Carroll County; James W. Boston (139) lived for a time (1843-47) in New Orleans, then joined his brother in Missouri. About 1870 William with his family removed to Mississippi, near Jackson, and in June 1878 James with all his family except a married daughter, Mary Agnes Brioady, travelled by "side wheeler" up the Missouri River into Montana Territory to Ft. Benton, then walked overland to Chestnut Valley, settling at Cascade, just two years after the Sioux Indians had annihilated General Custer and his men in Montana Territory.

By the late nineteenth century, then, there were growing families of Esau Boston descendants at Pitts Creek, Newtown (Pocomoke City), and a few scattered in nearby Somerset County, as well as around Newark in Worcester County, but more of them were to be found in Kentucky, Indiana, and Missouri, where Esau's (4) descendants far outnumber those on the Shore. So far as records show, Esau Boston's descendants have been more prolific than those of his two brothers, and those who went west had larger families than those who remained in the East.

As for the descendants of Henry Boston's youngest son, Richard Boston (5), they remained at Morumsco until about 1810, when Jesse, the youngest son of Levin (22), went up the Bay to Baltimore to seek his fortune, there married, and settled for a time. His next older brother, Thomas (45), soon after his marriage in 1817, migrated west, to Kentucky, settling in Barren County, near Mammoth Cave, whence many of his descendants have spread to Louisville, Indianapolis, Louisiana, and Texas. The eldest brother, Elijah Boston (44), is said to have deserted his family, which by 1824 had joined Jesse (46) in Baltimore, probably accompanied by Elijah's half-sisters Esther (47) and Mary. About 1831 Elijah's wife Anne, with her family, joined her brother-in-law Jesse and his family and migrated west to Indiana, settling near Pendleton, in Madison County, some thirty miles northeast of Indianapolis. The sisters remained in Baltimore, where Esther married George Trogler, but the separated families long maintained contact with each other.

The members of the Boston family, widely scattered by the time the Civil War broke out, were divided in sympathies, although those who actively participated served in the Union forces. Maryland itself, a border state, was badly divided in feeling, and there is no known record of any of the family from the Eastern Shore having served. Jacob Boston (120) of Baltimore did serve in the Union Navy. Maston S. Boston (129) of Lewis township, Indiana, enlisted (December 1864) in the 35th Indiana Volunteers, but when rheumatism disabled him, he was transferred to the Quartermaster Corps. The largest number of known Boston participants is found in Kentucky. Charles O. Boston (340), son of William (144) of Beech Grove, reportedly maintained a neutral attitude, but three of his brothers served in Company H of the 17th Kentucky Volunteers (Infantry): William H. Boston (335) enlisted in October 1861 but developed heart trouble from a fever at Pittsburg Landing (Tenn.) in April 1862 and was discharged August 1862 after suffering a fractured leg from the kick of a horse; David Y. Boston also enlisted in October 1861 and was discharged for disability at Louisville, July 1862; their handsome brother John, who enlisted with them, died 5 Apr. 1862 at the Regimental Hospital, Pittsburg Landing, of typhoid fever and pneumonia as the result of exposure.

James A. Mattingly, the husband of their cousin, Martha Smith (354), also served in the 17th Kentucky Volunteers, in Company C. He was wounded in the battle of Chickamauga (in northern Georgia) in September 1863 and suffered weeks in a hospital before being discharged in February 1864. Serving in the same company was Martha's brother, James A. Smith (355), who enlisted October 1861 and saw action at Cassville, Georgia, in May 1864. Davis Richey, husband of Nancy Boston (C2), enlisted October 1861 in Company F, 3rd Kentucky Cavalry, but he suffered disability from typhoid fever at Shilo (April 1862) and eventually (April 1863) was driving an ambulance at Nashville. For the Bostons the Civil War was anything but glorious.

Another Kentucky Boston, Jacob (120), was less sympathetic toward the Union, for he resented the Union raiders who demanded that he shoe their horses, then refused to pay for his services; he therefore contrived to deceive them by concealing his materials, but one night they broke into his shop and stole everything. In Missouri, David Long Ward Boston (145) was another who was unsympathetic toward the Union. To escape loyalty oaths and other demands, he risked loss of property and danger from Indians by removing his family to Nebraska in 1863, but they returned to Missouri in 1865.

As the family has grown and spread, descendants of the first immigrant Henry Boston have intermarried with more recent immigrants from England, Germany, France, Scandinavia, Italy, Hungary, Poland, and elsewhere, as well as with some native Americans, the Indians. The Bostons, in all their diversity, dispersed in every state of the Union except Vermont, New Hampshire, Rhode Island, North Dakota, and Nebraska, and in at least eight foreign countries (Germany, Belgium, England, Canada, Mexico, Turkey, Japan, and South Vietnam), represent a fair cross section of the American scene, reflecting almost the entire range of economic and social conditions found in our society. Several have prospered and enriched themselves; at the other extreme a few have been nearly destitute, but the vast majority fall between the two poles. Although the family has produced no presidents or governors, Supreme Court justices or Senators, several members of the family have earned a place in Who's Who in America. Among those who have distinguished themselves are a former president of the American Bar Association and a university president, as well as a Congressman, several state legislators, mayors and judges, an admiral, a chief surgeon in a leading hospital, and a widely known opera singer.

An informal and non-statistical sampling of some 2120 occupations in the family (perhaps two-fifths of the available total, but probably representative of the whole) reveals that virtually every occupation essential to the American economy (and some that are not) is represented here (with the possible exception of fashion designer and street sweeper). Since the questionnaire sent to members of the family usually requested occupations for males only, these numbers include only a few women, but housewives would certainly head the list, at perhaps 30% of the total of both sexes. Of the reported occupations (among the 2120), heading the list are 407 farmers (19%), fourteen of them called "planter" (two and three centuries ago). To this group might be added ten chicken farmers (on the Eastern Shore), thirty-one ranchers and stock men, two fruit growers, and nine dairymen.

There are 124 retail merchants (nearly 6%), that is, a record dealer; jewelers, florists, feed and grain dealers (3 each); automobile dealers (8); "storekeepers" (31) and grocers (24), including proprietors of country stores and of a children's and a men's shop. Third in frequency are 98 teachers or educators (about 4.5%), including 31 women and 18 men in the public schools, 5 principals, 4 superintendents, 3 college professors and 2 deans, as well as a college president. Factory workers (foremen and assembly line operators) nearly match teachers in number (92) in the sampling.

Tying for sixth place (with 61 each) are those who classed themselves as "managers" (of offices, stores, departments in businesses) and railroad men: agents (10), clerks (3), conductors (2), engineers (4), a fireman, section foremen (3), inspectors (2), Railway Express agents (3), telegraph operators (2) and miscellaneous others.

Particularly characteristic of an Eastern Shore family are the 57 watermen, including 5 oystermen, a former first mate on a Chesapeake Bay ferry (now replaced by the Bridge-Tunnel), and 3 boat captains, and the group might also include two in the fishing party business. The next six in order of frequency are: 46 carpenters and cabinet makers, 46 skilled laborers (welders, machinists, pipefitters, mechanics), 44 career servicemen (including the admiral), 44 truckers (18) and truck drivers (26), 42 engineers, and 42 clerks.

Among other occupations fairly frequently represented are 21 painters, 23 electricians, 28 civil servants, 15 forest workers (lumber jacks, timber cruisers, etc.), 15 gas station operators and garage mechanics, 16 builders and contractors, 26 construction workers (including crane operators and a supervisor), 22 unskilled laborers, 13 shoemakers and shoe repairmen, 14 inn (or hotel) keepers, 14 miners, 12 bus drivers, and a dozen produce brokers.

The sampling includes 31 physicians, 4 dentists, 15 nurses, 13 druggists, 3 lab technicians, a psychiatrist, and a chiropractor. There are 21 clergymen of widely varying denominations (Catholic, Baptist, Episcopalian, Methodist, and one of a non-denominational church). There are also 25 lawyers, 3 judges, and 3 justices of the peace. Five classed themselves as "businessmen," 5 as factory owners, and 15 as "executives." The list contains 9 accountants, 7 bookkeepers, 19 secretaries and stenographers, and 16 bankers (including several presidents) and 6 bank tellers.

One of the most interesting groups is the 25 postal workers (7 postmasters, 8 clerks, 8 letter carriers, 2 mail truck drivers). In nearly every community which is a particular center of Boston descendants, someone in the family is in the post office: Lewis, Indiana; Beech Grove, Kentucky; Baltimore; Temperanceville, Onancock, Hallwood, and Oak Hall, in Accomack County, Virginia; and Pocomoke City, Princess Anne, and Snow Hill, Maryland.

Among public servants are listed 4 firemen (one fire chief), 11 policemen (one a policewoman and two police chiefs), two sheriffs, a state trooper, and two prison wardens. There are also four detectives (one a woman) and two FBI agents (whose identities have been concealed for security reasons).

Among older occupations represented are 5 blacksmiths, 2 cartmakers, a cooper, a cordwainer, 4 hatters, 3 wheelwrights, a huckster, and a street car operator. Typical of modern society by contrast are two officers of labor unions, a dietitian, a TV engineer and two repairmen, four welfare (social) workers, an airline navigator, two pilots, an airplane mechanic and a repairman, eight employees of N. A. S. A., an aero-space engineer, a manager of a data processing department, six electronics technicians, and a radio sonic analyst (for missiles with RCA).

A random sampling of the remainder of the list will indicate something of the enormous variety and diversity. Included are actors (2), animal husbandry experts (2), architects (4), artists (6), barbers (2), bar tenders (3), butchers (3), buyers (3), chefs (3), chemists (8), draftsmen (4), dressmakers (2), editors (a man and a woman), guards (3), guidance counsellors (3), horse trainers (2), interior decorators (2), janitors (3), librarians (3), laundry operators (4), masons (3), milliners (2), musicians (6), personnel directors (3), plasterers (2), plumbers (2), printers (8), public lecturers (2), radio repairmen (2), restaurant operators (7), telephone installers (4), public utilities workers (5), including a "troubleman," taxi drivers (7), undertakers (3), veterinarians (4), as well as two each in the roofing business, the moving and storage business, and the excavating business. And two men in the mid-nineteenth century told the census taker that they were "gentlemen."

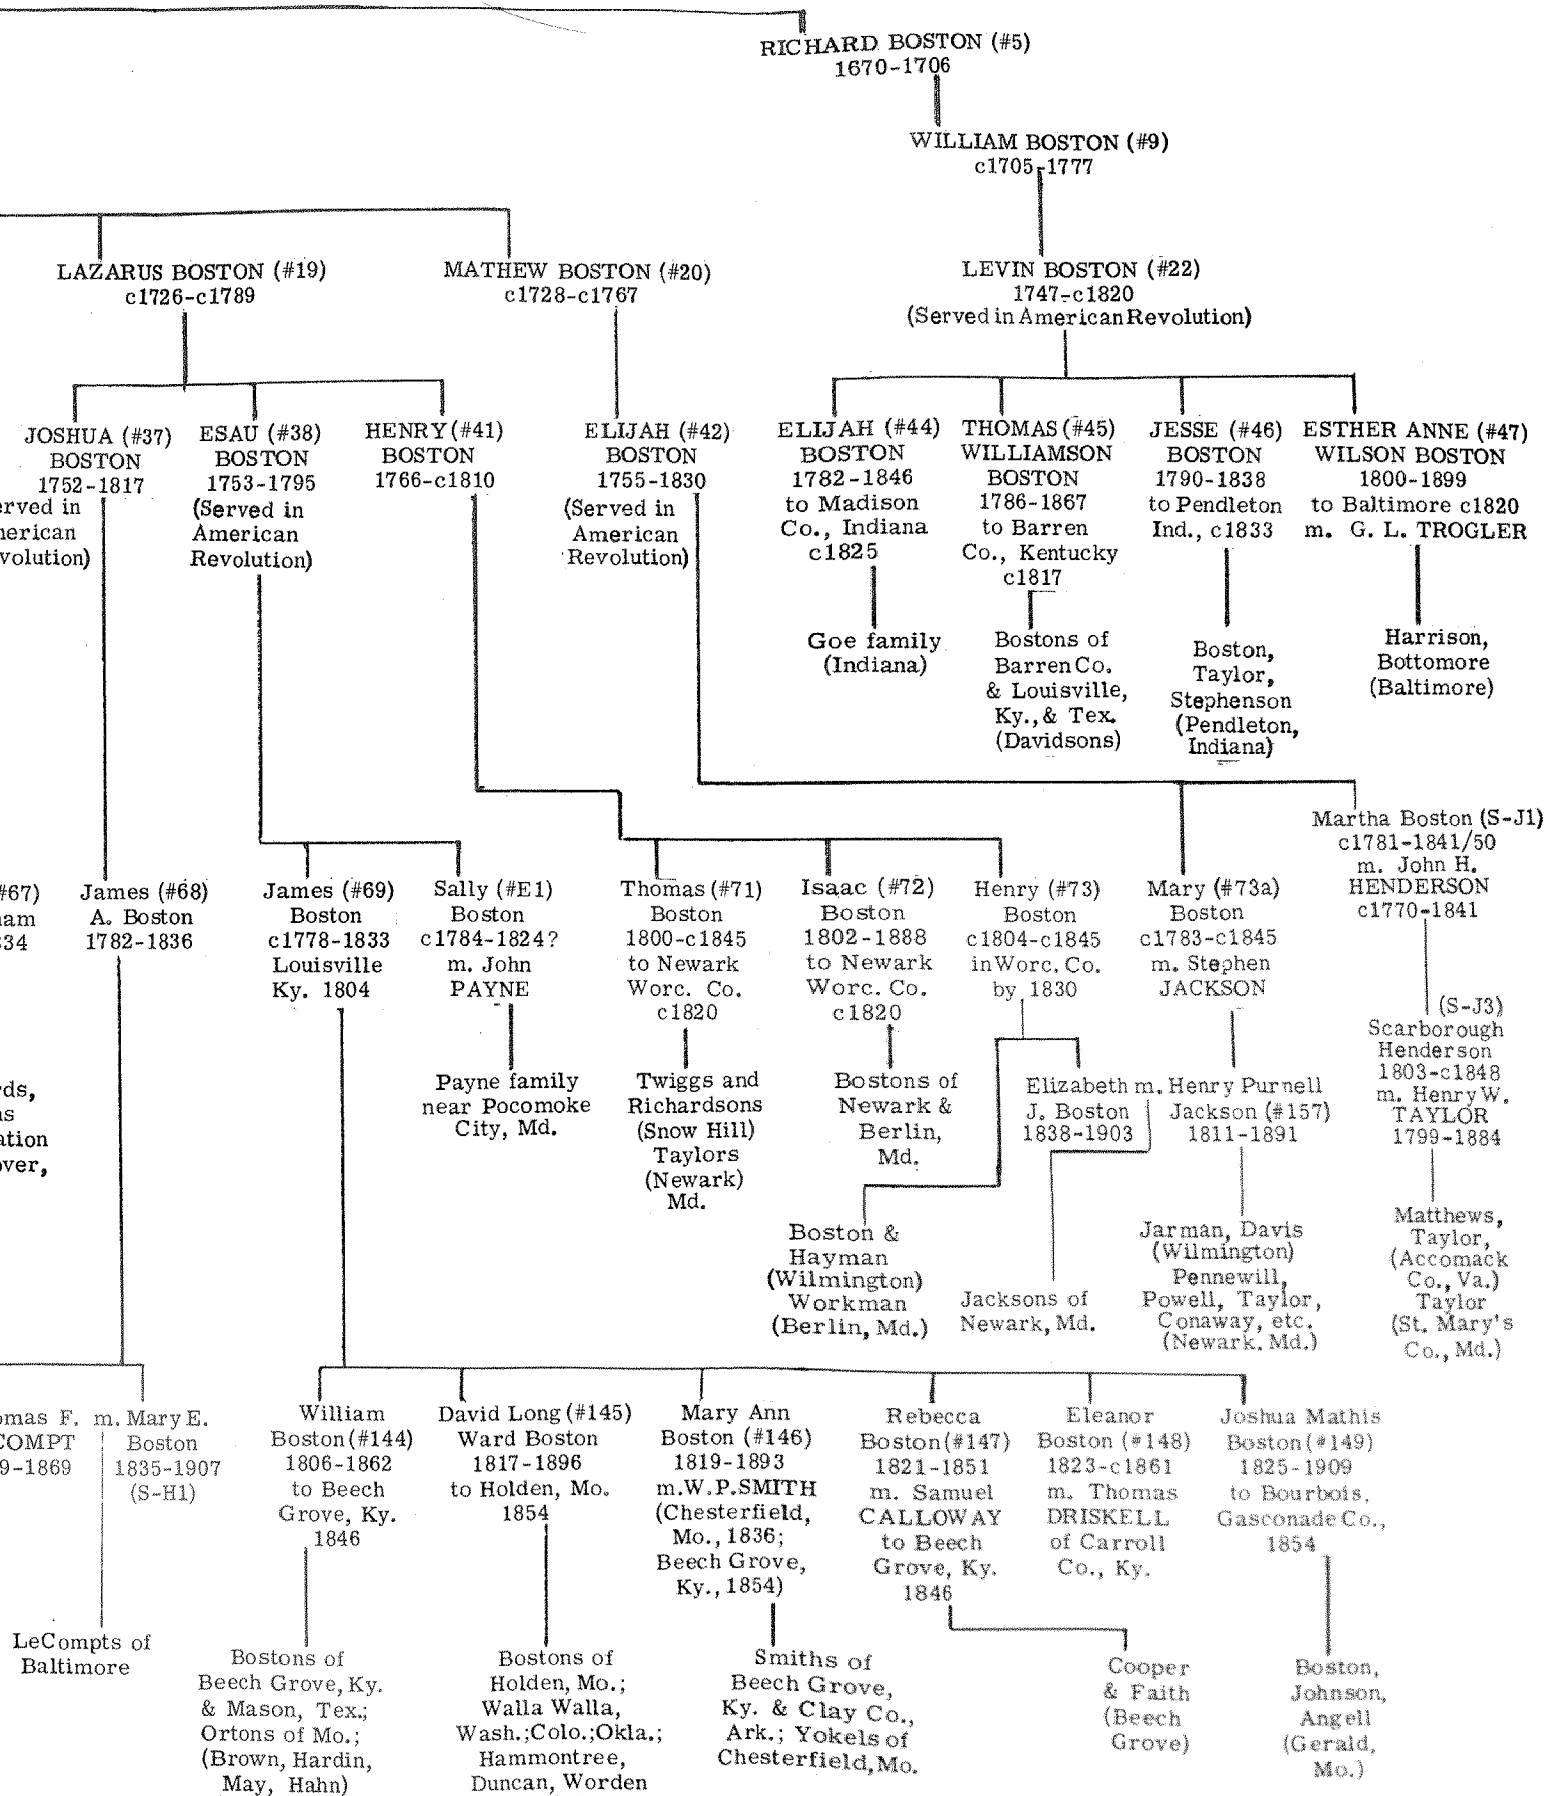

Finally, the following occupations are represented in the sampling by a single individual each: bronco buster, cowboy, pet shop owner, drive-in theater operator, Fuller brush salesman, animal man in a circus, vaudeville troupier, botanist, entomologist, fish culturist, geologist, horticulturist, tree surgeon, crystal oscillator, photographer, upholsterer, masseur, wholesale candy dealer, wholesale seafood dealer, industrial consultant, oil dealer, oil well drill supervisor, oil jobber, statistician, exporter, tobacco buyer, agent for the American Cancer Society, North Woods guide, public relations man, elevator operator, gold miner, caretaker, junk dealer, housemother, landscaper, ABC inspector, locksmith, stamp dealer, stock broker, tanner, telephone operator, inventor, and medium.

The members of the Boston family are widely representative not only in their occupations but in the personal events of their lives. Among the records of hundreds of marriages, births, and expected (if lamented) deaths will be found reports of such happy events as graduations and public awards as well as of accidents, disasters, and tragedies: a flood which carries away most of a family's possessions, the untimely deaths of small children in fires or from disease, an individual's accidental loss of a leg or an eye, the loss of sons in war, drownings, suicides, and the annihilation of an entire family at a railroad crossing. The percentage of divorces in the family is probably close to the national average. Despite a cousins' warning that if one looks too far he may find a horse thief, Boston descendants appear to have been remarkably uninvolved in criminal acts. The early records contain several cases of fines for assaults and illicit sexual relations, but only one case has been found of a Boston suspected of a homicide. On the contrary, Bostons are more likely to be the victims than the perpetrators of violence: a Boston was shot to death by his wife and her father in Oklahoma; a soldier was murdered in Albuquerque; and a young man on election day was shot off his horse and killed in Atlantic, Virginia, apparently by a rival for his lady.

If the records of the family contain ample evidence of dramatic incident, the vast majority of Henry Boston's ten thousand or so descendants lead routine, peaceable lives. Though often prominent and respected in their own communities, they do not characteristically push into the public spotlight. Behind the scenes they help keep the country going. They are the heart of American society. If they have not produced anyone of national renown, they do produce solid American citizens.

THE BOSTON FAMILY OF MARYLAND

HENRY BOSTON

Henry Boston, the immigrant ancestor, like so many other early settlers came as an indentured servant to the new world, to Northampton County, on the Eastern Shore of the Virginia colony, in the early 1640's, probably a young man, born about 1620. Having worked out his indenture, in 1645 Henry Boston, "servant to Mr. Obedience Robins," secured his freedom, receiving according to custom three barrels of corn and clothing (Northampton Co. Records II: 381). It would seem that Henry soon left the colony, perhaps recrossing the Atlantic, and that he came again into Virginia, for on 29 August 1650, when Stephen Charlton received a patent of 1000 acres in Northampton County, at Matchepungo Creek, among the twenty headrights listed is the name of Henry Boston (Nugent I: 253).¹ This time he remained in Virginia. Since there are other similar duplications of names in the records, however, he may simply have been claimed as a headright though he had remained in the colony.

Henry Boston resided in Northampton County for the next twelve years. He acquired no land, but he was reportedly a cooper and sometime Burgess, on what authority is not known (Ency. of Am. Quaker Genealogy, Ann Arbor, Mich., 1950, VI:11). Probably in 1655 he took a wife, Anne, whose first name alone is known; she may have been the widow of Augustine Moore, for in 1655/56 Henry was ordered to have the child of Augustine Moore in his charge (North. Co. Order Book V:74).² Anne Boston was still living 7 June 1671, but she died within two years, for on 19 May 1673 in Somerset County, Maryland, Henry was married to Elizabeth Rogerson; the ceremony was performed by Mr. Robert Maddock, clerk of the court (Som. Deeds I. K. L.).

In 1660 Henry Boston first came to public attention. At the spring session of the Virginia Assembly drastic laws were enacted "for the suppressing the Quakers," providing that all Quakers in Virginia should be imprisoned and remain there until they should give security to leave the colony and never return; if they should return, they would be punished and again banished; if they should again return, they "should be proceeded against as felons," that is, they would be put to death (Spence, pp. 55, 166-68). Though there is no direct evidence to identify Henry Boston as a Quaker, he was apparently a Non-Conformist, that is, perhaps a Presbyterian, and he appears to have associated closely with the Quakers, and to have sympathized with them. He spoke disparagingly of the new laws. In "open Court ye 30th of April 1660" Major John Tilney and Captain William Andrews separately testified that "when the late Acts of Assembly were reading over" they heard Henry Boston say "that the acts were simple foolish things, ... whereupon," reported Andrews, "Major John Tilney reproved him and Henry Boston demanded whether he did it out of envy," that is, out of malice, perhaps toward Non-Conformists (North. Co. Order Book VIII: 71). In court on 1 May a special warrant was issued against Henry Boston and others "for their personal appearance to ye next Court to answer to such things as shall bee laid to their charge" (ibid., p. 66).

¹Henry Boston of Northampton County, Virginia, may be identified with a Henry Boston in St. Mary's County, Maryland, in 1647-48, though the evidence is not conclusive. At a court held in St. Mary's County 3 November 1647 John Hollis (Hallowes) demanded of Henry Boston a barrel of corn and four score pounds of tobacco, and of William Boston 600 pounds of tobacco. On 4 January 1647/48 the court found for Hollis, though in the meantime, on 19 November 1647, Henry Boston had demanded of Hollis 200 pounds of tobacco. On 5 April 1648 George Manners, attorney for Hollis, demanded damages, reporting that Edward Commins had transported the estate of Henry Boston out of the County of St. Mary's, and a warrant was sent to the Sheriff of Kent County, whither (it is to be inferred) Henry Boston had fled or whither his "estate" had been carried (Archives of Maryland, IV: 340, 356, 367, 385, 430).

²An Augustine Moore on 29 June 1652 had entered claims for transporting thirteen persons into the Virginia colony; among them were his wife Anne and son Augustine; he was granted 650 acres on the northeast side of Pey-anketank River in Lancaster County, on the Western Shore. And on 16 January 1658, in Lancaster County, John Gore had an Augustine Moore as a headright (Nugent I: 278, 384).

At a court held 27 May 1660 before Colonel Edmund Scarburgh, Lt. Col. John Stringer, Mr. William Jones, Capt. William Andrews, and Capt. John Tilney, it was ordered that Henry Boston, "for his contempt of authority and speaking reproachfull words when ye Acts of Assembly were publishing, [shall] bee fined two thousand pounds of tobacco and remaine in ye sheriff's custody till hee enter into bonds with sufficient security for his good behavior to ye Grand Assembly and all ye free people of this county, and pay Court charges" (North. Co. Order Book VIII: 70). Subsequently Boston presented "his humble petition to ye Court acknowledging his error, and requiring ye favor of ye Court"; as a result, the court, "taking ye promises into Consideration, have thought good to remitt ye fine of two thousand pounds of tobacco to four hundred pounds upon demand and his said bond to bee yielded up by ye sheriff, hee paying Court charges" (ibid.).

The following year the names of both Henry and his wife, Anne, appear in the court records. On 4 September 1661 the court heard Anne Boston's and William Wilkinson's depositions "that Thomas Boylson snatcht two gold rings from ye wife of William Silverthorne" (North. Co. Order Book VIII: 109). On 29 October 1661, for what reason is not clear, it was ordered that "Thomas Selby shall forther make payment unto Henry Boston ye sum of two thousand five hundred pounds of tobacco and cask" (ibid., p. 115). And later in the year (the date is not ascertainable) Henry appears as guardian of Samuel Moore, possibly a grandson of his wife. "Whereas Henry Boston has petitioned ye Court that hee might have power to transport Samuell Moore, orphan, ye sonn of Elizabeth Moore, out of ye County, and making it appear to ye Court... that ye said Elizabeth on her death bed had by will bequeathed ye said orphan unto him, ye said Boston, the Court, having taken ye premises into consideration, have accordingly ordered that ye said Boston shall have liberty to transport the said orphan and estate, provided hee put in sufficient security according to Act of Assembly, to give ye orphan free Education out of ye Interest of ye said Elizabeth, and deliver ye said orphan his estate at lawfull age as also to save ye Court harmlesse" (ibid., p. 121).

Henry Boston, then, had planned as early as the winter of 1661/62 to leave Northampton County; though there is no evidence that he had moved into Maryland before March 1663, when he was granted a patent of land, he probably moved some time in 1662. He joined Ambrose Dixon and other Quakers against whom the repressive Acts of the Virginia Assembly were being enforced and who were responding to the invitation of Lord Baltimore in the form of a "declaration" of 22 September 1658 designed to encourage settlers. Desirous of strengthening the boundary between his Province of Maryland and the colony of Virginia, Lord Baltimore sought to settle the lands he claimed, with an offer of fifty acres for every person "transported" into the Province.

Henry Boston took with him into Maryland his wife Anne, his two sons Henry and Isaac, and his daughter Rebecca, as well as Samuel Moore, William and Mary Wilkinson, Robert Dornewell, Thomas Moulson, and Judith Best, the last two, at least, indentured servants (Md. Land Records 9: 282). He settled first at Morumsco but took up permanent residence in the summer of 1663 a few miles west, at Annessex. His original patent of land from Lord Baltimore is recorded in the Maryland Land Office, Annapolis (9:283-284).

Caecilius &c: To all persons to whom these presents shall come Greeting in our Lord God Everlasting. Know ye that we for and in consideration that Henry Boston of this Province by Assignment from John Nuttall the Assignee of Elinor Martin of a warrent for four hundred acres and two hundred acres of Land more for the Transportation of Mary Wilkinson, Robert Dornewell, Thomas Moulson, and Judith Best into the Province there to inhabit as appears upon Record And upon such Conditions and Termes as are Expressed in our Conditions of Plantation of our said Province of Maryland under our greater Seale at Armes bearing date at London the Second day of July in the year of our Lord God one Thousand Six hundred and fifty eight and remaining upon Record in our said Province of Maryland, Doe hereby grant unto him the said Henry Boston a parcell of Land called Boston's Adventure, Lying at the west side of Morumscoe Creeke - Beginning at marked Line, Dividing it from the Land of Ambrose Dixon from thence running North to a marked oke standing by the South side of a small branch dividing it from the Land of Jeffery Mintiale, from thence running westerly to the marked bounds of Henry Boston's foresaid Plantation from thence running South to the Dividing tree parting Henry Boston and Ambrose Dixon with a Line drawn East to the first bounder, containing and now laid out for four hundred acres more or Lesse, together with all Rights profits and benefitts thereunto belonging - (Royall mines excepted) To have and to hold the Same unto him the said Henry Boston his heirs & Assignes for ever, to be holden of us and our heirs as of our Mannor of Nanticoke in free and common Socage by fealty only for all manner of Service Yelding and paying therefore yearly unto us or our heirs at our Receipt at St. Maries [St. Mary's City] at the two most usuall feasts in the year (vizt) at the feast of the Annunciation of the Blessed Virgin Mary and at the feast of St. Michael the Archangell by even and equall portions the rent of eight shillings sterling in Silver or gold, And for a fine upon every Alienation of the said Land or any part or parcell thereof one whole years rent in Silver or gold or the full value thereof in such Commodities as we or our heirs or such officer or officers appointed by us or our heirs from time to time to collect & receive the same shall accept in discharge thereof at the choice of us or our heirs or such officer or officers as aforesaid - Provided that if the said Henry Boston his heirs or Assignes shall not pay unto us or our heirs or such officer or officers as aforesaid the said sum for a fine before such Alienation and enter the said Alienation upon Record either in the Provinciaall Court or in the County Court where the said parcell of Land lyeth within one month next after such Alienation the said Alienation shall be void and of none Effect Given at St. Maries under our great Seale of our said Province of Maryland this two and twentieth day of March in the four and thirtyeth year of our Dominion over our said Province of Maryland Anno Domini one Thousand six hundred Sixty two [i.e. 1662/63], Wittness our Dear Son and heir Charles Calvert Esq. Lieut. Generall of our said Province of Maryland.

Later the same year, on 20 August 1663, Henry Boston, for bringing seven persons into the Province, received another grant of land, situated lying and being in Annessex River, on the Southmost side of the said River, beginning at the mouth of a little Creek, called Braine Creek, and running North East along the side of the said River, to the mouth of the Creek called Red Capps Creek, and up the Westermost side of the said Creek, to a marked Tree, standing at the head thereof Three hundred and twenty perches thence with a Line drawn South West to a marked Tree, standing on the Southermost side of a Sevanah, One hundred Seventy five perches, seperating the said Land from the Land of Ambrose Dixon, and running by the Line of the said Dixon, Northwest to the head of Brain Creek, and down the Eastermost side of the said Creek, to the mouth thereof the first Bounder, Three hundred and twenty perches, surveyed and new laid out for Three hundred and fifty Acres more or less.

The certificate (Md. Land Records 6: 198), recorded 5 February 1663/64, identifies the tract as "Boston Town."

Soon after locating at Annessex, Henry Boston had a last encounter with his former fellow Virginians. Though the authorities in Northampton County were no doubt content to be rid of the Quakers and other troublesome elements among the Non-Conformists, yet, since Virginia also laid claim to the Eastern Shore of Maryland, the action of these refugees was construed as rebellion, and they were still considered subject to the laws of Virginia. In October 1663 Colonel Edmund Scarborough, "apparently without orders from Governor Berkeley and without waiting for a meeting of representatives from the two colonies to mark the boundary lines," led a small force north into the Maryland settlement (Md. Archives LIV: xxiv). His report to the governor and council of Virginia has survived: "Edm. Scarborough humbly presenteth ye account of proceedings in his Majesties affaires at Annessecks and Manookin on ye Eastern Shoare of Virginia." On Sunday night, 11 October, reported Scarborough, with Col. Stringer, "four of ye Commission," and about forty horsemen "for pomp of Safety, and to repell that contempt which I was informed some Quakers and a foole in office had threatened to obtrude: wee came to Annessecks," publishing the acts of the General Assembly. They went first to the house of Stephen Horsey, an officer of Lord Baltimore, then to the house of Ambrose Dixon, where they found also George Johnson and Thomas Price, all Quakers. Scarborough arrested all three and ordered them to appear before the Governor's Council to answer for their contempt and rebellion, "offering to take one for ye other as securities for their appearance, but they refusing I sett ye broad arrow on the doore, and so marched off to Henry Bostons, when publishing ye Act hee desired Consideration a day or two, and then hee would attend" (Torrence, pp. 388-389).

Later in his report Scarborough described Henry Boston as "an unmannerly fellow that stands condemned on our records [for] slighting and condemning ye Lawes of ye Country, a Rebell to Government and disobedient to authority, for which hee received a late reward with a Rattan and hath not subscribed" to the oath to support the Acts of the Assembly; Scarborough further reported that Boston "hid himselfe and so scaped arest" (Torrence, p. 391).

Henry Boston from the beginning was apparently one of the leaders in the new settlement. It is recorded that, at the time Somerset County was established in the Province of Maryland, at the first court on 11 December 1665 Henry was appointed a justice of the peace, and reappointed 27 August 1666 and in 1675 (Md. Archives LIV: xxiv; Torrence,

p. 394), but he apparently served in this capacity as early as 1664, as well as in 1668 and 1670, to judge by the marriage ceremonies at which he officiated:

John Roch and Sarah Williams, at Annessex, 4 Feb. 1663/64

Thomas Cottingham and Mary Dixon, 8 July 1666

Cornelius Ward and Margaret Franklin, Jan. 1666/67

William Stevens (formerly Robert Lewin) and Ann Nolton, 17 Aug. 1668

John Browne and Sarah Minard, at Annessex, 16 Sept. 1668

Thomas Owen and Mary Turner, 4 Feb. 1669/70

Edward Evans and Mary Danill, 22 May 1676

Richard Chambers and Mary Ivery, 24 May 1676

John Colebourne and Jane Carter, June 1676

Descendants of several of these married Henry Boston's own descendants.

On 31 May 1666 a cattle mark was recorded for Henry Boston, as a customary means of identifying cattle roaming at large: "The marke of Henry Boston vizt Cropt of both ears & two slits of each ear." This mark for cattle and hogs was sold 29 November 1679 by Henry Boston, Jr., to Thomas Leister. It is also on record that in April or May 1669 Henry Boston paid 19 shillings in compliance with "An Act for payment of the Publick Charge of this Province" (Md. Archives LIV:745, 772; II:233).

In the late 1660's Henry Boston, like many of his fellow settlers, was involved in litigation of one sort or another. On 4 June 1666 John Rhodes entered an action for slander against Henry Boston but withdrew his charge 3 July. Henry entered actions of debt against Charles Ballard, 24 Jan. 1666/67, and against Alexander Draper, 12 July 1667, but withdrew the latter 30 July. There is also mention of Boston's case (13 May 1668) against James Powell, mariner, of Bristol, England, perhaps another matter of debt, but Henry withdrew the action 30 June. In July 1668 William Rogers brought action against Henry Boston (Md. Archives LIV: 624, 627, 651, 676, 708, 710, 717).

On 21 January 1667/68 Mathew Armstrong and Stephen Bond, presumably merchants, entered an action of debt against Henry Boston; the case came before the June court but was referred to the next court; it came before the court again on 29 September 1668. Armstrong and Bond presented a petition stating that Boston was indebted to them for 712 pounds of tobacco and cash and other goods sold to him; the itemized list included: 3 sifters at 12 pence each, a "grobhing howe" (i.e. grubbing hoe), a spade, 3 "payles," a milk strainer, a pair of bellows, 7 pounds of rope at 4 pence per pound, and 56 deal boards at 12 pence apiece; 4 yards of "Duffells" (a coarse woolen cloth) at 42 pence, and 6 yards at 40 pence, a "pare" of gray stockings, another pair of white stockings; a gallon of vinegar (20 pence), an empty beer cask (30 pence), one "barrell of strong beere" (1 shilling 2 pence) "this year"; half the items were headed "your old acct of the last year." "Mr. Boston said he did not knowe whether he owed him any thing or not," but later "the Defendant pleades he oweth them not soe much"; however, the court found for the plaintiffs and ordered Boston pay (Md. Archives LIV: 698, 710).

On 7 October 1668 Phillip Berry and Henry Boston brought actions against each other, for debt (ibid., p. 735).

On 18 June 1668 Boston's indentured servant, Thomas Moulson, presented to the court a petition against Henry Boston "for his Corne & Clothes according to the Custome of the Country having served his full time to the said Henry Boston"; the case was heard 30 June, and the court found for Moulson (ibid., p. 710).

Henry Boston's relations with another of his indentured servants are more significant. It is recorded that on 13 March 1669/70 Henry Boston "sold one cow and a bull calve ... to Judith Best ... for and in consideration of her three barrells of Indian Corn which was her freedom coine" (Som. Judicial Records, Liber D. T. No. 7, pp. 127-28). But apparently just the previous week Judith Best had borne Henry Boston a bastard son, for at a court held 2 January 1671/72, in an "accompt of fines amerced in Somerset Co.," among many other women in similar circumstances appears the name of Judith Best, fined 500 pounds of tobacco "for bearing a bastard child," evidently on 8 March 1669/70 (Som. Jud. Records, Liber A. Z., p. 67).

A certain Thomas Davis was indicted in this case along with Henry Boston in the March Court of 1671/72. On 2 March "To the worshipfull Court of the County of Somersett the Grand Jurors of this County... doe present... Henry Boston for entertaining of the wife of Thomas Davis and Thomas Davis for disposing of his said wife to the said Boston." Boston was fined (Som. Jud. Records A. Z., pp. 79, 121). The cases of the Lord Proprietorship versus Henry Boston and Thomas Davis were heard before a court held 11 June 1672. "The Defendant [Boston] appeared and pleaded and said that he hired her with the consent of her husband [and] claimes a non suite. Thos. Davis, taylor, appeared and saith he gave consent to it, whereupon the Court ordered a non suite." Likewise Davis "appeared and pleading saying that for want of sufficiency for maintenance he gave consent that she should live at sd [Henry Boston's] and claimes a non suite, whereupon the Court ordered a non suit" (ibid., p. 121). Davis and Judith Best had apparently contracted only a common law marriage, for banns of matrimony were published between Thomas Davis, tailor, and Judith Best, both of Somerset County, on 8 November 1670, eight months after the birth of the child (Som. Jud. Records D. T. No. 7, p. 37).

Henry Boston, though living on his plantation on the Annessex River, maintained his original plantation at Morumsco until 1671. On 4 October 1669, as a result of a resurvey of "Boston's Adventure" at Henry's request, a new grant was made (Md. Land Records 12:402). And on 7 June 1671 Henry Boston "gentleman" and Anne his wife sold "Boston's Adventure," the larger of his two holdings, to Samuel Long; Anne Boston appointed "my loving friend" Edmund Beauchamp as her "lawful attorney" to convey to Samuel Long "all right and claim I have with a parcell of land granted to my loving husband" (Som. Deeds 3:4-10).

Something of the daily life that Henry Boston and his family led may be inferred from information in the inventory made of his estate in 1676. The house in which they lived, no spacious mansion, was a two-story or story-and-a-half dwelling, typical of the homes of pioneer families, with a "Hall Roome," a "Parlor Roome," and a "kicking Roome" on the first floor, the second floor apparently consisting only of the "upper Loft Roome." The hall room was furnished with a "winscot Chest," three hammocks, one "standing bed and furniture belonging to it" (at £1.6 the most highly valued article in the room), one table and form, seven chairs, and a pair of andirons and spit.

Furniture in the parlor room consisted of "one standing bed with furniture belonging to it" (valued at £1.20), three plain chests and one box, and a "flock bed and coverings." The kitchen was equipped with one "mille and frame," a copper kettle and a skillet, four iron pots, iron racks and two frying pans, a pair of tongs and fire shovel, an iron dripping pan, three tubs, two "piggins" and three pails, a bread tray, ten "oleuince" spoons, four "Latten panes" and one candlestick and one "Bastin Ladel," and one brass candlestick and a horse and "oumbe." Furnishings of the upper loft room were: a leather bed with new rug and one blanket and two sheets, a part of a candlewick, a "parcell of bedding with Rugg and Curttins." It would appear that every room in the house except the kitchen served as sleeping quarters for the family.

But aside from the more or less permanent furniture, scattered through every room were other miscellaneous articles: in the hall room, a suit of broad cloth, a suit of "Sarge," "1 purpell gowne," a case of knives, a pair of pillows, 3 pairs of boy's stockings, 4 pairs of worn stockings for men; 19 yards of "halfe thicke cloth at 15 p y," 4 "yells of broad canvas," 1 piece of drugget, 11 yards of half thick kersy at 15 per yard, 5 yards of broad cloth at 50 per, and 7 yards of Barbados cotton.

In the parlor were found: a "Sitsadel and 1 mans sadell and Bridell," 4 yards of broadcloth, 8 1/2 yards of callico, a gross and a half of silk buttons, a gross of gimple buttons, 4 "dimety waistcoats and 4 dimety drawers," 18 shirts, 2 pairs of blue drawers, 21 napkins, 4 coarse table cloths, 5 towels, and 3 deer skins.

The upper loft room contained a parcel of pewter, 4 pairs of French falls for men, 3 pairs of "Irish fockins," 9 yards of "Bradin" cloth, and 2 "Out Sadels and cloths."

Listed as in the upper loft room, but probably elsewhere on the plantation, were 16 bushels of wheat (at 40 pence), 12 bushels of salt at 20, 5 broad hoes and 3 narrow hoes, 2 "falling" axes, 15 "Indian Bools," 12 pounds of powder, 20 barrels of Indian corn, a parcel of cypress planks, and 25 pounds of wool. The plantation was also stocked with 31 sheep (at 80), 13 oxen (at 500), 8 steers (at 350), 11 cows at 400, 1 bull at 250, 7 two-year cattle at 150, 7 yearlings, 6 mares, 5 horses, 2 horses of two years, a yearling colt, and a horse foale. Finally the inventory listed one "niger woman," 3 guns and a pistol and sword, one grindstone, a lot of cooper's tools, a parcel of carpenter's tools, 2 pairs of sheep shears, and 39 hogs.

It is recorded that Henry Boston "died and was buried at his Plantation in Anamessex the 24th day of September Anno Domini" 1676 (Som. Deeds, Liber I. K. L.). He possibly died quite suddenly and unexpectedly, for he left no will. The inventory of his estate is undated (Md. Hall of Records, Testamentary Papers, Box 4, Folder 31).

Henry Boston appears to have been an independent thinker, perhaps a little contentious and impetuous, but given to second thoughts somewhat more cautious, a man of considerable force of character and personality. He had acquired some education, for unlike many of his time he could write well enough to sign his name to deeds and keep a family Bible, though there is no evidence that he owned other books.

The estate of Henry Boston was administered by his son, Henry, Junior, who was barely twenty; the evidence suggests that he had little consideration for the other heirs. The Somerset County Court held 14 November 1676 heard the "humble petition of Elizabeth Boston, widow," which "sheweth that ye petitioners husband lately deceased and his estate being [concealed]...and no division being yet made notwithstanding Henry Boston son of ye said Henry Boston deceased hath without consent made bargains whereby ye said estate is like to bee embezzelled and made away with, your humble petitioner craveth that the estate may bee devided and your petitioner have her thirds according to law and that ye worshipfull Court would take such care of ye estate and note ye orphans that itt may not bee imbezzled away and your petitioner as in duty bound shall pray." The court ordered that Henry Boston, "administrator on ye estate of his father Henry Boston, dispose of none of his estate untill hee hath performed what ye law requires" (Som. Deeds, Liber 7, p. 62 in judicial records in back of volume).

On 12 January 1676/77 at the request of Isaac and Esau Boston, "orphans of Henry Boston Senior," the court appointed William Planner, planter, and William Walston, cooper, as guardians respectively of Isaac and Esau; the court likewise ordered that Henry Boston, Jr., "deliver ye estate of Rebeckah Millner and Anne Boston ye daughters of ye deceased unto ye security of ye administrator Capt. Thomas Walker [sheriff] of this County...on Thursday next being ye 14th day of this present month of January," and the court finally ordered that "Richard ye Bastard son of Henry Boston of this County gentleman lately deceased bee and remain with Henry Boston ye administrator untill ye next Court" (ibid., pp. 98-99).

On 8 May 1677 Elizabeth Boston released Henry Boston of her "third part of the movable goods...due unto me..., also I doe discharge ye said Henry from all debts and accompts which I...ever had unto this day, only I doe except my third part of ye land to bee due unto mee still ye summ of my thirds amounting to twenty one thousand nine hundred and twenty pounds of tobacco." On the same date Henry Boston likewise discharged "my mother [i. e. step-mother] Elizabeth Boston of all manner of actions,... debts and accompts" (ibid., p. 112).

Henry Boston, Jr., appears three times more in the Somerset County records. At the County court on 14 August 1677 two warrants were issued against him, one to answer to George Willson, Jr., in an action of slander, the other to answer to the Right Honorable Proprietary (ibid., p. 146); nothing more is heard of these. On 15 November 1677 Henry, Jr., identified as "planter," sold to Thomas Walker, for 200,000 pounds of tobacco, his father's 350 acre plantation "Boston Town," on the Annesmessex River (it was later sold to William Planner, Jr.). A note on the deed records that on 14 November 1677 "came Henry Boston and acknowledged himself to be twenty-one years of age last 13th day of August and for testimony brought his fathers bible wherein was written Henry Boston born ye 13th day of August 1656" (Som. Deeds 5:119-133). Henry Boston, Jr., may be the same Henry Boston who witnessed the will of Henry Woolchurch, 4 May 1695, in Talbot County, Maryland, and who died in Talbot County early in 1695/96. An inventory of the estate of a Henry Boston was taken 3 February 1695/96; Henry Glover was executor; there is no evidence of heirs. The list of items indicates that Boston was a cooper and wheelwright; it includes a rule, "plains," a blue shirt, a leather apron, cooper's "joynters & apt iron," handsaws, chisels, gouges, augers, and 2 pairs of cart wheels not finished (Talbot Adm. Accts. 13B: 66, 16:181).

Of the other children of Henry Boston, Senior, Rebecca (who was married before January 1676/77) and Isaac were born in Virginia; Anne must have been born shortly after the family moved into Maryland, for she was married in 1680; and Esau must have been born by 1667, for in 1688 with his brother Isaac he bought a tract of land; therefore Henry's first wife, Anne, who was still living in 1671, was the mother of his legitimate children. It is tempting to speculate sentimentally that perhaps Henry Boston's relationship with Judith Best hastened his first wife's death, but such accounts are more frequently found in romances than in life; similar occurrences were not uncommon at the time, as amply evidenced by the records. That his conduct did not significantly affect Henry's public life is shown by his appointment as a justice of the peace again in 1675.

Henry Boston's widow, Elizabeth Rogerson Boston, on 12 June 1677, in Somerset County, Maryland, was married to Henry Lewis, of Anne Arundel County, Maryland, who died 1678/79; they lived on the Patapsco River. About 1680, probably in Anne Arundel County, Elizabeth took a third husband, John Bird. (See Supplement, No. S1, p. 458.)

Children:

By first marriage:

- i. Henry, Jr., b. Northampton Co., Va. 13 Aug. 1656; d. Talbot Co., Md. before 3 Feb. 1695/96; apparently unmarried and without children.
- ii. Rebecca, b. Northampton Co., Va. about 1660; mar. (before 12 Jan. 1676/77) Mr. MILLNER.
- iii. Isaac, b. Northampton Co., Va. about 1660; d. before 3 Apr. 1701; mar. Elizabeth Long; see No. 2.
- iv. Anne, b. Somerset Co., Md., probably at Annesmessex, about 1663; mar. 1st Thomas Relfe; 2nd John Lankford; see No. 3.
- v. Esau, b. Somerset Co., Md., probably at Annesmessex, about 1665; d. before 12 Mar. 1719/20; mar. Elizabeth Dukes; see No. 4.

By Judith Best:

- vi. Richard, b. Somerset Co., Md., probably at Annesmessex, about 8 Mar. 1669/70; d. before 20 Sept. 1706; mar. --- Benton; see No. 5.

2 ISAAC BOSTON, second son of Henry Boston (1) by his first wife, Anne, was born in Northampton County, Virginia, about 1660; he died in Somerset County, Maryland, probably at Morumsco, before 9 April 1701. He married (before 26 November 1695) Elizabeth Long, daughter of Samuel and Jane (Minshull) Long (see LONG family); she was born in Somerset County 19 February 1671/72, "between 11 and 12 o'clock at night"; she died in Somerset County, probably at Morumsco, before 21 March 1716/17.³ She married as her second husband, probably in 1701, Adrian Marshall, son of George and

(See S2, p. 458.)

³ Although there is no direct evidence that Elizabeth Long was mother of Isaac and Elizabeth, children of Isaac Boston (2), all available evidence indicates that she was. She was wife of Isaac on 26 Nov. 1695 when her father made his will, six years before Isaac's death. The difficulty is that in her own will she named no Bostons, only her children by Adrian Marshall. It was not uncommon in the eighteenth century for a testator not to mention in a will children previously provided for, for example two cases in the Boston family: John Cottingham (18) in 1778 and Nancy White (23), 1788. In another instance, Hannah Noble Dryden (p. 382, No. 3), widow of David, in her will (1781; 1786) made bequests only to grandson James Dryden (son of her son Jonathan Dryden), to daughter-in-law Rachel Dryden, and to sons Ephraim and James Dryden. Were it not for Coventry Parish records which show the marriage of David Dryden to Hannah Noble (1729) and the births of seven children to them, there would be no direct evidence that Hannah was the mother, for instance, of Catherine (b. 1733) who married (1760) Fenton Catlin, nor of Noble Dryden (b. 1737, living 1813; see No. 8, p. 382); a logical explanation would otherwise be that several of David's children were by a previous marriage. Similarly, since Isaac Boston (2) had provided in his will for his children Isaac and Elizabeth, there would be no need for their mother to do so, especially since her entire estate had been her second husband's, and practical and legal considerations would outweigh sentiment.

The age of Isaac Boston, Jr. (6) provides further evidence that Elizabeth Long was his mother. Since Isaac was at most two and a half years old (possibly even barely a year or less) when Samuel Long made his will 26 Nov. 1695, to conclude that Elizabeth Long Boston in Nov. 1695 had been the wife of Isaac (2) between two and three and a half years (therefore married between the ages of 21 and 22 1/2) and was the mother of Isaac, Jr. seems far more reasonable than to conclude that she had very recently (at 23) married Isaac (2) and that Isaac, Jr. (6) was the child of an earlier marriage of his father.

Family ties were very strong in earlier times. As further possible evidence, according to the earliest surviving Somerset County tax lists Isaac's two presumed eldest half-brothers were living with him, George Marshall in 1723 (aged 20/21) and Samuel Marshall in 1725 and 1727 (aged 21, 23). Furthermore, a testator in his will would commonly appoint near relatives as executors and guardians. In the will (1751) of Isaac Boston, Jr. (6), after all bequests were made, all but one of those whose names are found at the end of his will can be identified as relatives: only witness Purnell Outten was not related. The other two witnesses were Isaac's first cousin, Esau Boston, and Esau's son Lazarus. The executor was Isaac's wife Rachel. And as guardians of his children Isaac named Thomas Marshall, his presumed half-brother, and Jeffrey Long, his presumed first cousin. (See also S6, p. 458.)

Furthermore, it can be shown that the children of Isaac, Jr. (6) were given family names, two of them characteristic of the Long family: Isaac, named for his father; Abigail, named for her maternal grandmother, Abigail Seaward Tomlinson; Samuel, named for his maternal grandfather, Samuel Tomlinson (or for his father's half-brother, Samuel Marshall); Sarah, named probably for her mother's sister, Sarah Tomlinson; Solomon, named for his mother's brother, Solomon Tomlinson (or for his father's first cousin, Solomon Long); David, named after Elizabeth Long's brother, David, who died the year she died (moreover Isaac Boston, Jr. had three presumed first cousins named David Long); and Daniel, named for another brother of Elizabeth Long, Daniel Long, who died presumably shortly before Daniel Boston was born (Isaac, Jr. also had a presumed first cousin named Daniel Long).

Adria (Potter) Marshall, born in St. Mary's County, Maryland, about 1665; he died in Somerset County between 13 Sept. 1716 and 12 Mar. 1717; they were the parents of George, Samuel, Adria, Thomas, and Adrian Marshall (see pp. 416-17, No. 4).

At a Somerset County court held 12 January 1677/78 Isaac Boston, "orphan of Henry Boston Senior late of this County, gentleman deceased, humbly desired that William Planner... planter might be his guardian which was granted and ordered that the administrator Henry Boston deliver ye estate of ye said orphan forthwith unto ye said William Planner, [the latter] providing sufficient security against ye next County Court to be holden ye second Tuesday in August now next coming to pay ye same when ye said orphan shall attain to full age." On 8 May 1677 Planner, with William Walston, put up bond to William Stevens, Chief Justice of Somerset County Court, in the amount of 20,000 pounds "of good sound merchantable tobacco" obligating Planner "to pay and deliver... unto Isaac Boston... his filial portion or child's part of ye estate of his said late father deceased when ye said Isaac shall come to ye full age of twenty one years: And also honestly according to his degree educate and bring up ye said Isaac during ye time of nonage with meat, drink, apparell, lodging and Learning, and if it happen that ye said Isaac should dye before hee cometh to full age then if ye said William Planner doe content and pay ye portion to whom the law shall appoint ye same to be paid or who by proving of blood ought to have itt" (Judicial Records, pp. 98, 112-13 in back of Somerset Co. Deeds, Liber 07).

In 1681 cattle marks were recorded for Isaac (written "Isaiah"): "Croit of the right ear and three slits in the Said ear; the left ear underhalved & one hole in it," also "Croit of both ears & foure slits of the right ear: Two slits of the left ear and one hole in it," both "recorded the Second of June 1681" (Md. Archives LIV: 778).

On 12 June 1688 Isaac and his brother Esau bought from Cornelius Morris and his wife Anne a tract of 400 acres on the easternmost side of Morumsco Creek, land called "Bostons Purchase" (formerly "Saywards Purchase"), adjacent to a parcel of land formerly surveyed for John Mackett (Som. Deeds . S. C. : 314). On 23 July 1694 the brothers recorded an agreement to divide the land into two halves to avoid future contests, Isaac apparently taking the eastern half, Esau the western; Isaac was to give free egress for animals to a certain piece of marsh land lying on the northwest side of a small cut that separates said Boston's lands from those of Edward Jones. The brothers posted a bond of 40,000 pounds of tobacco and both signed their names (Som. Deeds 7:218).

For attendance at court as a witness against Charles Johnson on 12 February 1690, Isaac craved the court's order for remuneration for his coming and going for six days (Som. Jud. Rec. AW: 53). On 8 August 1693 Isaac Boston brought his servant boy John Ewin to have the court's judgment whether Ewin is a taxable person; if so, he is to be put in the list of tithables (Som. Jud. Rec. 1693-4, p. 3).

On 10 November 1695 Isaac enlarged his acreage by a patent from Lord Baltimore, a grant of 25 acres, "Bostons Green," on the east side of Morumsco Creek, beginning at a tree on the tract now possessed by Isaac Boston called "Seward's Purchase" (Md. Land Office, Liber C#3, p. 211).

On 26 November 1695 Samuel Long signed his will, naming Isaac Boston as husband of his daughter, Elizabeth.

On 3 December 1700 "Isaack Boston of Pocomoke in Somerset County" made his will, describing himself as "being very Sick and weake yett of perfect Sense and Memory."

I give my sold to the Everlasting God Reposing in the Resurrection of the Dead through the Meritts of Jesus Christ and my body... to be buried as my Executor shall thinke fitt. Item I give and bequeath to my Son Isaack Boston one feather bedd and Boulster and Rogg and Two blankitts and young mair, a Copper Kittle, one three yeare old Heiffer, two Sheep, the Heiffer and the Sheep to be Delivered to my Son Isaack Boston personally after my Decease and [Isaac] to be sett att age att sixteen years of age. Making my wife sold Executrix.

Isaac signed with his mark. Thomas Wood and George Willson were witnesses. The will was admitted to probate 9 April 1701 (Annapolis Hall of Records, Wills 11: 49).

Isaac's daughter, Anne, was evidently a mental invalid. At a court held at Dividing Creek, Somerset County, 6 June 1711 (Som. Jud. Rec. 1711/12, pp. 101-102) it was ordered that the estate of Anne Boston be put into the care and custody of Adrian Marshall, she being "utterly incappabell of assisting herselfe she being demented, that ye said Aryan Marshall her father in law and Elizabeth Marshall her owne Mother do during their Naturall lives take care" of her. Captain Isaac Horsey with Mr. Thomas Beauchamp was ordered to survey the chattels of Anne Boston; they found them to be "Two Cows and Calves and two five year Old Steers and one two year old and one yearling Steere and one stock Bead and Bolster and one Rugg and a pare of Blanketts and one Iron Kettle about 3 or foure Gallands which is all we Could heare of" (28 July 1711).

Isaac's widow, Elizabeth Marshall, "Widow, of the Parish of Coventry in Somerset County," made her will 12 March 1716/17. To son George Marshall she bequeathed a six-gallon iron pot, a frying pan, "and so lett him be cast off with a shilling"; to son Samuel Marshall a three-gallon iron pot, a white faced cow, a second cow, and a chest; to daughter Adria Marshall a feather bed, bolster, and blanket, and a cow and heifer; to son Thomas Marshall a "feather bed I had of David Long," a bolster and blanket, and two cows; to son Adrian Marshall a striped feather bed, a red rug, and his father's chest; to son Samuel Marshall a one-year old mare colt, "and if it lives to bring a Colt it shall be at my brother Randolph Long's disposing to give to which of my children he pleases." George, Samuel, Adria, and Thomas "shall be taken and kept by my brother Randolph Long until they are eighteen years of age and their Legacys with them imediatly after my decease delivering each one his creatures, to hazard them their selves." Her brother Randolph Long was bequeathed 700 pounds of tobacco borrowed by her brother David Long "from us," to be paid by brother Jeffry Long. Her brother Daniel Long was bequeathed "a steer and hogg running with his creatures" and 400 pounds of tobacco; he was appointed guardian of her "youngest son" Adrian Marshall, to be free at 18. Appointing her "loving brother" Randolph her executor, she signed with her mark. Witnesses were Margaret Taylor, Abigail Riffin, and her brother-in-law, Esau Boston, who signed his name. The will was admitted to probate 21 March 1716/17 (Annapolis Wills 14:281-82).

An inventory was made of the estate of Elizabeth Marshall 8 April 1717 by Job Shary, Daniel Long, James Curtis, and John Benson. Items listed included a horse about 14 years old, 17 pigs, 7 cows, 3 harrow teeth and a plow, a grinstone, a cross-cut saw, cooper's tools, a loom, a wooling wheel, one chains and hook, a frying pan, 2 iron pots and pot hooks, a small table, and 4 feather beds (Annapolis Inventories & Accts.

37: 205-6). In an account of July 1718 payments were made to Daniel Long, William Planner, John Benson, John White, Thomas Dashiell, and Isaac Boston (Annapolis Accts. 1:217).

Children (born Somerset Co., Md., probably at Morumsco):

- i. Isaac, b. about Aug. 1694; d. before 20 Sept. 1751; mar. Rachel Tomlinson; see No. 6.
- ii. Anne, b. about 1696; d. probably before 1717.
- iii. Elizabeth, b. about 1698.

3 ANNE BOSTON, daughter of Henry Boston (1) by his first wife, Anne, was born in Somerset County, Maryland, probably at Annessex, about 1663. She was married, in Somerset County, 12 March 1680/81, to THOMAS RELFE, by Captain Henry Smith, "one of his Lordships Justices of ye Peace." In 1688 Thomas Relfe held tracts "Contention" and "Truelock Grange." He evidently died intestate in 1714, for John and Anne Lankford were administrators of his estate. Anne Relfe married, second, in Stepney Parish, Somerset Co., 12 Aug. 1714 JOHN LANKFORD of Nanticoke (not the family on p. 405).

Children, by first marriage (born Somerset Co., Md.):

- i. Thomas, b. about 1682; d. 16/21 Oct. 1723.
- ii. Susannah, b. 10 Dec. 1686
- iii. Elizabeth, b. 11 Dec. 1692, at 8 p. m.
- iv. John, b. 20 Jan. 1693/4; d. 1726.

4 ESAU BOSTON, third son of Henry Boston (1) by his first wife, Anne, was born in Somerset County, Maryland, probably at Annessex, about 1665; he died in Somerset County, probably at Morumsco, before 12 March 1719/20. He married, about 1692, Elizabeth Dukes, daughter of Robert and Elizabeth (Dixon) Dukes (see DIXON family); she was born in Somerset County 7 February 1674/5; she may have died before 1719, and Esau may have married a second time, for there was a Sarah Boston in the administration accounts, who may be Esau's widow.

On 12 January 1677 at a Somerset County court Esau Boston, "orphan of Henry Boston Sen^r late of this County gentleman... humbly desired that William Walston... cooper, might be his guardian." On 8 May William Walston, with William Planner, Isaac Boston's guardian, put up bond under the same conditions (Annapolis Hall of Records: Judicial Records, pp. 98, 112-13 in back of Somerset Deeds Liber 07).

On 12 June 1688 Esau with his brother Isaac bought from Cornelius Morris and his wife Anne 400 acres on Morumsco Creek, land which they agreed to divide on 23 July 1694 (Som. Deeds S.C.: 314 and 7:218).

With Isaac Boston, Esau craved a court order for remuneration for attendance at court as a witness against Charles Johnson on 12 February 1690. At a Somerset County court in November 1695 a petition of Esau was heard: "Since the decease of Mary Dixon relict of Ambrose Dixon of Annessex deceased - a part of deceased's estate was reserved to and for the children of Robert Dukes deceased which said part Thomas Dixon did then make choice of and keep the same for his children... Now so it may please your Worships that your petitioner having marryd Elizabeth the daughter of the said Dukes, most humbly prays that her part may be forthwith restored. And your petitioner shall give the said Dixon sufficient security." The petition was granted at June Court 1696 (Som. Jud. Records 1696/98, p. 7).

Esau was a witness of the wills of George Hey (10 August 1708), John Long (6 November 1712) and his sister-in-law, Elizabeth Marshall (12 March 1716/17).

In May Court, 1713, Esau Boston, with David and Daniel Long, was a defendant in an action of trespass brought by Jonathan Cooper, but the details are unclear (Annapolis Hall of Records, Provincial Court Judgments V.D. 1).

Esau Boston died probably in early March 1719/20, for on 12 March Esau Boston was administrator for Esau Boston, deceased, and an inventory was taken 17 March. It included: sheep valued at £. 12. 2, 4 cows and calves (£. 3. 12), a yearling calf and heifer (each 6 shillings), 7 two-year old hogs (£. 1. 10), a sow and 16 pigs, 300 pounds of tobacco (£. 1. 5), an old mill and frame and stones (£. 1), 7 old casks, a grindstone, an axe, 2 harrow teeth, an old box of iron, 34 pounds of iron, 3 old buckets, 2 old pots, a wooling wheel and "ross leg table," an old table, a leaf of a table, an old chest, an old Indian tray, 3 bowls, 5 spoons, an old Bible, a feather bed, a feather bed with rug (£1.5) and a feather bed with an old rug and sheet (£2). The inventory was taken by Thomas Tull, Daniel and John Long, and Isaac Boston (Annapolis: Som. Inv. 3:248).

An account was submitted 5 May 1721 by Esau Boston, which included the name of Sarah Boston (Ann. Accts. 3:389).

Children (born Somerset Co., Md., probably at Morumsco):

- i. Bette, b. 13 Apr. 1693; d. before 9 Oct. 1750; mar. Mr. Taylor; see No. 7.
- ii. Esau, b. c1695; d. before 30 Aug. 1768; mar. Ellis [Dennis?]; see No. 8.

5 RICHARD BOSTON, illegitimate son of Henry Boston (1) by Judith Best, was born in Somerset County, Maryland, probably at Annessex, about 8 March 1670; he died in Somerset County before 20 September 1706. He married a daughter of Joseph Benton, of Annessex, for Benton, by his will, signed 19 March 1707/8 (prob. 6 May 1710), made a bequest to his grandson, William Boston, and also mentioned land between the testator and Richard Boston, during the minority of William (Som. Wills 13:206).

On 19 August 1677 Robert Catlin, Jr. petitioned the court to "grant him... Richard Boston, bastard child of Henry Boston begot on ye body of Judith Best, now wife of Thomas Davis (tailor) of this county, until he attains full age... Said Jude Davis, mother of said Richard Boston, gives consent and said Richard shows his willingness to serve said Catlin until he is of age." Richard was thereupon bound apprentice to Catlin to become a shoemaker, Catlin engaging to give him a cow and calf and teach him to read (Som. Judicial Records 1675/77, p. 133 in back of Som. Deeds, Part 2, 1691/1706).

On 22 January 1677/78 a cattle mark was registered for Richard: "Richard Boston his Marke vizt. Cropt of the left ear slitt in the right ear & two holes in the same ear recorded by the order of Robert Catlin, Junior" (Md. Archives LIV:768).

An inventory of Richard Boston's estate, submitted 20 September 1706 by Samuel Handy and James Curtis (Annapolis: Som. Inv. & Accts. 26:260) valued his goods at £34. 12. The costliest items were his apparel (£3. 14), two cows and calves and a two-year-old heifer (£8), and a horse and a mare (£6. 10). Household items were 7 yards of druggat and 18 yards of "narrow sheff"; 2 bed ticks, a pair of new sheets, 3 blankets (£1. 02), a bolster and 2 pillows; an old rug, a great chest, a small chest, a gilded trunk; a dozen pewter plates, a candle stick; an iron pot; a square table, a parcel of bowls, a bucket, and a parcel of glass bottles. The tools listed were 2 chisels, an auger, 1 old grubbing hoe, and 1 old broadaxe; a parcel of shoemaker's tools and a parcel of leather. At the end of the list were 6500 pounds of tobacco at 5 pence per hundred, and a gun and a sword.

Child (born Somerset Co., Md., probably at Annessex):

- i. William, b. 3 July 1701/18 Apr. 1702; d. by 30 Sept. 1777; mar. Comfort, and others; see No. 9.

THIRD GENERATION

6 ISAAC BOSTON, only son of Isaac (2) and Elizabeth (Long) Boston, was born in Somerset Co., Md., probably at Morumsco, about Aug. 1694; he died in Somerset Co., probably at Morumsco, before 20 Sept. 1751. He married, about 1722, Rachel Tomlinson, daughter of Samuel and Abigail (Seward) TOMLINSON (see PARKER, p. 422); she was born in Somerset Co. about 1703; she died after 23 Nov. 1769. (See Supplement, No. S6, p. 459.)

It was probably for this Isaac Boston that a cattle mark was recorded 17 Mar. 1698 (Som. Deeds IKL:1). In the Aug. Court for Somerset Co. in 1728 it was ordered that James McClester pay Isaac Boston 150 pounds of tobacco for attendance 5 days as witness in behalf of McClester against Samuel Riggins (Som. Jud. Rec. 1727/30, p. 129). In the Nov. Court, 1737, a Negro girl named Jenney, belonging to Isaac, was adjudged by the court to be fifteen years old (ibid. 1736/38, p. 131).

On 26 Aug. 1740 Isaac Boston, "planter," gave bond to Samuel Adams in the amount of £100 until the following May 10 with respect to a dispute over the bounds of a tract originally called "Saywards Purchase" but lately "Bostons Purchase," on the east side of Morumsco Creek. Isaac was ordered by 10 May next to "shew unto the arbitrators," Robert King, George Dashiell, David Wilson, and John Waters, "all such writings as he hath concerning the said Land that was particularly in dispute." The arbitrators found for Adams; Isaac was to replace a decayed stump marking the original grant with a good cedar post; the stump was shown to the adjusters by Daniel Long. Isaac signed with his mark (Som. Deeds 20:228-29).

Two depositions of 1740 and 1744 provide what evidence there is for the birth of Isaac. In November Court 1740 were presented depositions of Isaac Boston, George Marshall (his half-brother), and Teague Matthews. On 26 Aug. 1740, "Isaac Boston of Somerset County, Planter, aged forty-five years or thereabouts, sworn on the holy Evangelist of Almighty God, deposeth as follows: that about fifteen years agoe, when Robert Taylor resurveyed a certain tract of Land whereon the said Robert now lives and on which he did then reside, called Dublin, this deponent was in Company with the said Robert Taylor, Thomas Wood, Jeofry Long, and Thomas Adams and sundry other persons at the place between the said Plantation of the said Robert and the marsh side where they seemed satisfied the second bounder of the said tract of Land Dublin had before that time stood, that Thomas Adams or the said Jeofry Long had strided the Land of the said Thomas Woods across, contiguous to the aforesaid tract Dublin and by that method of measuring the distance across the said Wood Land did correspond and agree with the place where the said Company was, that there was there an old Stump near which the said Robert Taylor and Thomas Wood allowed to be marked a small saplin Oak instead of the tree so fallen, cutt down, or decayed. This deponent further sayeth that a few days thereafter he was informed by the said Robert Taylor that his little boy had cut down the said saplin and that the tree now marked with eight notches as the place where the said second Bounder stood is very near the spott which the said Taylor and Wood had allowed as aforesaid." Isaac signed with his mark (Som. Jud. Rec. 1740/42, pp. 43-45).

At a court held 21 Aug. 1744 appeared Sampson Wheatley and Samuel Addams, who had qualified in March 1744 to settle a land dispute, and presented depositions of Phillip Addams and Isaac Boston, "aged fifty," who "deposeth that he was present... when the Longs were running out a tract of Land called Bostons Adventure... and that they all agreed that the pine that Phillip Addams... makes mention of was the first bounder" (Som. Jud. Rec. 1742/44, p. 263). On the basis of the somewhat conflicting testimony, it would appear that Isaac Boston was born about August 1694.

On 8 Dec. 1750, with his cousin Esau Boston, Isaac signed an agreement to settle a dispute over "Boston's (originally Sayward's) Purchase"; John Waters, Sampson Wheatley, James Trahern, and Samuel Addams were arbitrators (Som. Deeds 22:153-54). Meanwhile Isaac had received from Lord Baltimore on 16 Sept. 1746 a grant of "Boston's Purchase," 182 acres which escheated from Richard Brittain who died intestate, plus 173 acres of vacant land on the north side of Pocomoke Bay and the west side of Morumsco Creek, a total of 355 acres (Md. Land Office, Liber BT & BY No. 3, p. 1).

On 30 Apr. 1751 Isaac Boston, planter, of Somerset Co. in the Province of Maryland dictated his will; after the customary preliminaries he made the following bequests:

Imprimis I give... to my well beloved Son Isaac Boston to him and his heirs for ever my Negro Man Jeffery if in case that he will pay my Son Samuel... ten pounds hard money, and likewise I give my Son Isaac half the benefits of my Orchard this Year and my hand Mill and one Bed and Covering that I let him have some time ago and one Ewe and Lam and one old Gun called the Black Gun. Item I give... to my well beloved Daughter Abigail White one small oval table. Item I give... to my well beloved Daughter Sarah Boston my Negro Woman Amy after the death or Marridge of my well beloved Wife and also one Bed and Covering and one Cow and Calf ... Item I leave my well beloved Wife Rachel the half of my plantation that I Now live on during her life or Widowhood and for my Son Isaac Boston to gather five hundred fence Rails a Year for five Years and to get her fire Wood for two Months in a Year and likewise I give her one Young Mare and my Will is that my beloved Wife should have the keeping of my three Children that is to say Martha Boston, Rebecca Boston and Daniel Boston and what they have till they come of age. Item I give... to my well beloved Son Daniel Boston my Negro Boy London... and for them both to be bound to a trade when they are Sixteen Years old. Item the Remainder part of my Estate my lawfull debts and legacies being paid and funeral Charges discharged I give leave to be Equally divided between and amongst my Children as followeth that is to say Solomon Boston, Naboth Boston, Rebecca Boston, Martha Boston, Daniel Boston to them and their heirs. Item my will is that Jeffery Long and Purnell Outten should be appraisers of my Estate and Deviders of it amongst my Children and also I leave Jeffery Long and Thomas Marshel as Gardeners [Guardians] to see that my Children is taken Care of. Item I do hereby Nominate appoint and Ordain my well beloved wife Rachel Boston to be my whole and Sole Executrix of this my last Will and Testament and I do hereby utterly disallow Revoke and Disanull all other Wills.

Isaac Boston placed his mark on the will in the presence of Purnell Outten, Lazarus Boston (19), and Esau Boston "sener" (8). The will was admitted to probate 20 Sept. 1751, the three subscribing witnesses appearing to testify (Som. Wills 28:198).

On 25 Oct. 1763 Rachel Boston submitted an account, which itemized money due and paid to Sarah Wise, John Cohoon, Thomas Marshall (Isaac's half-brother), Sarah Long, Cornelius Ward, David Boston, Samuel Boston, David Matthews, James Trehearne, and Lazarus Boston for proving the will. Rachel reserved her third after debts were paid (out of an inventory valued at £216.12.9), and legacies were paid to Isaac (£131.17), Sarah (£7.5), Samuel (£2.2), and David (£31.10). The balance of the estate, as per will, was £49.14.4 (Ann. Accts. 50:108).

In 1756, meanwhile, Rachel Boston, by her attorney, Littleton Dennis, brought suit against Henry White (evidently her son-in-law) to recover from him 215 pounds of tobacco. On 19 Aug. the court ordered him "to show cause," but he did not respond; execution was ordered by the court on the third Tuesday of Nov. (Som. Jud. Rec. 1754/57, p. 224).

Isaac's second son, SAMUEL BOSTON, in 1755 in a suit against Samuel Marshall, planter, secured a writ of attachment (dated 25 Nov.); the court ordered the sheriff to attach any of the goods of Marshall to the value of £17.15.10 and 800 pounds of tobacco. Boston's attorney was Leven Gale. The goods attached were appraised by James Trehearne, Henry Chaldhoon, Thomas Patterson, and George Wilson; the list included a cross-cut saw, a side of leather, two small skins, a hackle, a pair of spoon molds, a small box iron, two old gun barrels, a grindstone, two grubbing hoes, two broad axes, and an old cupboard, all amounting to only £4.17.10. Boston gave surety that if Marshall should appear within a year and a day, to satisfy the claim, Boston would make restitution (Som. Jud. Rec. 1754/57, p. 156).

Isaac's third son, DAVID BOSTON, in 1758 reportedly owed Robert Taylor £1.18.5; a court order of 4 Sept. 1758 led him to get Ezekiel Matthews and Bell Maddux as securities for his debt (Som. Jud. Rec. 1757/60, p. 175). On 27 May 1760, with his brother Solomon and Robert Taylor, David signed his name as witness to the will of Stevens White. David died between June 1760 and May 1761, apparently under suspicious circumstances (see No. 13). On 3 Sept. 1761 an extensive inventory of the goods and chattels of David Boston was submitted, listing Isaac and Sarah Boston as nearest of kin, with Rachel Boston executrix (Ann. Accts. 76:138). The inventory itemized one Negro man named Adam (£60), a half share in "one old shallop" (£5.8), one small old boat with sails and anchor; one old Bible; a small gun (£1) and a large old gun, with two pounds of powder, and one old sword; one "Slay" (sleigh?); and one old still worm and tub. The farm stock included 13 sheep (at 5 shillings each), an ox, a bull, 6 cows and 3 calves, a 2 year old colt and a grey mare (and an old saddle and bridle), 10 geese and a drake, 6 "Dunghill fowls," four sows and 26 small shotes, and a "Taylor's goose." Among the usual farm tools (hatchet, files, saws, hoes, axes, steelyards) was one old cooper's adze. Other items were an old hand mill and frame, a "linen wheel," an old loom, 322 feet of quarter planks and 250 feet of inch plank. There were two barrels of pork (£3 each), varying quantities of pewter, old copper, iron, flax, tobacco, indigo, 5 pounds of wool and 10 pounds of unwashed wool, and 7 yards of white linen. His wearing apparel was valued at £5.7.6. The household furnishings included 6 bedsteads, 3 with coverings, 5 chests (one with lock and hinges) and a trunk, two old tables and 7 old chairs. Kitchen equipment included frying pans (one brass), 8 "Delf" plates, 2 tea pots, a milk pot, an iron spit, and a spice mortar and pestle. Among odd items were "brimstone" and 400 needles. With the currency on hand, the total estate was valued at £208.19.4. For a bachelor David had a well-stocked home.

On 9 May 1769 Rachel Boston submitted the first account for her son David's estate, listing payments to Lodowick Milburn, Henry Potter, John Riffin, Mary Riffen, Abraham Outten, John Dennis, Esau Boston, George Wilson, Gunby Taylor, Thomas Marshall, and Solomon Boston. In her second (and final) account of 23 Nov. 1769 Rachel "craves allowance of a bond for £300 given by the deceased for sundry goods she delivered to him in his lifetime." The balance due the estate was £46.16.2 (Ann. Accts. 60:417, 62:410).

Isaac's daughter, REBECCA BOSTON, secured a court order, issued in May 1774 to take and hold Ephraim Adams for the Aug. Court to answer to her for £28 according to a note of 27 Mar. 1772 (Som. Jud. Rec. 1774/75, p. 115). She signed her will 27 May 1784, bequeathing to her sister Sarah's son, Solomon Evans, "my best feather bed and furniture, namely fore bed quilts, 2 gold rings, a pair of silver buttons, 7 yards of country maid linen"; she provided that a young mare be sold and the money put "into good hands until Solomon Evans become 21"; if he should die, then the money should go to her sister Martha Boston. To Rebeckah Boston, daughter of Naboth, she left "my spinning wheel"; to her brother, Daniel Boston, "that note of hand that he gave me given up without any payments on it," and also 7 yards of "streept linen"; brothers Solomon and Naboth were to receive James Macan's bond to be equally divided between them, and also 7 yards of linen each; Naboth's wife was to receive "one blue streept cotten gound, one petecote"; Daniel's wife was to receive one "stript linen gound, 1 stript petecote"; Solomon's wife, one "blue stript cotten gound, one stript petecote"; George Schoolfield's wife "one purple gound, my old mair and saddle"; sister Martha Boston, "1 weaving loom . . . and all my wearing apparel not heretofore mentioned." Brother Daniel was given £33 "toward my burying that is in the hands of Joacham Milbourne"; sister Martha was to pay Daniel the remainder of the expense of her burying and also all Rebecca's debts; and she requested burial in the grave her father and brothers dug. Witnesses were Caleb and Lusy Milbourne. The will was admitted to probate 9 Nov. 1784 (Som. Wills EB 1:214).

The ages of Isaac's four eldest sons are based on the Somerset Co. tax lists, 1744-1756, each son appearing for the first time at age 16; younger daughters' and younger sons' ages are mere estimates.

Children (born Somerset Co., Md., probably at Morumsco):

- i. Abigail, b. 24 Feb. 1724 (Coventry); living 1756; mar. Henry White; see No. 10.
- ii. Rebecca, b. c1726; d. 27 May/9 Nov. 1784; single.

7 BETTE BOSTON, daughter of Esau (4) and Elizabeth (Dukes) Boston, was born in Somerset Co., Md., probably at Morumsco, 13 Apr. 1693; she died before 9 Oct. 1750, for her son on that date sold land of his deceased mother to his uncle Esau Boston (8). She married a Mr. TAYLOR after Apr. 1720 (see 8).

Child: Obed, b. 1721/29

8 ESAU BOSTON, son of Esau (4) and Elizabeth (Dukes) Boston, was born in Somerset Co., Md., probably at Morumsco about 1695; he died in Somerset Co., probably at Morumsco, before 30 Aug. 1768. He married about 1720 Ellis [Dennis?], possibly a daughter of John DENNIS (pp. 376-77, No. 1 viii). (See Supplement, 88, p. 458.)

On 21 Apr. 1720, "in consideration of ten shillings all ready received and for ye love good will and affection which we have and do beare towards our loving sister," Esau and his wife, Ellis, deeded to Betty Boston 200 acres on the east side of "Morumscoe Creek called and known by the name of Bostons purchase." Witnesses were Thomas Maddux and John Outten (Som. Deeds 14:47 - in back of book, upside down). On 9 Oct. 1750 Esau's nephew, Obed Taylor, of Somerset Co., for £8 relinquished his claim to "Boston's Purchase," described as 100 acres, which Taylor claimed "as being heir at law to his decd. mother Betty Taylor"; William Allen and William Hayward were witnesses (Som. Deeds 33: 145-55).

In 1737 Esau secured a patent, a grant to a tract called "Nann Ellis Ridge" (Md. Land Records Liber EI 6:25), which was sold in 1786 by William and Naomi Wood to Jacob Adams. In 1750 Esau signed an agreement with his cousin, Isaac Boston, to divide the land left to them by their fathers. And on 25 Apr. 1761, for £200, Esau sold to Thomas Marshall his half part in "Saywards, now Bostons, Purchase," 200 acres on "the Eastern-most Side of Murumsco Creek." For his part, Thomas Marshall, planter, rented the plantation to Esau, for "One bushel of Indian Corn if demanded of the said Esau Boston. . . that the said Esau or any under him shall not During the said Term cut fell or Destroy any trees of the said Land but for Necessary Repairs and Plantation uses and that the Orchards be kept well and sufficiently fenced from Creatures that may prejudice and destroy the same and the Plantation preserved in Tenantable repair. . . and if he the said Esau thinks proper Anne Boston, the Widow of Esau Boston deceased may continue to live and occupy where she now does" during Esau's natural life (Som. Deeds 24: 81-82).

On 2 June 1768 Esau made his will, which he signed with his mark.

I Esau Boston of Somerset County in the Province of Maryland, Planter, being sick and weak of Body but in perfect mind and memory thanks be to Almighty God for it and calling to mind the uncertainty of this present Lyfe and willing to settle my Affairs here on Earth and as for my worldly Estate which it hath pleased God to bless me with I bestow as followeth:

Item. I do hereby nominate Constitute appoint and ordain my trusty son Jacob Boston to be my whole and Sole Executor of this my Last Will and Testament and I do hereby revoke. . . any. . . former Wills. . . made by me.

On 30 Aug. 1768 appeared all three witnesses, Purnell Outten, William Cearsly, and Isaac Marshall, to testify that the will was genuine (Ann. Wills 36: 605-608). In accounts of 23 Aug. and 3 Nov. 1770 (Ann. Accts. 65:184) disbursements were made to John Cottingham, Betty Boston on a note, Jesse Boston, and Samuel Kersley for making a coffin. Elijah Matthews had become executor by Jan. 1769.

An inventory of Esau's personal estate was made 2 Nov. 1768 by Teague Ridden and Elijah Conway. The estate was valued at £240.3.7. Besides the items specifically mentioned in the will were 2 spinning wheels, miscellaneous kitchen utensils (6 old spoons, frying pans, milk pan, sugar box), "1 old table" (and no other furniture except two beds), and a few tools, plus a fiddle and a Testament. There were a cow and calf, 3 other cows, 5 steers, a bull, 2 heifers, "1 old yoke of oxen," and 10 hogs. There were 7 barrels and 29 bushels of Indian corn, a stack of fodder, some flax seed and "unbroke" flax, a bushel of salt, 60 pounds of old bacon, and 2 pounds of hog's lard. The slaves were valued thus: Pleasant at £10.10, Tamor at £42, and Judy at £40 (Ann. Inv. 99:191-192).

Children (born Somerset Co., Md., probably at Morumsco):

- i. Esau, Jr., b. c1721; d. 6 Dec. 1760; mar. 2nd Rachel Dougherty; 3rd Anne ? ; see No. 16.

9 WILLIAM BOSTON, son of Richard (5) and --- (Benton) Boston, was born in Somerset Co., Md., probably at Annemessex, between 3 July 1701 and 18 Apr. 1702; he died in Somerset Co., probably at Morumsco, before 30 Sept. 1777. He may have married two or three times; his wife in 1747 was Comfort.

Two depositions provide evidence for the date of William's birth. On 19 Apr. 1735 William Boston, aged 33, together with William Catlin, Thomas Williams, Ralph Milburn, and others, gave testimony with respect to the bounds of "Long Ridge," owned by Daniel Hull, and on 3 July 1742, William Boston, aged 40, together with John Williams, Samuel Long, and George Marshall, testified in regard to the bounds of "Harford Broad Oak," owned by William Catlin (Som. Jud. Rec. 1734/36, p. 312; 1742/44, p. 152).

In the June Court of 1732 it was ordered that William Boston, Elizabeth Berminger, and Jane King be paid ninety pounds of tobacco by Francis Caughlin for their attendance three days at court. In Nov. Court 1737 William secured a supersedens against John Louis, from whom he had recovered a debt of £1.5.4 in June Court, ordering Louis to pay (Som. Jud. Rec. 1730/33, p. 218; 1736/38, p. 186).

On 18 Mar. 1746 William secured from Lord Baltimore a patent for a tract of land, "Boston's Lott," on the "east side of Chesapeake Bay back in the woods between Annemessex Dam and Murrinisco Dam... in fee as of our Manor of Somerset in free and common soccage by fealty only" (Md. Land Office Liber BY & GS No. 4:15). On 3 Mar. 1753, for £50, William purchased from Dennis and Rachel Adams part of a tract called "Long Ridge," 60 acres near the head of Morumsco Dam (Som. Deeds 22:287).

On 28 Aug. 1777 William Boston, "planter," made his will and signed it with his mark. After the standard preliminaries he made the following bequests:

I give and bequeath to my dutifull son Richard Boston Part of a tract of Land Called Long Ridge Lying up Merumsco Dam for a White Oak that I marked for a divisional Bounder between him and my Son Levin Boston thence Running from the said dam north five degrees west to the extent thereof and also the one half of a tract or Parcell of Land Called Bostons Lott except Twenty Acres of Land aforesaid to be the Right and Property of my dutifull daughter Martha Boston during her natural life or twenty pounds Cash paid her by... Richard Boston to him his Heirs and assigns forever. Item I give... to my dutifull son Levin Boston my Manner Plantation Whereon I now live called first Choice and also part of two tracts of Land the one known by the name of Long Ridge beginning at a marked white Oak from thence Runing North five degrees west to the extent of the said tract... and also the one half of a tract of Land Called Bostons Lott except twenty acres of the aforesaid Land to be the Right and Property of my Daughter Leah Boston during her natural Life or twenty pounds cash paid her by the said Levin Boston... Item I give... to my Dutifull Daughter Martha Boston one bed and furniture one Cow and Calf six Large Pewter Plates and one Bay Mare called Diamond... Item I give... to my dutifull daughter Leah Boston one young Negro girl named Lottee and one Bed and Furniture... Item I give... to my Grand son Joseph Roe one young heifer... Item I give... to Nicholas Roe one shilling Sterling money of Great Britain... Item I give... all the Remainder part of my Estate to Levin Boston, Martha Boston, and Leah Boston to be equally divided between them... Item I do hereby Nominate constitute appoint and Ordain my son Levin Boston to be my... Executor... and I do hereby... revoke... all... former Wills....

William Moore, Thomas Beauchamp, and John Milbourn were the witnesses. The will was admitted to probate 30 Sept. 1777 (Som. Wills EB 1:34). On 9 Nov. 1789 Leah and Martha Boston received of Levin their full share of their father's estate (Som. Accts. EB 16:408). (See Supplement, S9, p. 458.)

Children (born Somerset Co., Md., probably at Morumsco):

- i. Richard, b. c 1733; d. before 16 May 1809; mar. (Coventry, 21 Apr. 1754) Mary Porter; no children. On 28 Mar. 1759 Richard and Mary witnessed the will of Thomas Beauchamp. On 27 July 1762 Richard purchased from Handy Beauchamp for £11.17 part of "Ledbourn," 19 3/4 acres (Som. Deeds 24:131). In August 1768 Richard was executor of the estate of Alexander Porter. During the American Revolution Richard served in the Somerset Co. Militia in the same company with Daniel Boston (15). According to the 1798 Somerset Co. tax list Richard had a dwelling house (18x16 ft.), a cook house (20x16), a smoke house (12x12), and a milk house (12x8), as well as two slaves. Richard made his will 15 Feb. 1800 (prob. 16 May 1809); to his nephew Elijah Boston he bequeathed "all my lands by whatever name known lying in Somerset Co."; nephews William and Jesse Boston were successively residuary legatees. He also provided for his sister Martha, and nephews William and Jesse were to receive the remainder of the estate to be divided equally. Their father Levin was named executor, but he renounced the right (16 May 1809). Witnesses were Samuel and James Smith and James Porter (Som. Wills EB 23:139).
- ii. Elijah, b. c1736; d. c1758; single.
- iii. William, Jr., b. c1740; d. 1770/77; no children. On 15 Dec. 1769, for £20.8.9, he purchased from Handy Beauchamp two tracts, one called "Ledbourn" (10 acres), the other "Beauchamp's Venture" (13 1/2 acres) on the north side of Morumsco Dam, adjacent "Long Ridge" (Som. Deeds 26:64); in 1781 his brother Richard sold this land to their brother Levin.
- iii. [Anne?], mar. Nicholas Roe; see No. 21.
- iv. Levin, b. 22 June 1747; d. before 29 Jan. 1820; mar. 1st Gertrude Benston; 2nd Esther Wilson Adams; 3rd Miss Maddux; see No. 22.
- v. Martha C., b. before 1769; possibly mar. (license Som. Co. 30 Aug. 1805) SAMUEL BANKS; her brother Richard, in his will, left her "five pounds current money of Maryland for each year during her life to be paid by [their]... nephew Elijah Boston out of the profits arising from the said lands and if he or his successors refuse or neglect to pay the same yearly then on such neglect or refusal I give to her my said sister in lieu of the said five pounds a year my dwelling house and three acres of land including my orchard during her life."
- vi. Leah, b. before 1769; possibly mar. (lic. Som. Co. 27 Aug. 1794) JOHN TAWS.

10 ABIGAIL BOSTON, daughter of Isaac (6) and Rachel (Tomlinson) Boston, was born in Somerset Co., Md., probably at Morumsco, 24 Feb. 1742 and was baptised at Coventry Church, apparently at the time of her marriage; she was still living 1756. She married, at Coventry, 11 May 1746, HENRY WHITE, son of John and Sarah WHITE (pp. 437-438, No. 2); he was born in Somerset Co., 20 July 1725, baptised at Coventry; he died in Somerset Co. (according to the Coventry record) 16 Dec. 1756. On 17 Jan. 1757 Abigail White declared, "I do hereby relinquish all my Right and Title of the Administration of my Deceased Husband Henry White unto Solomon Long as being the greatest creditor given under my hand..." (Som. Wills EB4:57).

Children (born Somerset Co., baptised Coventry):

- i. Isaac, b. 19 Apr. 1747; d. by 11 June 1782; mar. Nanny McCready; see No. 23 and S-G1.
- ii. John, b. 13 June 1750; d. 19 Mar. 1760 (Coventry).
- iii. Sarah, b. 15 June 1756; it is possible that she is the wife of George Schoolfield to whom Rebecca Boston (Sarah's aunt) made a bequest in 1784.

11 ISAAC BOSTON, JR., eldest son of Isaac (6) and Rachel (Tomlinson) Boston, was born in Somerset Co., Md., probably at Morumsco, about 1728; he died, possibly in Somerset Co., not long after Apr. 1765.

He appears in the Somerset Co. tax lists in his father's household in Pocomoke Hundred 1744-48, then from 1750 to 1756 as head of his own household, also in Pocomoke Hundred. With him in 1750 was his brother Samuel. In 1754-56 he owned one negro.

In 1750 a warrant was issued to arrest George Laws if he should appear to be produced at court the third Tuesday of Nov. to answer to Isaac Boston, Jr., to whom Laws owed £4.6.4. It was subsequently ordered that Samuel Boston recover against Isaac Boston 72 pounds of tobacco for attendance on behalf of Isaac against Laws (Som. Jud. Rec. 1749/51, pp. 227, 238).

On 13 Jan. 1756, for £19.16.8, Isaac, described as "planter," sold to Samuel Adams 19 2/3 acres, part of a tract originally called "Sayward's Purchase," now called "Boston's Purchase," one dividing line marked by a white oak which "stands on the Island commonly called the Great Island and to the Eastward of the foot path that leads from the said Samuel Addams to Easaw Boston through the afd. Great Island" (Som. Deeds 23:114). Later, on 6 July 1756 Isaac mortgaged to Thomas Marshall, for £100, three parcels of land: 181 acres of "Sayward's Purchase" on the eastern side of Morumsco Creek, which "came to him by descent of Isaac Boston his late father," also a 25 acre tract called "Boston's Green," and a 47 acre tract called "Vacancy," together with "1 negro Jeffery, 2 yoke of oxen, 1 cow, 2 heifers, 1 young steer, all marked with a crop in the left year and one year bit in the right and now in the present dwelling plantation of sd. Isaac" (Som. Deeds 22:134). The money was to be "Virginia currency in Spanish whole gold" at 6% interest until 26 July 1757. On 6 July 1757 Isaac deeded this land to Thomas Marshall, along with the slave, and cattle "marked with a cross in the left ear and under bitt in the right." On 7 July Isaac's mother, Rachel, for £21, released to Thomas Marshall her dower right in the third part of the land; Thomas Ballard and David Boston were witnesses (Som. Deeds 28:181, 182).

Ten days later, on 16 July 1757, Isaac secured a new grant from Lord Baltimore of "Boston's Chance," actually a resurvey of "Seward's Purchase" on the south side of Morumsco Creek near Boston's Upper Landing between said Isaac and Esau Boston, a tract of 260 1/2 acres (Md. Land Office, Liber BC & GS No. 7, p. 388).

In the March court of 1757 it was ordered that Ezekiel Mathews appear to answer to Isaac Boston for £27 current money of Virginia of value of £40 of Maryland "which to him he owes and unjustly detains," on a note of account of 3 Oct. 1756 (Som. Jud. Rec. 1754/57, p. 257). In Mar. 1764 a court order was issued to the sheriff to "take and keep" William Wilson, son of George, planter, to answer to Isaac Boston. The case was postponed, and finally at the March Court, 1765, Isaac voluntarily suffered his suit to be discontinued (Som. Jud. Rec. 1763/67, p. 172). At the same time (Mar. 1765) Isaac presented to the court a petition to be granted a commission to survey the bounds of his tract "Boston's Purchase," and the commission was appointed, consisting of Sampson Wheatley, Planner Williams, and Isaac Coulbourn.

The next month, 15 Apr. 1765, Isaac Boston, now described as "Mariner," for £200, deeded to Kellum Langford 350 acres of land on the "North side of Pocomoke Bay and on the West Side of a Creek of the said Bay called Murrumsco Creek between the lands of Thomas White and Prior" known as "Boston's Purchase," which had been patented to Isaac's father, Isaac the Elder, which he by will did among other things give and devise and bequeath unto his two sons David and Samuel Boston and whereas the said David and Samuel Boston died intestate and without issue" the land thus descended to Isaac the Younger as elder brother and heir at law (Som. Deeds 24:251). This was evidently the last of his father's land. There is no evidence that Isaac was married or had children, certainly not the children assigned originally to him.

12 SARAH BOSTON, daughter of Isaac (6) and Rachel (Tomlinson) Boston, was born in Somerset Co., Md., about 1736; she presumably died before 1784. She married (after 1761) Mr. EVANS, known only through the will of her sister, who left a bequest to her son.

Child: Solomon, b. c 1765; possibly the same Solomon Evans who mar. (lic. Som. Co. 24 Dec. 1799) Polly Bratcher.

13 SOLOMON BOSTON, son of Isaac (6) and Rachel (Tomlinson) Boston, was born in Somerset Co., Md., probably at Morumsco, about 1740 (he was not yet 16 when his father died in 1751); he died in Accomack Co., Va., probably at Messongo, before 26 Jan. 1807. His wife, whom he married about 1766, was Elizabeth, possibly a Litchfield (their daughter Polly appears to have named a son Henry Litchfield Wessells); she died between Oct. 1800 and July 1806.

In the June Court of Somerset Co. in 1759 Solomon, "late of Coventry Parish," was fined 10 shilling on an indictment of assault. It was charged that on 8 May 1759 "with force and arms" Solomon "upon a certain Susannah Dize in the peace of God... an Assault did make and the said Susannah then and there did beat, bound and evilly treat so that of her life it was much despaired and other wrongs to the said Susannah." The sheriff had been ordered to "take" the said Solomon, who appeared in court but did not contest the charge (Som. Jud. Rec. 1757/60, p. 175).

On 27 May 1760 with his brother David and with Robert Taylor, Solomon witnessed the will of Stevens White; Solomon signed with his mark. When the will was admitted to probate 6 May 1761 Taylor was "the only witness in ye County to be had" (Ann. Wills 31:295).

In 1764 Solomon brought an action of libel against Stephen Rigger, suing him for £100. The sheriff was ordered to take Rigger, to answer before the March Court, 1764, to Solomon Boston. After postponements the case was heard before the March Court, 1765. It is recorded that "whereas the said Solomon is a good honest and leige Subject... hitherto has himself behaved and governed and from all murder or any such base and wicked crime free, clear, unspotted, and unsuspected... all the time aforesaid hath behaved and continues by protest, whereof the said Solomon much good will and friendship of his Neighbors and others of Credit... to whom Solomon was known did procure; nevertheless there did Stephen not Ignorant of the premises but wickedly plotting and maliciously intending the said Solomon of his good name aforesaid to deprive and him into Publick Contempt and Infamy to bring, the ill will of his Neighbours aforesaid to procure and the danger and pain of Death and the loss of his goods... did falsely and maliciously there speak, publish and pronounce with a loud Voice false, feigned and malicious Scandalous words, speaking of and to the said Solomon of the death of a certain David Boston, brother of the said Solomon, who before that time was actually dead. [Rigger had accused,] You killed your brother David." Rigger pleaded guilty as charged, and Solomon was awarded 50 shillings and 432 pounds of tobacco for costs (Som. Jud. Rec. 1763/67, pp. 194-5).

Probably in the following year Solomon married and established a home at Messongo, in Accomack Co., Va., across the mouth of the Pocomoke River from Somerset Co. Described in a deed of 1772 as a "mariner," he subsequently became a "planter." On 12 Oct. 1772 for £100 he bought his first tract of land, 148 acres plus 12 acres of marsh, in Michael's Neck, adjacent to Bloxoms, from Ezekiel Litchfield and his wife, all of Accomack Co. The next year, 2 June 1773, for £107, 15 he bought from Southy Northam another tract, next to Francis Litchfield and bounded on the north by Messongo Creek; he sold this on 28 Nov. 1775 for £150 Maryland currency to Nathan Melbourn (Accomack Deeds, Bk. 1770-77, pp. 150, 199, 466).

Betty and Solomon Boston, with Nathan Riggen, on 19 Mar. 1777 witnessed the will of Francis Litchfield. Between 17 Feb. and 30 May 1779 Solomon Boston of Accomack Co. is recorded in "old loan records" to have turned in to the continental loan office in Virginia the sum of £906, one of the larger sums in the list (Natl. Genealogical Soc. Quarterly, Vol. 46, No. 4, Dec. 1958, p. 163).

By the will of sister Rebecca in 1784 Solomon and his brother Naboth jointly received a bond, and 7 yards of linen apiece; Solomon's wife Betty received a striped linen gown and a striped petticoat.

On 21 July 1785, for £35, Solomon bought of John and Susanna Litchfield 20 acres, part of the tract where Litchfield was living, "beginning at the second bridge from the head of Mesongo on Assawoman road." On 31 July 1792 for £230 he also bought from John Blake 200 acres near the head of Assawoman Creek, and on 19 May 1795 Solomon, described as "Senr.," bought 2 acres from Jacob and Sally Northam (Acco. Deeds 6:246, 7:661, 8:224). Solomon witnessed the will of Jacob Bird, 4 Mar. 1794.

On 30 Oct. 1797 Solomon Boston, Sen. and wife Betty sold to John Kelly for £15 part of a tract "Gales Land" adjacent John Burton, Selby Bird, Bennet Mason, and Azariah Bloxom (Acco. Deeds 9:125), and finally on 27 Sept. 1800, for 1000 Spanish milled dollars equal in value to £300, they sold to Jacob Outten the 200 acres purchased in 1792 (Acco. Deeds, Bk. 1797-1800, p. 125; Bk. 1800-4, p. 425).

Solomon Boston was listed in the Accomack Co. Federal Census (1800). In Oct. 1801 he was appointed administrator for the estate of his daughter, Sally Warner, and guardian for her son, Solomon. In 1804 he was appointed administrator for the estate of his son, Joshua Boston (Acco. Order Bk. 1804-5, p. 408). Solomon made his own will 1 Aug. 1806:

I Solomon Boston Senr of the County & parish of Accomack and State of Virginia being in a reasonable state of health and of sound memory thanks be unto Almighty god for the same. Therefore in this State I think prudent to make constitute & ordain this my last will & testament in manner & form following. Imprimis. I give and bequeath unto my eldest son Solomon Boston Junr my Negro man Isaac... and no more. I give... unto my grandson Solomon Warner one Dollar and no more. I give... unto Anna Boston widow of Joshua Boston decd. one shilling sterling and no more.... I give... unto my daughter Polly Boston my riding carriage or chair & saddle thats called Pollys to she her heirs and assigns forever. I also give... unto my two daughters namely Polly Boston and Nanny Small all the property called my wifes.... All my wearing apparel I give to be equally divided between my two sons namely Solomon Boston Junr and Daniel Boston. And All the real property both Lands and moveables of every description I give... to be equally divided between my son Daniel Boston and my two daughters Nanny Small and Polly Boston to be equally divided among them... I also nominate and appoint my son Daniel Boston to be my only and sole executor....

Solomon signed the will in the presence of Teackle and Peggy Shay and Arthur Watson; it was admitted to probate 26 Jan. 1807 (Acco. Wills Bk. 1806-9, pp. 36-7).

In the inventory of the estate, of which Arthur Watson had become administrator, there were three slaves: two Negro men, Pompey, valued at £85, and Jacob, £80, and a Negro boy Levin, £50. Also in the list was a debt due from Daniel Boston, probably Solomon's younger brother (though possibly Solomon's son), in the amount of £11.5.6, in the form of Somerset County Notes. In the distribution of the estate Anne (i. e. Nancy) Small received Pompey, Daniel Boston received Jacob, Walter Wessels received Levin (Acco. Wills, Bk. 1806-9, pp. 402-411).

On 19 May 1807 Daniel Boston, Walter Wessels and his wife, Polly, and Nancy Small, widow of James, for £31.0.6 sold to John Rue 22 1/2 acres on Messongo Creek belonging to the late Solomon Boston, and on 17 June 1807 Nanny Small and Walter and Polly Wessels sold to Daniel Boston 150 acres of land formerly belonging to Solomon Boston, land adjacent to John Martin, Scarborough Benson, and Nancy Small on the south, and Azariah Bloxom (Acco. Deeds, Bk. 1804-7, pp. 771, 773).

Solomon's younger son, DANIEL BOSTON, who never married, continued to buy and sell real estate for nearly half a century. On 4 Feb. 1808, for $500, he bought 255 acres, two tracts of land and marsh bounded on the north and east by Messongo Creek, on the southwest by Teackle Taylor and the southwest by Robert Chaes and John Drummond. He bought additional tracts in 1830 (25 acres on Messongo Creek), 1848 (20 acres adjacent to his niece, Elizabeth Burton, and next to his own land), and 1852 (25 acres, "Pipe Stave," on Messongo Creek). On 25 Aug. 1845 he secured, apparently in trust (for a mortgage?) for the nominal sum of $1 from his nephew, Henry L. Wessells, 100 acres joining his own land and that of Robert Chase and Samuel T. Taylor (Acco. Deeds 12: 133, 24:440, 36:356, 38:657, 34:424).

Between 25 Oct. 1810 and 20 July 1851 he sold 465 acres of land for a total of $3045; he had bought 510 acres at less than $2.50 an acre, and the 465 acres brought better than $6.50 an acre. Most of the tracts were described as on Messongo Creek, some between Messongo and the head of Cattail Creek, and one called "Berry Ridge" adjacent Obed Bird. Other neighbors mentioned were Levin White, Eli Chesser, William Nock, and Daniel's sister, Nancy Small (Acco. Deeds 13:231, 371, 14:70, 16:117, 17:322, 27:342, 28:582, 31:556, 35:396, 37:306). The most remunerative sale was that of 20 July 1851 to Henry Davis for $1100 Daniel sold 150 acres bounded on the north by Messongo Creek (Acco. Deeds 38:134).

Solomon Boston entered the birthdates of all his children in a Book of Common Prayer, printed in Philadelphia by W. Young and F. Ormrod, 1795. The book, in the possession of Harry L. Wessells (241), was saved from the fire in Dec. 1937 which destroyed the old Wessells home, built in 1765.

Children (born Accomack Co., Va., probably at Messongo):

- i. Sally, b. 15 Jan. 1768; d. by 26 Oct. 1801; mar. Isaac Warner; see No. 24.
- ii. Nancy, b. 6 Apr. 1772; d. by 31 May 1847; mar. James Small; see No. 25.
- iii. Solomon, Jr., b. 19 Feb. 1775; d. 6 July 1819; mar. Sarah Hinds; see No. 26.
- iv. Joshua, b. 6 Oct. 1778; d. 1804; mar. Anna ?; no children.
- v. Elizabeth, b. 8 May 1781; d. before 1806.
- vi. Daniel, b. 3 Oct. 1783; d. 20 Oct. 1854; single; it is reported that he hanged himself near Messongo, on Beech Ridge, and legend has it that his ghost long haunted the area; he was a farmer, listed in the 1830 census as "Captain Daniel Boston."
- vii. Polly, b. 3 Feb. 1786; d. 7 Feb. 1838; mar. Walter Wessels, Jr.; see No. 27

14 NABOTH BOSTON, son of Isaac (6) and Rachel (Tomlinson) Boston, was born in Somerset Co., Md., probably at Morumsco, about 1744; he died in Worcester Co., Md., probably near Pitts Creek, before 5 Aug. 1785. He married (probably in Worc. Co. in 1772 or early 1773, before 28 May) Mrs. Sarah Wharton, widow of Charles Wharton, whose will was signed 31 Jan. 1772 (prob. 5 June 1772); by the will Wharton's wife, Sarah, was named executrix (Worc. Wills JW 4:142); on 28 May 1773 Naboth Boston and his wife Sarah, executrix of Charles Wharton, submitted their account (Worc. Accts. 68:6-7).

Naboth moved to Worcester Co. 1768-72, for on 4 Jan. 1768 he sold to Kellum Lankford for £60 land left to him by his father Isaac "in a neck called Merumsco," called "Sayward's (now Boston's) Purchase," that is, half of the lands on Morumsco Creek not given by Isaac to David, constituting 78 acres (Som. Deeds 25:161). In the 1783 tax list for Worcester Co., Naboth is listed as holding "Cowley" (100 acres) in Pitts Creek Hundred.

During the American Revolution Naboth served in Capt. Layfield's Company in the Worcester Co. Militia (Md. Rev. War Militia Lists, p. 256). In 1784 his sister Rebeckah made bequests to Naboth, his wife, and daughter Rebeckah. Naboth died the following year; his wife was named executrix, with bond 5 Aug. 1785 (Worc. Bonds JW 12:290-291).

Child (born probably in Worcester Co., Md.):

- i. Rebeckah, b. c 1774; she may be the same as Rebeta Boston who mar. (lic. Worc. Co. 15 Nov. 1805) JOHN SMACK; however, a John Smack who died in Worc. Co. in 1827 named wife Rhoda Smack.

15 DANIEL BOSTON, youngest son of Isaac (6) and Rachel (Tomlinson) Boston, born in Somerset Co., Md., probably at Morumsco, about 1744; he died in Somerset Co., probably near Shell Town, before 16 Nov. 1832. He married (first?) about 1781 presumably Sarah Collins, daughter of Samuel and Anne Collins (see COLLINS, p. 372), who was born about 1756 and died before 12 June 1798, for on that date Daniel was appointed guardian for his children, Betsy, Sally, Daniel, Susan, and Solomon, all under fourteen; Thomas White and Littleton Carlsley stood security (Som. Bonds EB 22:68); his oldest daughter, already sixteen, would not have had to be named in the bond. Daniel apparently married a second time, for his widow was Sally. (See Supplement, No. S15, p. 458.)

Daniel was doubly involved in the American Revolution, at first against his will. In the fall of 1775 William Barclay Townsend, a Tory sympathizer, organized a conspiracy for the king against the colony; a group of his fellows was to sail down the Chesapeake, join Lord Dunmore, and with him capture the Committee of Safety at Newtown. According to the Journal and Correspondence of the Council of Safety, one Thursday night in November Townsend, with a company of seventeen armed men, on his way down the Pocomoke River took possession of the sloop of Daniel Boston, keeping him aboard, but a mile below the mouth of the river the vessel ran aground on the mud banks. Cornelius Dickerson was reported to the Committee to have said, in Accomack County, "that if he had thought he would have been taken up he most certainly never would have left Boston's vessel with whom he went to Norfolk and further saith that Levin Townsend press'd him... to meet and join him when he came to Pocomoke" (Md. Archives XII: 375-6, 379-80).

Subsequently Daniel served in St. Asaph's Company of the Somerset Co. Militia, Benjamin Schoolfield, 1st Lt., and Robert Bayly, 2nd Lt. (Md. Rev. War Militia Lists, p. 187).

In the 1783 Somerset Co. tax list Daniel Boston appears as reputed owner of the tract "Crooked Island" on which was a small framed house. In the 1798 tax list Daniel appears in Pocomoke Hundred (Somerset Co.) holding 50 acres, part of "Owen Glendore," adjacent land of Tabitha Ward, with a one-story wooden house eighteen by twenty feet.

In 1784 Daniel and his wife were among the legatees of his sister Rebeckah: Daniel was released from a note and was given £33 toward his sister's burying; his wife was to receive one striped linen gown and a striped petticoat. In 1792 Daniel was repaid by Tabitha Ward money owed him by the estate of James Ward (Som. Accts. EB 16:615). And by an account for the estate of Samuel Collins (his wife's nephew) 23 May 1797 Daniel Boston and William Ward owed money to the estate (Som. Accts. EB 16:74).

A debt to Caleb Milbourne provides what evidence there is for identifying Daniel's wife. By Milbourne's will, signed 21 June 1792 (prob. 9 Feb. 1796) the children of Sally Boston, Caleb's "daughter-in-law" (i. e. step-daughter), were bequeathed £15 and "all my book accounts against Daniel Boston" (Som. Wills EB 17:475). A notation to the account, passed 21 May 1799, read: "N. B. The widow of the deceased died shortly after him. The will mentions debts due from Daniel Boston which were left to Sally Boston's children, it does not appear from anything on record that any money was received from said Boston"; in the distribution of the estate in 1809 £15 was paid to Sally Boston's children (Som. Accts. EB 27:113).

On 27 Aug. 1787, for £102, Daniel purchased from William Ward a tract of 50 acres, called "Owen Glanders" or "O England," adjacent the land of Rose Evans (Som. Deeds 29:315); a notation in the margin reads "delivered to Daniel Boston 3 June 1834. On 5 Oct. 1790 Daniel witnessed the will of William Ward. In 1807 Daniel owed the estate of his brother Solomon of Accomack Co. a note for £11.5.6. On 15 July 1817 he stood bond with John P. Lankford for Robert Swan, executor for James Riffin.

On 16 Nov. 1832 Daniel's widow renounced administration of his estate, and on the 20th Daniel (Jr.) was appointed executor, with Henry Lankford and Obediah Riffin as securities (Som. Bonds JP 8:235-36). An inventory of his estate was made 4 Dec. 1832 by Levin Tyler and John J. Smith; it included, besides the usual farm and gardening tools, 2 yoke of oxen, a cow and 3 heifers; "1 fish Gig, 1 Gill net, 2 pr. Old Geers"; a pair of silver shoe buckles; a powder horn, 3 table clocks; and bed quilts, blankets, sheets, and bed bolsters, but no beds, though there was other furniture (Som. Accts. JP 11:208). Among those to whom money was owed by the estate were Samuel D. Milbourne for blacksmith work, Matthias Dashiell for the county levy for 1832, Henry Lankford for service as auctioneer, Littleton Dennis for attorney's fees, John J. Smith for appraising, and William S. Broughton $10.00 for making a coffin. By the final account and distribution the widow received her third, and each child received 1/5 of 2/3: son Daniel, daughters Ann, Betsy, and Susan, and son Samuel C. Boston (Som. Accts. JP 9:238).

Children (born Somerset Co., Md., probably near Shelltown):

By first marriage:

- i. Anne (Nancy), b. 1782; d. Somerset Co., probably near Shelltown, before 24 June 1862; on 24 Dec. 1830 with her sister Susan she bought from Daniel Boston "Houstons Adventure," for $200 (Som. Deeds GH 8:553); she was listed in the Federal Census of 1840 (p. 264) not far from her brother Daniel (p. 263); in 1860 she was living near Shelltown, with her sister Susan. According to her will, signed 16 Feb. 1845 (prob. 24 June 1862) she bequeathed $20 to the Rehobeth Baptist Church, but otherwise her nephew, Solomon C. Boston, was her sole legatee, and her executor (Som. Wills SCL 5:86).
- ii. Elizabeth (Betsy), b. c 1784; living in 1832; mar. (Accomack Co., Va. 4 Oct. 1840) WILLIAM WATTS.
- iii. Sally, b. c 1788; d. young.
- iv. Daniel, b. 10 Feb. 1791; d. 21 Feb. 1865; mar. Enatia Byrd; see No. 28.
- v. Solomon, b. c 1793; d. young.
- vi. Susan, b. 1797; d. Baltimore, Md. before 2 May 1872; mar. (lic. Som. Co. 15/16 May 1843) JACOB BELL (1784-1850/60); no children; in 1850 the Bells were living next to Daniel Boston; in 1860 Susan was living with her sister near Shelltown, but after the latter's death she moved to Baltimore; by her will, signed 1 Jan. 1869 (prob. 2 May 1872) she bequeathed all to her nephew Solomon C. Boston, notably her half interest in land 2 miles west of Shelltown, purchased by her and her sister from their brother (Baltimore Wills 32: 285).

By second marriage:

- vii. Samuel Charles Henry, b. c 1801; living in 1855 in Prince William Co., Va. (near Manassas); on 13 Jan. 1855 he sold to his brother Daniel for $50 his share in the tract his father had bought, "O England" (Som. Deeds 72:55).

16 ESAU BOSTON, JR., son of Esau (8) and Ellis [Dennis?] Boston, was born in Somerset Co., Md., probably at Morumsco, about 1721; he died in Somerset Co. 6 Dec. 1760 (recorded in Coventry). He apparently married first about 1744, but his wife's name is unknown; he married second (at Coventry Church, 26 July 1751) Rachel Dougherty; she died by 1755, when he married, as his third wife, Anne. She subsequently married (Coventry, 4 Feb. 1762) Thomas Sommers, by whom she had at least the following children: Thomas (11 Dec. 1762), Jonathan (29 June 1767), Ann (8 Mar. 1770), and Mary (8 Sept. 1776).

On 29 May 1762 Thomas and Anne Summers, administrators of Esau, submitted an account according to which disbursements had been made to Elias Taylor, Thomas Marshall, and Purnell Outten, among others (Som. Accts. 48:37). On the cover of an original account dated 5 July 1762 appear the names of Esau's children, among them Mary "about 13" (Ann. Accts. Box 2, Folder 76). And on 17 Mar. 1763 Thomas Summers, William Miles, Sr., and Thomas Prior gave bond to Jesse, Jacob, Mary, Martha, Ephraim, and David Boston, representatives of Esau Boston, deceased, in the amount of £69 (Som. Jud. Rec. 1760/63, p. 214). Thomas and Ann Summers submitted their final account with a balance for the estate of £11.2.3 (Som. Balance Book 3, p. 132). (See Supplement, No. S16, p. 458.)

Children (born Somerset Co., Md.; baptised at Coventry):
By first marriage:

- i. Jesse, b. 5 Apr. [1745]; d. 1810/20; see No. 29.
 - ii. Jacob, b. 24 July 1747; d. Worcester Co., Md. about July 1769; mar. Sarah; apparently no children. At the March Court 1763 Jacob Boston, "an orphan, of his own free consent is bound out by the Court here an apprentice... unto Brittingham Dickerson" until the age of 21 to learn the trade of ship carpenter (Som. Jud. Rec. 1760/63, p. 198). By his will, signed 17 May 1769 (prob. 1 Aug. 1769) Jacob bequeathed to his wife Sarah a Negro wench Thamer, inherited from his grandfather; if his wife should bear a child and the child not survive, then she was to have the slave for life, when Thamer was to go to Jacob's brother, Jesse; Sarah was named sole executor; witnesses were Thomas Bond (of John), Jesse Willson, and Ephraim Stevens (Worc. Wills JW3: 188). On 18 Aug. 1769 Sarah's securities were Jonathan Stevenson and Isaac Layfield.
 - iii. Mary, b. 1749; living 1763.
 - iv. Martha, b. 16 July 1752; living 1763.
- By third marriage:
- v. Ephraim, b. 10 Apr. 1756; named in his grandfather's will, 1768.
 - vi. David, b. 16 May 1758; named in his grandfather's will, 1768.

17 JACOB BOSTON, son of Esau (8) and Ellis [Dennis?] Boston, was born in Somerset Co., Md., probably at Morum-sco, in 1722; he died in Worcester Co., Md., probably near Pitts Creek, before 5 Dec. 1788. He married first (Coventry Church, Rehobeth, 29 Oct. 1747) Eleanor (Nelly) Benston; she was born about 1730 and died probably 1782/83. He married second Mrs. Sarah Merrill Henderson, daughter of Joseph and Elizabeth Merrill; the marriage occurred between 6 Jan. 1783 (the date of her father's will, naming her Sarah Henderson) and 17 Dec. 1784 (the date of her mother's will, naming her Sarah Boston) (Worc. Wills JW 13:2, 55); she died in Worcester Co. before 19 May 1808 (will signed 1 June 1803), having made bequests to her son Joseph Henderson, to granddaughter Elizabeth Henderson, and daughters Betsy Houston and Sarah Long (Worc. Wills MH 4:112).

In a deposition concerning a division line between land of Elias and Robert Taylor 20 Oct. 1776 Jacob gave his age as 54 (Som. Jud. Rec. 1775/84, p. 112).

Shortly after his marriage in 1747 Jacob with his wife moved across the Pocomoke River, not many miles from his father's home, and secured a patent of land in the newly established Worcester County, at Pitts Creek, close to the Virginia line. On 25 Mar. 1748 he was granted a patent from Lord Baltimore of 100 acres, called "Long Trusted," on the south side of the Pocomoke River and on the north side of "Bakers Mill," where the mill dam issues out of Pitts Creek. The certificate was issued in the name of John Lamberson, and was witnessed by Esau Boston (Md. Land Office, Liber TT No. 1, p. 64). On 15 July 1750 he was assigned a tract of 20 acres (originally granted to Nathaniel White), called "Security," on the north side of Beaver Dam Branch, on the south side of the plantation "Long Trusted" where Jacob was already living (Md. Land Office, Liber BY & GS, No. 3, p. 135). On 27 July 1751 Jacob Boston, "planter," bought from Thomas Lambden for £34 all of a tract called "Struggle," 87 acres on the south side of the Pocomoke River "back in the woods from the said River and adjacent... to 'Long Trusted' whereon the aforesaid Jacob now lives" (Worc. Deeds B:375). On 10 July 1758 Jacob was granted another patent, a tract of 182 acres called "Boston's Hardship," between Pitts Creek and the Pocomoke River near a ditch crossing the county road west of Dickinson Mill Road (Md. Land Office, Liber BC & GS, No. 13, p. 382). Since at the time Delaware was claiming the Maryland Eastern Shore, by a warrant of 16 Feb. 1758 these tracts were resurveyed and registered at Georgetown, Delaware (Rounds Surveys, p. 390).

Jacob Boston was one of the signers of a petition, dated 16 May 1767, from the Vestry of Coventry Parish in Worcester Co. to Governor Horatio Sharpe for the appointment of a new rector. It calls attention to the "long perishing state" of the Parish and requests the induction of the Rev. Dr. Thomas Bradley Chandler (Md. Archives LXI: 516).

On 10 Oct. 1769 Jacob patented a tract of 25 acres called "The Keel," on the end of a ridge on the east side of the county road from Stevens Ferry to Cedar Hall (Md. Land Office - Certificate of Survey No. 785). And finally, on 5 Aug. 1772 he bought from Thomas Marshall for £3.5 part of a tract called "The Rudder," 1 3/4 acres by the road near the schoolhouse, and at the same time he sold to Marshall 20 1/2 acres of "The Keel" for £12.10 (Worc. Deeds I: 120, 119).

Jacob sold only one other piece of his land. On 8 Sept. 1749 he had conveyed to Robert Lamberson (apparently in trust) for 5 shillings 63 acres of his tract "Long Trusted"; witnesses were Esau Boston (8 or 16) and William Hayward. On 7 Feb. 1765 he and his wife Nelly sold to Joshua Merrill, for £5, 19 acres of "Boston's Hardship," bounded by "Merrill's Addition" and "Security" in a neck between Pitts Creek and the Pocomoke River (Worc. Deeds B: 210, F: 272). According to the 1783 Worcester Co. tax list Jacob Boston of Pitts Creek Hundred held "Bostons Hardship," 164 acres. The last of this land was sold by his great-grandson (118) in 1883.

Jacob Boston wrote two wills, both of which were admitted to probate, entered side by side in the will book (Worc. Wills JW 13: 152, 153). The first will, entered second, was signed 23 Sept. 1780 (prob. 31 Mar. 1788). After the customary preliminaries and provision for payment of debts, Jacob made the following bequests:

Item I give and Bequeath unto my Dear Beloving Wife all my Lands during her Widowhood and the third part of my movable Estate... I give her the bay Mare only. Item I give and bequeath unto my Daughter Ellis my Gray horse and the half of my Negro Boy Jo to her and her heirs forever, and I give her a peace of Land over the Road where the new grown field is and Liberty to clear fifteen acres of Land and Liberty of Pasture in the Branch Pasture during her Life in case she do not marry, but in case she marrys unto my son Esau. Item I give... unto my Daughter Betty my Black Colt and six chears [chairs] in Nehemiah Tilney hands and one cask and ninety five gallons of cider [in] Nathen Mentels hands. Item I give... unto my Daughter Eleanor my young bay mare. Item I give... unto my son Jacob one half of my Negro Boy Jo and the third part of my Orchard and frute fortien years after he is twenty one years of Age and one half of my carpenter and coopers tools. Item I give... unto my son Jesse the third of my Orchard and frute fortien years after he is twenty one years of age and one half of my carpenters and cooper tools. Item I give... unto my Daughter Ann one dish. Item I give... unto my son Esau all my Lands, one hand Mill and one Grindstone... except as before given. Item I give... unto my son Jacob and Jesse and my Daughters Betty, Eleanor and Ann all the remainder of my Estate equally to be divided between them, and I appoint my son Esau my... Executor.

Jacob signed in the presence of Dixon Quinton, Thomas Marshall, and Elijah Boston (42).

Jacob made his second will 27 Jan. 1786 (prob. 5 Dec. 1788). Though in the earlier will he had made no allusion to his health and only a passing allusion to death, the second will reads thus, with an unusually lengthy preamble:

I Jacob Boston, Planter... being sick of Body but of good and perfect memory... do make and declare my last Will and Testament in manner and form following:

First being penitent & sorry for all my sins most humbly desiring forgiveness for the same, I commend my sole to Almighty God my Saviour and Redeemer in whome and by whose merits I must and believe assuredly to be saved and to have full Remission and forgiveness of all my sins and to enter into the Kingdom of Heaven and my Body I commit to the Earth to be decently buried....

Item I give unto my Eldest son Esau Boston to him and to his Wife during their Natural Life and after their decease unto my Grand son Jacob Boston [no bequest is mentioned] Likewise I give unto my son Esau Boston one Negro Boy called Adam and a Negro Girl Tamer, and Cider Mill and Cider Casks. Between my wife Sarah Boston and my son Esau Boston one Hand Mill and Grindstone.

Item I give unto my Daughter Nelley Boston one Negro Boy called Frank.

Item I give unto my son Jacob Boston all my wearing apparel excepting my best hat and that unto my son Esau Boston...[and] my young mare Benny unto my son Jacob...

Item I give unto my Daughter Ellis, Betsey, Jacob, Nelley, Jesse and Nancy Boston my Negro man called Joseph and all my cattle, sheep, and hogs to be equally divided among the said childring Ellis, Betsey, Jacob, Nelly, Jesse and Nancy Boston. Likewise the corn and meal in the same manner and likewise the household goods and furniture.

I do hereby appoint my son Esau Boston to be guardian over Jesse Boston and Nancy Boston, my two youngest children. I do appoint my son Esau Boston my... Executor.

Jacob signed his second will in the presence of Thomas Layfield, Isaac Boston (43), and James Henderson.⁴

That both wills were admitted to probate is perhaps explainable by the fact that the later will was defective. Jacob's memory and other faculties in 1786 may not have been as clear as he ⁴There are other cases in Eastern Shore records of two wills by the same man. In 1671 George Eaves of Som. Co. wrote two wills, both admitted to probate: the first, signed 16 Nov. 1671 (prob. 23 Mar. 1671/2) left his entire estate to Thomas Hilliard, son of John, including "New Year's Gift" (100 acres) and "The Warrick" (200 acres), with John Hilliard executor; Eaves made a second will, signed 16 Feb. 1671/2 (prob. 3 Dec. 1672) in which he made bequests to Thomas Hilliard son of John, "New Year's Gift" (200 acres) and "Warwick" (200 acres); no executor was named (Ann. Wills 2:410, 1:508). William Tompkins, Henry Harman, and John Dickenson witnessed both wills.

Two wills of William Alexander, planter, of Som. Co., are entered, like Jacob Boston's wills, side by side (Ann. Wills 21:450). The first, signed 7 Mar. 1732/3 (prob. 18 June 1735) is the only one to mention wife Catherine, executor, and son Samuel. Only the second will, signed 21 Mar. 1734/5 (prob. 9 July 1735) named daughter Mary Mills and also Mary and Elizabeth, daughters of Moses Alexander. Both wills named sons Liston, James, and Moses, and daughter Agnes.

Likewise, two wills of Joseph Bousey (Bousee) are entered side by side in the will book (Worc. Wills MH 4:51-53). In his first will, signed 19 Oct. 1805 (prob. 23 Dec. 1806), he bequeathed £300 to Sally Young of Ezekiel; the remainder of his estate he left to daughter Mary Gibbens; if she should die without heirs all should go to Sally, Nanny, and Joseph Young, children of Zekle Young; executor was to be Edward Stevenson (of James), who renounced administration to Levin Pollitt; witnesses were Edward and Joseph Stevenson and Henry Long. A year after the first will Joseph Bousey of New Town wrote another will in Washington City, 11 Nov. 1806 (prob. 25 Nov. 1806); he desired that his property be sold and the money banked, for the support of his daughter Mary Bousee, alias Gibbens, for life; if she should die, then all should go to Mr. Ephraim Young and his heirs equally; William Gibbons, "present husband of my daughter," was to be excluded; no executor was named. (William Givens and Mary Boozee applied for a marriage license in Worc. Co. 21 June 1803.)

That the two wills of Jacob Boston are by the same man is evident: both wills make bequests to six children, four with the same names; Eleanor and Ann of the earlier will have become Nelly and Nancy in the second. Coventry Parish records show that four (Ellis, Betty, Jacob, Jesse) were children of Jacob and Nelly (Benston) Boston. In 1780 at the time of the first will Jacob's sons Jacob (b. 1766) and Jesse (b. 1772) were both under age, but by 1786, though Jacob was nearly 20, Jesse was still only 13. Both wills mention Negro Jo (Joseph), as well as a grindstone and cider casks.

declared they were, for he made no mention of any land, and the will was in general less specific than that of 1780. Probably the second will was unknown to the family, but when it was discovered, some eight months after the first had been admitted to probate, the children would urge that the second also be admitted to probate because in it the bequests to their step-mother, Sarah Boston, were meager by comparison with those made to Jacob's wife (their mother) in 1780. Therefore, on 20 Dec. 1788, Sarah Boston relinquished her claim to the bequests in Jacob's will and elected instead to take her dower or third part of the estate. Parts of both wills were carried out, for Esau inherited all the land (see No. 31) according to the earlier will, but according to the second will all the children inherited Negro Joseph (see No. 32).

Sarah Boston, Jacob's widow, deeded several slaves presumably to members of her family: in 1801 a Negro boy Moses to William H. Henderson for $200; and Francis, Hannah, and Walter to Levi Henderson for $100. She also freed Negro Jenney, "for and in consideration of the faithful service... and the justice due to her as well as her good behavior in general." And in 1802 she gave Negro girl Eve to Jesse Henderson and his wife Polly "out of Love and free good will" (Worc. Deeds U: 482-3, 526; V: 427).

- Children, by first marriage (born Worcester Co., Md., probably at Pitts Creek; baptised at Coventry Church):
- i. Ellis, b. 6 Nov. 1748; living 1788; single?
 - ii. Elizabeth (Betty), b. 5 Aug. 1750; d. after 1797; mar. William M. Henderson; (possibly) mar. 2nd Levin Henderson; see No. 30.
 - iii. Esau, b. 1752; d. 5 Feb. 1846; mar. Leah Merrill; see No. 31.
 - iv. Robert, b. 30 Sept. 1760; d. before 1780.
 - v. Eleanor (Nelly), b. c 1763; living in 1790, when she witnessed the will of Mary Merrill; single?
 - vi. Jacob, b. 1 Apr. 1766; d. 1830/40; mar. Mary Patterson; see No. 32.
 - vii. Ann (Nancy), b. c 1770; living in 1788.
 - viii. Jesse, b. 29 Dec. 1772; d. by 11 Oct. 1830; mar. Mary Peden; see No. 33.

18 MARY BOSTON, daughter of Esau (8) and Ellis {Dennis? Boston, was born in Somerset Co., Md., probably at Morumscot about 1725; she died, probably in Somerset Co., between 1770 and Aug. 1773. She married, at Coventry Church, 27 Oct. 1745, her second cousin, JOHN COTTINGHAM, son of Charles and Anne (Broughton) COTTINGHAM (see DIXON, p. 381, No. 6); he was born at Quindocqua, Somerset Co. c1715; he died probably near Morumscot, before 18 Mar. 1788. (See Supplement, S18, p. 458.)

By the will of her father (1768) Mary received a Negro woman named Pleasant (valued at £10. 10), a prayer book, a stone butter pot, and her father's spectacles. On 18 Mar. 1769, John Cottingham purchased from Abraham Outten, for £47, a tract "Turkey Swamp" in Annessex, "lying to the eastward of Ease Creek, which issueth out of the North side of Pocomoke Bay" and east of the tract "Vulcans Vineyard" (Som. Deeds 26:4). On 20 Aug. 1773 John made a conveyance to Thomas Cottingham, described as "minor" (probably John's son, possibly an invalid) permitting Thomas to settle and live on the tract "Turkey Swamp," with liberty to "clear, ditch, grub, till, or cut any tree for his use" and to have one half the ground that is now under a fence during the life of John, and John is never to sell, or lease, or give rent (Som. Deeds 27:77).

John Cottingham signed his will 16 Sept. 1778 (prob. 18 Mar. 1788), with witnesses Isaac Outten and Thomas and Levin Tull; His son Ephraim, appointed executor, was bequeathed "all and singular of my house, lands, orchards, tenements." In case Ephraim should die without heirs, the property should go to son John, then to daughters Mary, Rhodah, and Delila Cottingham. John was to receive a Negro Jeffry; the residue of the estate was to be divided among John and the three girls. No mention was made of his wife, who had presumably died, nor of daughters Martha nor Sarah, though Sarah was living, for she was named in the will of her brother Ephraim in 1796 (Som. Wills EB 1:285). Both daughters were already married by 1778.

- Children (born Somerset Co., Md., baptised Coventry):
- i. Martha, b. 26 May 1746; d. c 1773; mar. William

- Cottingham; see No. 34.
- ii. Thomas (twin), b. 11 Jan. 1747; d. 1773/78; no children.
 - iii. Twin daughter, b. 11 Jan. 1747; d. young.
 - iv. Sarah, b. 25 Apr. 1750; d. 1796/1812; mar. Levi Holland; see No. 35.
 - v. Ephraim, b. 27 May 1752; d. c 14 Jan. 1800; mar. 1st Jemima Bird; 2nd Leah --; see No. 36.
 - vi. Mary, b. 12 Feb. 1755; d. by 13 Oct. 1796; mar. her first cousin, James Boston; see No. 40.
 - vii. Rhoda, b. 19 Oct. 1757; living in 1800; mar. Stephen Summers.
 - viii. John, b. 28 Nov. 1759; d. probably before 13 Oct. 1796; no children.
 - ix. Delilah, b. 15 Feb. 1763; d. probably before 13 Oct. 1796; no children.

19 LAZARUS BOSTON, son of Esau (8) and Ellis [Dennis?] Boston, was born in Somerset Co., Md., probably at Morumsco, about 1727; he died, probably near Dividing Creek, Somerset Co., by Apr. 1789; he left no will nor estate. He married, at Coventry Church, Rehobeth, 14 Oct. 1751, Grace Matthews, daughter of Teague and Elizabeth (Adams) MATTHEWS (see LONDON, p. 411, No. 4); she was born about 1731; she was still living in 1800, when money was due her from the estate of her son, Esau. (See Supplement, S19, p. 458.)

Lazarus and his wife appear to have been regular members of Coventry Church at Rehobeth (Somerset Co.), for six of their children were baptised there. Lazarus appears to have moved to Worcester Co. (just across Dividing Creek from Somerset Co.) about 1749 and to have remained there until at least 1762. On 7 Mar. 1749 he purchased from John and Solomon Donoho, for £ 37. 10, a tract of 70 acres, called "Boston's Venture," or "Bacon," on the north side of the Pocomoke River "in a fork of the Dividing Creek's Main Branches above Perrihawkin"; he sold the tract 19 Nov. 1762 to James Atkinson for £ 70 (Worc. Deeds B:224, E: 414).

It is recorded (Som. Jud. Rec. 1763/65, p. 88) that on 17 Oct. 1763 "Lazarus Boston late of Coventry Parish, planter... with force and arms... in and upon a certain Betty Smith... an assault did make and her the said Betty then and there did beat, wound, and ill treat so that of her life it was much dispaired, and other harms to the said Betty." The sheriff had been ordered to "take and keep" Lazarus to present him before the court at Princess Anne on the third Tuesday in Mar. 1764 to answer the charge. He had a hearing and was fined 5 shillings, which appears to be a merely nominal fine (see also No. 13).

By his father's will (1768) Lazarus was bequeathed a "big pott and one small pott and one cow and calf and two young steers and one plow and Harrow and one wooling wheel." In the 1783 tax list for Somerset Co. Lazarus is listed in Dividing Creek Hundred as a "pauper," that is, landless.

On 7 Apr. 1789, Grace Boston was the recipient of property from her sister, Tabitha, widow of James Otwell (they were married at Coventry in Feb. 1776). The deed included title to a "Negro named Abraham, one bed and furniture, four chairs, one pewter bason, one pewter dish & three pewter plates, one oval maple table, one horse, one yellowish coulered cow abt seven years old, a yearling of the same coulor, sow & seven pigs, one ewe & lamb." It also included Tabitha's dower interest in a tract of land formerly owned by her husband (Worc. Deeds M: 511). A marginal notation indicates that the deed was delivered to a John Boston, apparently a mistake for Joshua Boston. The land is identified as that purchased for £12 on 19 Dec. 1766 from Teague Riffin by James Aughtwell, a 43 acre tract, "Riggins Discovery," on the east side of a branch issuing out of Dividing Creek's main branch (Worc. Deeds G:96). Its subsequent sale has not been traced.

Children (born probably in Worcester Co., Md., near Dividing Creek; baptised Coventry):

- i. Joshua, b. 20 July 1752; d. by 19 Aug. 1817; mar. 1st Sarah Williams; 2nd Nancy Turpin; see No. 37.
- ii. Esau, b. 28 Sept. 1753; d. by 23 June 1795; mar. 1st Sarah Ward; 2nd Priscilla Heath; see No. 38.
- iii. Elizabeth, b. 7 May 1755; she was apparently living in 1800; according to the Federal Census for Worc.

- Co. (1800) an Elizabeth Boston, over 45, was living in Pitts Creek Hundred, near (her first cousin) Esau (31); her household included a male and a female, both born 1774/84, possibly to be identified as her nephew and niece, James and Sally, children of her brother Esau.
- iv. Priscilla, b. c 1758; d. c 1804; mar. Philip C. Adams; see No. 39.
- v. Lazarus, b. 29 Mar. 1760; probably d. young.
- vi. Stephen, b. 3 Nov. 1761; probably d. young.
- vii. James, b. c 1763; d. 1810/20; see No. 40.
- viii. Henry, b. 1 Jan. 1766; d. c 1810; mar. Nancy Graham; see No. 41.
- ix. ?Charlotte, b. c 1770; possibly it was a daughter of Lazarus named Charlotte who mar. (lic. Som. Co. 16 Jan. 1816) Collins Adams (her brother-in-law?).

20 MATHEW BOSTON, son of Esau (8) and Ellis [Dennis?] Boston, was born in Somerset Co., Md., probably at Morumsco, about 1730; he died between 1763 and Nov. 1767. He married, first, at Coventry Church, 5 Feb. 1753, Martha Benston. He married, second, at Coventry, 6 July 1761, Margaret Sommers. He owned no property and left no estate. (See Supplement, S20, p. 459.) Children (born probably in Somerset Co., Md., baptised at Coventry Church):

By first marriage:

- i. Elijah, b. 25 Feb. 1755; d. before 27 Dec. 1830; see No. 42.
- ii. Isaac, b. 5 June 1758; d. before 6 Feb. 1808; mar. Elizabeth Bonwill; see No. 43.

By second marriage:

- iii. Martha, b. 26 Mar. 1762.
- iv. James, b. 1 Nov. 1763; d. before June 1768; not mentioned in will of his grandfather (8).

21 [?ANNE?] BOSTON, daughter of William Boston (9), was born about 1740 and died before 28 Aug. 1777. She married NICHOLAS ROE. She is known only through reference to her son in her father's will.

Child: Joseph, b. c 1765.

22 LEVIN BOSTON, son of William (9) and Comfort Boston, was born in Somerset Co., Md., probably at Morumsco, 22 June 1747, and was baptised at Coventry Church; he died in Somerset Co., probably near Rehobeth, before 29 Jan. 1820. He married first, at Coventry Church, 21 Jan. 1781, Gertrude ("Gatty") Benston, daughter of Thomas and Sarah (Dryden) Benston (see DRYDEN family); she was born about 1761 and died between 22 Nov. 1790 and 19 Dec. 1791. Levin married second, about 1792, Esther Wilson Adams, daughter of William and Mary (Kellam) Wilson (see WILSON family) and widow of Jacob Adams (1757-1792); she was born in Somerset Co. 7 Sept. 1765 (baptised Coventry); she died apparently before 14 Nov. 1804. Levin married third, a Miss Maddox, according to family tradition.

In the Aug. Court of 1775 Levin brought action against Levin Ballard for a debt of 3 June 1774, £ 12 for four barrels of pork (Som. Jud. Rec. 1775/84, p. 49). On 8 Aug. 1775 Levin was granted a patent for a tract of land by the Rt. Hon. Henry Harford; "Support," 36 acres on the main road on the west of Pocomoke River, beginning on the road that leads from Rehobeth Town to Morumsco (Md. Land Office, Liber BC & GS, No. 49, p. 386). On 16 Dec. 1777 Levin sold 3 acres of "Support" to William White for £ 3 and 26 acres of "Support" to Jesse Hall for £ 17. 10 (Som. Deeds 28: 101, 107).

During the American Revolution Levin served in Great Annessex Company in the Somerset County Militia under Capt. Isaac Handy, 1st Lt. Ballard Bozman, and 2nd Lt. Lazarus Maddux (Md. Rev. War Militia Lists, p. 188). On the basis of his service several of his descendants have become members of the D.A.R., and most recently (14 June 1960) his great-great-grandson, Joseph T. Boston (415), joined the Sons of the American Revolution (Natl. membership 85721; Alabama State Society #571).

On 17 Dec. 1781 Levin bought from his brother Richard, for £ 5, all his interest in "Ledbourn" and "Beauchamps Venture," 23 acres, purchased from Handy Beauchamp by their brother, William, who had died intestate, the land passing to Richard as the elder brother (Som. Deeds 28:338). In the 1783 Somerset Co. tax list Levin appears as holding tracts "Long Ridge," "Beauchamp," and "Ledbourn" ("houses sorry. A few apple trees. Other things midling. Soil - white clay"), also "Ware Point Enlarged," "Condockway," and "Addition" ("framed dwelling house very sorry"), a total of 141 acres.

On 4 May 1784 Levin secured a grant from the State of Maryland of 102 acres, "Boston's Chance," on the south side of Annesmessex Branch "back in the woods," land which he exchanged 12 Feb. 1785 with Thomas King for equal tracts, "Conclusion" and "Long Lott" on Morumsco Branch (Md. Land Office, Liber IC No. A, p. 311; Som. Deeds 28:521, 522).

On 19 Jan. 1787 Levin sold back to Thomas King, for £15.2, 8 acres of "Conclusion," and also conveyed to John Milbourn 7 acres of "Boston's Lott" inherited from his father, in consideration of £13.2.16 and for Milbourn's conveying 7 acres (unspecified) to Levin's son, Elijah (Som. Deeds 29:212, 221). In both deeds Levin's wife was "Gathawood," apparently a corruption of Gertrude. On 19 Dec. 1791 he again made an exchange, like the others evidently designed to consolidate his holdings. With King Levin exchanged 10 acres of "Conclusion" for 10 of "Long Lott," on the east side of Morumsco Branch, both tracts now to be called "Exchange" (Som. Deeds 30:295). Since no wife of Levin was named, she had presumably died within the year.

On 8 Feb. 1791 Levin as executor for Elijah Moore posted bond, with Joshua Beauchamp and Stephen Marshall as securities (Som. Bonds EB 20:70). On 25 Apr. 1791 Levin Boston was elected a vestryman at Coventry Church when Esau Boston (38) failed to qualify.

According to the inventory of the estate of Jacob Adams, 22 May 1792, Levin Boston and his wife, Esther, were executors of Adams (Som. Accts. EB 16:600); Jacob and Esther Adams had had two sons, Benjamin and Henry. In 1839 the distribution of the estate of Henry Adams, by William Adams, executor, allotted shares to Henry's "sisters," Mary, Gatty, Sally, Hetty, and Eleanor Boston (Worc. Accts. JP 5:153).

In 1798 Levin owed a note, dated 13 Aug. 1795, to the estate of Thomas Lister. According to the 1798 Somerset Co. tax list Levin occupied land of Jacob Adams' heirs in Dividing Creek Hundred, part of a tract "Support" adjacent to Levi Addams' land, and he held tracts amounting to 165 acres in Great Annesmessex Hundred: "Long Ridge," "Bostons Lott," "Milburns Purchase," and "Beauchamp's Venture," the latter with a dwelling house.

Between 1804 and 1808 Levin disposed of much of his land. On 14 Nov. 1804 he sold to Littleton Dennis Teackle for $5 "Last Chance," 50 acres near the head of Trading Branch which Levin had just bought from Elie Furniss (Som. Deeds 33:341, 36:376). Since no wife was named, presumably Esther had died by 1804. On 2 Aug. 1806, for $470, Levin sold to William Williams lands near the head of Great Annesmessex bought from King: 102 acres, "Conclusion" and "Longs Lott" and 10 acres, "Long Lott" now "The Exchange"; on 17 Feb. 1808 to Williams again he conveyed 40 acres, "Long Ridge" and part of "Beauchamps Venture" within two or three miles of the head of the Great Annesmessex River; and on 20 Feb. 1808 he conveyed to Michael Cluff "Bostons Lott" willed him by his father, on the west side of Morumsco Branch (Som. Deeds 38:123, 39:214, 40:458).

It may be this Levin (who signed Levi) who witnessed the will of Sarah (Porter) Mills, widow of Stephen, on 19 Jan. 1811. Levin had died before 29 Jan. 1820, when his son, Elijah, sold the lands which had descended to him from his father, Levin.

Children (born Somerset Co., Md., probably at Rehobeth):

By first marriage (baptised Coventry Church):

- i. Elijah, b. 9 Mar. 1782; d. 3 Sept. 1846; mar. Ann Rounds; see No. 44.
- ii. Thomas Williamson, b. 27 Apr. 1786; d. by 9 Sept. 1867; mar. Amelia Adams; see No. 45.
- iii. Jesse, b. 22 Nov. 1790; d. 12 Feb. 1838; mar. 1st Cassandra Stewart; 2nd Catharine Keyser; see No. 46.

By second marriage:

- iv. (Gertrude) Gatty, b. c 1792; living in 1852; single; according to a deed of 1853, Sheriff Samuel L. Boggs on 15 Nov. 1852 delivered notice of collection of unpaid fees to Gatty Boston; when there was no ressponse, he seized and sold a 30 acre tract, "Worthless," her share of land whereon Henry Adams, deceased, had lived (Som. Deeds 70:194); Gatty Boston was listed in the 1840 census (p. 262) in the vicinity of Elijah Ward (B 3)(p. 259), and Daniel Boston (15)(p. 263), but she was not listed in 1850.

- v. Eleanor, b. c 1794; d. by 8 Aug. 1844; single; on the latter date a list of debts was filed by James Burnett, administrator of Eleanor Boston; distribution was made to her four sisters, Mary, Gatty, Sally, Hetty (Som. Accts. JP 7:51).
- vi. Mary, b. c 1796; reportedly died in Govans, Baltimore Co., Md.; single.
- vii. Sally, b. c 1798; single; on 19 May 1838 Sally Boston of Worc. Co., Md., for $50, sold to Robert W. Swan of Som. Co. her interest in land inherited from her "brother of the half-blood," Henry Adams (Som. Deeds 59:501).
- viii. Esther Anne Wilson ("Hetty"), b. 1 Jan. 1800; d. 18 Aug. 1899; mar. Lewis Trogler; see No. 47

FIFTH GENERATION

23 ISAAC WHITE, son of Henry and Abigail (Boston) White (10), was born in Somerset Co., Md., 19 Apr. 1747 (baptised Coventry); he died in Somerset Co. before 11 June 1782 (date of probate). On 21 Mar. 1770 Isaac White, son and heir at law of Henry White, sold to Elijah Mathews part of two tracts, "Cork" and "Brothers Love," now called "Son's Choice." As a consequence of controversies over this same land between Isaac White, "planter," and Lodowick Milbourn, both posted bond in the amount of £10,000, submitting their dispute to arbitration by a commission composed of Southy Whittington, Kellum Lankford, and William Moore. The award was made 15 Mar. 1780 to Isaac, "all the lands aforesaid... deeded to John White [Isaac's grandfather] by Michael Vestry and Mary Bray his wife" (half-sister of John White - see WHITE family) (Som. Deeds 26:73, 28:238).

By his will (Som. Wills EB 1:163), signed 27 May 1780, Isaac White's eldest daughter, Abigail, was bequeathed part of a tract called "Corck," and daughter Nancy was bequeathed land called "Isaac Fortune." The other tracts mentioned in his will were "Collins Adventure," joining Solomon McKready's land, a marsh called "Clonmill," "Brothers Love" in Henry's Neck, and right to "Jeans Island Marsh" and "Long Acre Marsh" (deed in possession of William White). The witnesses to his will were Jacob Addams, Elijah Matthews, and William Hall.

Isaac's "dear and well beloved wife" Nanny named in his will is the same Nancy White who died 8 or 9 Feb. 1788; her will (Som. Wills EB 1:297), dictated 8 Feb. by word of mouth in the presence of John Campbell, Elizabeth Kersay, and Sophiah Matthews, named only her son, who was presumably born after his father's will was made or even after his father had died; since Isaac had provided for the daughters only, she declared, "It is my desire that my youngest child John shall have all my Estate that I have." Her will was admitted to probate 11 Feb. The first account was exhibited on 15 July 1788 by Isaac McCready, administrator de bonis non of Isaac White, by Nanny White, former executrix, deceased, showing payment of £1.10 to Rev. Mr. Tingley for a funeral. In the 28 July 1790 account payment was made to Andrew McCready for digging a grave and making a coffin (Som. Accts. EB 16:300, 364). (See Supplement, S-G1, p. 599.)

Children (born Somerset Co., Md.):

- i. Abigail, b. c 1775; mar. Josiah Lankford; see No. S-G2 (p. 599.)
- ii. Nancy, b. c 1777; d. c 1812; mar. Isaac Riggen; see No. S-G2 (p. 599.)
- iii. John, b. c 1782; possibly mar. (lic. Worc. Co. 2 Feb. 1802) Elizabeth Connor.

24 SALLY BOSTON, daughter of Solomon (13) and Elizabeth [Litchfield?] Boston, was born in Accomack Co., Va., probably at Messongo, 15 Jan. 1768; she died, probably at Messongo, before 26 Oct. 1801; she married, about 1787, ISAAC WARNER, son of William Warner; he died in Accomack Co. 1799/1800; he was living 28 Jan. 1799, but he had died by the summer of 1800, when Sally appeared in the Federal Census for Accomack Co. as head of a household including two male children.

Isaac had married, first, Sophia Blake; she made her will 24 Nov. 1783 (prob. 1 Sept. 1784), leaving to her husband Isaac Warner the plantation "whereon I now live formerly belonging to Joseph Blake," adjacent land of Nathaniel Howard, John Northam, Levin Gale, Will Fornelson, and William Mason (Acco. Wills 1784-87, p. 48). On 13 Aug. 1784 William Warner and his wife Elizabeth deeded to Isaac Warner, for £ 3. 10, 100 acres in Somerset Co., Md., near Tapquin Creek on the Nanticoke River (Acco. Deeds 1783-88, p. 145). On 26 Sept. 1796 William and Elizabeth Warner and Nancy and Ann Bishop, for £ 130, deeded to Isaac Warner 60 acres in Accomack Co. near William White, James Ailworth, Joshua Copes, and Thomas Evans (Acco. Deeds 1793-97, p. 444). And on 28 Jan. 1799 Isaac Warner and his wife, Sarah, for £ 350, deeded to William Warner 100 acres described as the tract that Isaac had bought of the heirs of Nancy Bishop, near Evans, Copes, and the road to Amaziah Dix, deceased (Acco. Deeds 1797-1800, p. 269).

Isaac, described as "friend," was named executor in the will of John Shay, signed 23 Sept. 1788.

At an Accomack Co. Court held 26 Oct. 1801 "Solomon Boston taking oath and giving John Moore and Eli Shay for security" was granted administration on the estate of Sally Warner; he was likewise appointed guardian of Solomon Warner, "orphan of Isaac," and at the same court William H. Beavans, Thomas Abbott, and John Nock, or any two of them, were ordered to audit and settle the estate of Isaac Warner (Acco. Order Bk. 1800-4, pp. 160, 161, 167).

On 20 June 1803 William Warner signed his will (prob. 25 July 1803) in which he made bequests to his wife Elizabeth ("the plantation where I now live until her death or marriage"), to daughters Nancy Bishop, Elizabeth Nock, and Lucretia, Hessey, and Polly Warner, to son George, to son William ("my sea side Plantation adjoining the lands of Thomas Evans") and to son Isaac Warner's children, Jacob, George, and Nancy (£ 10 each) and Solomon ($1.00); son George was executor (Acco. Wills 1800-4, p. 618). Since Solomon Boston named only grandson Solomon Warner, not Isaac Warner's other children, it would appear that the others were by Isaac's first wife, Sophia Blake.

A tradition survives among descendants of Solomon Warner that a Solomon Warner was cut out of his rightful share of his grandfather's estate because the grandfather felt that his daughter-in-law, Solomon's mother (who was a second wife) came of a family that was not as "good" as the Warners. The tradition must refer to the above situation, but it should be noted that Solomon was, after all, only a youngest son of a second son.

Child (born probably in Accomack Co., Va.):

- i. Solomon, b. c 1791; d. in Sept. 1838; mar. Lucretia M. Copes; see No. 48.

25 NANCY BOSTON, daughter of Solomon (13) and Elizabeth [Litchfield?] Boston, was born in Accomack Co., Va., probably at Messongo, 6 Apr. 1772; she died, probably at Messongo, before 31 May 1847. She married, about 1799, JAMES SMALL, who died before 19 May 1807, when Nancy was described as widow of James (Acco. Deeds 1804-7, p. 771).

On 6 June 1817 for $750 Nancy bought from her brother Daniel 130 acres on Messongo Creek, adjacent James Small's heirs (Acco. Deeds 16:117). By her will, signed 1 Feb. 1847 (prob. 31 May 1847) Nancy bequeathed to her daughter, Elizabeth Burten (also appointed executrix) the "plantation where I now live," and after her death it should go to William Burten. Nancy's son Solomon J. Small was bequeathed one gun "at his house." Other bequests were made to Elizabeth Small (presumably son Solomon's daughter), to daughter Sally Gladin, and to grandson James Small.

Children (born Accomack Co., Va., probably at Messongo):

- i. Elizabeth, b. c 1800; d. c 1870?; mar. John Burton; see No. 49.
- ii. Solomon J., b. c 1802; d. by 25 Feb. 1861; mar. Sally Byrd; see No. 50.
- iii. Sally, b. c 1803; d. 5 Dec. 1881; mar. Solomon J.

Gladding; see No. 51.

26 SOLOMON BOSTON, JUNIOR, son of Solomon (13) and Elizabeth [Litchfield?] Boston, was born in Accomack Co., Va., probably at Messongo, 19 Feb. 1775; he died at Seaford, Delaware, 6 July 1819, at 12:10 p. m. He married, about 1800, probably in or near Slaughters Neck, Sarah (Sally) Hinds, who was born in 1785 and died 4 Nov. 1836, probably at Seaford. (The date of Solomon's birth in his father's prayer book is identical with that in his own Bible.)

By his father's will (1807) Solomon was bequeathed a Negro man Isaac and half of his father's wearing apparel, to be divided with his brother Daniel. According to a narrative in the possession of Mrs. Wilbur B. Fryling (587), Captain Solomon Boston was a Virginian and "a sea coaster. At that time large vessels engaged in the coasting trade often ran up the Nanticoke River for harbor during the severe winter weather and lay just below the shoals about a mile below Seaford. Prior to 1800 Captain Boston was detained in the harbor at Lewistown. He left his vessel to attend a party of young people in or near Slaughters Neck, Sussex Co., Del., where he met Sally Hinds, and in due time they were married."

"After their marriage she sailed with him for some time. One of their trips took them up the Nanticoke River to Seaford, and shortly thereafter (1804) Captain Boston bought property in the village from John Hooper and settled there, still continuing his trade on the sea. The first house stood between the main street of Seaford and the river." During succeeding years he bought further property from John Hooper: in 1805 and 1809 several lots on the west side of Market Street and in Seaford proper, and in 1815 the Island (Sussex Co. Deeds AB 25:36, 47; SF 29:262; AQ 39:426). "Here he built a plain two-story house and spanned the creek with a foot bridge, opposite the house." This was their home for the remainder of his life and the home of his descendants for over a century. Captain Boston was a prominent citizen of Seaford.

His will, signed 25 June 1819 (prob. 19 July 1819) bequeathed all his real and personal property during her life or widowhood to his wife, Sally, who was appointed executrix, and provision was also made for the education of his sons, Solomon, John, and Charles (Sussex Co. Wills G 7:153).

Solomon's Bible, owned by Mrs. Wilbur B. Fryling, contains his and his wife's dates, the birth dates of his sons, and dates for his son Solomon's family (a copy is on file in the D. A. R. Library, Washington, D. C.).

Children (born probably in Seaford, Sussex Co., Del.):

- i. Solomon, b. 25 Feb. 1805; d. 17 Apr. 1848; mar. 1st [Ann] Collins; 2nd Harriet W. Wallace; see No. 52.
- ii. John, b. 1 Nov. 1806; d. 1850/57; mar. Rosanna E. Wainwright; see No. 53.
- iii. Charles, b. 25 June 1809; on 1 July 1837 he sold to his brother Solomon his third of the property inherited from their father.

27 POLLY BOSTON, daughter of Solomon (13) and Elizabeth [Litchfield?] Boston, was born in Accomack Co., Va., probably at Messongo, 3 Feb. 1786; she died, probably at Messongo, 7 Feb. 1838. She married (Acco. Co. 5 Feb. 1807) WALTER WESSELS, SR. son of William and Egnatia Wessels (see WESSELS, p. 436); he was born at Messongo about 1772; he died, probably at Messongo, 30 Mar. 1837. (Dates of birth and death, and of children's births, from entries in a Book of Common Prayer, printed in Philadelphia, 1795, now owned by their great-grandson, Harry L. Wessells - 241).

Walter Wessels, by his will, signed 14 Oct. 1833 (prob. 29 May 1837), divided his land among his three sons: Colmore received the "Eastern end of my land," adjacent John Drummond and James Northam; Henry received the "western part of my land," adjacent John White, "where my dwelling house now stands," and also first choice of one canoe and "my fishing sein and rope"; John received land adjacent Messongo Creek, known as "Persuasion Gut," and adjacent the lands of John White and George Washington, as well as one Negro boy Samuel and a girl Leah and all their issue. Daughters Elizabeth and Anna received the residue of the estate divided equally. Witnesses were Custis W. Bird, Colmore S. Bird, H. Fletcher, Walter Wessels, Jr.

Acco. Wills 1828-46, p. 246). (The hypothesis of Litchfield for son Henry's middle name is based on the name of Harry Litchfield Wessells, grandson of Henry's brother, John, No. 54.)

Children (born Accomack Co., Va., probably at Messongo):

- i. Henry Litchfield?, b. 28 Nov. 1807; d. by 20 June 1883; single; a farmer, he was for a time a justice of the peace for Acco. Co. By his will, signed 8 Dec. 1882 (prob. 25 June 1883) he bequeathed all his personal estate to his nephew, John S. Wessells, and divided his land among John and John's two sisters, Sarah A. E. Lankford (wife of John T. Lankford) and Mary E. W. Wessells, John's share to include the homestead (on which John's grandson still live); Henry's brother William was to receive income from the property. Dr. Frank Fletcher was executor (Acco. Wills 1882-1901, p. 29).
- ii. Sally (Sarah), b. 18 Sept. 1809; d. 1830/33; ?mar. (lic. Som. Co. 1 Sept. 1830) John Boston, her first cousin (53).

28 DANIEL BOSTON, JUNIOR, son of Daniel (15) and Sarah (Collins) Boston, was born in Somerset Co., Md., probably near Sheltown, 10 Feb. 1791; he died in Somerset Co., probably at Sheltown, 21 Feb. 1865. He married (probably in Accomack Co., Va. in Oct. 1819) Enatia Byrd, daughter of Selby and Hester (Wessells) Byrd (see BYRD family), born at Muddy Creek, Accomack Co., 4 Apr. 1799; she died at Sheltown, 11 June 1864. Both were buried in the Baptist Cemetery, Newtown (Pocomoke City). Enatia's first cousin, Sally Byrd, married Daniel's cousin, Solomon J. Small (50).

In a ledger (owned by Mrs. Margaret Crockett) for a general store presumably in Newtown, covering the years 1811-1812, appears the name Daniel Boston, Jr. among those with accounts. On 23 Apr. 1823, with his brother Samuel Boston, "Jr.," Daniel witnessed the will of Ann Collins Broughton, whose mother was his mother's half-sister. It was probably this same Daniel Boston who was a constable in Somerset Co. for several terms between about 1817 and 1850, as evidenced by his name indexed (pp. 59, 116, 185, 296) in a currently unavailable volume "Bonds and Certificates, 1815-1892," for Somerset Co.

On 19 Apr. 1817 Daniel Boston, identified as "junior," had bought from Robert Swan for $2 a 100 acre tract, "Houston's Adventure," which he and Enatia, on 24 Dec. 1830, sold for $200 to his sisters Ann and Susan. On 12 Dec. 1832 Daniel bought from his sisters Ann, Elizabeth, and Susan for $150 their share in their father's land; and on 13 Jan. 1855 he bought from his brother Samuel his share, for $50 (Som. Deeds 45:355, 58:553, 56:635, 72:55).

According to accounts of the estate of Charlotte Smith, Daniel Boston, with Samuel D. Milbourne, owed $100, from 4 Oct. 1834 to 17 Nov. 1842; Daniel in addition owed $79.61 (Som. Accts. JP 18:320). In 1837 Daniel served as administrator for the estate of Alexander L. Bird; an account was submitted 17 July 1837.

Daniel bought two tracts from Samuel D. Milbourn: 22 Dec. 1838, for $300, a tract on the road leading down to Spencer's Point, adjacent the land of Ralph Milbourn and Daniel Boston; and on 19 Apr. 1850, for $80, a 1 acre tract in Sheltown, on the shore of the Pocomoke River, a lot which he sold 13 Nov. 1863 to Henrietta B. Revell for $100 (Som. Deeds 60:94, 67:355, 76:242).

On 29 Mar. 1856 Daniel bought for $251 from Renatus T. Hastings a tract, "Venture." On 21 July 1860 Daniel bought for $25 from Joseph B. and Margaret Cox a 37 acre tract, "Long Meadow," near the mouth of the Pocomoke and north of the county road to Sheltown, land which Daniel and Enatia sold on 10 Nov. 1862 for $50 to Joshua B. Adams. And on 11 Dec. 1861 for $261 Daniel bought a lot from the estate of James T. M. Adams. Finally, on 12 May 1864, "in consideration of the natural love and affection which I bear my son Solomon C. Boston" Daniel conveyed to Solomon "all the real and personal estate of every kind and description which I own by any title whatever" (Som. Deeds 72:420, 75:16 & 488, 76:527, 76:457).

According to Colwell P. Byrd (History and Genealogy of the Byrd Family, 1908) Enatia Boston was prominent in the organization of the Rehobeth Baptist Church, where her son was later pastor, and she was one of its few charter members (1839 or 1840). Byrd described Daniel as a "worthy man and prosperous farmer."

Child (born Sheltown, Somerset Co., Md.):

- i. Solomon Charles, b. 23 Aug. 1820; d. 15 June 1887; mar. 1st Mary A. Marshall Nock; 2nd Mary E. Britton; see No. 55.

29 JESSE BOSTON, son of Esau (16), was born in Somerset Co., Md., probably at Morumsco, 5 Apr. 1745 (baptised at Coventry); he died, probably at Pitts Creek, in Worcester Co., Md., between 1810 and 1820. Nothing is known of his family; his children below are assigned hypothetically. No direct evidence has been found to support this hypothesis (see Appendix C).

In Mar. 1764 Jesse Boston, an orphan, "of his own free consent" bound himself apprentice to Nathaniel Evans to learn the trade of ship carpenter, Evans binding himself to teach Jesse "to Read, Write & Cypher as far as the Rule of three Inclusive and at the Expiration of his Servitude Give him a Broad Axe and a New Suit of Clothes over and above his Common wearing Cloaths and Likewise find and provide for his Said Apprentice meat, drink, washing, Lodging and Cloathing sufficient for such an apprentice to have and wear during the term aisd" (Som. Jud. Rec. 1763/67, p. 53). Teague Riggen and Robert Pitt stood security. Jesse appeared in June Court 1768 in connection with his suit against Robert Pitt, Nathaniel Evans, and Teague Riggen, who owed him £50; the case was settled in Jesse's favor (Som. Jud. Rec. 1767/68, p. 135). In the will of his brother Jacob (1769) Jesse was named residuary legatee.

Nothing more is known of Jesse until 1810, when he appears in the Federal Census in Worcester Co., in the Pitts Creek area, near Samuel Boston (56), son of Jesse's first cousin, Esau (31). At least the Jesse of the census was over 45, and the only known Jesse with whom he could be identified is the son of Esau. His household consisted presumably of a wife (b. 1768/84), two boys and a girl born 1798/1800, and two boys and a girl born 1800/10, who, it may be inferred, are his children. Between 1768 and 1810 Jesse may have lived, and married, and reared a family in some other part of the country, then returned to settle among his relatives, in his old age.

Children (hypothetical):

- i. Jesse, b. c1796; see Appendix I. F.
- ii. Silas, b. c1801; d. c1835; mar. Mary Cooke; see Appendix I. C1 (p. 328).
- iii. Nancy, b. c1803; mar. (lic. Worc. Co. 24 Sept. 1825) GEORGE McKNEEL; on 18 Sept. 1841, perhaps preparatory to migrating, George and his wife Nancy of Som. Co. sold a tract of land in Worc. Co. for $18.50 to William Puzey (Worc. Deeds GMH 5:1).

30 ELIZABETH ("BETTY") BOSTON, daughter of Jacob (17) and Eleanor (Benston) Boston, was born in Worcester Co., Md., probably at Pitts Creek, 5 Aug. 1750 (baptised at Coventry); she died after 1797. She married, about 1778, Captain WILLIAM MERRILL HENDERSON, son of William and Mary (Trahearn) HENDERSON (see p. 400, No. 8), who was born 10 Feb. 1757 (baptised Coventry) and died in Worcester Co., probably near Pitts Creek, before 28 Mar. 1797. It may have been his widow Elizabeth Henderson who mar. (lic. Worc. Co. 19 Oct. 1802) LEVI HENDERSON.

Captain William Henderson, in his will, signed 4 Nov. 1796 (prob. 28 Mar. 1797), made bequests to his wife Elizabeth and to his two children Levin and Ann. He provided that Levin should work with Jacob Boston (32) or Jesse Boston (33) at their trade until the age of 21, and he named as executors Esau (31) and Jacob (32) Boston, specifically identified as his brothers-in-law. Witnesses were Joseph and Levin B. Houston, and Sally Taylor. By a codicil of 22 Dec. 1796 he requested that his executors sell his vessel, a request which Jacob Boston carried out on 10 Jan.

1798. For the codicil William Taylor was also a witness (Worc. Wills JW 18:297). At the time of probate Zadok Wheeler and Joseph Houston stood securities for the executors. By an account of 29 May 1798 for William M. Henderson, Jesse Boston (33) was paid for making a coffin (Worc. Accts. LH 5:207-8).

Because of Henderson's close associations with the Bostons, there can now be little doubt that Levin and Anne Henderson were the children of Elizabeth Boston, even though Elizabeth's father in his wills (1780, 1786) never mentioned her as Elizabeth Henderson, for it was not uncommon for parents in wills not to name daughters by their married names, and it would be most natural for William to place his son Levin in the care of Levin's uncles.

Children (born Worcester Co., Md., probably at Pitts Creek):

- i. Levin, b. c 1780; d. by 24 Oct. 1843; mar. Nancy Layfield; see Appendix D.
- ii. Anne, b. c 1782; d. Som. Co. by 12 Oct. 1819 (Som. Accts. JP 5:70); mar. (lic. Worc. 30 Sept. 1803) William R. Merrill.

31 ESAU BOSTON, SENIOR, son of Jacob (17) and Eleanor (Benston) Boston, was born in Worcester Co., Md., probably at Pitts Creek, in 1752; he died, probably also at Pitts Creek, on Wednesday night, 4 Feb. 1846, according to the Bible of his son, Samuel M. Boston, in which his age is given as the "93rd year of his age"; and a clipping from a Newtown newspaper on file in the Maryland Historical Society gives his age as 94. He married about 1780 Leah Merrill, daughter of Joshua and Mary Merrill (see MERRILL family, No. 6, p. 418).

During the American Revolution Esau served in Captain Layfield's Company (John Trahearn Henderson, sergeant) in the Worcester Co. Militia (Md. Rev. War Militia Lists, p. 256). On the basis of his service his great-great-granddaughter, Mrs. Katherine Pilchard Powell (665), in 1961 joined the D. A. R.

Esau Boston's name appears in the 1783 Worcester Co. tax list in Pitts Creek Hundred.

When Leah Boston's mother died the family received generous bequests. Mary Merrill signed her will 25 Jan. 1790, leaving to her "son" Esau Boston "one half of my hogs of all kind, also one Yoke of oxen and my wain and choice of eight head of Sheep, also one half my meat." She bequeathed to granddaughter Mary Boston "one Negro girl named Alice, one silver Table spoon, one spinning wheel, and two candle sticks and one mustard pot"; to grandson Samuel Merrill Boston, "one horse named prodgict, also my case and bottles"; to grandson Jacob Boston, "one feather Bed and furniture"; and to grandson Esau Boston, "one Cow and Calf, red colour." Her daughter Leah Boston, residuary legatee, was also bequeathed "one Negro woman named Dinah, also all my Slays and Griens [?], one brass kettle, one coffee mill, one coffee pott, half dozen Brakefast plates, one half dozen flat Queen Maria plates, one large Queen Maria bowl, all my Tea Cups and Saucers that stands on my chest of drawers, also one small iron pott with a Bale, one deep pewter dish, also two red Heffers, one earthen pepper Box, one Salt Seller, one white iron tea kettle, one black mereene Petty Coat, one black crape Gound, one stampted Cotten gound, purple Colour, two Striped Linen Gounds, and all my shifts, aprons, handkerchiefs, and caps, also my two loose gounds." Witnesses were Samuel Handy and Nelly Boston, who signed with her mark. The will was admitted to probate 2 July 1790 (Worc. Wills JW 13:258).

On 26 Jan. 1791 Esau bought from Joseph Houston for £14 a three acre tract called "The Rudder" on the east side of the road from Stevens Ferry to Cedar Hall, adjacent to "Boston's Hardship" (Worc. Deeds N:426). On 3 Dec. 1798 Esau, having requested a resurvey of his land, was issued a new grant to the combined tract, now called "Lock," comprising parts of the 180 acres of "Boston's Hardship" (granted to his father 10 July 1758), the 25 acres of "Keel" (granted to his father 8 Aug. 1769), and the 7 acres of "Rudder" (granted to Elijah Brittingham 10 May 1758), as well as part of the 100 acres of "Long Trusted" (granted to Jacob Boston 28 June 1748), a total of 189 1/2 acres (Md. Land Office IC & B, p. 15).

On 31 Dec. 1801 Esau bought from Levin Merrill and his wife Sally, for £100, a 60 acre tract called "Hog Quarter" in Pitts Creek Hundred (Worc. Deeds V:19). On 12 Feb. 1805 with Joshua Duer and others, he stood surety ($3000 bond) for Joseph Houston, appointed inspector of tobacco at the old meeting house landing warehouse (Worc. Deeds W:627).

In the 1830's Esau sold to his sons all his land: 19 Sept. 1834 for $300 he sold to Samuel Boston the tract "Hog Quarter" he had bought in 1801 (Worc. Deeds JCH 1:199). On 29 Dec. 1835 "Esau Boston Senior" sold to "Esau Boston Junior" for $800 the tract, "Lock," described as comprising 200 acres, marked in part by an "oak standing on the west side of Esau Boston's Plantation and being the first boulder of the original Tract called Bostons Hardship" (Worc. Deeds JCH 2:544).

Children (born Worcester Co., Md., at Pitts Creek):

- i. Samuel Merrill, b. 17 Feb. 1781; d. 20 Dec. 1839; mar. Leah Merrill; see No. 56.
- ii. Jacob, b. May 1782; d. 27 Apr. 1858; mar. 1st Nancy Layfield; 2nd Narcissa Hope; 3rd Sally Jones; see No. 57.
- iii. Esau, Jr., b. 1784; d. by 22 June 1869; mar. 1st Augusta Beauchamp; 2nd Mary Broughton; 3rd Mariah Melvin; see No. 58.
- iv. Mary, b. c 1786; d. young.
- v. Leah, b. 4 Sept. 1793; d. 12 July 1869; mar. Levin Mills; see No. 59.
- vi. Mary Jane, b. c 1800 (reportedly 1797); single; in 1880 "cousin" Mary Jane Boston was living with Jacob Boston (61) in Baltimore; in view of the close ties between Jacob and Esau's son John Boston, Mary Jane must be the female child (under 10) in Esau's household in 1810.

32 JACOB BOSTON, son of Jacob (17) and Eleanor (Benston) Boston, was born in Worcester Co., Md., probably at Pitts Creek, 1 Apr. 1766 (baptised at Coventry Church); he died in Spencer Co., Kentucky, between 1830 and 1840. He married, probably in Accomack Co., Virginia, 22 June 1797, Mary Patterson, daughter of William and Rachel Patterson (see PATTERSON family); she was born 1 Feb. 1772 and died, probably in Accomack Co., 26 Apr. 1809.

On 3 July 1788 Jacob purchased in trust for 5 shillings from William Merrill 9 acres of the tract "Boston's Hardship," 19 acres of which Jacob's father had sold to William's father (Worc. Deeds M:402). In 1797 Jacob was executor for his brother-in-law, William Merrill Henderson, with whom he had owned a one-quarter share in a vessel called The Philadelphia of Snow Hill. It was a square-sterned, two-masted, single-deck schooner without gallery or figurehead, of fifty-four and a third tons, 52 feet 7 inches long, 6 feet 11 wide, with a depth of 7 feet. Jacob put up his part for sale 10 Jan. 1798, and it was bought by John Moore and John Hedrick for £386.5 (Worc. Deeds S:145).

Jacob evidently moved to Accomack Co. about 1799, just south of Pitts Creek, for in the 1800 Federal Census he was listed there as head of a family. He moved back across the state line into Worcester Co. ten years later, for on 27 Jan. 1810 it is recorded that on 1 Jan. he had imported from Accomack Co. a Negro man named Joe, aged about 50 years; Jacob had derived title to Joe through the bequest of 1/6 part by the "death of my father Jacob Boston" and purchased the other five parts from Ellis, Betsy, Nelly, Jesse and Nancy Boston (Worc. Deeds AA:442).

In Virginia Jacob may have been engaged in farming, but from 1810 to 1827 in Maryland he was apparently a handy man or wagon maker or cooper. In a small notebook once kept by Jacob, now in the possession of Mrs. Frank M. Bradbury (688) of Jefferson-town, Ky., Jacob recorded sales, expenditures, and payments. He had bought the book some years before he began making formal entries, for in the back cover is found the earliest date, April 4, 1803, when Jacob reported, "I put my mare to the horse." Later, "The Second time my mare tuck the horse was the 12 Day April," and "The Second Day of May my mare tuck the horse."

The earliest date of a transaction in the book is 29 Oct. 1810: Mr. Levin Mills (who had recently married Jacob's niece, Leah, No. 59) "to cash by Jesse Boston" (Jacob's brother, or his cousin, No. 29). During the following years he recorded transactions with members of most of the well-known families of the Pitts Creek or Newtown (Pocomoke) area: John and James Brittingham, James Mc Masters, Samuel, Thomas, and Solomon Tull, Littleton and John Dennis, William R. Merrill, John N. Whittington, Mrs. Sally Bayne, Jacob Rigin, Capt. John Long, Handy Mills, Stephen Beauchamp, John Benson, Stephen and William S. White, John Glading; many of them paid him for a day's work. For 29 Jan. 1818 is recorded "By settlement with Brother Jesse in the way of corn. . .

$3.25"; for 26 Feb. 1820, "Credit By Jacob Boston $9.00" (Jacob was his nephew, No. 57). In 1819 he recorded "By cash By Brother Esau Boston," and other names for the same year are Joseph Schoolfield, Levin Merrill, Thomas Marshall, and Levin Henderson, his nephew (D1). Among typical items were payments to Nathaniel Wood, $1.50 for making "roler"; "attring car spring," making car frame, repairing gate, and making a churn. Frequently in the later years appears the name of John Boston, Jacob's great-nephew (107).

During these years Jacob was probably living with his brother Jesse, for in the Federal Census for 1810 and 1820 Jacob is not listed, but his brother's household is inordinately large. It may be this Jacob who in 1816 owed money to the estate of James Tilghman, as did Collins Adams (39) and James Boston (68), and it was also probably this Jacob who on 1 Oct. 1816 with Levin Long was authorized to appraise the estate of Edward Stevenson. It may also be this Jacob, or his nephew (57), who was described as "my friend" and appointed executor in the will of Thomas Merrill, signed 17 Mar. 1827, admitted to probate 18 Dec. 1827, at which time Jacob appeared (Worc. Wills MH27:299).

Jacob migrated to Kentucky in 1827 or 1828, possibly with sons Jesse and Luther, or possibly after his sons, to join them and his brother Jesse. Jacob's son John had probably gone earlier, for he married in 1827, apparently in Kentucky. The last date in Jacob's account book is 9 Aug. 1827, and his name appears in the 1830 census in Spencer Co., Kentucky.

The dates of birth for his children, as well as those for his wife are from a record in Jacob's account book, where the date of his own birth coincides with that in the Coventry Parish record.

Children (all but first born presumably in Accomack Co., Va.):

- i. Jesse, b. Worcester Co., Md., probably at Pitts Creek, 7 Sept. 1798; d. by 4 Mar. 1861; mar. Nancy Collier; see No. 60.
- ii. William P[atterson?], b. 15 Dec. 1799; d. young?
- iii. Jacob, b. 17 Dec. 1801; d. 30 Mar. 1886; mar. Susan H. Hines; see No. 61.
- iv. John, b. 29 Aug. 1803; d. 8 Nov. 1876; mar. Elizabeth Rash; see No. 62.
- v. Luther, b. 26 Nov. 1807; d. c 1848; mar. Sarah Steel; see No. 63.

33 JESSE BOSTON, son of Jacob (17) and Eleanor (Benston) Boston, was born in Worcester Co., Md., near the Pocomoke River, at Pitts Creek, 29 Dec. 1772 (baptised at Coventry); he died in Spencer Co., Ky., before 11 Oct. 1830; he married (lic. Somerset Co., Md. 4 Jan. 1803) Mary ("Polly") Peden, daughter of John and Betty (Henderson) Peden (see HENDERSON family); she was born in 1778 and died in Spencer Co. in 1831.

In the will of his brother-in-law, William M. Henderson (30) Jesse is mentioned, and he was paid in May 1798 for making a coffin for Henderson. On 22 May 1804 he was also paid for making a coffin for William F. Adams.

To judge by the size of Jesse's family in the Worcester Co. census of 1810 and 1820, his older brother Jacob and Jacob's sons must have been living with him. In the 1820 census (p. 449) his occupation was given as cypress cooper. About 1823 Jesse migrated with his family to Spencer Co., Ky., accompanied probably by one nephew, John, and followed later by his brother, Jacob (32). Jesse's will, signed 21 Aug. 1830 (prob. 11 Oct. 1830) named his wife Mary (executor) and made bequests to daughter "Harrett" Stout and his three sons, James W., Edward, and Jesse M. Boston (Spencer Co., Ky. Will Bk. A:190). His birthplace and the dates for his wife are found in historical accounts of his youngest son (see No. 66).

Children (born Worcester Co., Md., probably at Pitts Creek):

- i. Eleanor Harriet Ann, b. c 1804; mar. 1st JOHN STOUT, who died about 1840; 2nd Mr. BUCKNER; 3rd Mr. BRYAN; no children. In 1841 she was guardian for her nephew, Jesse M. Boston (127). According to family tradition, she later lived in Bardstown, Ky.
- ii. James W., b. c 1806; d. by 12 Sept. 1833; mar. Priscilla; see No. 64.
- iii. ?Isabella Peden, b. c 1808; d. before 1830; Mrs. W. E. Booth (697) owns several heirloom spoons which according to family tradition belonged to Isabella P. Boston.
- iv. Edward, b. 9 Mar. 1810; d. 20 Nov. 1892; mar. Sarah

Stout; see No. 65.

v. Jesse Minor, b. 27 July 1817; d. 7 Oct. 1899; mar. 1st Mary J. Stout; 2nd Margaret L. M. Woodrow; see No. 66.

34 MARTHA COTTINGHAM, daughter of John and Mary (Boston) Cottingham (18), was born in Somerset Co., Md. 25 May 1746 (baptised at Coventry Church); she died probably about 1773/74. She married, at Coventry Church, 27 Nov. 1766, her cousin, WILLIAM COTTINGHAM, son of Charles and Margaret (Revell) Cottingham (see DIXON family), who was born in Somerset Co. about 1735; he died in Somerset Co. in July 1799. He married second Mary Dixon, daughter of Thomas Dixon, who named his daughter in his will (signed 20 Dec. 1797; prob. 22 Apr. 1800), leaving her his dwelling plantation on "Chapel road" and also making bequests to her children Elizabeth Dixon Cottingham and Sarah (Som. Wills EB 3:10). The other children of William and Mary were Charles, Esther, Orpah, and Peggy.

On a warrant dated 18 Feb. 1760 "William Cottingham (son of Charles)" secured a resurvey of "Chance" belonging to Charles Cottingham, 30 acres adjacent "Mumford" surveyed for Thomas Lynsey. By a warrant of 15 May 1759 William in 1770 was granted a patent to "Williams Lott," 50 acres of vacant land adjacent to "Chance" (Md. Land Office, Libers BC & GS #20:490, and #38:517).

According to the Somerset Co. tax list of 1783 William held "Williams Lott," 60 acres, and "Rambling Point," 75 acres, rated "indifferent," with a small orchard; "other improvements sorry." According to the 1798 tax list William held four tracts: "Boston and Mumford" (15 acres), "Boston and Revenge," (46 acres), "Chance" (63 acres), and "Williams Lott" (60 acres), with "one old dwelling" (32 x 16 feet), a kitchen (16 x 16), and a smoke house (8 x 8).

William Cottingham, planter, signed his will 16 Feb. 1799 (prob. 23 July 1799). To his wife, Mary, named executor, he left his lands "Second Choice" during her life, also a life interest in the dwelling plantation "I now live on" during the life of her father, Thomas Dixon, and Negro man Harry. Besides bequests to son Charles ("Second Choice") and younger daughters, to son Josiah he left "my dwelling plantation" on the south side of the beaver dam branch; if he should die, it should pass to William's daughters and their husbands, Esther and Sarah; William also left Josiah a Negro boy Frank and "my Cyder Casks & Cow." To his daughter Mary Cottingham he left a Negro boy Arthur and girl Elas, a feather bed and furniture, and the mat on the chest known as mother's chest, as well as one cow and calf, one heifer, and two sheep. Witnesses were Thomas and Samuel Tull and Thomas Merrill Tull (Som. Wills EB 17:727).

Children (born Somerset Co., Md., baptised Coventry):

- i. Josiah, b. 14 Mar. 1769; d. by 19 Aug. 1834; see No. 67.
- ii. Andrew, b. 17 Nov. 1771; d. Oct. 1796/Feb. 1799.
- iii. Mary, b. 23 Oct. 1773; single; she was still living in Feb. 1809, for she was named, with her brother Josiah, in the distribution of the estate of her half-brother, Charles Cottingham (Som. Accts. EB 27:102).

35 SARAH COTTINGHAM, daughter of John and Mary (Boston) Cottingham (18), was born in Somerset Co., Md., 25 Apr. 1750 (baptised Coventry); she was living in 1800 but had died by 1812. She married (at Coventry Church, 25 Oct. 1776) LEVI HOLLAND, son of Michael and Mary (Powell) Holland; he was born in Somerset Co. 6 Mar. 1749 (bapt. Coventry); he died in Somerset Co. before 21 Apr. 1812. By his will, signed 8 Mar. 1812, Levi directed that Negro boy Nathan be sold to pay his debts and that his executor, "friend" William Williams, pay the balance to son Josiah Holland, who was also to receive 2 yoke of oxen, all the farming utensils, a cart, a gun, a silver watch, a hand mill, and Negro Margett and girl Jane. To daughter Martha Johnson he bequeathed Negro Aulee and one corner cupboard. Daughter Mary Carver was to receive all the remaining household and kitchen furniture, such as the loom, and Negro boy Sam. Witnesses were Elijah Fitzgerald and Benjamin Conner. The will was admitted to probate 6 Apr. 1812 (Som. Wills EB23:165; for distribution of estate, see Som. Accts. EB 27:181).

Children (born Somerset Co., Md., baptised Coventry):

- i. Mary, b. 18 Mar. 1786; mar. (lic. Som. Co. 21 July 1807) WILLIAM CARVER; she may have mar. 2nd (lic. Som. Co. 3 June 1815) SOLOMON LONG.

ii. Martha, b. 25 Feb. 1788; mar. --- JOHNSON.

iii. Josiah Fleming, b. 20 Feb. 1789; mar. (Coventry, 19 May 1809) his cousin, Bridget Cottingham Boston (40).

36 EPHRAIM COTTINGHAM, son of John and Mary (Boston) Cottingham (18), was born in Somerset Co., Md., 27 May 1752 (baptised Coventry); he died in Somerset Co. before 14 Jan.

1800. He married, at Coventry Church, 15 Apr. 1790, Jemima Bird, daughter of Solomon and Jemima (Taylor) Bird, born 13 Dec. 1754 (baptised Coventry); she died about 1794 and he married a second time, for the wife named in his will is Leah. In 1771 Ephraim was granted a patent to "Need," which he sold 12 Mar. 1774 to David (or Daniel?) Cottingham (Som. Deeds 27:133).

According to the 1798 Somerset Co. tax list Ephraim, in Great Annessex Hundred, owned six slaves and held parts of tracts "Boston," "Need," and "Turkey Swamp," 132 acres, with dwelling house of wood and brick (32 x 20 feet) of one story, with four windows (4 x 2 feet) and four "dormant" windows (3 x 1 1/2), a kitchen (20 x 20), a smoke house (8 x 8), and a milk house (12 x 8).

In his will, signed 13 Oct. 1796 (prob. 14 Jan. 1800) Ephraim made bequests to his son, David Bird Cottingham, a minor, and in case of the child's death to his nephew Andrew and niece Mary (also to receive £25), children of William Cottingham, and to the children of his sisters, Martha Cottingham (deceased), Mary Bosten (deceased), Sarah Holland, and Rhoda Summers. Witnesses were Henry Cohoon, Samuel Tull, Benjamin Connor (Som. Wills EB 23:1). Nathan Cohoon, appointed guardian for David 26 Feb. 1800, rented David's plantation to Thomas and Samuel Tull on 20 Mar. 1800 for $60 annually. Before 12 Nov. 1800 David had died, as evidenced by a record dividing the lands of his father. (See Supplement, S36, p. 458.)

Children (born Somerset Co., Md.):

i. John, b. 8 May 1790 (bapt. Coventry); d. young.

ii. David Bird, b. c1793; d. by 12 Nov. 1800.

37 JOSHUA BOSTON, eldest son of Lazarus (19) and Grace (Matthews) Boston, was born probably in Worcester Co., Md., near Dividing Creek, 20 July 1752 (baptised at Coventry Church); he died in Somerset Co., probably near Dividing Creek, between 5 Apr. and 19 Aug. 1817 (when his son sold some of Joshua's land). He married, first (1778) Sarah Williams, daughter of Jacob and Mary (Strawbridge) WILLIAMS (pp. 439-40, No. 4), born Somerset Co. 19 Oct. 1742 (Coventry); died Somerset Co. before 25 Dec. 1790; in a deposition of 17 July 1799 Joshua Boston, aged 47, declared that he married in 1778 the widow of William Furniss (Som. Jud. Rec. 1798/9:391-412), who died in Dec. 1774 (see No. 4, p. 392). By Furniss Sarah was mother of John Strawbridge Furniss, Josiah, and Mary. Joshua and Sarah appeared in court as witnesses for Zadock Long against the state in Mar. 1779 (Som. Jud. Rec. 1775/84:194). Joshua married second (before 25 Dec. 1790) Nancy Turpin, daughter of Denwood Turpin; she was probably a widow, for her father made bequests to daughter Nancy Boston's children; in the settlement of his estate (1795) they received one negro wench Aminta and boy James "in the possession of Joshua Boston" (Som. Accts. EB16:695).

On 27 Oct. 1773 the Som. Co. Court issued a judgment against Mathias and Jesse Ward for 40 shilling and £ 2.6 owed Joshua Boston (Som. Jud. Rec. 1772-4, p. 180).

During the American Revolution Joshua served in the Somerset County Militia, as a sergeant in Pocomoke Company, under Capt. George Davis and 1st Lt. William Stevens (Md. Rev. War Militia Lists, p. 186). Joshua Boston also took the Oath of Allegiance in Somerset County, 27 Jan. 1778 (Blue Book 5, No. 17, p. 2).

On the deaths of James and Mary Williams, his wife's parents, Joshua received (11 Jan. 1785) a third of the estate of each in his wife's right. With Sarah's brother-in-law, John Kelly, Joshua was later executor for Sarah's brother, Jacob Williams; an account was submitted 12 Apr. 1791, and final distribution was made 6 Mar. 1792. Joshua, with David Long, was among those owing money to the estate of John Peden, father-in-law of Jesse Boston (33) in 1798 (Som. Accts. EB16:106, 136, 337, 446, 535; EB21:238).

On 24 May 1785 Joshua Boston purchased from his brother-in-law, Phillip Collins Adams, for £ 252.10, a tract called "Norfolk" or "Adams's Purchase," near Dividing Creek. On 15 Nov.

1785 he bought from Samuel Adams Harper for £75 part of the tract "Norfolk," 101 acres near Dividing Creek. And on 4 Apr. 1786 he bought from P. C. Adams 102 acres for £330 a parcel taken out of two tracts called "Addams's Purchase" and "Beckles" on Dividing Creek adjacent the land bought in 1785 and also adjacent the land of Samuel Adams, deceased (Som. Deeds 29:21, 85, 124).

On 19 Mar. 1788 Joshua sold to George Miles, for $115, a Negro man Joe, a woman Rachel, and a girl Milley. From Richard Waters, Sr., 20 Dec. 1788, Joshua purchased 149 acres of marsh land called "Flat Lands" at the head of Buggs Hole Creek, along the Annessex River, and on 25 Dec. 1790 Joshua Boston, "planter," and his wife Nancy sold the same tract to Isaiah and William Tilghman for £34. On 8 Mar. 1791 Joshua sold the 101 acre tract "Norfolk" for £190.15 to Zorababel King and William Turpin, and on 26 May 1792, for £97, Joshua and Nancy, with King and Turpin conveyed "Norfolk" and "Addams Purchase" to Samuel Addams (Som. Deeds 29:337, 467; 30:146, 161, 442).

On 9 Dec. 1794 Esau Boston (38), Joshua's brother, with Levin King stood security on a bond for Joshua, guardian for his sons James, under 14, and Levin, over 14 (Som. Bonds EB20:285). On 7 Aug. 1796 Joshua deeded to Levin King and John Morris his land on a mortgage bond in trust as security for his guardianship of Levin and James. On 13 Mar. 1804 Joshua applied for, and secured from King and Morris, release from his guardianship of his sons, James and Levin having now "severally arrived" at the age of 21 (Som. Deeds 31:458; 36:163, 164). On 23 June 1795 Joshua stood bond with John Ward for Prissy Boston, an administrator of the estate of his brother, Esau (38). On 10 Dec. 1790 George Miles and Philip C. Adams (39) stood bond for Joshua as guardian for nephew, William Boston (Som. Bonds EB20:285, 343; EB22:114).

In the 1798 Somerset Co. tax list Joshua appears as owner and occupant of part of a tract "Norfolk" and other adjoining tracts, 173 acres, in Dividing Creek Hundred, on Dividing Creek, about five miles from the Pocomoke River. Improvements consisted of a one-story wooden dwelling house (20 x 18 feet) with three windows 2 x 4 feet, two other windows 1 x 2 and 3 x 2 feet; a kitchen (20 x 18) and a meat house (12 x 12), both of wood. He also owned one slave. The 1798 tax list also shows Tubman Lankford residing on 220 acres in Dividing Creek Hundred, land owned by "the Boston Heirs" (i. e. Levin and James), Jacob Morris, guardian.

In Nov. term 1802 Joshua stood bail for Levi Ward, charged with debt, but on 2 Jan. 1806 Joshua Boston got a judgment for a debt against Levi Ward, and as the result of the verdict in his favor, Joshua was granted Ward's 50 acre tract, "Chance" (Som. Jud. Rec. 1802/3, p. 182; 1803/6, p. 35).

On 14 Mar. 1804, for £200, Joshua conveyed to Levin ("son of the said Joshua") 74 acres, a parcel from two tracts called "Adams Purchase" and "Beckles," also "Norfolk," except that sold to Samuel Adams and except that conveyed to son James; Joshua reserved the use of the land during his natural life. On 26 Apr. 1809 Joshua and his son Levin mortgaged "Adams Purchase" and "Beckles" to Jesse and William King for £187.10. On 11 Apr. 1807 Joshua and his brothers James and Henry, all of Somerset Co., sold to Ephraim Tilghman a slave named Abraham (a gift to their mother from her sister, 1789) for $225 (Som. Deeds 36:165; 40:150; 38:291).

Joshua last appears in the records on 8 Apr. 1817 when he stood bond with Josiah Furniss (his step-son) for James Boston, executor for Levin Boston, Joshua's sons (Som. Bonds GH1:120).

Joshua's widow, Nancy (aged over 45) was listed in the 1820 Som. Co. census with one female, born 1775/94, near Philip C. Adams (39) and John H. Morris (see 38). (See Supplement, p. 458.)

Children (born Somerset Co., Md., probably at Dividing Creek):

By first marriage:

i. Levin, b. ? Spring 1780; d. Som. Co. by 8 Apr. 1817 (bond); no children. (See Supplement, S37 i, p. 459.)

ii. James A., b. ? Spring 1782; d. 11 Apr./31 Dec. 1836; mar. 1st Sally ?; 2nd Nancy Adams; see No. 68.

By second marriage:

iii. Margaret, b. c1790/94; d. Som. Co. by 8 Sept. 1857; single. (See Supplement, S37 iii, p. 459.)

38 ESAU BOSTON, son of Lazarus (19) and Grace (Matthews) Boston, was born probably in Worcester Co., Md., 28 Sept. 1753, above the point at which Dividing Creek flows into the Pocomoke River and just across Dividing Creek from Somerset Co.; he was baptised at Coventry Church. He died in Somerset Co. between 9 Dec. 1794 and 23 June 1795. Esau married first, about 1776, Sarah Ward, daughter of Joseph and Elizabeth (LONG) WARD (p. 412, No. 8, and p. 436, No. 5); she was born about 1754 and died about 1781/83. He married second, about 1784, Priscilla Heath, daughter of William (d. 1791) and Mary Heath (Som. Accts. EB 16:750); after Esau's death Priscilla married second (before 30 July 1795) John Morris (d. 1816), by whom she had one son, John Holbrook Morris (Som. Accts. EB 24:110). Priscilla died before 5 Sept. 1810.

During the American Revolution Esau Boston served in the Somerset County Militia in Capt. Elsey's Company, John Irving 1st Lt. (Md. Rev. War Militia Lists, p. 187).

According to an account (11 May 1790) of John Ward, executor of Stephen Ward, £2. 19. 9 was due Esau (Som. Accts. EB 16:342).

Esau was a parishioner of Coventry Church at Rehobeth. In 1788 he held 1/4 of pew 20. On 25 Apr. 1791 he was elected a vestryman in place of Joe Gunby, but as he failed to qualify, Levin Boston (22) was chosen (Coventry Minutes).

Esau appears to have lived his adult life in Somerset Co. In the June Court, 1787, an order was issued to the sheriff to take Joseph Ward to answer to Esau Boston for a sum of £23. 2. 6 (Som. Jud. Rec. 1786-88, p. 158). On 17 June 1788 Esau purchased from Stephen Mitchell, for £50, a 46 acre tract in Somerset Co., "Mitchells Purchase" (Som. Deeds 29:376). According to the estate of Stephen Mitchell (will proved 29 Jan. 1789), Mitchell held a bond from Esau.

On 20 Aug. 1790 Esau bought from Richardson Donohoe, Shadrach Bevans, and (9 Oct. 1793) William Ward their interest in a grist mill, known as Ward's Mill, on Dividing Creek, in Worcester Co., with a tract called "Maidens Choice" and the dam belonging to the mill, for £105. On 8 Oct. 1793, for a bond of conveyance (recorded Feb. 1804) delivered by Richardson Donohoe, Esau paid £30. On 31 May 1794 Esau bought from Phillips Riggen, for £26, land called "Privilege" in Somerset Co., on the west side of Dividing Creek "in a neck called Parahake Neck" on the west side of the road "from Stephens Ferry to Salisbury Town" (Worc. Deeds N:327, P:85, W:210; Som. Deeds 30:721).

On 9 Dec. 1794 Esau stood bond for his brother Joshua (37) as guardian for Joshua's two sons.

Esau left no will, but his estate was administered by his widow, Prissy Boston; a bond was secured 23 June 1795 (Som. Bonds EB 20:343); when the inventory was made 30 July 1795, Priscilla was the wife of John Morriss. In the account Morriss charged "himself with sawed logs put up near Princess Anne and sold by him for £7.10"; and money was owed to Grace Boston, John Ward and David Ward (for a coffin). In 1795 David Long Ward was guardian of James Boston, and in 1799 Esau's brother, Joshua, was a guardian of William Boston. Distribution of the estate on 29 July 1800 named the three children below (Som. Accts. EB 24:110, 111). According to the 1798 Somerset Co. tax list Tubman Lankford, in Dividing Creek Hundred, was occupant of land owned by Esau Boston's heirs (Jacob Harris, guardian), part of a tract "Mitchells Purchase" with adjoining land, about eight miles from Princess Anne Town, adjacent Thomas Mitchell's land. On the tract were a one-story wooden dwelling house (16 x 12 feet), kitchen (12 x 12), a meat house (8 x 8), a shop (15 x 12), a corn stack (14 x 4), and a stable (16 x 12), all of wood.

As the result of a petition of Esau's son, James, "on behalf of himself and all the heirs of a certain Esau Boston," a commission was appointed by the court: Samuel Smith, Henry Coston, John and William Fleming, and Isaac M. Adams, to divide the land of Esau Boston - "Maidens Choice," "Mitchells Purchase," and "Privilege." More than ten days' notice was given to the several representatives of Esau Boston "who are of full age," and also to Joshua Boston, guardian to William Boston, minor. Meeting on 11 June 1802, the commissioners were of opinion that the land, valued at £300, "cannot be divided" without diminishing the "value of the water mill." In court in May term 1803 James Boston, "eldest heir," elected to take the lands and pay the other heirs the "just proportion of the value" (Som. Jud. 1802/3, p. 271).

Children (born probably Somerset Co., near Dividing Creek):

By first marriage:

- i. James, b. c1778; d. 4 Mar. 1833; mar. Anna Finley; see No. 69.
- ii. Sally, b. c1780; d. c Apr. 1824; ?mar. John Payne; see E1, p. 350, and No. 9, p. 425; also F2, p. 356.

By second marriage:

- iii. William, b. c1787; d. before 12 Feb. 1806 (date of inventory of slaves); John Morris was administrator, and the account refers to a bond of 17 May 1803 due to William's brother, James Boston (Som. Accts. EB 27:79); the slaves named in the inventory were Violet, aged about 55 (valued at $40), Flora, aged 5 (valued at $60) (Som. Inv. EB 26:98, 106). William had been apprenticed to his brother James in 1803. In the will of John Morris (signed 5 Sept. 1810) there was mention of William Boston, deceased, half-brother of John H. Morris (Som. Wills EB 23:240).

39 PRISCILLA BOSTON, daughter of Lazarus (19) and Grace (Matthews) Boston, was born probably in Worcester Co., Md., about 1758; she died, probably in Somerset Co. about 1804. She married (before 13 Aug. 1782) PHILIP COLLINS ADAMS, son of Samuel and Sarah (Quinton) Adams (see ADAMS family); he was born 16 Jan. 1754 (bapt. Coventry); he died, presumably in Somerset Co., some time after 4 Mar. 1823.

In 1765 Philip was one of the heirs of Samuel Adams; on 20 Aug. he was given a slave, Jack, from the estate of his father (Balance Book 4:129). On 13 Aug. 1782 Philip Collins Adams and his wife Priscilla, for 5 shillings, deeded to Samuel Adams (Philip's brother) "Adams Purchase" and "Norfolk," beside "Adams Delight" and "Beckles," 200 acres; the deed mentions the will of their father, Samuel Adams, Sr. (Som. Deeds 28:328-30). On 13 Aug. 1782 Samuel also deeded to Philip, for 5 shillings all of "Beckles," lying on the west side of Dividing Creek (Som. Deeds 28:340).

On 24 May 1785 Philip and Priscilla Adams, for 252 pounds of tobacco, sold to Joshua Boston portions of "Norfolk" and "Adams Purchase"; at the same time "came Priscilla Boston the wife of the said Phillip Collins Adams" and made oath that "without fear of her husband's displeasure" she granted any dower interest to which she might be entitled. On 4 Apr. 1786 Philip and Priscilla, for £330, conveyed to Joshua Boston more of "Adams Purchase," and also part of "Beckles" (Som. Deeds 29:21, 124).

On 15 Nov. 1785 Philip purchased from Samuel Addams Harper the latter's interest in the 250 acres of "Norfolk," land "where Philip Collins Adams now lives, . . . devised to him by his father, Samuel Addams. . ." (Som. Deeds 29:83). On 19 Feb. 1787 Philip and Priscilla conveyed to Samuel Adams their interest in "Beckles" and "Adams Purchase" and on 29 Nov. 1794 they sold to George Miles part of "Adams Purchase" for £200, but in 1799 Philip for £250 repurchased the tract, along with part of "Norfolk," from Miles (Som. Deeds 29:249, 31:62, 32:432). In 1799 Philip stood security for Joshua Boston as guardian of Esau's son, William Boston.

On 15 Aug. 1803 Philip and Priscilla sold "Adams Purchase" to Jonathan Mills. Since Priscilla's name appears here for the last time, it is to be inferred that she died by 2 July 1805, when Philip sold to Collins Adams, presumably his son, "Norfolk," "Addition to Norfolk," and "Adams Delight," 200 acres for £200. Finally, on 4 Mar. 1823 Philip Collins Adams, for $100, sold to Sally Cannon parts of "Adams Purchase" and "Adams Delight" (Som. Deeds 35:396, GH 1:111).

In the Federal Census of 1810 Philip C. Adams is listed in Dividing Creek Hundred; in his household were two other males and two females, all born 1784/94, possibly to be identified as son Collins and wife, and hypothetical son Samuel and daughter Nancy. Since Collins died in 1814, it may be Philip who is referred to by the marriage record (Som. Co.): Collins Adams and Charlotte Boston on 16 Jan. 1816 applied for a marriage license; she may have been his wife's sister. Philip C. Adams is listed in the 1820 census, only four entries from James Boston; with him is one female, born before 1775.

Children (born probably at Dividing Creek, Somerset Co., Md.):

- i. Collins, b. c1784; d. by 25 Oct. 1814; mar. Peggy Tilghman; see No. 70.
- ii. [Samuel, b. c1787; d. c 1811/12; such a son, named for his grandfather and uncle, would help explain why Nancy Adams Boston named a son Samuel Adams Boston.]
- iii. ?Nancy, b. 1791/2; d. after 1860; mar. (her cousin)

James A. Boston; see No. 68.

40 JAMES BOSTON, son of Lazarus (19) and Grace (Matthews) Boston, was born probably in Worcester Co., Md. about 1763; he died, probably in Somerset Co., Md. 1810/20; mar. (c1785) Mary Cottingham, his first cousin, daughter of William and Mary (Boston) Cottingham (18), b. 12 Feb. 1756; d. by 13 Oct. 1796.

During the American Revolution James Boston served in the Somerset Co. Militia, in Little Annemessex Company under Capt. Henry Mister (Md. Rev. War Militia Lists, p. 188). On 25 Feb. 1801 Jacob Cottingham and Samuel Tull stood security for James Boston, guardian to Bridget Cottingham Boston (Som. Bonds EB 22:178). On 11 Apr. 1807, with brothers Henry and Joshua, James sold a slave, Abraham, for $225. It was probably this James who witnessed the will of Thomas Wood Potter on 21 Oct. 1805 but who did not appear at time of probate, 6 Dec. 1806. It was also probably this James Boston listed in the 1810 Somerset Co. census in Dividing Creek Hundred near Joshua Boston.

Child: Bridget Cottingham, b. c1788; mar. (lic. Som. Co. 19 May 1809) her cousin, JOSIAH FLEMING HOL-LAND, son of Levi (35).

41 HENRY BOSTON, son of Lazarus (19) and Grace (Matthews) Boston, was born probably in Worcester Co., Md., near Dividing Creek, 1 Jan. 1866 (baptised Coventry); he died after 19 Sept. 1809 and apparently before the summer of 1810, for he does not appear in the 1810 census. He married (about 1796) Nancy Graham, daughter of Philip and Sarah (Nicholson) Graham (see COVINGTON family).⁵

Nancy's father, Phillip Grahame, in his will, signed 14 Aug. 1787 (prob. 2 Oct. 1789) left land at Wicomico (Som. Wills EB 17:86). On 11 Feb. 1806 Henry Boston and his wife, "lately Nancy Grahame," deeded to John Grahame for $100 land devised by Philip Grahame to his sons John and William, tracts called "Long Acre," "Caudray's," "Hard Fortune," and "Addition to ⁵There is no direct evidence to identify Henry and Nancy Boston as parents of the four sons listed for them. There is virtually no other Boston to whom these sons could be assigned. Though Joshua Boston (37) had a second wife who had children, according to the 1810 census Joshua's household contained only two males born 1784/94. The following inferences strongly suggest that Henry and Nancy were the parents of these four: (1) in the Worc. Co. census of 1830 Isaac Boston is listed next to Thomas Boston, and in the 1840 census only a few families separate them, a proximity that suggests that they may have been brothers; (2) whereas the age of Isaac in both 1830 and 1840 indicates that he was born 1800/10, according to the 1830 census Thomas was born 1800/10, but in 1840 the decade of his birth is 1790/1800, dates which suggest that he may have been born in the summer of 1800; (3) it would appear, then, that the Thomas Boston apprenticed in Som. Co. in 1817 (born 2 June 1800), but who is not again found in Som. Co. records, is the same Thomas who was a neighbor of Isaac Boston; (4) as for assigning Henry as a son of Henry and Nancy, there is a tradition among the descendants of Isaac (1802-88) that Isaac had a brother Henry Boston in Som. Co., though there is no record of such a Henry; perhaps the tradition has merged two Henrys, the father in Som. Co. and the brother in Worc. Co.; moreover, according to the 1880 census for Accomack Co., Va., Henry's son, Henry (Jr.), at Chincoteague, reported his father's birthplace as Md.; likewise, in Worc. Co. Isaac (72) reported his father's birthplace as Md., as did the children of Thomas (71); (5) as for William, he has been assigned here simply because Isaac named his eldest son William Thomas, presumably after his two oldest brothers and because William married in Worc. Co.; (6) the household of Henry Boston in Som. Co. in 1800 included two males born 1790/1800, and the household of Nancy Boston in Worc. Co. in 1820 included two males born 1794/1804 and 1802/1804; Thomas, born in 1800, would presumably in 1820 still be with the master in Som. Co. to whom he had been apprenticed in 1817, and William would probably have left home by 1820; therefore the two males in 1820 are identifiable as Isaac and Henry.

Chance," and on 19 Sept. 1809 Henry and Nancy Boston, of Somerset Co., for $86, further deeded to John Graham a portion of a 37 acre tract on the north side of the Wicomico River (Som. Deeds 37:139, 40:248).

On 11 Apr. 1807 Henry, with his brothers Joshua and James, all of Somerset Co., sold a slave, Abraham, deeded to their mother by her sister, Tabitha Otwell.

Though Henry did not appear in the 1798 tax list, he was listed in the Federal Census of 1800 for Somerset Co., in the Dividing Creek area, as head of a family which included two boys under ten. Since neither Henry nor Nancy is listed in the 1810 census for Worcester or Somerset Co., Nancy and the children were probably living with relatives. According to the 1820 census for Worcester Co., however, a Nancy Boston, certainly to be identified as the widow of Henry, is listed in the 4th Election District as head of a family of two males, born 1794/1804 and 1802/1804. Nancy had probably moved to the New Ark area of Worcester Co. soon after 1817.

Children (born probably Somerset Co., Md., in the Dividing Creek section):

- i. William J., b. c1798; mar. (lic. Worc. Co., Md. 4 May 1832) Jane Brittingham.
- ii. Thomas, b. 2 June 1800; d. 1840/50; mar. Rachel Cropper; see No. 71.
- iii. Isaac, b. 1802; d. 18 Apr. 1888; mar. 1st Amelia Jones; 2nd Jane Blades; see No. 72.
- iv. Henry, b. c1804; d. 1840/50; mar. Nancy Morris; see No. 73.

42 ELLJAH BOSTON, son of Mathew (20) and Martha (Benston) Boston, was born in Somerset Co., Md. 25 Feb. 1755 (baptised Coventry); he died in Accomack Co., Va. before 27 Dec. 1830, leaving no will or estate. By the will of his grandfather, Esau (8), in 1768 Elijah was bequeathed £35 as well as a quarter of any residual cash.

In 1780 Elijah witnessed the first will of his uncle, Jacob Boston (17); he signed with his mark. His name appears in the 1783 tax list for Worcester Co., in Pitts Creek Hundred, and according to the 1790 Federal Census for Worcester Co. (p. 128) Elijah was head of a household including two males under 16 and three females.

Elijah served in the American Revolution in the 9th Virginia Regiment of the Continental Line (John G. Gwathmy, Historical Register of Virginians in the Revolution, Richmond, Va., 1938). (For an account of some of his likely military activity during the Revolution, see Introduction herein, p. 2, column 2.) In relation to this service his heirs were named in Accomack Co. Order Book 1829-32, p. 217: on 27 Dec. 1830 "It was ordered to be certified that it appears to the Court by satisfactory evidence that Martha Henderson wife of John Henderson, Mary Jackson wife of Stephen Jackson, Nancy Taylor wife of William Taylor and Sally Taylor wife of Preson Taylor are the heirs at law of Elijah Boston who was a soldier in the Continental Army in the Revolutionary War." In 1833 military warrants were ordered to be issued to the heirs. (See Supplement, S42, p. 459.)

Children (born Pitts Creek, Worcester Co., Md.):

- i. Martha (Patty), b. c1781; d. 1841/50; mar. John H. Henderson; see Supplement, S- J1, p. 606.
- ii. Son, probably d. young.
- iii. Mary, b. c1785; d. 1841/1850; mar. Stephen Jackson; see No. 73a.
- iv. Son, probably d. young.
- v. Nancy, b. c1790; mar. (Accomack Co., Va., 10 Feb. 1808) WILLIAM TAYLOR.
- vi. Sally, b. c1792; mar. PRESTON TAYLOR.

43 ISAAC BOSTON, son of Mathew (20) and Martha (Benston) Boston, was born in Somerset Co., Md., 5 June 1758 (baptised Coventry); he died in Dorchester Co., Md., before 5 Feb. 1808; he married (Dorchester Co. 7 July 1783) Elizabeth S. Bonwill, daughter of George; she was born about 1765 and died after 1 Feb. 1814.

Isaac was drafted for military service in the Md. state militia during the American Revolution, 1 May 1781 (Md. Archives XVIII: 372). On 27 Jan. 1786 Isaac witnessed the second will of his uncle, Jacob Boston (17). On 12 Aug. 1787, with James Selby, Isaac stood security for Nancy Cain, executor for the estate of John Cain; on 11 Jan. 1788 he stood security with John Mills for Sarah and Anderson Patterson, executors of James Patterson; and on 5 Dec. 1788 with James Henderson he stood security for his cousin Esau (31), executor of Jacob Boston (17), all in Worcester Co., Md.

Isaac had meanwhile been buying and selling land in Worcester Co. On 4 Dec. 1780 he bought from Thomas Layfield for £5600 a 60 acre tract, "Merrill Hall" (adjoining Dickerson's Dam) which he promptly sold (9 Dec.) to Solomon Johnson for £100. On 22 Dec. 1785 he bought from Purnell and Keziah Brittingham, for £300, two tracts, "Addition" and "Merrill Hall" on Cedar Hall Road; both tracts, with Thomas Layfield, he sold on 5 Aug. 1785 to Thomas Marshall. On 5 Aug. 1786 Isaac, described as "shipwright," bought from Zadok Wheeler for £360 a 120 acre tract, part of "Cherry Stones," which he sold 24 Dec. 1788 to Ephraim Furniss for £378. On 6 Apr. 1787 Isaac bought from James Smith for £36 a tract of 108 acres, "Sully," of which he sold 41 acres to John Buchanan for £60 on 27 June 1789 (Worc. Deeds K:337, 363; L: 320, 406; J: 67, 521, 153; N:17).

On 21 Apr. 1784 Isaac, "shipwright," had bought 112 acres of "Turkey Swamp" in Dorchester Co., Md., from Betty Bonwill and Michael Hall Bonwill, executors of George Bonwill (his father-in-law), land which he sold 11 June 1787, when Isaac was described as a ship carpenter, of Worcester Co. (Dorch. Deeds HD2:312, 9:313).

In the June Court of 1785 the Sheriff of Somerset Co. was issued a warrant to take Elijah Matthews, to appear to answer to Isaac Boston for money due the latter in the amount of £200 and £30.6.8 on a note of 27 Sept. 1768; the case was heard in Oct. Court, 1786, when Matthews was required to pay £333.6.8 (Som. Jud. Rec. 1786-88, p. 85). The debt was probably a result of Matthews' administration of the estate of Isaac's grandfather.

Between 1792 and 1796 Isaac appears to have lived in Accomack Co., Va. On 7 June 1792 for £80 he bought 70 acres from Thomas and Elizabeth Custis. But Isaac apparently owned land straddling the state line, in both Md. and Va., for in a deed dated 16 Aug. 1792 Isaac Boston, "of Worcester Co.," bought from Sisney Gootee a 24 acres tract in Accomack Co. for £36, and by another deed of the same date, Isaac, "of Accomack County & Parish" for £42.10 bought 35 acres "lying in Pocomoke near the Pocomoke Church," adjacent lands of John Morrison, lying between the plantation of Gootee and "the plantation of the said Boston" (Acco. Deeds 7: 659, 689; 8:201). On 27 Oct. 1794 Isaac stood security for Mary Wilkerson, administrator of the estate of Jesse Wilkerson of Accomack Co.

On 12 Jan. 1796 Isaac took an oath that he brought Negroes and his family from Virginia. A "true list" of the Negroes was appended, "that I Isaac Boston... moved into the State of Maryland, Worcester County, from Accomack County in the State of Virginia." The slaves were Comfort, born in Virginia, and Adam, Daniel, and Shadrack, born in Maryland (Worc. Deeds R:72). On 30 Sept. 1797 Isaac and his wife Elizabeth, still in Worcester Co., sold to Walter Bayne for £325 the land near Pocomoke Church bought in 1792 (Acco. Deeds 9:125).

Soon thereafter Isaac moved to Dorchester Co., Md., for on 23 July 1798 Isaac, of Dorchester Co., bought for £52 a 52 acre tract, "Johns Industry"; on 20 June 1799, for $500, several slaves; on 8 June 1801, for £709.17.6, 236 acres: "Jesse Lott," "Wetworth," and parts of "Browns Meadows," "Trumpabout," and "Fishers Title"; on 21 Dec. 1801, for £31, "Scotts Purchase"; and on 11 Mar. 1805, for $693, 57 acres, part of "Daniels Helicon," and parts of "Browns Meadows," "Trumpabout," "Bonwell's Regulation," and "Johns Industry" (Dorch. Deeds 14:202; 15:45; 17:209; 19:25; 21:553).

Since the early wills of Dorchester Co. were destroyed by fire, the earliest evidence of Isaac's death is a deed of 6 Feb. 1808, whereby Betsey Boston (his widow) purchased 66 acres from John M. Clark, lands left to Clark's wife by her father, Isaac Boston; Betsey Boston sold the land 10 Dec. 1813. In a deed of 1 Feb. 1814 the name of Clark's wife is given as Peggy (Dorch. Deeds HE 25:75; ER 2:571, 610).

On 10 Jan. 1824 Isaac Morris of Somerset Co., Md., sold to Thomas Tall all his right in tracts in Dorchester Co. belonging to his wife, Mary Pitt Morris, left to her by the last will of her father, Isaac Boston. And on 22 Feb. 1837 Polly P. Morris of Worcester Co. sold to Joel Cornwell "Possum's Ridge" and part of "Scott's Purchase," 36 acres on the north side of the road leading from Vienna to Cambridge, more of her father's land (Dorch. Deeds ER 9:298, ER 6:69). Polly was still living in 1845 when she sold more of the land.

Eliza S. Boston, another of Isaac's daughters, on 12 Mar. 1808 purchased from John Langfitt part of "John's Industry" adjacent "Daniel's Helicon" (Dorch. Deeds HD 25:76). (See Supplement, S43, p. 459.)

Children (born probably Pitts Creek, Worcester Co., Md.):

- i. Margaret, b. c1784; mar. 1st John M. Clark; 2nd John Troth; 3rd William Dean; see S 43 i.
- ii. Mary Pitt, b. c1786; d. after 1845; mar. ISAAC MORRIS.
- iii. Elizabeth S., b. c1790; mar. Joseph Dean; see S43 iii.

44 ELIJAH BOSTON, eldest son of Levin (22) and Gertrude (Benston) Boston, was born in Somerset Co., Md., probably near Rehobeth, 9 Mar. 1782 (baptised Coventry, and date in Bible); he died near Pendleton, Indiana, 3 Sept. 1846. He married (lic.Som. Co. 19 Mar. 1804, and date in Bible) Ann Rounds, daughter of John and Priscilla (GILLIS) ROUNDS (pp. 392-93); she was born in Somerset Co. 28 Nov. 1785; she died near Pendleton, 18 Apr. 1840; both are buried in the Goe lot, Pendleton Cemetery.

On 19 Jan. 1787 Elijah's father conveyed to John Milbourn 7 acres plus 5 shillings in exchange for Milbourn's conveying to Elijah ("son of Levin") 7 acres of "Milbourn's Purchase," after the decease of Richard Boston and his wife, who were to have the land during their natural lives (Som. Deeds 29:213), apparently to round out the land Elijah was destined to inherit from his uncle, Richard. Elijah, by the will of his uncle Richard, signed 15 Feb. 1800 (prob. 16 May 1809), was bequeathed all his uncle's land, plus a "yoke of oxen, one Bed & Furniture, one plow and one harrow and all my liquor casks."

On 12 Apr. 1811 Elijah's father, for $300, sold Elijah a tract (38 acres), part of "Bostons Lott," which Levin's father had left Levin (Som. Deeds 41:138). On 3 Sept. 1816 for $1140.48 Elijah bought from the heirs of Joshua Silverthorn 132 acres, part of a tract called "Rehobeth," adjacent to the road to the village of Rehobeth (Som. Deeds 45:113). Here he probably took up residence soon thereafter. The same year, on 21 Nov. 1816, Elijah became guardian to John F., Sarah Ann, Isaac B., Henry, and Polly Peden; securities for his bond were Samuel Taylor and Josiah Broughton (Som. Bonds GH 1:95; see HENDERSON family).

On 13 Mar. 1818 Elijah sold to Samuel Smith, for $25, 4 acres on Morumsco Branch, bequeathed to him by his uncle Richard and occupied by Elizabeth Williams. On 17 Oct. 1818 for $250 he sold to Henry More 12 acres of "Rehobeth" near the head of Morumsco Creek, part of his uncle's estate. Finally, on 29 Jan. 1820, for $2040, he sold to Thomas Adams (of Philip) the rest of the lands inherited from his father and uncle, all of his holdings, in fact, except part of "Rehobeth." The land was designated as "Long Ridge," and part of "Beauchamps Venture," "Ledbourn," "Bostons Lot," and "Milbourns Purchase,"... being all the land which the said Elijah Boston owned... on the north side of... Morumsco Branch and where the said Elijah Boston lived before he moved to the place where he now lives" (Som. Deeds 46:219, 47:61, 48:342). His wife Nancy consented to the latter sale.

Probably in 1822 Elijah with his family moved to Baltimore, joining his brother Jesse there, but Elijah is said to have deserted his family, probably in 1823, for on 28 May 1824 Dr. Thomas Robertson had "made oath that the said Elijah Boston has removed from his place of abode with intent to injure and defraud his creditors"; as a consequence the sheriff, for the debt of $39.71, had attached the land of Elijah Boston, 132 acres of "Rehobeth," and had sold it at auction to Obadiah Rikken. On 24 Dec. 1824 Anne Boston, of the City of Baltimore, for $187.50, released to Rikken all her "right and dower" in a tract called "Rehobeth" now in Rikken's possession (Som. Deeds 53:134, 55:402). Probably in 1831 Anne Boston, with her four youngest children, accompanied her brother-in-law Jesse Boston and his family to Madison County, Indiana, settling near Pendleton. (See Supplement, S44, p. 459.)

Elijah's family Bible is now in the possession of his great-great-granddaughter, Mrs. Lawrence Tinsley; a notarized copy is in the D. A. R. Library, Washington, D. C.

Children (born Md., all but the last in Somerset Co., probably at Rehobeth):

- i. John Richard, b. 11 Jan. 1805; d. 28 June 1808.
- ii. Edmund Gilliss, b. 19 Mar. 1807; see Supplement, p. 460.
- iii. Elizabeth Mary, b. 6 Mar. 1809; d. 24 July 1810.
- iv. Ann Rounds, b. 18 Dec. 1811; d. probably in Baltimore, Md. 10 July 1828.
- v. Elizabeth Rounds, b. 23 Mar. 1815; d. 8 Dec. 1878; mar. Hezekiah M. Goe; see No. 74.
- vi. Hiram James, b. 24 July 1817; d. 17 May 1846; said to have gone to Arkansas.
- vii. Louisa Gilliss, b. 31 Oct. 1819; d. 8 Dec. 1884; mar. William V. McWilliams; see No. 75.
- viii. Mary, b. probably in Baltimore, 3 Sept. 1823; d. 11 Oct. 1823.

45 THOMAS WILLIAMSON BOSTON, son of Levin (22) and Gertrude (Benston) Boston, was born in Somerset Co., Md., probably near Rehobeth, 27 Apr. 1786 (baptised Coventry); he died near Cave City, Kentucky, probably in the summer of 1867, before 9 Sept. He married (lic. Som. Co., Md. 3 Dec. 1816) Amelia Adams, daughter of Thomas Adams (see ADAMS family). She was born in Somerset Co. in 1793; she died near Cave City, Kentucky, about 1882.

In the will of his uncle, Richard Boston (signed 15 Feb. 1800) Thomas was named (as "William") residual legatee after his brother Elijah. The records of Coventry Parish show that "Thomas W. Boston" was enrolled as a member 1 June 1816. On 10 Dec. 1816 Hester Curtis, a free Negro, was bound to Thomas "to work as a female to enable her to get a living" (Som. Bonds GH 1:104).

With his wife Thomas moved to Barren Co., Kentucky, probably soon after their marriage in 1817. He is mentioned as one of the early settlers by Franklin Gorin in The Times of Long Ago - Barren Co., Ky., John P. Morton & Co., 1929, p. 22. Thomas's signature is affixed to a note (dated 25 Oct. 1836) in the Barren Co. Courthouse authorizing the clerk to issue a marriage license for Tho. W. Vance to marry his daughter, Amelia Ann Boston.

According to the Federal Census of 1850 Thomas Boston and his family were living in the first division of Barren Co. (p. 646, #236). Thomas was listed as a farmer. On 29 June 1842 he had patented nearly 700 acres of land on the south side of Green River, in "Green River Knobs," near "the road leading from Cave City to the Mammoth Cave" (Barren Co. Deeds 2:118, 15:537). By deed dated 21 Apr. 1848 (Somerset Co., Md., Deeds 65:28) Thomas W. Boston and Amelia, his wife, of Barren Co., Ky., sold for $260 land in Somerset Co. bequeathed to them by Amelia's father in 1831.

On 15 Apr. 1859 Thomas and Amelia, for the nominal sum of $1, deeded to their eldest son, Jesse, 90 acres of land (Barren Co. Deeds Z:600). After her husband's death Jesse's widow, on 28 Apr. 1866, deeded back to Thomas her share of Jesse's land (Deeds 6:110). Thomas was involved in other sales, with James Doyel (1853), Frank Overstreet (1858), Edward G. Ballen (1860), and Henry M. Dolby and John Langston (1860) (Barren Co. Deeds V:258, 1:526, 2:118, 7:502).

His name appears in the records for the last time on 28 Apr. 1866. On 9 Sept. 1867 his son and daughter-in-law, John W. and P. F. Boston, sold to Samuel C. Boston part of their right in the land of their deceased father. Other deeds involving settlement of Thomas's estate cover the years 1869-1882 (Barren Co. Deeds 5:624, 7:157; 13:543, 15:537, 16:513, 17:9).

On 21 Mar. 1882 (Barren Co. Deeds 17:9) Amelia, Thomas's widow, was still living, for she was among the heirs, who were, in addition, their sons John W., Samuel, W. F., and grandsons Columbus and John (of son Jesse) and James H. Vance (son of Amelia).

Children (born Barren Co., Ky., near Cave City):

- i. Amelia Ann, b. c 1820; d. c 1838; mar. Thomas W. Vance; see No. 76.
- ii. Jesse H., b. 1823; d. by 28 Apr. 1866; mar. Sarah C. ?; see No. 77.
- iii. Samuel C., b. 1825; d. before 19 Apr. 1905; mar. (Barren Co., Ky. 23 Oct. 1860) Judith E. Evans; no children; by his will (signed 8 June 1903, prob. 19 Apr. 1905) he left all to his wife, J. E. Boston, and after her death to Ida M. Evans

(Barren Co. Wills 6:72).

- iv. John Wesley, b. 15 Oct. 1827; d. 14 Sept. 1903; mar. Permelia F. DeWitt; see No. 78.
- v. Wilbur Fisk, b. 5 Mar. 1838; d. 5 Sept. 1918; mar. Mary E. Martin; see No. 79.

46 JESSE BOSTON, son of Levin (22) and Gertrude (Benston) Boston, was born in Somerset Co., Md., probably near Rehobeth, 22 Nov. 1790 (baptised Coventry; but according to family record, 21 Nov. 1791); he died at Pendleton, Ind. 12 Feb. 1838 of cholera or small-pox contracted on a trip to Cincinnati with his brother-in-law, James Grey; he was buried in the Pendleton Cemetery, where a stone marks his grave. He married, first (Baltimore, Md. 2 Feb. 1814) Cassandra Stewart, who died in Baltimore, probably in 1825; he married, second (Baltimore, 12 Feb. 1826) Catharine Keyser, who was born probably in Baltimore 10 Mar. 1804, and died at Pendleton 1 July 1861. She married as her second husband, about 1840, Thomas Breckinridge.

Jesse was the only Boston named in the will of his grandfather, Thomas Benston (30 Mar. 1820). He was named residuary legatee, after his brother Thomas, of his uncle Richard Boston (15 Feb. 1800) and was to share with Thomas the personal property not otherwise disposed of.

As a young man, about 1810, Jesse went up the Chesapeake Bay to Baltimore, where he remained until 1831. He was in the volunteer army which defended Baltimore when attacked by the British army under Gen. Ross during the War of 1812. He may be the same Jesse Boston listed in issues of the Baltimore Directory between 1817 and 1833, first as a cordwainer, then as operator of a shoe store and a boot and shoemaker, finally a cordwainer again, on German St. near Market, then on Spring St., and during 1827-33 at 65 and 63 Bond St. In 1831 Jesse, taking with him his sister-in-law Ann (44) and her younger children, migrated with his family to Madison Co., Ind., whither his first wife's brother, William Stewart, also migrated. Jesse had a contract for carrying mail, probably between Noblesville and Centerville, and he was also a store and tavern keeper. About 1835 on the south side of Main St., west of State, in Pendleton, he erected a two story frame building and opened it as a hotel, the Madison House, which he operated until his death; his widow conducted the business until her death. Catharine Breckinridge is listed in the 1850 census as an innkeeper.

Information is drawn partly from "A History of the Descendants of Jesse Boston," compiled by his grandson, Charles Eliot Boston; a copy is in the Indiana Room of the Indiana State Library in Indianapolis.

Children (three eldest born Baltimore, Md.):

By first marriage:

- i. Emily J., b. 1819; d. Pendleton 4 Apr. 1892; mar. 1st JAMES GREY; 2nd JAMES VANUXEN; no children; James Grey died in the fall of 1850 on an Ohio River steamer, returning from Philadelphia to consult doctors about his diabetes; his will (Madison Co., Ind., Wills 2:329), signed 16 Sept. 1850 (prob. 19 Nov.) bequeathed 80 acres to his brother-in-law, John R. Boston, who with Mrs. Emily Grey was executor; James Grey was a merchant.

- ii. John Richard, b. 4 Oct. 1821; d. 7 Jan. 1903; mar. 1st Margaret A. Rogers; 2nd Eliza A. H. Knickerbocker; 3rd Frances M. Lawrence; see No. 80.

By second marriage (three youngest born Pendleton, Madison Co., Ind.):

- iii. Malvina Maria, b. 1 Jan. 1830; d. 26 Sept. 1899; mar. Andrew Taylor; see No. 81.
- iv. Josephine Frances, b. 26 Nov. 1831; d. 6 Dec. 1914; mar. Joseph Stephenson; see No. 82.
- v. Catherine Cordelia, b. ? 11 Mar. 1835; d. 11 July 1902; mar. Rodney Gibbons; see No. 83.
- vi. Rosana Amelia, b. 7 Oct. 1839; d. 30 Oct. 1839; buried Pendleton Cemetery.

47 ESTHER ANNE WILSON BOSTON, daughter of Levin (22) and Esther (Wilson) Boston, was born in Somerset Co., Md., probably near Rehobeth, 1 Jan. 1800; she died at Govans (now Baltimore), Md., 18 Aug. 1899, nearly a century old. She married, at Old Light Street Methodist Church, Baltimore, 27

Nov. 1833, GEORGE LEWIS TROGLER, who was born in Wurttemberg, Germany, in 1797, and died at Govans. 23 Mar. 1887. Both are interred in the Cemetery of Govans Presbyterian Church.

Children (born Govans, Baltimore Co., Md.):

- i. Sarah Jane, b. 19 Jan. 1835; d. 25 Oct. 1916; mar. James C. Harrison; see No. 84.
- ii. Mary Louisa, b. 12 Apr. 1837; d. 20 Jan. 1922; mar. Uriah J. Bottomore; see No. 85.
- iii. George F., b. 1840; d. 21 May 1907; see No. 86.
- iv. Esther Anne, b. 11 Jan. 1843; d. Govans, 11 Nov. 1926; single; teacher in Baltimore Co.

SIXTH GENERATION

48 SOLOMON WARNER, son of Isaac and Sally (Boston) Warner (24), was born in Accomack Co., Va., about 1791; he died in Accomack Co. probably in early Sept. 1838. He married (Acco. Co. bond 13 Aug. 1828) Lucretia ("Critt") Copes, daughter of William Copes, born 1805/6; she died in Accomack Co. before the summer of 1860. She was the widow of George Hickman (married Acco. Co. 27 June 1825); she subsequently became the mother of twins: Elizabeth H. Warner, born 11 Feb. 1841; died 22 Feb. 1891, who married James H. Nelson; and Mary A. Warner, born 11 Feb. 1841; died 14 July 1916, who married David D. Abbott.

In 1801, upon the death of his parents, Solomon was placed under the guardianship of his grandfather, Solomon Boston. By the wills of each of his grandfathers he received only $1.00. According to the inventory and appraisal of his own estate (Sept. 1838) and sale (3 Dec. 1838) he appears to have been a farmer (Acco. Inv. 1839-44: 394-411). Besides the usual farm tools were a pair of steelyards, a flax brake, flax and seed, and beans; a horse cart, a hog sty; and such farm animals as hogs, steers, cows, turkeys, geese, ducks. Other items of note were a shell kiln and shells, numerous kitchen utensils, including dishes, ten tin basins, and two tin coffee boilers; "one waiter and contents," a lantern and bell, a corner cupboard and mahogany dining table, a secretary, and yard goods: 26 yards of calico, 30 yards of "Lionese" muslin, with buttons and pins.

There were also a violin and bow, and a gun. The inclusion of several medicines suggests that Solomon or someone else in the family may have been in ill health: 3 phials of Godfrey's Cordial, 5 phials of Laudnum (a form of opium), 4 boxes Billows Pills. That Solomon was concerned for the education of his children is attested by the lists of books and other items: 3 Murray's E Readers, 7 Spelling Books, 2 Arithmetics, 3 doz. blank Books, and 16 papers of Kidders Ink powder. Also listed were 2 Negro women and a man. Bonds were due the estate from James Taylor, Henry Copes and John Copes (of Sally), probably his wife's relatives, and from Henry Vessels, probably Solomon's first cousin (271).

Children (born Accomack Co., Va., near Parksley, according to family report on the Warner farm, seaside from Fisher's Corners):

- i. Jacob, b. 7 Oct. 1828; d. 18 Aug. 1857; mar. Sinah W. Hickman; see No. 87.
- ii. Sally, b. 4 July 1830; d. 14 Feb. 1900; mar. John P. Barnes; see No. 88.
- iii. John W., b. 1836.
- iv. Solomon, Jr., b. 28 Oct. 1838; d. 24 Nov. 1909; mar. Arinthia D. Corbin; see No. 89.

49 ELIZABETH SMALL, daughter of James and Nancy (Boston) Small (25), was born in Accomack Co., Va., probably at Messongo, about 1800; she was living with her son in 1850, but though she is not listed in the census of 1860 or 1870, she would appear to have been living at the time of her son's death in 1869. She married (Accomack Co. bond 7 Jan. 1824) JOHN BURTON (alias Button), who had apparently died before 1850.

Child (born Accomack Co., Va.):

- i. William S., b. 1826/27; d. by 26 July 1869; mar. Nancy Rew; see No. 90.

50 SOLOMON J. SMALL, son of James and Nancy (Boston)

Small (25), was born in Accomack Co., Va., probably at Messongo, about 1802; he died in Accomack Co. before 25 Feb. 1861. He married (lic. Worc. Co., Md. 24 Dec. 1827) Sally Byrd, daughter of Parker and Keziah (Gillespie) Byrd (see BYRD family); she was born 1810/11; died before 1859; she was a first cousin of Enatia Byrd, who wed Daniel Boston (28), first cousin of Solomon Small's mother.

By his will, signed 17 Sept. 1859 (prob. 25 Feb. 1861), Solomon Small made bequests to each of his five children by name. As executors he named his son, Marcellus Small, and John D. White (Acco. Wills 1846-82:322). Solomon was a farmer.

Children (born Accomack Co., Va.):

- i. Elizabeth P., b. 1832; d. 1 Dec. 1907; mar. 1st James Justice; 2nd Thomas McCready; see No. 91.
- ii. Marcellus, b. 22 Mar. 1835; d. 25 Sept. 1918; mar. Sally R. Wessells; see No. 92.
- iii. Sebastian, b. 17 Dec. 1837; d. 18 Dec. 1921; mar. Sally A. Chesser; see No. 93.
- iv. John J., b. 1839; d. 31 Aug. 1926; mar. Sarah Linton; see No. 94.
- v. Matilda, b. 1841; d. c 1900; mar. 1st James Dix; 2nd John Chesser; 3rd John McCready; see No. 95.

51 SALLY SMALL, daughter of James and Nancy (Boston) Small (25), was born in Accomack Co., Va., probably at Messongo, about 1803; she died in Accomack Co., probably near Mearsville, 5 Dec. 1881. She married (Acco. Co. bond 16 Sept. 1826) SOLOMON J. GLADDING, who died, probably in Accomack Co. about July 1850. Sally is listed with her family in the 1850 census.

Children (born Accomack Co., Va., probably at Muddy Creek):

- i. Hester Ann, b. 19 Aug. 1827; d. 10 Oct. 1899; mar. Lewis J. Lankford; see No. 96.
- ii. Calvin Reed, b. 1830; d. 15 July 1911; mar. Ann E. Miles; see No. 97.
- iii. Burwell B., b. 1836; d. c 1899; mar. Mary Hickman; see No. 98.
- iv. Malvina, b. 1838; d. c 1893; mar. 1st -- Ross; 2nd William C. Byrd; see No. 99.
- v. Oliver James, b. 12 Feb. 1851; d. 2 Sept. 1922; mar. Danvers J. Marshall; see No. 100.

52 SOLOMON BOSTON, son of Solomon (26) and Sarah (Hinds) Boston, was born, probably in Seaford, Del., 25 Feb. 1805; he died in Seaford 17 Apr. 1848, at 1:56, according to the family Bible, but on a separate slip in the Bible is written that he died 18 Apr. 1848, on Monday at half past 1. He married 1st a Miss [Ann?] Collins (according to the death certificate of his daughter Ella); she was born in Delaware. He married 2nd (10 Dec. 1845) Harriet W. Wallace. According to family history, on the "Island Farm," on what was then known as "Boston's Island," in Seaford, Solomon in 1835 built the first grist mill, which was torn down in modern times for the clearing of the banks of Williams Pond; two bridges and the Nanticoke Memorial Hospital now occupy the site of the old homestead on the island, now called "Williams Island." After the death of his mother Solomon bought out the interests of his brothers, John (13 Mar. 1839) and Charles (1 July 1837) in their father's property (Sussex Co., Del., Deeds, AZ 48:260,261), though according to family tradition he retained the property without clear title. In the old church book of the Union Meeting House, Chapel Branch, Seaford, dated 1830, are found the names of Solomon Boston, Jr., and his brothers John and Charles as large contributors. (Birth dates from family Bible.)

Children (born Seaford, Sussex Co., Del.):

By first marriage:

- i. Sarah Elizabeth, b. 19 Apr. 1833; d. 11 June 1837.
- ii. John Henry, b. 29 May 1835; d. 28 Sept. 1837.
- iii. Mary Ann, b. 25 Mar. 1837; d. Sept. 1837.
- iv. Sarah S., b. 26 June 1839; d. 15 Sept. 1913; mar. 1st Jacob O. Williams; 2nd Thomas R. Harper; see No. 101.

By second marriage:

- v. Harriet, b. 22 June 1846.

53 JOHN BOSTON, son of Solomon (26) and Sarah (Hinds) Boston, was born probably in Seaford, Del., 1 Nov. 1806; drowned on a fishing trip about 1850-57, buried reportedly in Seaford. He mar. 1st (lic. Som. 1 Sept. 1830) SARAH WESSELS (Vessels), his first cousin

(No. 20 ii), b. 18 Sept. 1809; d. 1831/33; 2nd (lic. Worc. 6 Feb. 1830) Rosanna E. Wainwright (c1821-c1847), daughter of Jesse H. Wainwright and his wife, Rosanna Adams Williams Bennett (p. 391, No. 8). After Jesse Wainwright's death his widow married James Brittingham of Princess Anne, Md.; in 1850 Somerset Co. census the children of John and Rosanna Boston were in the Brittingham household with James and Rosanna (aged 49). And by his will, signed 2 Sept. 1857, James Brittingham provided for "my two daughters in law" (i.e. step-granddaughters) Alexine P. and Rosanna W. Boston, a home at "my present dwelling house, free of charge, till they shall each arrive at the age of eighteen," and he bequeathed to them the principle of two notes, to be paid by his son William, their mother's half-brother (Som. Wills JP5:292).

John was evidently a fisherman; it was probably he who was advertising fish in the Princess Anne Herald in Apr. 1839. It was probably also he who on 19 Nov. 1839 bought for $250 from James and Mary Larmore land at or near the Nanticoke River called "Recovery" (Som. Deeds 60:215), but there is no further record. He was listed in the census for 1840 and 1850 in Princess Anne, Md.

Children (born Princess Anne, Somerset Co., Md.):

- i. John Edward, b. 1839/40; disappeared c 1875; mar. Mary E. Ackley; see No. 102.
- ii. Alexene P. ("Ella"), b. 18 Jan. 1843; d. at the Island Farm, Seaford, Del. 29 July 1919; buried Odd Fellows Cemetery, Seaford; single; she lived with her cousin, Mrs. Sally Williams Harper (101).
- iii. Rosanna Adams Williams Bennett, b. 5 Feb. 1847; d. 16 Dec. 1919; mar. George R. Rowe; see No. 103.

54 JOHN WILLIAM CUSTIS WESSELLS, son of Walter and Polly (Boston) Wessels (27), was born in Accomack Co., Va., probably at Messongo, 17 June 1829; he died in Accomack Co. about 1897/98, probably at Messongo. He married first (lic. Worc. Co., Md. 7 Oct. 1856) Cordelia Taylor, born Accomack Co. in 1834/5; she died in Accomack Co., probably at Messongo, 1864/70. John married second (Pocomoke City, Md. 11 Jan. 1881, but lic. in Acco. Co.) Elizabeth Smith, daughter of Valentine and Elizabeth Smith.

According to Federal Census records, in 1860 John was a farmer, living next to his brother Henry; in 1870 he was with Henry, as also in 1880, with children John and Mollie; he was an oysterman.

Children, by first marriage (born Accomack Co., Va., on the Wessells farm at Messongo):

- i. Sarah Elizabeth, b. 20 Aug. 1857; d. 8 Feb. 1885; mar. her cousin, James F. Lankford; see No. 214.
- ii. John Selby, b. 18 May 1859; d. 30/31 May 1936; mar. Elizabeth Gaskins; see No. 104.
- iii. Mary E. W. ("Mollie"), b. 4 July 1865; d. St. Joseph's Hospital, Baltimore, Md. 9 Aug. 1949, as a result of falling downstairs at her home, 554 E. 38th St.; she was buried at Downings Cemetery, Oak Hall, Va.; she mar. 1st (Worc. Co., Md. 1 Jan. 1885) MILTON MARSHALL, merchant; 2nd (Baltimore?) LEWIS SPIELMAN; no children.

55 SOLOMON CHARLES BOSTON, only son of Daniel (28) and Enatia (Byrd) Boston, was born at Shelltown, Somerset Co., Md., 23 Aug. 1820; he died at Pocomoke City, Md. 15 June 1887 and was buried in the Baptist Cemetery near there. He married first (Somerset Co. 31 Mar. 1846) Mary Ann Marshall, daughter of William D. Marshall (a deacon of the Chincoteague Baptist Church), widow of Gillette Nock (mar. Worc. Co., Md. 21 Dec. 1841); she was born near Oak Hall, Accomack Co., Va. 26 Oct. 1822; she died in Baltimore, Md., 15 Apr. 1869 and was buried in the Baptist Cemetery, Pocomoke. Solomon married second (? 1872) Mary Elizabeth Britton, who died in Washington, D. C. 23 Dec. 1923 and was buried with her husband.

In boyhood Solomon while hunting chestnuts lost the sight of one eye. He was trained to farm life but decided to enter the ministry. As a boy he united with the Rehobeth Baptist Church and was baptised in the Rehobeth mill pond. He graduated in 1845 from Richmond Baptist Seminary (now Richmond College) and began his ministry near his home.

As a pastor at Rehobeth "he encountered the coolness, not to say opposition, which the Baptist cause in that day had to endure in that state." While at Rehobeth he organized the Baptist church at Vienna (Dorchester Co., Md.), and he was a pioneer in New-town (Pocomoke City) where in 1854 he organized the First Baptist Church; he had preached for a year in the Temperance Hall and then the Old Academy in Newtown. Both churches were begun in the face of much opposition. A deed of 10 Sept. 1846 (Som. Deeds 63:447) records that for $20 William and Caroline Evans sold land in the town of White Haven (on the county road to Quantico) to S. C. Boston and John A. Scarborough, John Robertson, Ichabod D. Hearn, and George W. Furbush, evidently trustees for another Baptist church.

Subsequently Solomon had a series of Virginia pastorates, at Red Bank and Lower Northampton Churches, Northampton Co.; the Second Church, Petersburg; and Farmville, 1858-59, 1865-67. Colwell P. Byrd (History and Genealogy of the Byrd Family, 1908) recounts the story that the Bostons, then at Farmville, found the War Between the States so troublesome that Solomon resigned his charge in 1862 and ventured with his wife and son to run the blockade across the Chesapeake Bay in a canoe; they safely reached the home of his parents, who were growing feeble, and remained there some time. On 4 Sept. 1866 (Som. Deeds 78:252) Solomon and his wife, of Prince Edward Co., Va., for $800 sold to Robert H. Davis a tract in Morumsc Neck, on the south side of the new county road from the bayside road to Shelltown road, composed of two parcels of a tract called "Golden Lion" (137 acres), originally conveyed to Daniel Boston.

Solomon's later pastorates included Lee Street Church, Baltimore (he was there when his wife died in 1869); Frenchtown, N. J. (1870-1873?); Brewington, King and Queen Co., Va. (1873-76?); Onancock, Accomack Co., Va., until 1883, when he returned to the First Baptist Church, Pocomoke City, where he had won the admiration of the members; here he remained until his death. "His was a social nature; he loved the companionship of his friends and was a good talker. He was faithful. Wind and cold did not keep him from his appointments, and such remarks as these from his members show in what esteem he was held: 'He always prepared well.' 'Touch Charles Boston and you touch me.' " (Biographical data from George Braxton Taylor, Virginia Baptist Ministers, Fourth Series, Lynchburg, 1913, pp. 29-30).

Two years before he died, on 23 Sept. 1885 Solomon took a mortgage (Som. Deeds HFL 3:316) from Hall Brothers (Pocomoke) on the "homestead" inherited by Solomon "from his father Daniel Boston" known as "Oak England" (80 acres) and "Owenglander" (68 acres), and also part of "Venture" (38 acres). On the same day Solomon signed his will (with codicil appended) naming as executor Major T. Hall of Pocomoke. To his wife, Mary E. Boston, he left "my library, ... my horse, carriage and cow, my family stores: also my household furniture wherever found, excepting two silver goblets, and my picture," as well as all bonds or notes after payment of debts, except $75 for a gold watch for his daughter Mary Belle Boston, as a memento of her father. To his son Frank he left "my two silver goblets" and requested that Frank purchase "my homestead" at a fair valuation. To his son Charles he left "my gold watch," and also the rest and residue of his real estate. The codicil bequeathed to his wife a lot behind the Baptist Church. Witnesses were L.H. Merrill, C. P. Councill, and A. J. Brittingham. The will was admitted to probate 18 Aug. 1887 (Worc. Wills GTB 3:391-93).

A tall, imposing monument was erected over his grave by the Rehobeth, Pitts Creek, and Pocomoke City Baptist Churches, "In consideration of his long and faithful service," and a plaque set up in the First Baptist Church, Pocomoke, read "In Memory of / Rev. Solomon C. Boston / Founder of this Church / 1854 / and Twice Pastor."

56 SAMUEL MERRILL BOSTON, son of Esau (31) and Leah (Merrill) Boston, was born in Worcester Co., Md., at Pitts Creek, 17 Feb. 1781; he died in Worcester Co. on Friday, 20 Dec. 1839, according to his family Bible. He married (St. Martin's Episcopal Church, near Berlin, 17 Sept. 1801) Leah Merrill, daughter of William and Elizabeth Merrill (see MERRILL family); she was born 20 Jan. 1780 and died in Worcester Co. before 13 Apr. 1847.

According to the 1820 census for Worcester Co. (p. 449) Samuel was a cypress cooper, but he was apparently also a farmer. On 9 Sept. 1818 he witnessed the will of John Benson, Sr., and also stood security, with Isaac Benson, for the executor, Samuel Benson. On 27 Jan. 1819, with Thomas and William Schoolfield, Sr., he witnessed the will of Joseph Houston. On 10 Dec. 1827 he witnessed the will of Levin Merrill, who spoke of land next to Samuel Boston. On 13 Oct. 1834 he witnessed the will of Esther Benson, widow of John.

On 23 May 1812 Samuel bought from William Benson, for $174, 29 acres, a tract called "Walhamaby," adjacent "Hog Quarter," "Conveniency," and "Brittingham's Chance." A court order of 2 July 1821 appointed Samuel, with (his cousin) Levin Henderson ("of William"), Levin Merrill, John Stevenson, and Levin Long as a commissioner to evaluate the real estate of Henry Wheeler; on 13 May 1826 the commissioners deeded the land to Henry Wheeler, who was to pay the other heirs their portions (Worc. Deeds AC:299, AS:63). On 4 Feb. 1827 Samuel exchanged with Henry Wheeler six acres of "Walhamaby" for five acres of "Dennis Outlet," adjacent land of Levin Merrill and Samuel Boston (Worc. Deeds AS:484, 487). On 19 Sept. 1834 Samuel's father, Esau, Sr., deeded to him, for $300, 60 acres of "Hog Quarter."

Leah Boston on 10 Oct. 1810 witnessed the will of Betsy Padden. By her will, signed 8 Nov. 1844 (admitted to probate 13 Apr. 1847) Leah bequeathed $5 apiece to her sons John and Esau, to son Samuel (appointed executor) three Negroes and furniture, and to daughter Elizabeth slaves and furniture. Witnesses were Levin and Tom Merrill and Esau Boston, her brother-in-law (Worc. Wills LPS 1:351). (Dates are from Bible owned by Mrs. Albert K. Richardson of Baltimore.)

Children (born probably at Pitts Creek, Worcester Co., Md.):

- i. John, b. 3 Sept. 1804; d. 14 Jan. 1854; mar. 1st Mary L. Barrett; 2nd Leah S. Adams; see No. 107.
- ii. Elizabeth, b. 11 July 1808; d. Pocomoke City, Md. 8 Feb. 1895; buried Baptist Cemetery there; single; from at least 1850 until 1870 she lived with her brother Samuel, probably near Rehobeth; in 1880 she was living with her nephew, Samuel Boston, in Pocomoke.
- iii. Esau, b. 10 June 1810; d. 12 Apr. 1855; mar. Sarah A. Marshall; see No. 108.
- iv. Samuel, b. 13 Aug. 1815; d. probably near Rehobeth, Md. 21 July 1870, buried in family plot of his uncle Esau (58) where a stone marks his grave. Samuel ("of Samuel") on 22 Oct. 1832 apprenticed himself to John Jones, to learn the trade of a shoe and boot maker; he would come of age on 13 Aug. 1836 (Worc. Co. Court Proceedings LPS 7:557). On 27 Oct. 1849 he bought from John W. and Eleanor Quinn, for $612, a 32 acre tract, "Hackley," part of land owned by Isaac H. Dryden, land about a mile from Stevens Ferry on the county road leading to Princess Anne; on 10 Jan. 1857 he sold it for $850 to Matilda J. Mills (Som. Deeds 67:15, 73:149). According to the 1850 census he was in Dublin District of Somerset Co., by occupation a shoemaker. By his will, signed 3 July 1870 (prob. 13 Aug. 1870) he left everything unconditionally to his sister Elizabeth; his executor was John B. White, the witness John H. Dryden (Som. Wills SCL 5:266).

57 JACOB BOSTON, son of Esau (31) and Leah (Merrill) Boston, was born at Pitts Creek, Worcester Co., Md., in May 1782; he died near Newtown 27 Apr. 1858, "age 75 yrs. 11 mos.," and was buried in the family plot on his farm. He married first (lic. Worc. Co. 16 Feb. 1804) Nancy Layfield, granddaughter of Capt. Isaac Layfield; she was born 1 Jan. 1788 and died, reportedly of an allergy, 2 Feb. 1805, and was buried in the Boston family plot on the farm of her father-in-law, where a broken stone still marks her grave. He married second (lic. Worc. Co. 20 Dec. 1809) Narcissa Hope, who died 22 Nov. 1812; he married third (lic. Worc. Co. 12 May 1818) Sally Jones, daughter of Daniel and Elizabeth (Mills) Jones (see JONES family); she was born near Newtown in 1797; she died near Pocomoke (Newtown) 20 Jan. 1878, "in her 80th year," and was buried in the Boston family graveyard.

It may have been this Jacob (or his uncle) who was a creditor of Zepheniah Benson in 1810 and who, on 9 Oct. 1810, stood security with Edward Lambden for Ann Long and Thomas M. Tull, executors of Littleton Long. Jacob bought his first and only tract of land in 1812. At a public sale 28 Sept. 1812 "Jacob Boston of Esau" was the highest bidder, at $200, for part of a tract called "Aberdeen," all the right of Betsy Jones, widow of James (uncle of Jacob's third wife), in her late husband's land, amounting to 128 1/2 acres (Worc. Deeds AD:15, 17, 379). On 21 Apr. 1827 Jacob apparently took a mortgage for $1000 on land of Samuel J. Rowland of Kent Co., Del., an unestimated number of acres, a tract off the west or southwest part of "Bucke Harbour" adjacent land of Mrs. Lamden (ibid. GMH 6:169).

On 21 Apr. 1819 Jacob received $14 for seven days' service as an appraiser of the estate of Edward Stevenson; on 25 May 1819, with his brother Esau, he stood security for Robert Russell, executor of Samuel Crippen. Jacob, described as "my friend," was appointed executor in the will of Thomas Merrill, 17 Mar. 1827. Jacob was executor on 31 Mar. 1829 for John Gillett and on 11 May 1830 for Benjamin Ballard. On 27 July 1830 he stood security for Benjamin P. Aydelott, executor of Samuel Davis and Caroline Davis. On 21 Feb. 1832 Jacob was executor for Major Gillett (his sister, Leah Mills, and Daniel Mills were securities) and on 2 Dec. 1836 executor for James A. Gillett. All were in Worcester Co. Early in 1837 Jacob with John Slemmons Stevenson, administrator of David Long, was named in a judgment against "a certain James Boston late of Somerset Co." (68) On 10 Oct. 1837 Jacob witnessed the will of Catherine Merrill.

In 1830 Jacob was appointed an elder in the Pitts Creek Presbyterian Church, and when the new church was built in 1844 he was a contributor (Murray, "History of Pocomoke"). On 26 Oct. 1833 Jacob was an agent with John and Stephen Hargis in the purchase from Samuel McMaster for $3.00 of a half acre of "Fooks Choise" on the county road near a branch adjacent to McMaster's dwelling, for the purpose of a school house (Worc. Deeds AZ:420).

In the 1820 census Jacob's occupation was described as miller, but in 1850 he was listed as a farmer.

By his will, signed 10 Mar. 1858 (prob. 11 May 1858), Jacob made bequests to his daughters Ann Stevenson (a large mahogany dining table and "all my books and for her to take what she pleases and give the rest to whom she pleases"), Mary P. Jones ($10), Leah E. Lankford (a Negro man), and Charlotte H. J. Dryden (Negro woman Esther), and to son William T. Boston and (son-in-law) William J. Scott ($10); he also made bequests to granddaughters Sarah W. Jones (bed and furniture) and Sarah E. Scott (the same), as well as to his wife Sally, "all the rest of my property," which was to go to son William after her death (Worc. Wills TT 8:229).

Jacob's wife Sally was bequeathed a bed and furniture by the will of her sister, Catherine Jones, who signed her will 22 June 1856 (prob. 22 July 1856), also naming sister Elizabeth Jones and brother Thomas Jones. Sally was also named in the will of her brother Thomas, signed 6 Mar. 1856 (prob. 15 Aug. 1860); he left "my gun" to Thomas Boston, son of Jacob Boston, and Thomas Boston was administrator. And Sally was named sole legatee in the will of her sister Elizabeth, signed 26 Dec. 1860 (prob. 17 Dec. 1861), William T. Boston administrator (Worc. Wills TT 8:164, 310, 345).

By a deed of 25 Dec. 1862 William H. Jones, indebted to Sally Boston, his mother-in-law, in the amount of $228.52, conveyed to her a pair of mules, one "Jack Ass," 8 hogs, a 2-horse wagon, a one-horse cart, one rockaway carriage, a market wagon, a cider mill, a corn and cob crusher, all his farming implements, and kitchen furniture and all other personal property provided he should fail to pay before 1 Jan. 1864; William Quinn and W. T. Boston were witnesses. By a deed of 20 May 1864

Sally freed a slave Henry Jones who had "enlisted in the Service of the United States," in consideration for said enlistment, and on 28 Aug. 1865 in the same manner she freed Charles Ednet or Jones (Worc. Deeds WET 8:325, GHR 1:229, 681-83).

Under date of 27 Feb. 1878 appear the inventory and sale and list of debts for the estate of Sarah Boston, William T. Boston executor (Worc. Inventories GTB 6:40-42, 59, 97, 215, 315). On 18 June 1887 most of Sally's heirs sold to William T. Boston, for $1000, 200 acres, "all our right in land known as Thomas Jones farm which Sallie Boston inherited from Thomas, Betsy, and Catherine Jones," adjacent land of Stephen Redden, William T. Boston, Isaac Jones, Jane Henderson, Peter C. Outten, and Betsy Jones. The heirs were Jacob E. and Grace Stevenson, James G. and Elizabeth Stevenson, Ira T. and Lillie Stevenson, John and Edna Jones, William J. and Sarah W. Johnson, Oliver and Emma C. Merrill, Charles E. and Sallie Powell, George W. and Harriet Powell, Florence Dryden, Ellen Barnes, William H. Jones, Edward F. and Tressa V. Jones, Robert B. and Kate Jones, and James G. Jones (Worc. Deeds JWS 1:659). By deed of 27 July 1886 her remaining heirs, Jerome B., Edgar and Mary Lankford, and George and Ella Redden for $300 had sold their share in the Thomas Jones farm, known as "Aberdeen," to William T. Boston (Worc. Deeds JWS 2:1).

The family Bible of Jacob Boston, with complete names and dates, was most recently in the possession of his grandson, Raymond T. Boston (1883-1953), but its whereabouts are now unknown; a photostatic copy of the records is in the possession of Mrs. Nora Davis Schmitz (niece of Raymond Boston).

58 ESAU BOSTON, JUNIOR, son of Esau (31) and Leah (Merrill) Boston, was born at Pitts Creek, Worcester Co., Md., in 1784; he died, probably at Pitts Creek, before 22 June 1869. He married first (lic. Som. Co. 19 May 1807) Augusta Beauchamp, daughter of John and Mary Ann Beauchamp; she was born in 1791 and died about 1830. He married second (lic. Worc. Co. 22 Mar. 1833) Mary ("Mollie") Broughton, widow of Robert Bell; she was born 17 Mar. 1789 and died about 1845. He married third (lic. Worc. Co. 2 Feb. 1847) Mariah Melvin, who was born 1820/21 and died probably about 1853.

John Beauchamp of Somerset Co., Md. by his will, signed 7 Apr. 1791 (prob. 31 May 1791) made bequests to wife Mary Anne and daughters Peggy and Leah and unborn child; Thomas Benston was executor (Som. Wills EB 17:156-158). The unborn child was Augusta, for in Accomack Co. (Va.) Order Book 1793-96, p. 43, on 30 Apr. 1793, William Jones was appointed guardian to Augusta Beauchamp, orphan of John. On 3 June 1791, John Bell of Accomack Co. sold to Mary Ann Beauchamp of Accomack Co. 16 acres adjacent the 157 acres bought 27 July 1790 by John Beauchamp from Levin Bell and others. The land was described as bounded on the north by the Maryland line and on the southwest by the Bay, i. e. presumably Chincoteague Bay (Acco. Deeds 1793-96, p. 519; 1788-93, p. 414). In 1810 Esau and his family were evidently living on this land, for an "Easer" Boston is listed in the Federal Census for Accomack Co., and he is not listed in Worcester Co.

On 9 Jan. 1817 in Worcester Co. Esau stood security for Levin

Henderson (his cousin?) as executor of William R. Merrill in Somerset Co.; on 4 Nov. 1817 he stood security with Isaac Layfield for Archibald White, executor of William S. White in Worcester Co.; and on 25 May 1819 "Esau Boston, Jr." stood security with his brother Jacob for Robert Russell, executor of Samuel Crippen. Esau's occupation according to the 1820 census, was cartwheelwright, but in 1850 it was given as farmer.

Esau probably spent most of his life on the farm on which he was born, which he purchased from his father. On 29 Dec. 1835 "Esau Boston, Junior" bought from "Esau Boston, Senior" for $800, a tract of 200 1/8 acres called "Lock," marked by an "oak standing on the west side of Esau Bostons Plantation and being the first boulder of the original Tract called Boston Hardship" (Worc. Deeds JCH 2:544). He enlarged his holdings on 18 Dec. 1852 by buying from Ezra B. Risley of Philadelphia, for $40, 50 acres, a parcel of "Cypress or Cedar Swamp," on the south side of Pocomoke River, part of the tract "Great Convenience," known as the "Layfield Swamp," which Risley had purchased of Edward Lambden who had bought it from Isaac Layfield (Worc. Deeds EDM 4:619).

In 1837 Esau Boston was appointed a commissioner by the General Assembly, with Handy Mills, Barrister Horsey, and Levin Henderson (Esau's cousin - D1) "to condemn and lay off a lot of ground for a public wharf at Cedar Hall Landing on the Pocomoke river and to make public a road leading thereto." The commissioners were empowered to survey the land and value the damage to the heirs of John Whittington, then place advertisements for sale to the lowest bidder for the construction of the wharf; notices were to be placed at the termination of the road made public, at Wagram, at Capt. John Jones' shop, at New Town, at Pollitts ferry, at Puncheon, and at Rehobeth, the bidding to take place 2 Aug. 1837 at 2 o'clock on the premises at Cedar Hall (Worc. Deeds JCH 4:498, 500).

It was probably this Esau Boston to whom a debt was due as of 25 Dec. 1841 from the estate of Elijah Ward (B3).

On 6 May 1845 Esau stood security for Levin Merrill, executor for James Brittingham. On 16 Sept. 1853 "Esau Boston, Sr.," with Edward Lambden, Levin Merrill, and John L. Hearn, served as a commissioner to divide the real estate of the late John Powell. On 6 Mar. 1855 and again on 13 May 1857 he served on a similar commission with James D. Sturgis, Samuel Jones, William J. Merrill on a petition of John L. Hearn (Worc. Deeds EDM 5:495 & 6:427, JAP 1:339).

On 17 Apr. 1856 with John S. Dryden (113) and Edward H. Adams, Esau witnessed the will of Negro George Boston, in Somerset Co. On 28 Aug. 1865 Esau executed deeds of manumission to his slaves: John, Harry, Charles, Robin, Arnold, and Ambrose Boston (Worc. Deeds GHR 1:681-83).

On 9 Oct. 1867 Esau Boston, of Worcester Co., Md., made a deed of gift, in return for the nominal sum of $1, of 72 acres of land on Chincoteague Bay in Accomack Co., Va., to his grandchildren Robert N., Mary J., Alfred T., Harry E., and Edward A. Boston, and to his great-grandchildren Almira V., Laura J., and Henry B. Pilchard; he also mentioned "my kinsman" Henry L. Pilchard (Acco. Deeds 1867-69:188). When this land was sold on 26 Nov. 1875 by the commissioners in a suit of Robert N. Boston et al vs. Edward A. Boston et al, the land was described as formerly in possession of Augusta Boston, deceased, wife of Esau Boston (Acco. Deeds 1874-76:601).

By his will, signed 3 Feb., admitted to probate 22 June, 1869 (Worc. Wills TT 8:519) Esau made the following bequests: to his grandchildren, Mary Jane, Eugene, and Robert, of his deceased son John, $250 among them; to his grandson Alfred Thomas Boston and his great-grandchildren Elmira, Laura, and Henry Pilchard, descendants of his deceased son Henry, $250 among them; to his daughter-in-law, Leah Lambden, his "loom and fixtures"; to his son James Henry "my farm whereon I now dwell called by the name of 'Lock' containing one hundred and eighty acres of land more or less, also four shares of capital stock in the 'Pocomoke Bridge Company' and my best family Bible"; to his daughter Mary Grace "all those tracts or parcels of Cypress Swamp which I purchased of Samuel Brittingham and Ezra B. Risley containing one hundred acres of Land more or less. Also Four shares of Capital Stock in the 'Pocomoke Bridge Company' and my second Family Bible." The rest and residue of his estate was to be divided equally between Mary Grace and James Henry, and they were to have the privilege of selecting from his personal property anything they might wish at the appraised value, provided that the whole amounts selected by each shall be equal in value, and the property thus selected shall be excepted from the sale." He also requested that the ashes and manures on the farm not be considered as part of his personal estate but remain on the farm for its improvement. Mary Grace and James Henry were joint executors, Alfred D. Merrill to replace James if the latter should be disqualified because of age. (The Bibles mentioned in Esau's will have completely disappeared.)

Children (all but first born Pitts Creek, Worcester Co., Md.):

By first marriage:

- i. Henry Custis, b. probably near Greenbackville (on the Chincoteague Channel, Accomack Co., Va. c1808; d. by 11 June 1844; mar. Leah Adams; see No. 115.
- ii. John Beauchamp, b. 1811; d. 11 Aug. 1862; mar. Ruthelia M. Newton; see No. 116.

By third marriage:

- iii. Adolphus Lambertson, b. 1847/48; d. Pitts Creek, 20 Oct. 1867; his obituary in the Newtown newspaper described him as "a young man of ardent piety"; he was carried off by an illness "brief but severe."
- iv. Mary Grace, b. 10 Dec. 1849; d. 22 Jan. 1931; mar. William U. Schoolfield; see No. 117.
- v. James Henry, b. 16 Aug. 1852; d. 11 Mar. 1918; mar. Susan F. Clogg; see No. 118.

59 LEAH BOSTON, daughter of Esau (31) and Leah (Merrill) Boston, was born at Pitts Creek, Worcester Co., Md., 4 Sept. 1793; she died in Newtown (now Pocomoke), Md. 12 July 1869, at 8 a.m. and was buried in the Methodist Protestant Cemetery. She married (lic. Worc. Co. 14 June 1810) LEVIN MILLS, son of John and Mary B. Mills (see MILLS family); he was born 22 Sept. 1781 and died in Worcester Co. 23 Apr. 1815. He had previously married (family Bible 6 Dec. 1806) Barbara Melvin (1789-1808) by whom he had a son, James Melvin Mills (born 1807?). (Dates from Mrs. William P. Mills from Bible records in possession of Mrs. Katherine Mills Steel.)

Levin Mills signed his will 2 Apr. 1815 (prob. 12 May 1815), witnessed by John Stevenson, Edward W. Blake, and Andrew A. Gilchrist. Levin's wife Leah was named executrix; she was to "execute a deed or deeds to alienate the land I have already sold to James Furniss and Edward Stevenson." To his friend James Hall he bequeathed all his hatter's tools, except the dye kettle, and his nephews John and Levin Patterson were to share in his property with his wife if his son John should die without offspring (Worc. Wills MH 10:100).

Eben Hearne, in Chap. 14 (Sept. 15, 1944) of his series "Old Newtown and New Pocomoke City" in the Worcester Democrat, wrote that the Rev. Joseph Mills, having lost his parents when quite young... was reared by his devoted grandmother, Mrs. Leah Boston Mills. Mrs. Leah Boston Mills was sister of two farmers who lived near Newtown and were well known citizens of this section - Mr. Jacob Boston, the late Jacob E., James G., and Ira T. Stevenson's grandfather, and Mr. Esau Boston."

Leah on 25 Apr. 1843 witnessed the will of Nancy (Williams Stevenson) Long, her niece's mother-in-law, and according to the 1850 census Leah with her grandson was living in the household of her niece, Anne, and Anne's husband, Henry M. Stevenson (109), evidently in Newtown.

Leah Mills stood security (21 Feb. 1832) for her brother, Jacob Boston, as executor of Major Gillett.

Children (born probably at Pitts Creek, Worcester Co., Md.):

- i. Mary Barbara, b. 18 Mar. 1812; d. 7 Nov. 1812.
- ii. John Smith, b. 24 Oct. 1813; d. 23 Dec. 1844; mar. Mary A. Scott; see No. 119.

60 JESSE BOSTON, son of Jacob (32) and Mary (Patterson) Boston, was born in Worcester Co., Md., probably at Pitts Creek, 7 Sept. 1798; he died in Spencer Co., Ky., probably near Elk Creek, before 4 Mar. 1861. He married (Spencer Co., Ky., 27 Nov. 1832) Nancy Collier, who was born in 1816; she married second (Spencer Co. 22 Dec. 1863, at the home of Levi Jewell) William Robison.

Jesse migrated from Maryland to Spencer Co. with his father and brothers about 1823 and became first a blacksmith, then a farmer near Elk Creek. He is listed as head of a household in the 1860 Federal Census (#165 in District # 2 of Spencer Co.). His estate was administered by Jacob L. Boston and James M. Heady, with J. M. Boston and Levi Jewell securities, 4 Mar. 1861 (Spencer Co. Wills F:167-72, 183-84, 423-25). He left an estate valued at $675.72; the distribution named all three children as well as his wife Nancy Children (born Spencer Co., Ky., probably at Mt. Eden):

- i. Jacob Louis, b. 11 Sept. 1833; d. 29 Mar. 1911; mar. Jane Simpson; see No. 120.
- ii. Susan Mary, b. 26 Dec. 1837; d. 8 May 1925; mar. James M. Heady; see No. 121.
- iii. John W., b. 1848; d. c 1870; single.

61 JACOB BOSTON, son of Jacob (32) and Mary (Patterson) Boston, was born in Accomack Co., Va., at Pitts Creek, near the Md. line, 17 Dec. 1801; he died in Baltimore, Md., 30 Mar. 1886 and was buried with his wife in Loudon Park Cemetery. He married (Baltimore, 6 July 1823) Susanna Henrietta Hines of Kent Co., Md.; she may be the daughter of John Hines and Susan Russell (who were married in Worc. Co., Md. 24 Sept. 1800); she was born 30 Aug. 1801; she died in Baltimore, 4 Mar. 1883.

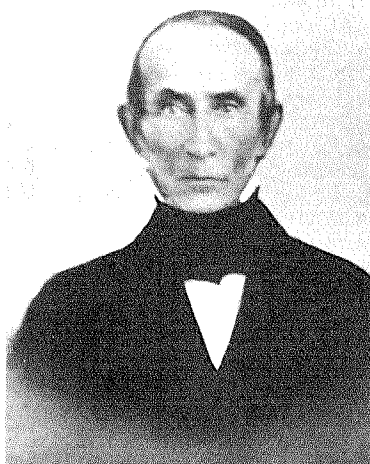

Jacob moved with his father from Accomack Co. to Worcester Co. in 1810; Jacob alone of his father's sons did not accompany his father to Kentucky in the 1820's. About 1818 he went to Baltimore where he became apprenticed reportedly to a cousin, John Boston, in the beaver-skin hat business, though it has been impossible to identify this John. After Jacob had served his apprenticeship he became a member of his cousin's firm of Boston & Elder (Price, according to family tradition). Jacob first appears in the Baltimore directory in 1824, listed as a hatter, living on the south side near Light St.; in 1829 he was on Temple north of Baltimore, in "Old Town"; in 1831 he was at 11 Potter St., listed as a member of the firm of Boston & Elder (successors to Joseph Cox), hatters, at 7 S. Calvert. In 1835 he was at 34 Exeter St. According to family tradition the firm collapsed in the panic of 1837. In the 1837 directory Boston & Elder have been replaced by Boston & Watson, hat manufactory, at 1 South St., and there are two Jacobs who are hatters: one at 8 Calvert, the other on Water St. east of Exeter (perhaps business and residence addresses for the same Jacob).

In the 1850 Federal Census, Jacob Boston, hatter, is listed as head of a household (#574) in the 9th Ward of Baltimore. Subsequently, according to an account of his grandson, Charles A. Boston, Jacob became General Clerk of the Baltimore Board of School Commissioners, with rather vague responsibilities: he paid all the public school teachers and had charge of all purchases and distribution of textbooks and supplies. He had quarters and reared his family in the original Board of Education building, which contained the "high school," museums, and laboratories for what was known as "natural philosophy." Among his duties was to keep order in the school yard during recess. In 1873 fire destroyed the school building and the adjoining Holiday Street Theatre, but when a new school building was constructed the following year, Jacob and his family moved in. In the 1876 city directory Jacob is listed as "Librarian to the School Commissioners," living at 67 E. Fayette St. According to the 1880 census he was "Librarian of City Hall."

Jacob, according to his grandson, maintained a correspondence with his brother John, near Louisville, Ky., and he also knew his cousins, the brothers Jacob and Esau Boston (57, 58). Jacob's son Tom (114) from time to time would visit the Baltimore Bostons, from the 1860's until near the end of his life in 1908. Living with Jacob Boston in Baltimore in 1880 was "cousin" Mary Jane Boston, single, aged 83, probably to be identified as a daughter of Esau (31), first cousin of Jacob's father.

Children (born Baltimore, Md.):

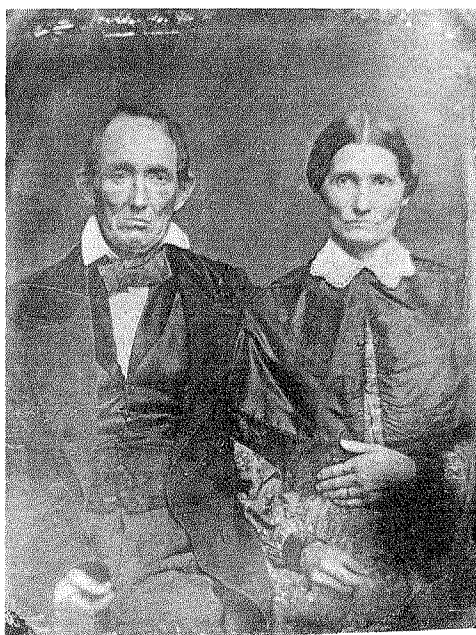

- i. Mary Ann, b. 24 Oct. 1824; d. ? St. Louis, Mo. 16 Feb. 1907; mar. (Baltimore, 28 Jan. 1853) CHARLES COVINGTON ANDERSON; they had two sons about whom the family knows nothing.
- ii. Susannah Hines, b. 4 Feb. 1826; d. Baltimore 28 Mar. 1877; buried Loudon Park Cemetery; single.

62 JOHN BOSTON, son of Jacob (32) and Mary (Patterson) Boston, was born in Accomack Co., Va., at Pitts Creek, near the Md. line, 29 Aug. 1803; he died near Jeffersontown, Ky., 8 Nov. 1876, and was buried in the Jeffersontown Cemetery. He married (3 Apr. 1827) Elizabeth Rash, who was born 16 Oct. 1805, died 7 Apr. 1882. John moved with his father to Worcester Co. in 1810, and about 1823 he migrated to Kentucky, probably with his uncle Jesse. He lived first near Jeffersontown, then near Newburg, then on Bardstown Pike near Fern Creek, and finally in Louisville. In the 1860 census he was listed (#1355) in Dist. No. 1 of Jefferson Co. as a farmer. He kept in touch with his brother, Jacob, in Baltimore. (Family Bible owned by Mrs. Frank Bradbury; see No. 688.)

Children (born near Jeffersontown, Jefferson Co., Ky.):

- i. Mary P[atterson?], b. 25 Jan. 1828; d. 27 Oct. 1884; mar. Greenup Miller; see No. 124.

- vi. Leah Ophelia, b. 17 June 1841; d. 1040 Bardstown Road, Louisville, 17 Dec. 1907; buried Jeffersontown; single.

63 LUTHER BOSTON, son of Jacob (32) and Mary (Patterson) Boston, was born in Accomack Co., Va., 26 Nov. 1807; he died in Spencer Co., Ky., about 1848. He married (Spencer Co. 29 Apr. 1833) Sarah Steel, born in Ky. 1816/7. Sarah was listed with her children in the Spencer Co. census of 1850 in District No. 1.

Children:

- i. Elizabeth J., b. 1835/6; mar. (at Christopher Patterson's, Spencer Co., Ky. 23 Dec. 1869) JOHN Q. READEY (or REEDER), born 1837; according to the 1860 census she was single, living in Spencer Co.; the Readers were listed in the 1870 census in the Taylorsville Precinct; he was a farm laborer.
- ii. Mary E., b. 1837/8; it was possibly she who mar. (1st?) James Clark and (2nd) William Tipton; she mar. 3rd ?; see No. 126.
- iii. Eliza M., b. 1840/1.
- iv. William G. ("Uncle Billycamp"), b. 16 Apr. 1843 (1834 on monument); died near Lewis, Jackson Twp., Ind. 25 June 1902, buried Friendly Grove Baptist Cemetery near there; he was a hunchback and remained single; he and his sister went with their cousin, Jesse M. Boston (66) to Indiana in the 1850's; they were listed in Jesse's household in Jackson Twp. in the 1860 census; William was among the charter members of Linton Lodge No. 485 instituted at Pimento, 10 Apr. 1875, and after 1885 he was a member of the lodge at Centreville.
- v. Emily D., b. 25 Dec. 1846 (1836 on monument); d. near Lewis, Ind. 14 Feb. 1917, buried Friendly Grove; single.

64 JAMES W. BOSTON, son of Jesse (33) and Mary (Peden) Boston, was born in Worcester Co., Md., probably at Pitts Creek, about 1806; he died in Spencer Co., Ky., before 12 Sept. 1833. He married (about 1828) Priscilla, who married as her second husband (Spencer Co. 14 Sept. 1837) Isaac McKaton. With his father, James migrated to Kentucky about 1823. The inventory of his estate was taken 12 Sept. 1833; John Stout was executor. At the sale of personal effects, 13 Sept., Edward, Pricella, and "Silles" Boston were among the purchasers (Spencer Co. Wills A:345-8). Mr. Jesse M. Boston, of Sullivan, Ind., has a Spencer Co. bond, of Nov. 1841, for Harriet Stout, guardian of Jesse M.

Boston.

Child (born Spencer Co., Ky.):

- i. Jesse Minor, b. 1829; d. 1899; mar. Caroline Tucker; see No. 127.

65 EDWARD BOSTON, son of Jesse (33) and Mary (Peden) Boston, was born in Worcester Co., Md., probably at Pitts Creek, 9 Mar. 1810; he died near Lewis (then Centreville), in Sullivan Co., Ind. 20 Nov. 1892, and was buried in Friendly Grove Baptist Cemetery near there. He married (Spencer Co., Ky. 18 Dec. 1834) Sarah Stout, daughter of the Rev. William Stout and his wife, Mary Vandyke; she was born in Spencer Co., probably at Plum Creek, 15 July 1812; she died near Lewis, Ind. 25 July 1879; her sister married Edward's brother, Jesse (66).

Edward went with his father to Kentucky in 1823. In 1840 Edward moved with his family for a very short while to Vigo Co., Ind., but returned to Ky. On 22 Dec. 1851 Edward and Sarah Boston, in Spencer Co., sold four slaves for $1200. On 3 Feb. 1852 they sold 57 acres on the south side of Salt River for $812; on 16 Jan. 1853, another 50 acres for $650; and finally on 2 Jan. 1855, 107 acres more on Salt River, for $2050 (Spencer Co. Deeds I:296, 344; J:196; K:67). In 1855 with his family Edward returned to Indiana, to Lewis township, Sullivan Co., joining his brother Jesse there. On 18 July 1857 for $950 he bought his first tract (80 acres) there (Sullivan Co. Deeds 18:558). He settled in Clay Co. in 1878. According to Bradby, History of Vigo Co., 1891 (p. 685), Edward and Sarah were active in the Missionary Baptist Church. Edward, of English and Irish descent, was a Whig, later a Democrat. Bradby also reported that Edward and Sarah were the parents of eleven children.

Children (born Spencer Co., Ky., probably near Elk Creek):

- i. James William, b. 25 Oct. 1835; d. 4 Nov. 1902; mar. Dorcas Pearson; see No. 128.
- ii. Maston Shelburn, b. 23 Oct. 1837; d. 25 Jan. 1921; mar. Mary F. Bryan; see No. 129.
- iii. Mary Elizabeth, b. 1841; d. 1873/80; mar. David Ellington; see No. 130.
- iv. Harriet Ann, b. 24 Mar. 1845; d. 29 Aug. 1902; mar. Leander Trinkle; see No. 131.
- v. Josephine, b. 7 May 1847; d. near Lewis, Ind. 26 July 1904; mar. (Vigo Co., Ind. 19 Apr. 1882) EWING LANING, b. 14 July 1838; d. 20 Mar. 1892; no children; both buried Friendly Grove; she was a milliner.
- vi. Lois Ann, b. 24 May 1849; d. 1 Oct. 1935; mar. Elisha B. Powell; see No. 132.
- vii. Jesse Peyton, b. 29 Jan. 1852; d. 30 Jan. 1908; mar. Elizabeth E. Trinkle; see No. 133.

66 JESSE MINOR BOSTON, son of Jesse (33) and Mary (Peden) Boston, was born in Worcester Co., Md., "on the Pocomoke River," i. e. probably at Pitts Creek, 27 July 1817; he died near Lewis, in Sullivan Co., Ind. 7 Oct. 1899, and was buried in Friendly Grove Baptist Cemetery near there; the stone on his grave is now largely illegible. He was described as of English and Irish extraction.

He married (in Kentucky, 1842) Mary J. Stout, daughter of the Rev. William Stout and his wife, Mary Vandyke; Mary Stout, described as of English and German extraction, was born in Spencer Co., Ky. in 1820 and died in Sullivan Co., Ind., 6 Sept. 1862, buried Friendly Grove Cemetery near Lewis. Her father was born in Culpeper Co., Va. 14 Jan. 1783, and moved with his parents to Spencer Co., Ky. in 1797, where on 7 May 1804 he married Mary Vandyke, also a native of Virginia. In 1809 William Stout was converted and baptised at the Elk Creek Baptist Church; in 1810 he was licensed to preach and for two years preached at the Elk Creek Church. He was called to Plum Creek Church in 1812, where he was ordained Dec. 5. He retired in 1853 and went to Indiana where all his children had settled and where he occasionally preached. He died at the home of his son 6 Aug. 1862 (J. H. Spencer, A History of Kentucky Baptists, 2 vols., 1886). His son-in-law, Jesse M. Boston, was an executor for his will, admitted to probate 27 Feb. 1863 (Sullivan Co. Wills 1:196-7). Mary Stout's sister married Jesse Boston's brother, Edward (65).

Jesse M. Boston married, second (Clay Co., Ind. 4 June 1878) Mrs. Margaret Lucinda Magill Woodrow; she was born in Tenn. in 1828 and died in Sullivan Co. before 4 Oct. 1921; by her will she left bequests to "grandson" Jesse M. Boston and to Sugar Grove Presby. Church (Sullivan Co. Wills 5:570).

At the age of six Jesse Boston had removed with his father from Maryland to Spencer Co., Ky., where he grew to manhood. A poor boy, his parents having died when he was young, he had limited educational advantages; he really acquired his education after leaving school, for he pursued a course of self-culture for many years. He began teaching school at nineteen and continued until his marriage six years later. In 1851 he migrated to Sullivan Co., Ind., where he bought 173 acres in Jackson Township, 17 miles northeast of Sullivan and half a mile south of Lewis (Sullivan Co. Deeds H:599). At one time he owned 400 acres, which he divided between his two sons. He was a farmer and stock raiser, and for a time he operated a store which he had opened in 1855 with Squire Stout in Centreville (Lewis), Ind. (Information derived partly from H. W. Beckwith, History of Vigo and Parke Counties, Chicago: Hill & Iddings, 1880; Art Souvenir published by the Sullivan Times, 1896; and History of Greene and Sullivan Counties, Chicago: Goodspeed, 1884.)

Children (two oldest born Spencer Co., Ky., near Elk Creek):

- i. John William, b. 17 May 1843; d. 24 May 1901; mar. Sarah A. Calvert; see No. 134.
- ii. James Matthew, b. 17 Sept. 1848; d. 16 Sept. 1902; mar. Burnette Foreman; see No. 135.
- iii. Mary J., b. Sullivan Co., Ind. 13 May 1857; d. 26 Oct. 1862; buried Friendly Grove Cemetery.

67 JOSIAH COTTINGHAM, son of William and Martha (Cottingham) Cottingham (34), was born in Somerset Co., Md. 14 Mar. 1789 (baptised Coventry); he died in Somerset Co. 23 June/19 Aug. 1834; he may have married a Conner since Levin Conner was an administrator of his estate with Josiah's daughter, Mary A. Milbourne.

On 20 Dec. 1797 Josiah witnessed the will of Thomas Dixon, his step-mother's father. On 23 Feb. 1805 Josiah secured a mortgage from James Rounds Mills, for £1000, on "all the tracts and parcels of Lands that my Father William Cottingham devised unto me in his last will and Testament with recourse to the patents wherein the same may be had" (Som. Deeds 36:565-66).

On 23 Mar. 1811 Josiah sold to Thomas Cottingham for $80 parts of two tracts, "Revenge" and "Chance," 14 acres on the north side of Pocomoke River and the west side of Morumsco Creek, and on 4 Oct. 1813 he sold to Samuel Tull one acre of "Revenge" for $10.50. On 18 May 1812 Josiah bought from Nathan Cohoon 8 acres of "Small Addition" on the west side of Morumsco Creek for $12. On 27 Mar. 1829 Josiah sold land in Little Annessex known as "Boston" to trustees of the Methodist Episcopal Church: Joshua Tull, David Lankford, Smith Lankford, George L. Holland, and Southy Whittington, and on 14 Feb. 1834, for $25, he sold them another tract on the county road leading down in Annessex, for a road (Som. Deeds 40:640, 42:346, 41:402, 54:27, 57:275).

On 29 Aug. 1832 Josiah sold to Nathan Horsey, for $60, a parcel of "Revenge" adjacent to Zipporah Cottingham and Samuel Tull. On 7 Mar. 1833 Josiah sold for $6 two acres of "Chance" to William Henry Lankford. On 2 Apr. 1834 Josiah leased to Joseph Eskridge, a free Negro, "all that part or parcel of land which he the said Josiah... now owns and possesses and on which he now resides, except that the said Eskridge shall have no manner of right... to any of the houses... nor cut more timber than is sufficient for erecting and repairing of fences, bridges, bars, gates, etc. and said Cottingham shall have a garden or potato patch and a road to the public road on said farm," the lease to continue until the end of 1836; one-third of the produce shall be taken as rent. Finally, on 23 June 1834 for $1500 Josiah sold to Levin Conner all the lands Josiah possessed and any land he may claim as right, lands on which he was currently living called "Boston," "Mumford," "Revenge," "Chance," and "Williams Lot" (Som. Deeds 56:462, 57:65, 272, 366).

Josiah died intestate; an inventory of his estate was taken 19 Aug. 1834. Distribution was made to Lazarus Lankford in right of his wife, Mary A., and to Robert H. Lankford, in right of his wife, Sally, daughters of the deceased, each to receive half a share (Som. Accts. JP 15:9, 35).

Children (born Somerset Co., Md.):

- i. Mary Ann, b. 1805/6; d. 1870/80; mar. 1st Benjamin Milbourne; 2nd Lazarus Lankford; see No. 136.

- ii. Sally L., b. c1810; d. 1844/47; mar. Robert H. Lankford; see No. 137.

68 JAMES ADAMS BOSTON, son of Joshua (37) and Sarah (Williams) Boston, was born in Somerset Co., Md. in the spring of 1782; he died, presumably in Baltimore, Md., in 1836, after 11 Apr. (and before 28 Feb. 1837). It would appear that he is the same as J. A. Boston interred in Mt. Olivet Cemetery, Baltimore, though the stone appears to bear the dates 1782-1846 (possibly a misreading). Nancy Boston owned the plot, but her name does not appear among those interred there.

James married first (about 1811) Sally --, who died presumably in 1820. In a deed of 18 July 1817 James's wife is Sally; in a deed of 23 Dec. 1820 no wife is indicated for James. Though Sally's family name is not known, a clue may be provided by property sold by James 31 Dec. 1832: parts of "Kings Glade," "Gullitts Advisement," "Clover Fields," "Kings Chace," and "Baltimore," 63 acres adjacent Stevens Ferry (Som. Deeds 56:645). Since no record has been found of his purchase of this land, it may have come to him through his first wife; most of it was in the hands of George Wilson Jackson in 1810.

James married second (lic. Som. Co. 16 Jan. 1821) Nancy Adams, probably a daughter of Philip C. and Priscilla (Boston) Adams (39) and thus his first cousin; she was born in Somerset Co. 1791/92 and died presumably in Baltimore, 1860/70. In 1850 Nancy was living with her son Samuel in Baltimore (Ward 15, #1401); in 1860 she was living with the Lecompts (Ward 17, #1057).

It was probably this James Boston, described as "friend," who was appointed sole executor by Sampson Long in his will, 27 Nov. 1807. James stood security for Samuel Taylor, administrator of Isaac C. Mitchell in 1814. In Oct. 1814, at his uncle's request, James became executor for his cousin Collins Adams (70). In Oct. 1816 money was due James from the estate of James Tilghman (see No. 70). On 8 Apr. 1817 James was executor for his brother, Levin (Som. Bonds GH 1:120); his father and half-brother, Josiah Furniss, stood security. According to an inventory of 15 Apr. 1817 money was due Nancy and Joshua Boston.

On 23 Sept. 1817 James Boston was appointed a member of the 23rd Regiment for Somerset Co. (Md. Military Records, 2:31). On 9 Feb. 1818 Milley Collins, a free Negro, bound her son, John Elzey, to James Boston to "learn the art and mystery of a planter" (Som. Deeds GH 1:191). In 1821 James was executor for Samuel Taylor and also for Peggy Dryden.

James appears to have devoted his adult life to acquiring land, selling small parcels of it when he saw opportunities for attractive profits, but toward the end of his life he apparently overextended himself, for he was selling fairly heavily, and after his death much of his land was sold by the sheriff to pay James's debts. Beginning when he was twenty-three, on 11 Feb. 1806, for $120 he bought 30 acres, evidently adjacent to his father's land, parts of "Norfolk" and "Adams Purchase," and the next day he sold 10 acres of it for $123 to Isaac Mitchell Adams (Som. Deeds 37:139, 140).

James continued purchasing land until by April 1833 he had at least 3600 acres, possibly even 4000 or more (since it is not always possible to ascertain the acreage from the deeds), and at the time of his death in 1836 he still had at least 2300 acres. No other member of the Boston family is known to have held so much land. On 12 Dec. 1812 James bought from Levin Pollitt 44 acres of "Beckles," adjacent to "Norfolk"; he evidently wanted it badly, for he paid $500 for it, probably to round out his holdings. On 5 Jan. 1813, for $1000, he bought from Isaac Harris (of Spencer) an undesignated amount of land (possibly 100-250 acres), tracts called "Harris Choice," "Harris Chance," "Provision Board," "Free Hullock," "Harrisons Venture," and "Bear Point." He sold parts of it 1 Dec. 1814 (back to Harris for $18) and 23 Feb. 1818 (for $50). Part of "Harris Choice" was sold by James's heirs in 1854; how the remainder was disposed of is not clear (Som. Deeds 41:420, 42:32, 43:274, 46:162).

On 7 Jan. 1815 James bought from William Melvin, for $425, 72 acres of "Middlesex" and "Colmans Adventure" (1 1/4 miles from the Pocomoke River) which he sold 18 July 1817 to Samuel Taylor for $500 (Som. Deeds 43:264, 45:440).

On 19 Aug. 1817, after the deaths of his brother and father, James for $5 secured from William King a release from the mortgage Joshua and Levin "in their lifetime" had taken on "Adams Purchase" and "Bickles" (202 acres) for a debt which they had "paid up"; James Boston was "entitled to said land." With the portions of the same tracts, and "Norfolk," that James himself had bought, he had a unified holding of 266 acres. At an auction 23 Mar. 1825, for $411 James further augmented this land by buying from the sheriff 408 acres of "Norfolk," "Chance," "Adams Purchase," "Adams Delight," "Waltons Improvement," "Buckles," and "My Own Before," as the result of a judgment awarded to Lazarus Cottman against Gideon Pearce and Isaac M. Adams. Though James had sold 10 acres of "Adams Purchase" for $100 on 23 Dec. 1820 to Nathan Milbourn, he had bought another 10 acres from Milbourn on 13 Feb. 1821 for $230 (Som. Deeds 45:465; 53:136, 535, 537; 49:229, 287).

In a deed of sale 12 Apr. 1833 part of this land, with "Adams Delight," and "land contained in the farm commonly known as the Cokesbury Farm," totalling 250 acres, was described as "the lands the said James Boston purchased of his father Joshua and the lands that the said James Boston was heir to at law by the death of his brother Levin Boston and the lands that the said James Boston purchased of . . . Levin Pollitt," adjacent to the farm of Isaac M. Adams on Dividing Creek. James evidently spent most of his life on this "plantation"; in the deed of 23 Dec. 1820 the 10 acres of "Adams Purchase" that he sold was described as lying "on the north side of Isaac M. Adams' Road, opposite the dwelling house of James Boston." On 29 Mar. 1833 for $100 James sold 5 acres of "Beckels" on the "east side of the county road from Dublin to Dividing Creek Bridge," and on 13 Jan. 1834 for $50 he sold another portion of this land (Som. Deeds 56:630; 57:29, 290).

On 29 May 1820 (with additions 26 June 1820, 2 Jan. 1821, 16 June 1821) he bought from Jabez Tilghman and others 1896 acres, for a total of $2525, portions of many tracts: "Tilghmans Adventure," "Gideon's Luck," "Waterford Corrected," "Gibbons Chance," "Gibbons First Choice," "Hog Yard," "Sow Land," "Arabia," all on the road from Back Creek to Stevens Ferry and near Curtis Chapel; also "Middle Pasture," "Wolfs Den," "Tilghmans Fortune," "Foul Meadow," and "Flatland Marsh." He sold 49 acres of the latter tract 3 Mar. 1821 for $27, but he retained the rest until 1834. On 5 June 1821 he also sold "Suffolk" and "Hap at a Venture," on Dividing Creek, which may also have been Tilghman land (Som. Deeds 49:7, 52, 239, 524, 352, 526).

On 13 Aug. and 23 Nov. 1822 and 27 Nov. 1824 James for $728 bought from John Miles of Baltimore and others 282 acres: "Whittingtons Neglect," "Warwicks Discovery," "Long Lott," "Cold Rain," "Addition," and "Stooping Pine." On 16 Dec. 1826 for $600 James sold 125 acres of "Whittingtons Neglect" and 5 acres of "Cold Rain." On 3 Dec. 1829 for $160 he sold 85 acres more of "Cold Rain," on the "west side of the county road leading from Cannon's Store to Princess Anne" (Som. Deeds 50:366, 518; 52:206; 53:428; 55:126).

On 6 Nov. 1827 James leased land from Elizabeth A. W. Waters for $30 a year. And on 18 Feb. 1828 he bought "Deer Park" adjacent to John Dryden, 1172 acres on the Pocomoke River, formerly in the Waters family, for $3400. But evidently James failed to pay for the land, for on 7 Jan. 1834 Sheriff Samuel G. Holbrook, on a judgment awarded to Ephraim K. Wilson (trustee for William E. Waters) against James Boston, sold 600 acres of "Deer Quarter" at public auction for $1700 (Som. Deeds 54:23, 127; 56:596; 57:173).

James at this time, probably in need of ready cash, would appear to have found opportunities for profitable sales, for in 1832-35 he sold considerable land. On 31 Dec. 1832 he sold "Kings Glade" and other tracts (see above), 63 acres for $1530. On 4 Feb. 1833 for $280 he sold 68 acres of "Whittingtons Neglect" and "Addition." On 12 Apr. 1833 he sold 250 acres of his home plantation for $1100. On 15 Jan. 1834 for $600 he sold 345 acres more of "Deer Park." Between 26 July 1834 and 8 Apr. 1835 for $1086 he sold 233 acres of Tilghman land. And finally, in his last recorded act, on 11 Apr. 1835 he sold a portion of "Cole Rain" for $10 (Som. Deeds 56:645, 496, 630; 57:194, 388, 392, 394, 654; 58:428).

James had incurred considerable indebtedness, for after his death much of his land was sold at sheriff's sales. By a writ of 3 June 1835 John S. Stevenson and Jacob Boston (57), administrators of David Long, had secured a judgment against James Boston on a debt with interest from 13 Nov. 1832; as a consequence on 28 Feb. 1837 Sheriff Holbrook sold 824 acres of the Tilghman land (bought in 1820-21) to Stevenson for $308.34. As a result of another judgment, of William W. and Elizabeth Johnston against James Boston in the amount of $1895.18, Sheriff John S. Crockett sold 149 acres more of the Tilghman land at $2 per acre, and at the same public sale 150 acres more of the land were sold at $4 per acre; at the same sale 240 acres of "Deer Park" went at $2 per acre (Som. Deeds 59:423, 426, 528).

On 29 Nov. 1838 on another judgment of Ephraim K. Wilson against Boston, Sheriff Holbrook sold "Waterford Corrected," 400 acres for $280, and 300 acres of "Mills Choice" at $70 an acre. On 11 May 1847 Nancy Boston, widow of James Boston, for $100 sold land formerly owned by Boston, land formerly of William G. Waters (Som. Deeds 59:533; 60:486; 64:82). In 1854 James's children and widow sold the last of his land.

Children (born Somerset Co., Md., probably on the "Cokesbury Farm" near Dividing Creek):

By first marriage:

- i. William A., b. 1812; d. c 1889; mar. Cassandra Carson; see No. 138.
- ii. James Williams, b. 15 Dec. 1814; d. 3 Sept. 1884; mar. 1st Eliza J. Street; 2nd Elizabeth D. Smith; see No. 139.
- iii. Sarah W., b. 1817; d. 1870/80; mar. Samuel T. Landing; see No. 140.
- iv. L[evin?] E., b. 1820; d. Baltimore, Md. 1842; buried Mt. Olivet Cemetery.

By second marriage:

- v. Francis Asbury, b. 1824; d. c 6 Jan. 1906; mar. 1st Elizabeth A. Thomas; 2nd Amelia A. Sanders; see No. 141.
- vi. Samuel Adams, b. 18 Oct. 1826; d. 26 Jan. 1899; mar. Dorothea A. Aaron; see No. 142.
- vii. Mary Elizabeth, b. 18 Oct. 1835; d. 31 Jan. 1907; mar. 1st Thomas LeCompte; 2nd John J. Wright; see No. 143.

69 JAMES BOSTON, son of Esau (38) and Sarah (Ward) Boston, was born in Somerset Co., Md., near Dividing Creek, about 1778; he died in Jefferson Co., Ky. 4 Mar. 1833, according to the family Bible record. He was still a minor in Dec. 1795, six months after his father's death; described as an "orphan, over 14," he was under the guardianship of (his uncle) David Long Ward, to whom he was apprenticed (Som. Bonds EB 20:384, 385); William Fleming (of William) and John Ward stood security.

James married (Jefferson Co., Ky. 5 Oct. 1805) Anna Finley (see FINLEY, p. 386), daughter of Isaac and Sarah (Henry) Finley, born Jefferson Co., Ky. 14 June 1786; she died near Rosebud, Gasconade Co., Mo. 9 Apr. 1861, and was buried in the Boeuff Presbyterian Cemetery near Gerald, Mo.

Evidence for identifying James Boston of Jefferson Co., Ky. with James, son of Esau, is to be found not only in the remarkable recurrence of family names among his children, but also in the 1880 census, wherein for two of his children the birthplace of their father is reported as Maryland; in Job's Magisterial District of McLean Co., Ky., in the household (#58) of William Smith, is listed his wife, Mary Smith, 61, reportedly born in Ky., her father in Md.; and in Canaan Township, Gasconade Co., Mo., head of household #135 is Joshaway Boston, 55, reportedly born in Ky., his father in Md.

James Boston as a young man in Maryland worked as a carpenter; on 9 Aug. 1803 his younger half-brother, William Boston, was bound apprentice to James to learn his trade (Som. Bonds EB 22:255). In 1804 James sold the land inherited from his father, evidently preparatory to leaving the county. On 13 Feb. he assigned all his right and interest in his father's bond of conveyance to Joshua Morris and Kirk Gunby. On 20 Feb., with several of his Ward relatives, he conveyed to Morris and Gunby his share in a mill on Dividing Creek in Worcester Co., and on 13 Mar., for £66.5, he conveyed to Parker Puzzy a forty-six acre tract, "Mitchell's Purchase," in Somerset Co. (Worc. Deeds W:210, 211; Som. Deeds 36:161).

Probably in the summer of 1804 James Boston migrated to Jefferson Co., Ky., where some of his mother's family had settled, among them his uncle, David Long Ward; according to family tradition, James went on horseback. After his marriage he and his wife established themselves several miles northeast of Louisville, and on 23 Mar. 1810 he purchased from Thomas Pearson for $1515 a tract of 101 acres on Goose Creek, which he sold in Dec. 1831 for $2800. In the meantime, on 24 Dec. 1823, James had bought from his uncle, David L. Ward, 305 acres on Mills Creek, about four miles southwest of Louisville on the "Old Salt River Road" in the "Pond Settlement" (near what is now Shively). Here he resided at the time of his death (Jeff. Deeds 9:143, W:153-4, FF:466, OO:436). (See Supplement, S69, p. 459.)*

His wife, Anna, at her husband's death was left with the responsibility of providing for their five youngest children, under seventeen. She later made her home with her son, Joshua, in Missouri, and after his first wife's death helped rear his children. She returned several times to see her other children in Kentucky, and being a woman of great endurance would walk long distances in McLean Co. to visit them. The family recalls that she would entertain her grandchildren by telling stories about the Indians who tried to steal her father's horses. One man refused to be locked up. When the Indians tried to catch her, she would stamp and paw at them and drive them away, to the amusement of the Finleys listening inside. Considered a fine violinist, Anna would also entertain with music and dancing, but when her son William would be seen approaching, she would end the merriment out of respect for his piety, though he never expressed any disapproval. (At the sale of the effects of her son Esau in 1838, Anna purchased a "musical base.")

James Boston died intestate, and his son William acted as executor (Jeff. Wills 10:142). His widow reserved her third of the land, and the remainder was divided among the nine surviving children, each receiving between 20 and 28 acres. On the motion of Ann Boston, widow of James, by a court order of 4 Nov. 1833 the commissioners set aside Ann's dower of 305 acres in the Pond Settlement whereon James resided at the time of his death. Ann was described as guardian of Rebecca, Nelly, and Joshua M. Boston; Robert N. Miller (one of the commissioners) was guardian of Mary Ann and David L. W. Boston; Rawleigh Kendall was guardian of Isaac H. Boston. Beginning 1 July 1834 a division of the land was made among the heirs, each child in turn being deeded by the others a share: for instance, Nelly Boston was allotted 25 acres in return for $1.00 paid to each of the other heirs: James McKinney and Sally his wife (late Sally Boston), William Boston, and Esau Boston; the others, described as "infants," were represented by Worden Pope, Commissioner, Clerk of the Court: Mary Ann, Isaac H., David L. W., Rebecca, and Joshua M. Boston (Jeff. Deeds OO:436-470).

On 19, 20, 21 Feb. 1846 Anna Boston, guardian to "late Nelly Boston (now Nelly Driskel), " Joshua M. Boston, and "late Rebecca Boston (now Rebecca Caloway)" was paid by the estate $4.00 for each of the three for passage to St. Louis (Jeff. Wills 12:356-57). Finally on 20 Mar. 1850 the last of James Boston's land was sold to Robert W. Miller by William Boston and his wife Virginia, Samuel Calloway and his wife Rebecca, all of Daviess Co., Ky.; Thomas Driscoll and his wife, Nelly, of Carroll Co., Ky.; David L. W. Boston and his wife Betsy, William P. Smith and his wife Mary Ann, and Joshua M. Boston and his wife Ann, all of the County of St. Louis, Mo. (Jeff. Deeds 75:615).

When James's son Esau died (bond 18 Jan. 1837) William Boston was executor. Esau's effects included a silver watch and guard chain (bought by brother Isaac H. Boston), a pocket knife and compass, a set of books, including a dictionary, a trunk, and a pair of saddle bags. William's account specifically named heirs Anna, Isaac H., David L. W., Rebecca, Nelly, and Joshua M. Boston, identified as "infant heirs of James Boston deceased" (Jeff. Wills 10:123, 365). For the estate of Isaac H. Boston in 1841 Nancy Kendall was executrix (Jeff. Wills 10:364).

Dates of births and early deaths and marriages are from the family Bible owned by Mrs. Curtis A. Collins of Akron, Ohio.

Children (born Jefferson Co., Ky., probably near Goose Creek, though the two youngest may have been born at Mill Creek):

- i. William, b. 14 July 1806; d. 18 Aug. 1862; mar. Virginia Oglesby; see No. 144.
- ii. James, Jr., b. 10 Mar. 1808; d. 21 Jan. 1831.
- iii. Sarah (Sally) Ward, b. 22 Feb. 1810; d. 15 July 1843 in Missouri; mar. (Jeff. Co., Ky. 23 Nov. 1832) JAMES MCKINNEY; no children.
- iv. Esau, b. 14 Oct. 1811; d. 19 July 1836.
- v. Elizabeth Long, b. 1 June 1813; d. 4 June 1827.
- vi. Isaac Henry, b. 18 May 1815; d. 5 May 1841.
- vii. David Long Ward, b. 29 Apr. 1817; d. 13 Sept. 1896;

mar. 1st Elizabeth Scantlin; 2nd Maria Wooten; see No. 145.

- viii. Mary Ann, b. 9 Mar. 1819; d. 15 Dec. 1893; mar. William P. Smith; see No. 146.
- ix. Rebecca, b. 7 Feb. 1821; d. 12 Oct. 1851; mar. Samuel Calloway; see No. 147.
- x. Eleanor (Nelly), b. 6 Jan. 1823; d. 1860/62; mar. Thomas I. Driskell; see No. 148.
- xi. Joshua Mathis, b. 15 Feb. 1825; d. 20 June 1909; mar. 1st Sarah A. Wiseman; 2nd Emily Fitzgerald; see No. 149.
- xii. Joseph Ward, b. 31 Mar. 1827; d. 3 Nov. 1831.

70 COLLINS ADAMS, son of Philip C. and Priscilla (Boston) Adams (39), was born in Somerset Co., Md. about 1784; he died in Somerset Co. before 25 Oct. 1814. He married (lic. Som. Co. 23 July 1810) Peggy Tilghman. In June 1804 Collins Adams bought articles from the estate of Thomas Milbourne. According to the inventory of the estate of James Tilghman, of Worcester Co., Md., 3 Oct. 1816 (Worc. Inv. MH 16:24-29) among the "Debts desperate" was listed Collins Addams (possibly for his father, Philip Collins Adams, but probably representing an old debt of Collins himself); other names were James Boston (68), Jacob Boston (32 or 57), Isaac M. Addams (first cousin of Collins), Edward Stevenson, Levin and John and Wrixham Payne (see D1), and George Boston.

In Oct. 1814 Phillip Collins Adams, administrator of the estate of his son, Collins, asked that James Boston (68) be appointed administrator; Isaac M. Adams signed (Som. Orphans Court Accts. 1814-15, p. 47; Accts. EB 28:278). According to an inventory of 25 Oct. money was due Philip C. Adams, Levin Boston (son of Joshua, No. 37), and Nancy Adams, probably sister of Collins (Som. Accts. EB 27:233). On 10 Sept. 1816 a record shows that a balance was due the daughter of Collins, Ann Maria Adams (ibid., p. 263), yet on 15 Apr. 1818 another record shows that the Collins Adams for whom James Boston was executor left a child Mary Ann, to whom the balance was due (Som. Accts. JP 5:33), and elsewhere (Som. Bonds EB 28:283 and EB 27:23) James Boston was guardian of Mary Ann Addams.

Child: Mary Ann, b. ? 1811; possibly mar. (lic. Som. Co. 17 Jan. 1831) SAMUEL HOLLAND?

71 THOMAS BOSTON, son of Henry (41) and Nancy (Graham) Boston, was born probably in Somerset Co., Md., near Dividing Creek, 2 June 1800; he died, apparently in Worcester Co., Md., near Newark, between 1840 and 1850. He married (lic. Worc. Co. 8 Jan. 1829) Rachel Cropper, who was born 1805/6 and died 1870/80. On 24 Jan. 1817, in Somerset Co. (Bonds GH 1:113) Thomas Boston, "an orphan, aged 16 last June 2" with "the consent of his mother" was bound apprentice to Thomas Brittingham, a shoe and boot maker. It is certainly the same Thomas listed in the 1830 Federal Census for Worcester Co. next to Isaac Boston and, in 1840, near him. In 1840 Thomas was a farmer. His widow Rachael, with the four children, was listed in 1850 near Newark (9th Election District); in 1870 Rachel was living with the family of Benjamin Twigg and his wife Leah. According to the 1880 Federal Census, both Leah and her brother John reported their father's birthplace as Md.

Children (born Worcester Co., Md., near Newark):

- i. Leah Ann, b. 16 Oct. 1829; d. 21 Feb. 1911; mar. 1st Robert Perkins; 2nd Benjamin Twigg; see No. 150a.
- ii. Mary E., b. 1830.
- iii. John Henry, b. 1832; d. c 1894; mar. Nancy Wooten; see No. 150b.
- iv. Jane L., b. 1838.

72 ISAAC BOSTON, son of Henry (41) and Nancy (Graham) Boston, was born probably in Somerset Co., Md. (but death certificate of daughter Julia in 1923 reports Newark) in 1802; he died near Newark, Md. 18 Apr. 1888 and was buried in the Newark Cemetery. He married 1st (lic. Worc. Co. 26 Nov. 1822) Amelia Jones, daughter of William Jones (see JONES family); she was born Snow Hill, Md. 1802/3 and died, probably near Newark, 1851/55; Isaac and wife Mille were listed in the 1850 census, 9th Election District. He married 2nd (lic. Worc. Co. 3 Apr. 1856) Mary Jane Blades, born 1816, died about 24 Feb. 1893.

On 20 Sept. 1828, for $69, Isaac bought from Josiah and Martha Collins 5 3/4 acres of "Burbages Mistake" on "the country road leading from New Ark to Snow Hill"; this tract Isaac sold to his son, Josiah, for $400, 15 Aug. 1882. By a deed (actually dated 16 May 1829) Isaac also bought from William Stevenson (of John) a tract called "Enlargement" in Queponque Hundred, 100 acres adjacent to the land bought from Collins; by deed of 1 Nov. 1828 Isaac and "Emmala" sold 20 acres of this for $77.60 to James Davis, and on 20 June 1829 another 20 acres to Davis (Worc. Deeds AU:161; ITM 9:196; AU:522, 233; AV:11).

Isaac continued accumulating land. On 18 Aug. 1837, at a public sale at Berlin, for the highest bid of $73 he acquired 10 acres owned by the late Stephen Enniss. On 1 Apr. 1845 for $4500 Isaac bought from Ephraim M. Jones (of Jesse) the Wilson farm or "Wilson Tract" and for $800 he also bought 2 horses, 2 colts, 2 yoke of oxen, 7 head of cattle, 14 head of sheep, 12 lambs, one gig and harness, all his farming utensils and household furniture, 12 head of hogs, about 600 bushels of corn, "together with all the rest and balance of [his] personal estate" (Worc. Deeds GMH 3:92; GMH 8:190, 194).

On 23 Aug. 1845 for $425 Isaac bought from Thomas H. Collins 90 acres near Basket Town on the south side of the road leading from New Ark to Snow Hill, "Hudsons Coil" and "Gladsons Discovery." On 10 July 1852 he bought for $80 from Isaac Bowen and George Teague a tract adjacent land of Whittington Prideux "now held by Stephen B. Collins." On 12 Sept. 1863 for $800 he bought two tracts from Benjamin and Mary Holston, "Timber Grove," 96 acres, and "Morris Security," 37 acres (Worc. Deeds GMH 8:396; EDM 4:673; WET 3:507).

On 4 Nov. 1863 Isaac Boston was appointed a County Commissioner. On 13 Aug. 1871 for $100 he sold to Mary Bowen 11 acres of "Hudsons Lot" on the southwest side of the county road from Basket Switch to the farm of the late Thomas Johnson, Sr., and on 8 Aug. 1883 he and his wife Jane sold for $15 a lot in Newark District at Basket Switch on the Delaware, Maryland & Virginia RR (Worc. Deeds ITM 1:585; ITM 11:87).

Isaac was a farmer; however, an inventory of his estate, made 23 Apr. 1888 (Worc. Inv. TDP 3:367-69) listed the usual tools, dishes, and furniture, but no animals or farm equipment; William T. Boston was executor; the heirs named were the widow Jane Boston and children William T. and Josiah Boston, Mary E. Hickman (wife of John S. Hickman), Julia Trader, and Clara Kreer (of Pa.).

Mary Jane Boston, widow of Isaac, on 4 May 1889, sold to Josiah J. Boston for $80 all her right and title in her husband's land (Worc. Deeds JWS 3:321). The estate of Jane Boston, with an inventory dated 24 Feb. 1893, was administered by Elizabeth T. Mills, succeeded by Zadok Powell (Worc. Inv. TDP 7:90, 209).

The names and birth dates of Isaac's children are to be found written on a loose sheet of paper among the leaves of a Gray Bible owned by Mrs. Ralph Brittingham, of Berlin, Md.

Children, by first marriage (born near Newark, Worcester Co., Md.):

- i. William Thomas, b. 16 Nov. 1824; d. 10 Apr. 1892; mar. 1st Charlotte A. Davis; 2nd Harriet Duncan; 3rd Zenie C. Marshall; see No. 151.

73 HENRY BOSTON, son of Henry (41) and Nancy (Graham) Boston, was born probably in Somerset Co., Md., about 1804; he died, presumably in Worcester Co., Md., 1840/50. He married (lic. Worc. Co. 17 Feb. 1829) Nancy Morris, whose family reportedly owned property on South Point below Ocean City, Md.; she died before 1850. Henry, with a family, was listed in the northern section of Worcester Co., in the Federal Census of 1830 and of 1840, when he was shown to be a farmer with 9 slaves; his children by 1850 were located near Newark. According to the 1880 Federal Census his children Henry (in Accomack Co., Va.) and Elizabeth (in Worcester Co.) reported their father's birthplace as Md.

Children (born Worcester Co., Md.):

- i. Sarah, b. 1832; d. c 1862; mar. Thomas Marsh; see No. 155.
- ii. Daughter [Nancy?], b. 1834; d. young.
- iii. Henry, b. 28 May 1836; d. soon after 19 Oct. 1896; mar. Mary Booth; see No. 156.
- iv. Elizabeth Jane, b. 1838; d. 6 Aug. 1903; mar. her cousin, Henry P. Jackson; see No. 157.

73a MARY BOSTON, daughter of Elijah (42) and Mary (Cottingham) Boston, was born at Pitts Creek, Worcester Co., Md., about 1783; she died probably in Worcester Co. 1841/50; mar. (lic. Worc. Co. 19 Aug. 1805) STEPHEN JACKSON, son probably of William Jackson (the only Jackson in the 1790 Federal Census for Worcester Co. with a son over 16 and one under 16); Stephen was born c 1775/80; he died in Worcester Co. before 21 Sept. 1840 (prob.). He is listed in the 1820 census (Worc. Co., p. 72), evidently in the Newark area, with a daughter (b. 1804/10) and two daughters and a son (b. 1810/20). He signed his will 29 Aug. 1840, leaving all property to his wife, Mary, during her natural life; he left "all my clothing" to son Henry, made a bequest of land to Mariah Maddux (wife of William), where William Maddux formerly lived, and mentioned Sally M. Jackson and "other children" (Worc. Wills LPS 1:185).

Children (born Worcester Co., Md., probably near Newark):

- i. Sally M., b. c 1808.
- ii. Henry Purnell, b. 3 Feb. 1812; d. by 28 Mar. 1891; mar. 1st Hetty Holland; 2nd his cousin Elizabeth J. Boston; see No. 157.
- iii. Daughter, b. c 1815.
- iv. Hetty, b. 1819/20; mar. (lic. Worc. Co. 16 May 1861) JAMES DUBBERLY; Hetty was probably a daughter of Stephen, in 1850 living with the family of Dr. Charles Jones.

74 ELIZABETH ROUNDS BOSTON, daughter of Elijah (44) and Ann (Rounds) Boston, was born in Somerset Co., Md., probably near Rehobeth, 28 Mar. 1815; she died at Pendleton, Ind. 8 Dec. 1878, and was buried in the Pendleton Cemetery. She married (probably at Pendleton, 27 June 1832) HEZEKIAH MAGRUDER GOE, son of William Goe (1769-1835) and his wife, Casandra Jones (1771-1825); he was born in Fayette Co., Pa. 23 May 1807; he died in Indianapolis, Ind. 4 Jan. 1892. He was a farmer. Elizabeth died from the effects of an accident: the family was accustomed to going to church in a wagon in the back of which chairs had been placed as seats; on one occasion the horse or horses took fright crossing the railroad tracks and jolted the wagon so suddenly that Elizabeth fell out with her chair, thus suffering doubly serious injuries from which she never recovered. Dates of birth, marriages, and deaths are from the family Bible of Hezekiah and Elizabeth Rounds Goe, now in the possession of their grandson, Charles L. Railsback; a notarized photostat copy of the records is in the D. A. R. Library, Washington, D. C.

Children (born in or near Pendleton, Madison Co., Ind.):

90 WILLIAM S. BURTON, son of John and Elizabeth (Small) Burton (49), born Accomack Co., Va. 1826/27; died Accomack Co. before 26 July 1869; mar. (Acco. Co. bond 22 Jan. 1850) Nancy Rew, daughter of John Rew and probably Elizabeth Cheshire (Acco. bond 26 Mar. 1810); Nancy was born 1827/28 and died probably soon after 1851. According to the 1850 census William's mother was living with William and Nancy.

On 13 Jan. 1847 William stood security with William P. Trader on a marriage bond for William Knight and Charlotte Trader. On 1 July 1853 William bought from his great-uncle, Daniel Boston, an unspecified tract of land, adjacent the land of Elizabeth Burton, Samuel T. Taylor, Henry Davis, and Boston, for three barrels of corn to be paid yearly to Boston during his natural life (Acco. Deeds 39:107). On 13 Jan. 1857 Burton bought from Benjamin T.W. and Ann Byrd, for $40, a two-acre tract next to the "neck road"; his cousin, Henry L. Wessells, was officiating justice of the peace (Acco. Deeds 1855-58:517).

On 26 July 1869 James A. Hall was appointed special commissioner by the court to sell the lands of Burton as the result of a suit in chancery brought by Richard Summers and Obadiah Godwin for themselves and other creditors of Burton against Burton's administrators. The land named was the "Knight land" and a 35 acre tract belonging to Burton, "subject to the life estate of his mother, Elizabeth Burton, it being the same tract devised to him by the last will and testament of Nancy Small," 100 acres; the land was sold 5 Jan. 1870 to E. H. Conquest and Samuel T. Taylor (Acco. Orders 1869-70:192; Deeds 1869-71:152-3).

107 JOHN BOSTON, son of Samuel M. (56) and Leah (Merrill) Boston, born near Newtown, Md. 3 Sept. 1804; died, probably near Newtown, 14 Jan. 1854; mar. 1st (lic. Worc. Co., Md. 4 Aug. 1825) Mary L. Barrett, daughter presumably of James and Catherine (Layfield) Barrett (see LAYFIELD family), born near Newtown, 5 Sept. 1802; died probably near Newtown, 15 Mar. 1839. He mar. 2nd (lic. Som. Co. 30 June 1840; ceremony performed 1 July) Leah Smith Adams, daughter of Thomas and Elinor S. (Landon) Adams (see ADAMS family), born probably near Newtown in Somerset Co., Md. 28 June 1817; died Pocomoke City (Newtown), Md. 28 Dec. 1879; she mar. 2nd (lic. Worc. Co. 2 Nov. 1860) Alfred H. Benson (b. 1819/20); in 1870 they were living in Newtown, where Benson was a bailiff.

On 13 Oct. 1834 John witnessed the will of Esther Benson in Worcester Co. On 1 Feb. 1835 he purchased from Betsy Barrett, for $145, "Hog Quarter" and Cypress Swamp known as "Great Conveniency," and 15 acres more or less, which came to her by the death of Thomas Layfield (Worc. Deeds GMH 2:367). On 10 Apr. 1843 he purchased from John Stevenson for $200 a Negro boy Henry, about 15 years old (Worc. Deeds GMH 6:307). On 29 Aug. 1843 with John Whittington and John H. Dennis he was appointed a commissioner in answer to a petition from Arthur R. and Shepherd A. R. Powell and Elijah Schoolfield, "anxious for a private road through land of a certain Robert Lamden to get down to their Cypress Swamp" (Worc. Deeds GMH 6:533). On 30 Nov. 1844 John Boston and Leah his wife, of Worcester Co., John Johnson and wife Sallie, and Levi, Levin and Littleton Adams, all of Somerset Co., for $700, sold to Edward Broughton all that part of a tract (80 acres) being all the land which Thomas Adams of Levi late of Somerset Co. had; witnesses were S. Wilkins and Lazarus Lankford (Som. Deeds 62:356). On 5 July 1848 John Boston and his wife Leah S., with Samuel and Elizabeth Boston, all of Worcester Co., and Esau Boston and wife Ann, of Somerset Co., for $4378.25, sold to Levin Merrill of Worcester Co. tracts "Hog Quarter" and "Dennis Outlet," about two miles above Cedar Hall, adjacent Zadok Wheeler and the heirs of Henry Wheeler, land that Samuel Boston bought of Henry Wheeler and Edward Lambden, 89 1/4 acres that formerly belonged to Samuel Boston, the father of these heirs (Worc. Deeds EDM 2:135).

On 24 Aug. 1850 John Boston with his brother, Jesse, and Levin Merrill, bought for $700 from Thomas W. and Margaret W. Hargis, a 28 acre tract, "Hog Quarter," formerly belonging to John N. Whittington, on a road leading from the county road by Edward Lambden's house, adjacent Levin Merrill's (formerly Layfield's) lands, adjacent a small tract sold to Edward Lambden by Merrill and John and Jesse Boston (Worc. Deeds EDM 3:391).

In 1850 John lived in the first election district of Worcester Co. below Newtown, near Pitts Creek. On the bond for Boston's estate, 6 Feb. 1854, William H. S. Merrill was executor, and securities were George Hargis and George S. Richardson. To judge by the inventory of the estate, made 9 Feb. 1859 by Francis Mezick and James D. Sturgis, John was a farmer and cooper. Besides the usual farm tools and animals were a canoe and sails, 5 hives and bees, 4 "Guine Birds"; 2 cooper benches, tools, cooper's staves, iron hoops, and cooper's ware, all in the Cooper's Shop; shaving apparatus; "1 Double Barrell Gun & app., "1 Book of Martyrs and Bible"; 17 bed quilts and quilting frames (Worc. Accts. GBG 3:93). The Key to Guardian Accts. (Worc. Co.) 19 Jan. 1859 identifies Robert H., Alexine, and Mary as orphans of John; Leah Boston was their guardian; securities were Henry H. Husted and Samuel J. Boston.

John Boston's Bible is now in the possession of Mrs. Charles H. Miller of Baltimore (1271).

Children (born Worcester Co., Md., probably near Newtown):

By first marriage:

- i. Emaline Katharine Elizabeth, b. 19 June 1827; d. New Richmond, Ohio, 4 May 1846; mar. (St. Martin's Episcopal Church, near Berlin, Md. 9 Dec. 1845) JOHN S. MERRILL; no children.
- ii. Jesse, b. 23 Oct. 1829; d. 25 Dec. 1856; single.

William H. Beam; see No. 250.

vii. Mary Orrilia, b. 28 Oct. 1844; d. 17 Feb. 1907; mar. John H. Dryden; see No. 251.

viii. Adolphus, b. 20 Sept. 1846; d. 25 Sept. 1848.

108 ESAU BOSTON, son of Samuel M. (56) and Leah (Merrill) Boston, born near Newtown, Md. 10 June 1810 (Bible); died near Newtown, of accidental poisoning, from poison that got on his tobacco, 12 Apr. 1855; mar. (24 Apr. 1834) Sarah Ann Marshall, born 1 Jan. 1812; died in 1897. (For her family, see Supplement, S108, p. 459, and MARSHALL FAMILY on pp. 417 and 453.)

On 14 Nov. 1826 Samuel Boston bound his son, Esau ("16 last 3 June") to William H. Merrill "to learn the art, trade, or mystery of a Hatter, . . . to dwell with and serve the said . . . Merrill . . . until he shall [be] twenty-one; . . . the apprentice his said master faithfully shall serve, his secrets keep, and his lawful commands everywhere readily obey; he shall do no damage to his said master nor wilfully see any done by others; he shall not contract matrimony; . . . he shall not frequent taverns, . . . nor absent himself day nor night without his said masters leave, but shall behave himself as a good and faithful apprentice" (Worc. Accts. LPS 5:194). According to the 1850 census Esau was a farmer, living in the First Election (Costen's) District of Worcester Co. On 11 Mar. 1845 he sold to John D. Marshall for $200, a Negro George, aged about 12 years, and on 20 June 1850 Marshall, for $360, sold to Sarah A. Boston, Esau's wife, the same slave, "now in possession of Esau Boston." On 11 Mar. 1845 Esau also sold to John D. Marshall, for $200, part of "Hog Quarter" where Samuel Boston resided at the time of his death, which land descended to Esau from said Samuel, his father. Apparently for a few years between 1845 and 1850 Esau moved with his family to Somerset Co., possibly near Salisbury (now Wicomico Co.) where they settled after his death, for he was residing in Somerset Co. when he sold the rest of his father's lands with his brothers and sister (see 107) in 1848. On 2 Feb. 1850 Esau, called "Junior," was appointed one of the justices of the peace for Worcester Co. (Worc. Deeds GMH 8:168, 3:232, 8:169; EDM 3:153). In 1855 George W. Bishop was executor for Esau's estate, and securities on the bond (8 May 1855) were Teagle Townsend and John D. Marshall. The Key to Guardian Accts. (Worc. Co.) identifies Charles B., Ezra S., and Sarah E. Boston as orphans of Esau (10 Mar. 1857); Sarah A. Boston was their guardian, with George W. Bishop (their uncle) and John D. Marshall securities.

Children (first three born near Newtown, Worcester Co., Md.):

- i. William Samuel, b. 3 Feb. 1835; d. 10 Oct. 1911; mar. 1st Sarah J. Larmore; 2nd Mrs. Virginia McCarder; see No. 252.
- ii. Charles Bishop, b. 16 Apr. 1840; d. 20 May 1913; mar. Phoebe J. Davis; see No. 253.
- iii. Ezra Smith, b. 16 Aug. 1846; d. 18 Mar. 1917; mar. Eliza E. Phillips; see No. 254.

109 ANNE BOSTON, daughter of Jacob (57) and Sally (Jones) Boston, born near Newtown, Md. 10 Dec. 1819; died, probably near Rehobeth, in Somerset Co., Md. 18 Sept. 1870, buried in family burial plot on her father's farm near Newtown. She mar. 1st (lic. Worc. Co. 16 Feb. 1841) HENRY MARTIN STEVENSON, son of Edward and Nancy (Williams) Stevenson (see STEVENSON family), born Worcester Co. 12 June 1812; died, probably in Newtown, 17 June 1854, buried on the Boston farm. She mar. 2nd (Worc. Co. 28 Jan. 1867) JOHN STRATTON DRYDEN (1821-1883), her brother-in-law (see No. 113) as his third wife. Both her husbands were farmers. In 1850 the Stevensons were living in or on the edge of Newtown; with them were Anne's aunt, Mrs. Leah Mills (59) and her grandson, Joseph Mills (275). In 1870 Anne and her husband, John Dryden, were living near Rehobeth, in Somerset Co., her sons Frank and Ira Stevenson with them.

On 25 Apr. 1843 Anne Stevenson witnessed the will of her mother-in-law, Nancy Stevenson Long. On 11 July 1854 an inventory was made of the estate of Henry M. Stevenson, by Joseph F. Henderson and Zorabable Smullen. Besides tools and farm animals, the list included 1 box and bottles, 2 boxes and vials, and 1 lot of bottles and vials; 75 pounds of pork; a family Bible, and several lots of books; hatter's tools, a China vase, a set of bow strings, and 14 quilts. The inventory also disclosed that the farm included a granary, a corn house, a meal house, a smoke house, and a colonnade; rooms in the house, as listed, were a sitting room, bed room, and parlor. On 25 July Ann Stevenson was ordered to sell the personal property of Henry; the sale took place 7 Aug. (Worc. Accts. GBG 3:311, 386, 428).

In 1866 William was elected elder of the Pitts Creek Presbyterian Church. On 13 May 1874 he was appointed one of the commissioners to divide the land of Jesse Lekirtz, and again on 24 May 1877 he was a commissioner to divide the real estate of Stephen Pilchard. On 15 June 1875, in return for $400 owed to him and his brother-in-law, John W. Payne, from James H. Vincent, he took a mortgage on a lot near Newtown. On 14 Jan. 1889 he and his wife with his sister-in-law, Louisa Payne, sold to James H. Landing for $100, 8 acres in the 1st Election District, and to Arjetta Payne 15 acres for $100. On 11 Mar. 1889 William E. Dickerson, indebted to Boston for $150, turned over to him a cow, a mule, and other items. On 28 Apr. 1892 Boston took a mortgage on property of Levin Mills (Worc. Deeds ITM 3: 499, 5:469, 4:55; JWS 3:123 & 125 & 248; FHP 2:540).

On 3 Jan. 1891, with his wife and Louisa Payne, Boston sold land left by his mother-in-law, Leah Payne. Finally, on 31 July 1907, William and Leah, for $1725, sold to their son-in-law, Eugene C. Payne, the Boston "home farm," i. e. the Jones farm known as "Aberdeen," in the 1st Election District, reserving only "a small piece or parcel of land containing about one-eighth of an acre, now used and known as the family grave yard, together with the right of ingress and egress, over the private lane or road leading from the County road to the dwelling house, and reserving also the right to drain the farm or tract of land Northwest of the lands hereby conveyed where Jacob and Joseph Boston now live through the land hereby conveyed by such drains as now exist." Two years later, on 22 June 1909, Payne and his wife, Virginia V., for $3500, conveyed the farm to Lora P. Outen; it is still owned by the Outen family (Worc. Deeds FHP 1:225; 28:84; ODC 5:472). Members of the family report that W. T. Boston was a "gentleman" farmer, letting his sons perform the necessary farm work; when the last of his sons left home, he had no choice but to dispose of the farm. He apparently had time to make fairly frequent trips to Baltimore, for it is reported that he often visited there his cousin, Jacob Boston (61) and family.

Children (born on the farm near Newtown, or Pocomoke City, Worcester Co., Md.):

- i. John Jacob, b. 2 Nov. 1861; d. 9 Jan. 1916; mar. Jane E. Pilchard; see No. 268.
- ii. William James, b. 15 Dec. 1863; d. 18 June 1917; mar. 1st Miranda W. Redden; 2nd Laura P. Lewis; see No. 269.
- iii. Joseph Polk, b. 21 Jan. 1866; d. 2 Apr. 1942; mar. 1st Annie V. Davis; 2nd Sadie G. Powell; see No. 270.
- iv. Libby Leah, b. 31 Mar. 1868; d. 28 Feb. 1940; mar. John L. Aydelotte; see No. 271.
- v. Sarah Ann, b. 8 Dec. 1870; d. 30 July 1871; buried in family plot.
- vi. Mary Ella, b. 5 Aug. 1872; d. 2 Apr. 1941; mar. 1st Edward S. L. Davis; 2nd William J. Davis; see No. 272.
- vii. Fannie Macon, b. 30 Jan. 1875; d. 20 Dec. 1905; mar. her distant cousin, Eugene C. Payne; see Nos. 272a and E10.
- viii. Harriet Wise, b. 29 Apr. 1877; d. Danville, Ky. 23 June 1941; mar. (19 Dec. 1913) JOSEPH WEBB HACKNEY; no children.
- ix. Raymond Thomas, b. 7 Apr. 1883; d. Pocomoke City? 13 Feb. 1953; mar. (Pocomoke, 11 July 1943) his sister-in-law, Sadie Grace Powell Boston, widow of Joseph; he was a farmer and was active in the Pocomoke Baptist Church.

115 HENRY CUSTIS BOSTON, son of Esau (58) and Augusta (Beauchamp) Boston, born probably in Accomack Co., Va., near Greenbackville (or possibly in Worcester Co., Md., at Pitts Creek) about 1808; died Worcester Co., probably at Pitts Creek, before 11 June 1844; mar. (lic. Worc. Co. 14 Mar. 1836) Leah Adams, daughter of H. G. and Sarah Adams, born 1818; died probably at Pitts Creek, before 10 Jan. 1882. She mar. 2nd (lic. Worc. Co. 13 June 1850) Levin M. Lambden (b. 1815); they had one daughter, Harriet (b. 1853/4; d. young). In the 1820 Somerset Co. census a Sarah Adams (of H. G.), presumably widow, was the only Adams with children of the appropriate ages; Sarah, b. 1789/90, was living with son Henry in 1850 (#816, Brinkley's District) and his family, including Jane M. Adams. Jane M. Adams (1817-1853) in her will named sister Leah Lambden, niece Sally Ann Boston, and brother Henry J. Adams (1819-1883), who in his will desired to be buried by his first wife at Kingston Church (Som. Wills JP 5:214 & 668). No evidence has been found to connect these Adamses with the Adams family of Somerset Co.

On 22 Nov. 1843 Henry C. Boston, for $525, purchased from William B. and Mary Ann White 180 acres, "Conveniency," on Parting Creek that "issueth out of Pocomoke River," adjacent lands of Isaac Layfield, deceased, and land of Dennis, where Stephen White formerly lived (Worc. Deeds GMH 7:25). This land is more specifically described in the appraisal by John S. Stevenson and John M. Houston of the real estate of John H. Boston, minor, deceased son of Henry, made 15 Nov. 1849 (Worc. Inv. TT 6:216-17). The farm was described as on or near "the Pocomoke River about seven miles below New Town adjoining the lands of Levin Merrill and John U. Dennis (in Cypress Neck) and known by the name of 'Conveniency' containing 180 acres including some marsh about 75 acres, . . . is in cultivation. The improvements consist of a frame dwelling house, single story, 15 by 16 feet square, a colonade 15 by 15 feet square, a kitchen 15 by 15, a log smoke house, 10 feet square, and granary in good repair. The one third of said farm belongs to the said John H. Boston. . . and is incumbered with a Widow's dower; the value of the whole farm is 900 dollars and clear of Dower seven hundred and fifty dollars, the one third of which is $250."

Henry Boston died shortly before 11 June 1844; the June Court ordered that Esau Boston (58), administrator of Henry C. Boston, make sale of the whole of the personal estate of the deceased at public auction, after first giving ten days' notice by advertisement previous to the day of sale (Worc. Court Proceedings SRS 1:204). The settlement of Henry's estate shows his children to be Sarah Ann, Alfred Thomas, and John Henry (Worc. Accts. SRS 2:228, 238, 543). The Key to Guardian Accts. (Worc. Co.) identifies Alfred T. and Sally A. Boston as the (surviving) orphans of Henry as of 15 Nov. 1849; Esau Boston was their guardian (see also Worc. Accts. LPS 16:387). Money was due the estate from Jacob Boston (57), $7.86 for himself and $138.77 as administrator of J. S. Mills (119), and from John Boston (107) (Worc. Court Proceedings SRS 2:543). According to the inventory made of Henry's estate, 1 July 1844, he appears to have been a shoemaker, as well as a farmer. The items included a lot of shoemaker's tools, a box and shoe pegs, 4 crimping boards, 2 clamps and cutting board, and 2 shoe benches in the shop. Other items were a steel trap, fishing line, a sorrell colt, and 7 bee hives (Worc. Court Proceedings SRS 2:228-30).

On 10 Jan. 1882 James H. Boston, executor of Leah A. Lambden, was ordered to sell her personal estate (ibid. GTB 7:347).

Children (born Worcester Co., Md., near Pitts Creek):

- i. Sarah Ann, b. 12 Mar. 1838; d. 1 May 1866; mar. Henry L. Pilchard; see No. 273.
- ii. Alfred Thomas, b. 1840; d. Dec. 1877; mar. Sallie A. Schoolfield; see No. 274.
- iii. John Henry, b. c 1842; d. before 15 Nov. 1849; Esau Boston, his grandfather, was executor for his estate.

116 JOHN B[EAUCHAMP?] BOSTON, son of Esau (58) and Augusta (Beauchamp) Boston, born Pitts Creek, Md. in 1811; died Baltimore, Md. 11 Aug. 1862; mar. (Baltimore, 16 Feb. 1837) Ruthelia Mary Newton, born in New York in 1813; died Baltimore, ?25 Oct. 1877, both buried Greenmount Cemetery. John was listed as head of a household in the 1850 census in the 3rd Ward of Baltimore (#1909). He was a hatter, a craft which he probably learned in the firm of his cousin, Jacob Boston (61). Ruthelia N. Boston, by her will, signed 16 July 1870 (prob. 30 Oct. 1877), made bequests to her son Robert N. (a gold watch), to son Harry E., and to Mary Rebecca Bowers (a silver tea service, a mahogany case of knives, etc.). A codicil of 20 Dec. 1870 named as executors (in place of the Rev. David Bowers) her son Harry and John E. H. Boston (122), son of Jacob (61) (Baltimore Wills 44:106).

Children (Born Baltimore, Md.):

- i. [John?] Edward, b. 1841; d. ?3 Sept. 1844; buried in the Boston plot, Greenmount Cemetery.
- ii. Edward A., b. 12 Aug. 1842; d. 26 Feb. 1868; buried Greenmount.
- iii. Mary Jane, b. Dec. 1843; d. ?3 Sept. 1844; buried Greenmount.
- iv. Mary Jane, b. 1844/45; d. ? Chestertown, Md. ?10 Mar. 1918; buried in Boston plot, Greenmount; she apparently married but was divorced and resumed her maiden name; she may have married Harry Cashmeyer, or C. Getz.
- v. Robert Newton, b. 1846; d. 15 Jan. 1926; mar. Alice A. Parks; see No. 274a.
- vi. Henry (Harry) Eugene, b. 1848; d. Baltimore, 18 Feb. 1885 (Baltimore Letters of Administration 44:10).

117 MARY GRACE BOSTON, daughter of Esau (58) and Mariah (Melvin) Boston, born Pitts Creek, Md. 10 Dec. 1849; died Pocomoke City, Md. 22 Jan. 1931; mar. (Worc. Co., Md. 13 July 1871) WILLIAM ULYSSES SCHOOLFIELD, son of William and Margaret (Redden) Schoolfield, born 20 Aug. 1849; died Pocomoke City?, 8 Nov. 1927; both buried Presbyterian Cemetery there. He was a civil engineer. In 1877 he was appointed guard-

118 JAMES HENRY BOSTON, son of Esau (58) and Mariah (Melvin) Boston, born Pitts Creek, Md. 16 Aug. 1852; died Baltimore, Md. 11 Mar. 1918; mar. (Worc. Co. 22 Jan. 1879) Susan F. Clogg, daughter of James and Elizabeth (Moore) Clogg, born 7 Jan. 1858; died 18 Aug. 1922; both buried M. E. Cemetery, Pocomoke. The Key to Guardian Accts. (Worc. Co.) identifies James H. Boston as son of Esau, with Alfred D. Merrill guardian (27 Sept. 1870) and a court order of 23 June 1873 ordered guardian A. D. Merrill to pay over the whole amount of the property to James (Worc. Court Proceedings GWB 7:27). James was at first a farmer at Pitts Creek. On 10 May 1883 he sold to Erastus Blades for $300 the land left to him by the will of his father (Worc. Deeds ITM9:459), the ancestral land which had been in the family for nearly a century and a half. Subsequently James moved to Baltimore where he was a member of the police force; he was listed as a policeman in the 1889 Directory, at 414 No. Ann St.

Child (born Pitts Creek, Worcester Co., Md.):

- i. Mabel, b. 1 Oct. 1880; d. Salisbury, Md. (hospital) 16 Oct. 1958; buried Salem Meth. Cem.; mar. 1st (Baltimore, c1900) BEVERLY HITCH (div.); 2nd (Snow Hill, Md. 4 Mar. 1914) ELIJAH J. SCHOOLFIELD; no children; she lived in Pocomoke City most of her life.

119 JOHN SMITH MILLS, son of Levin and Leah (Boston) Mills (59), born Worcester Co., Md., probably near Pitts Creek, 24 Oct. 1813; died Worcester Co., probably at Pitts Creek, 23 Dec. 1844; mar. 1st (Newtown - lic. Worc. Co. 30 Apr. 1839) Mary Ann Scott, daughter of Joseph and Mary Ann (Gunby) Scott (see SCOTT and GUNBY families), born 16 Aug. 1821; died, probably at Newtown, 16 Feb. 1840; mar. 2nd (Worc. Co. 31 Oct. 1843) Amelia E. Bacon, who mar. 2nd (Worc. Co. 30 Nov. 1853) Samuel H. Truitt. William Scott, brother of John's first wife, married John's cousin, Elizabeth Boston (111). John S. Mills was a tanner by trade, having been apprenticed to General Ebenezer Hearne, with whom he became a partner (mentioned by Eben Hearne). At the time of John's death, on 2 Jan. 1845 a court order authorized John S. Stevenson and Alfred Benson to appraise his goods; the inventory of 6 Jan. itemized goods valued at $2773.41. Jacob Boston (57), John's uncle, administrator of the estate, was empowered to sell the goods (Worc. Co. Inv. SRS 2:285, 324, 530). (Dates are from Bible records owned by Mrs. Katherine Mills Steel.)

Child (born Newtown, Worcester Co., Md.):

- i. Joseph Levin, b. 5 Feb. 1840; d. 23 Dec. 1924; mar. Marietta Dickinson; see No. 275.

120 JACOB LOUIS BOSTON, son of Jesse (60) and Nancy (Collier) Boston, born Spencer Co., Ky., probably at Mt. Eden, 11 Sept. 1833; died Wilsonville, Ky. 29 Mar. 1911; mar. (at Thomas Simpson's, Spencer Co. 23 Nov. 1854) Jane Simpson, daughter probably of Samuel or George Simpson and his wife, Susan, born Spencer Co. 30 Sept. 1836 (1838 on her gravestone); died Wilsonville, 12 Oct. 1915; both buried Bethlehem Cemetery.

Jacob was a blacksmith; as such he was listed in the 1850 census in the household of blacksmith Francis H. Bowls; subsequently Jacob ran his own shop for forty years. The story is told in the family that during the Civil War he shod many a horse for Union soldiers (raiders); they would ride up and order him to shoe their horses, then afterwards ride away without paying or even thanking him. He dug a hole under a wood floor by his work bench; when the raiders would come he would hide his horse-shoes and nails, then tell them he would shoe their horses if they had shoes and nails; he kept his own for his friends and neighbors. One night a gang of Union raiders broke into his house and took everything of value, demolishing what they did not take.

In July 1896 a flash flood, which sent water halfway up the windows, came so quickly that the family saved almost nothing. The flood even washed away the store across the street. As a result of his calamity Jacob built a five-room house on thirty-six acres he had just over the line in Jefferson Co. and left Wilsonville.

Jacob and his family were members of Bethlehem Presbyterian Church until, with Plum Creek Presbyterian, it united with Cane Run Presbyterian Church, where they continued as members. He was a charter member of Elk Creek Masonic Lodge, No. 405.

Children (born Spencer Co., Ky., all but first two at Wilsonville):

- i. Susan Mary, b. Normandy (or Wilsonville), 22 Aug. 1855; d. 10 Jan. 1926; single; buried Bethlehem Cem.
- ii. Nancy Alice, b. Normandy (or Wilsonville), 26 Nov. 1857; d. 3 June 1864; single.
- iii. Moses Graham, b. 11 Aug. 1860; d. 9 Oct. 1931; mar. 1st Harvey Belle Hopewell; 2nd Sallie B. Reid; see No. 276.
- iv. Thomas Levi, b. 11 May 1863; d. 10 Mar. 1923; mar. Delilah Omer; see No. 277.
- v. Jessie Minor, b. 26 Dec. 1865; d. 6 Dec. 1947; mar. Christina Reid; see No. 278.
- vi. Ida Leah, b. 8 Mar. 1869; d. 7 Nov. 1938; buried Elk Creek Baptist Cemetery; mar. (at home of Presby. minister, 7322 W. Broadway, Louisville, Ky. 16 Jan. 1919) DELANCEY CARMICHAEL; no children; she was a school teacher and a music teacher in her younger days.
- vii. Pearl May, b. 12 Apr. 1872; d. 7 Dec. 1944; buried Bethlehem Cemetery, Spencer Co.; mar. (with her sister in a double ceremony, 16 Jan. 1919) JACOB E. CURREY (1850-1928); no children.
- viii. Sallie, b. 11 Feb. 1875; d. 9 June 1877.

121 SUSAN MARY BOSTON, daughter of Jesse (60) and Nancy (Collier) Boston, born Spencer Co., Ky., probably at Mt. Eden, 26 Dec. 1837; died Louisville, Ky. 8 May 1925; mar. (Spencer Co. 17 Jan. 1855) JAMES MADRAS HEADY, son of Reason and Ann (Shelburn) Heady, born probably in Spencer Co. 24 Nov. 1836; died Louisville 14 Aug. 1909; both buried at Elk Creek, Spencer Co. J. M. Heady as a child moved with his family to Louisville where his father died in 1848. James at sixteen learned the painter's trade, which he followed until the war interrupted his business in 1861. In 1863 he began a saddle and harness business at Van Dyke's Mill, but he later moved to Wilsonville. In 1867 he turned to general merchandising, which he continued until he retired in 1890 and moved back to Louisville. For several years after 1868 he was postmaster at Wilsonville.

Children (born Wilsonville, Spencer Co., Ky.):

- i. John Burr, b. 15 Mar. 1857; d. 17 Nov. 1917; mar. Katie E. Mullin; see No. 279.
- ii. Spurier B., b. 14 Apr. 1859; d. 24 Sept. 1875.

- iv. Reason Jessie, b. 11 Mar. 1867; d. 11 Oct. 1940; mar. Pearl D. Crutcher; see No. 281.

122 JOHN EDWIN HINES BOSTON, son of Jacob (61) and Susan (Hines) Boston, born Baltimore, Md. 13 Apr. 1828; died Baltimore, 18 Feb. 1889; mar. (1852?) Cecilia Guyton, daughter of Joshua Guyton II and his wife, Elizabeth Meade (b. 12 Nov. 1797; d. 22 July 1884); she was born at the jail, Harford Co., Md., where her father was sheriff, 5 Apr. 1827; she died Baltimore, 21 July 1891; both buried Loudon Park Cemetery.

According to the Baltimore census of 1850, John was a clerk living with his parents. He worked for and ultimately became head of a tin plate importing firm, originally called E. L. Parker & Co., of 83 S. Charles St. (according to the 1889 Baltimore directory), later Parker, Boston & Leeds (Leeds subsequently went on to become the "tinplate king") (information from papers of Charles A. Boston). In 1889 John was living at 2120 St. Paul St. with his two sons, both listed as lawyers.

John was acquainted with the family of his cousin, John B. Boston (116), for by the codicil in the will of the latter's wife, Ruthelia, 1870, John E. H. Boston was named an executor.

John E. H. Boston made his will 28 July 1881. He bequeathed to his son, Charles Anderson Boston, a gold headed cane, his large two-volume family Bible, and a case of silver presented to him on his twenty-fifth anniversary by Oliver A. Parker. To his son, John Guyton Boston, he left a Bible, a watch presented to him by the Sunday School of the Fayette Street Methodist Church, and other silver ware. Books in his library were to be divided between his two sons Charles and John, and all money due him from E. L. Parker & Co. and from the sale of furniture was to be distributed as follows: $200 to his sister-in-law, Elizabeth Guyton; $200 annually to be paid to his father, Jacob, and to his sister, Mrs. Mary Anderson, whose sons were not of age; the guardian of her sons was to be Oliver A. Parker. His friends Oliver and Llewellyn L. Parker were to be executors. When the will was admitted to probate 18 Feb. 1889 Oliver Parker and John G. Boston refused to serve as executors, asking that the court appoint Charles A. Boston (Balt. Wills 61:376).

Children (born Baltimore, Md.):

138 WILLIAM A. BOSTON, son of James A. (68) and Sally Boston, born Somerset Co., Md., probably at "Cokesbury," 1812/13; died at Tangaloo, near Madison Station, Miss., about 1889; buried in an old cemetery about two miles from the family farm; mar. (Howard Co., Mo. 1844) Cassandra Carson, daughter of William Carson (1786-1853) and his wife, Cassandra Boone (1796-1864); she was born in or near Fayette?, Howard Co., Mo. in 1824; she died at Tangaloo in 1877 (see Spraker, The Boone Family, 1922). On 11 Sept. 1854 William A. and James W. Boston, both of Carroll Co., Missouri, sold to Sally W. Landing, for $5.00, land formerly belonging to James Boston, their father (Som. Co. Deeds LW 3:253). About 1843 William had migrated to Carroll Co., where he had become a farmer near Wakenda, eventually buying a tract of land which he and his wife sold 4 Aug. 1865; part had been sold at a sheriff's sale 23 Mar. as a result of two judgments of 4 Sept. 1860 against Boston and James S. Logan for debts. On 7 Aug. 1865 James sold to Sarah Boston for $1 his interest in a crop of tobacco as security for a note, and on 26 Aug. he similarly sold interest in another crop of tobacco (Carroll Co., Mo., Deeds V:63, 104, 184, 207). In 1860 in the Federal Census he is listed with his family in Grand River Township. Between 1865 and 1875 he moved to Mississippi, where he became a steamboat captain on the Mississippi River and a cotton planter, with a plantation at Tangaloo, near Madison Station. He was reportedly something of a Greek scholar, having secured his education in Maryland and Pennsylvania.

Children (born presumably near Wakenda, Carroll Co., Mo.):

- i. Sarah (Sally), b. 1845; living 1865.
- ii. William, b. 1847; d. as a young man; single.
- iii. Jennie, b. 19 July 1850; d. Jackson, Miss. 20 Jan. 1935; buried Cedarlawn Cemetery; single operated the Boston farm; she was the original "intended" of Orlando G. Thomas, who about 1879 came from Mo. to marry her, but he fell in love with her sister, Julia, to whom Jennie gave all her wedding clothes.
- iv. Nannie, b. 1851; d. young.
- v. Julia Franklin, b. 23 Sept. 1853; d. 13 Sept. 1889; mar. Orlando G. Thomas; see No. 320.

139 JAMES WILLIAMS BOSTON, son of James A. (68) and Sally Boston, born Somerset Co., Md., probably at "Cokesbury," 14 Dec. 1814; died Cascade, Montana, 3 Sept. 1884; mar. 1st (probably in Louisiana, about 1843) Eliza Jane Street, born 13 Mar. 1820; died Carroll Co., Mo. 6 May 1854; mar. 2nd (Carroll Co. 8 Apr. 1855) Elizabeth D. Smith, born in Kentucky 1831; died Cascade, Mont. 19 Oct. 1901. James apparently migrated from Maryland to Louisiana about 1842, but about 1847 he appears to have moved north and settled near his brother William near Wakenda, in Carroll Co., Mo. In 1854 with his brother he sold land in Somerset Co., Md., inherited from their father (see above). Between 1867 and 1875 he was selling land in Carroll Co., preparatory to moving again (Carroll Co. Deeds 7:440, 8:301, 10:312, 28:577); the latest deed was dated 29 Nov. 1875. He was listed as head of a family in Grand River Township in 1860 and 1870 (Federal Census), described as a lawyer. At one time he was reportedly captain of a Mississippi River steamboat. According to tradition the family travelled up the Missouri River on a "side wheeler" as far as Ft. Benton, Montana, arriving 17 June 1878; then they walked most of the remaining distance to Chestnut Valley, where they settled.

Children (all but first two born Carroll Co., Mo., probably near Wakenda):

Olivet.

According to the 1860 census, Francis was an iron moulder, living in the 17th Ward of Baltimore. In his marriage license (1865) he is listed as a boiler maker, his wife as a seamstress. On 27 Apr. 1854 Samuel T. Landing of Worcester Co. purchased for $100 "Harris Choice" in Somerset Co. from Francis A. Boston and Elizabeth A. Boston, his wife, Samuel A. Boston and Anne Boston, his wife, and Nancy Boston, all of Baltimore; the land had formerly belonged to their father, James Boston (Som. Deeds LW 3:56), though Nancy must have been his widow, not his daughter.

Children, by first marriage (born Baltimore, Md.):

- i. Mary Eliza, b. 1847; d. c 2 Dec. 1852; bur. Mt. Olivet.
- ii. William Henry, b. Dec. 1849; d. c 23 Dec. 1852; bur. Mt. Olivet Cemetery.

144 WILLIAM BOSTON, son of James (69) and Anna (Finley) Boston, born Jefferson Co., Ky., probably near Goose Creek, north of Louisville, 14 July 1806; died near Comer, McLean Co., Ky. 18 Aug. 1862, buried in the Boston graveyard on Highway 136 near Rangers Ferry; mar. (Jefferson Co., Ky. 8 Aug. 1830) Virginia Oglesby, daughter of Micajah and Catherine (Phillips) Oglesby, who had originally come from Virginia and first settled in Oldham Co., Ky. Virginia was born in Jefferson Co., near Pewee Valley, 8 Aug. 1811; she died in Beech Grove, Ky., at the home of her son, C.O. Boston, 19 Feb. 1896.

William was administrator for his father's estate in 1833, and also for his brother Esau's estate, 1837-38 (Jeff. Co. Deeds 10:142, 12:325, 10:365). In the sale of Esau's effects William bought a brace of pistols ($9.00), a traveller's guide, a box of razors, and a pair of shoe brushes. On 17 Nov. 1834 he purchased from his wife's parents, for $850, 34 acres on the North Fork of Goose Creek, near the road from Louisville to Westport, and on 1 July, in settling his father's estate, he had bought from his brothers and sisters 26 acres in the "Pond Settlement," on the road from Louisville to the mouth of Salt River. On 1 Sept. William and Virginia sold this tract on Mill Creek, land described as "part of a tract of land purchased by James Boston, the father of the said William, of David L. Ward and lately divided into lots amongst the heirs of James Boston" (Jeff. Deeds 00:286, PP:440, NN:422).

On 31 Jan. 1843 Anna Boston, "by her attorney William Boston," her son, leased part of her land about 4 miles below Louisville on the Old Salt Run Road. On 3 Mar. 1846 William, still residing in Jefferson Co., with his brothers and sisters sold the land of their brother Isaac (27 acres for $800). On 20 Mar. 1850, William and Virginia, then of Daviess (soon to be McLean) Co., Ky., with his father's other heirs sold another tract, of 80 acres, including dwelling house, for $800 plus notes to Robert W. Miller (Jeff. Deeds 60:282, 75:615). In the summer of 1846 (according to family tradition) William with his family and his sister Rebecca Calloway and her husband migrated from Jefferson Co. down the Ohio River to Daviess Co., where on 29 Nov. 1845 William and Rebecca had bought from Littleberry Batchelor for $1100 land in the Horseshoe Bend of Green River, 363 acres for William, 207 for Rebecca (McLean Co. Deeds A:111). This farm was later sold to Stephen Ward, grandson of William's great-uncle, David Long Ward. The family lived a few months in a house on a neighboring farm until William could build on his own.

William was a veritable pioneer, for theirs was practically a home in the wilderness; physicians, churches, and schools were several miles away. William was a nursery man and truck gardener, but being frail he was unable to do hard farm labor. An invalid for several years before he died, he had his son Charles take the lead on the farm; he would call Charles into his room when he was bed-ridden and discuss the daily work on the farm.

William was a fine Greek scholar and reportedly translated a Greek Bible into English. Upon his marriage William was offered two slaves, a man and wife, as a wedding present, but he refused, saying he did not want to be bothered with them. When Virginia received her part from her father, Micajah's estate, she proposed investing it in buying more land, but William objected, saying he wanted neighbors; he had all the land he wanted; consequently the money slipped away on perishable goods. William named all his children himself and entered their names in his Bible, which has been preserved.

William and Virginia early in life were Methodists until they heard the preaching of Alexander Campbell, when they affiliated with the Disciples of Christ (Christian Church).

Virginia Oglesby Boston was a woman of strength and character. As a child she was taught to spin and weave; to her delight her father, coming home at night from his farm labor, would show great interest by asking her about her work and compliment her on the amount done. Later in life, as her husband's health failed, the rearing of the family became her personal responsibility. She spun and wove at night, knitting, sewing and cooking for her large family; then she would have to feed the stock and gather the corn by hand in the cold, sliding or holding on to one stalk of corn until she could push her feet on to reach another, and when she would return to the house she would find her baby wet, his garment frozen. Despite hardships, she was hale and hearty.

When Virginia Boston, for the sake of herself and her family under pioneer conditions, undertook the study of medical books, she began to be called upon in obstetrical work and eventually became a mid-wife, a profession she followed until she was quite old. Some women even preferred her to the physician. So long as she would go, she kept a mare always ready in the stable to answer calls, and she often rode at night when it was so dark and the path so narrow that she would have to hold her hand in front of her to push the limbs out of her face. For $6.00 she would attend cases and nurse the baby and mother until the latter could sit up. She kept her medical books and medicine chest as long as she lived. After her daughters married, and as she was practicing, she taught her son Johnnie to do the housework, and he could do the part of a fine hostess in her absence. Virginia was a great lover of flowers and was noted for the variety of flowers in her yard, both wild and cultivated. When she saw a flower different from what she had, she would try to add it to her collection. Her son could name all her flowers and delighted in showing them to her friends.

The story is told, when William Boston was wooing Virginia, he one day gave her a large beautiful apple. Since there was a widespread superstition that young men could induce young ladies to fall in love by means of a love powder, Virginia accepted the apple, but privately refused to eat it. After their marriage, when she told him of the incident, he was so deeply wounded to think she had not trusted him that she was sorry she had told him. When he proposed to her, she coyly gave him her answer by opening the Bible to the scriptural passage in which Nathan told David, "Thou art the man."

(Dates are from the family Bible in the possession of Mrs. Curtis A. Collins of Akron, Ohio. Other information was collected by the late Mrs. Georgia Boston Thorpe.)

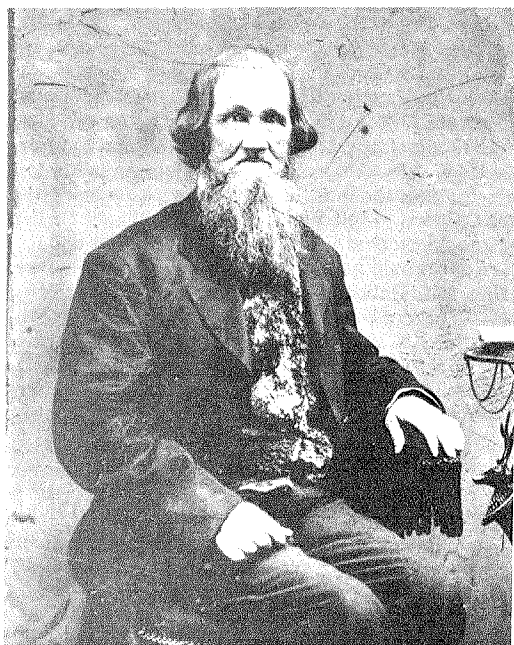

Children (born Ky., first ten in Jefferson Co., the others in Daviess Co.):

145 DAVID LONG WARD BOSTON, son of James (69) and Anna (Finley) Boston, born Jefferson Co., Ky., probably near Goose Creek, just north of Louisville, 29 Apr. 1817; died near Holden, Mo. 13 Sept. 1896; mar. 1st (St. Louis, Mo. 13 Oct. 1840, according to family Bible) Elizabeth Scantlin, daughter of John, born 12 Jan. 1821; died near Holden 21 Aug. 1859; mar. 2nd (Holden, 7 July 1861) Maria Wooten, daughter of Hardin Wooten and his wife, Jennie McGee (1809-1841); Maria was born near Louisville, 7 Jan. 1830; died near Holden, 11 Jan. 1916. All were buried in Gilbert Cemetery, near Holden and Kingsville.

In 1834 in Jefferson Co., Ky. David was one of his father's heirs to receive a share of land, 25 1/2 acres (Jeff. Co. Deeds OO:467). On 9 Mar. 1839 David sold to John Jones, tanner, this tract on the Salt River Road, for $500 down and $1000 by 10 Mar. 1841. In 1839, apparently, David moved to Missouri, settling on a 320 acre farm sixteen miles west of St. Louis, at Chesterfield, clearing out the farm and an orchard. When the last of his father's land was sold, 20 Mar. 1850, he and his wife were residing in St. Louis Co., Mo. In 1854 David with his family moved west to Johnson Co., Mo., settling on a farm six miles southwest of Holden.

In 1863, however, when General Order No. 11 was enforced (providing for gradual emancipation and an oath of loyalty for all office holders and voters) David with his family moved farther west to Miami Co., Nebraska, travelling in ox wagons. Maria Boston drove one of the wagons while the boys drove the stock. Near Brownville David rented a farm and sowed a crop, but for some reason did not stay to benefit from it. In Aug. 1863 they started to move to "Liberty Farm," a stage station on the "Ben Holliday's Overland Stage Line" but were warned of the danger of Indians there by a Mr. Helvy, who invited them to stay in one of his cabins until they could build their own. Here they remained on the Little Sandy Creek, 60 miles from "Liberty Farm," until spring 1864. On 4 Aug. 1864 the Indians began a raid not far east of Denver, massacring trainmen, killing ranchmen, and burning ranches. People fled for their lives. "Liberty Farm" was burned. David afterward saw as many as 8 persons buried in a single grave. One day when Maria and Mrs. Helvy were alone with some of the children, two Indians dressed as women rode toward the house. As soon as the women saw them, Maria gathered guns left by the soldiers and retired to the cabin, which had but one window, prepared for a fight. When the Indians came up, she presented her gun and ordered them to leave. They at once began to call out, "Oto, Oto, we are friendly Indians," but when one put his foot on the doorstep, she drew her gun, threatening to shoot; the Indians soon left.

In 1865 at the close of the Civil War David with his family returned to the farm in Missouri, leaving his stock with a Mr. Hall, who sold it and kept the money, at a loss of several thousand dollars to David. In Missouri he found that his walnut lumber collected before the war for building a house had been stolen. David remained on the Holden farm until his death.

He was a very precise man and a devoted Christian (a Southern Baptist), a man who commanded respect. (Family Bible records owned by Mrs. Richard H. Boston; other information supplied by David's granddaughter, Mrs. Bessie Coburn.)

Children (all born in Missouri, except ninth):

By first marriage (first six born Chesterfield, St. Louis Co.):

146 MARY ANN BOSTON, daughter of James (69) and Anna (Finley) Boston, born Jefferson Co., Ky., probably near Goose Creek, just north of Louisville, 7 Mar. 1819; died presumably at Beech Grove, Ky. 15 Dec. 1893; mar. (Jefferson Co. 10 Mar. 1836) WILLIAM PATRICK SMITH, son of -- Smith of Pa. and his wife, Kitty McKinney; he was born in Logan Co., Ky. 17 Mar. 1816; died Beech Grove, 10 Sept. 1895; both buried Mt. Zion Cemetery in Beech Grove. He was a farmer. William and Mary Ann moved to St. Louis Co., Mo. in 1836 soon after their marriage, settling in Chesterfield, but they moved back to Kentucky about 1854, settling near her brother, William Boston, in McLean Co. Their address in 1850, when James Boston's last property was sold, was given as St. Louis Co., Mo.

Children (first seven born Chesterfield, Mo., others in Ky.):

147 REBECCA BOSTON, daughter of James (69) and Anna (Finley) Boston, born Jefferson Co., Ky., probably near Goose Creek, 7 Feb. 1821; died Comer (near Beech Grove), Ky. 12 Oct. 1851; mar. (Jefferson Co. 25 Oct. 1842) SAMUEL CALLOWAY, born 1819; according to the marriage license, Rebecca was "of full age as proved by the oath of her brother William Boston." Samuel mar. 2nd Mary E., by whom he had Ella (b. Jan. 1860) and Robert W. (b. 1868). In the settlement of the estates of Rebecca's father and of her brother Esau, Rebecca in 1834 was awarded 28 acres (Jeff. Co. Deeds OO:444). There is a record of a payment of $185 in 1838 to her guardian, Anna Boston, and another record, of 19 Feb. 1846, indicates a payment of $6 to Anna Boston for Rebecca, a minor, for passage to St. Louis (Rebecca is described as "now Rebecca Caloway" (Jeff. Wills 10:365, 12:325, 357). In the final sale of her father's property, 20 Mar. 1850, Samuel and Rebecca Calloway were described as "of Daviess Co., Ky." (Jeff. Deeds 75:615). On 29 Nov. 1845 Rebecca with her brother William bought land in Daviess (later McLean) Co. and moved there. Two of her daughters are said to have died from drinking milk of cows that had eaten milkweed. Samuel Calloway was a farmer.

Children (first two born Jefferson Co., others presumably Daviess Co., Ky.):

- i. Anna B., b. 1842/3; d. before 1860.
- ii. Mary M., b. 1844/5; d. before 1860.

148 ELEANOR ("NELLY") BOSTON, daughter of James (69) and Anna (Finley) Boston, born Jefferson Co., Ky., probably at the Mill Creek farm, 16 Jan. 1823; died, probably near Worthville, Ky. 1860/62; mar. (about 1844) THOMAS I. DRISKELL, son probably of David Driskell, born 1819/20; died Carroll Co., Ky. before 19 Mar. 1887; he mar. 2nd (c1862) Rachael, by whom he had a son, Thomas F. (b. 1863/4) and a daughter, Emmarine (b. 1867/8; d. young); he mar. 3rd (Carroll Co. 1879) Sarah F. Furnish. He purchased, on 14 Apr. 1851, the undivided 3/4 of a tract (77 acres) on the waters of Williams Run for $1470 from James E. and Mary McDaniel, William and Louisa E. Anderson, and Harrison and Amanda Goodwin; Louisa and Amanda were described as part of the heirs of the late David Driskell (Carroll Co. Deeds 4:74).

On 10 Mar. 1887 I. H. Driskell and Thomas F. Driskell, sons of the late Thomas I. Driskell, conveyed to Sarah Driskell the undivided one-third interest in the farm lately owned by their father, about 87 acres, half a mile north of Worthville, which she then conveyed to I. H. Driskell for $375. On 8 July 1889 T. F. Driskell conveyed to Edgar B. Driskell, the "infant" son and heir of I. H. Driskell, deceased, for $1 "and the Love and affection he has for his nephew" his interest in the homestead of his father, Thomas I. Driskell, near Worthville (Carroll Co. Deeds 18:313-14, 460).

Evidence that Nelly Boston married Thomas Driskell is provided in the settlement of her father's estate, wherein Thomas and Nelly Driskell of Carroll Co. are among the heirs, 3 Mar. 1846 and 20 Mar. 1850 (Jeff. Co. Deeds 66:116, 75:615). And according to the 1850 Federal Census for Carroll Co., in the household of Thomas Driskell (#405) were Ellen (aged 24) and Isaac (aged 4).

Child (born near Worthville, Carroll Co., Ky.):

- i. Isaac H[enry?], b. 19 Nov. 1845; d. 24 June 1889; mar. Mary E. Malin; see No. 361.

149 JOSHUA MATHIS BOSTON, son of James (69) and Anna (Finley) Boston, born Jefferson Co., Ky., probably at the Mill Creek farm, 15 Feb. 1825; died near Gerald, in Gasconade Co., Mo., 28 June 1909; mar. 1st (Ky. ? c1845) Sarah Ann Wiseman, daughter of Thomas and Amanda (Phelps) Wiseman, born 12 July 1824; died Chesterfield, Mo. in May 1853, buried Bonhomme Presbyterian Cemetery there; mar. 2nd (St. Louis Co., Mo. 26 June 1855) Emily Fitzgerald, daughter of Washington Fitzgerald (b. Mason Co., Ky.) and his wife, Ann Hibler (daughter of William and Susanna [Johnston] Hibler; Emily was born St. Louis Co. 31 July 1834; died St. Louis, 23 Dec. 1922, buried Boeuff Presbyterian Cemetery, with Joshua, near Gerald, Mo.

In the settlement of his father's estate Joshua was awarded 26 acres in 1834 (Jeff. Co., Ky., Deeds OO:456). In 1838 Joshua's guardian, his mother, Anna Boston, was paid his share of his brother Esau's estate (Jeff. Wills 10:365, 12:325). Under date of 21 Feb. 1846 she was also paid $4 for Joshua, "a minor," for passage to St. Louis, yet on 3 Mar. 1846 Joshua and his wife, Sarah Ann, of Jefferson Co., for $8000, sold to Mary Ann Conner his 26 acres from his father, James (Jeff. Wills 12:356, Deeds 65:529). On 20 Mar. 1850 Joshua and his wife, Sarah Ann, were in St. Louis Co. (Jeff. Deeds 75:615). By the summer of 1846 Joshua had settled at Chesterfield, St. Louis Co., Mo., where he was a member of the Bonhomme Presbyterian Church. Probably in the summer of 1855, after his second marriage, he moved southwest into Gasconade Co., Mo., where he bought a farm near Bourbois and where he was a member of the Boeuff Presbyterian Church. He was a farmer. According to the 1880 Federal Census Joshua with his family was living in Gasconade Co., listed as #135 in Canaan Township; his father's birthplace was reported as Maryland.

256 JACOB EDWARD STEVENSON, son of Henry M. and Ann (Boston) Stevenson (109), born Newtown, Md. 20 Jan. 1842; died Pocomoke City (formerly Newtown) at 11:30 p. m. Christmas Day, 1926; mar. (Newtown, 21 Oct. 1863) Margaret Ann Grace Young, daughter of James H. and Sarah E. (Stevenson) Young (see BEN-STON and JONES families), born Newtown, 29 Sept. 1844; died Pocomoke, 9 Feb. 1926; both buried Methodist Protestant Cemetery.

According to his obituary Jacob was early in life apprenticed to William S. Dickinson to learn cabinet making, a business he followed all his life, combined later with undertaking and operation of a sewing machine agency. According to Eben Hearne in his history of Pocomoke, Jacob and his brother, James, in the 1860's were apprenticed to James T. Dickinson, undertaker, whose business they acquired in 1868.

An appreciative tribute by editor Edward J. Clarke, in the Worcester Democrat and The Ledger-Enterprise (1 Jan. 1927), described "Uncle Jacob" as occupying "a place in the big heart of the community second to none who ever lived here. He was so constituted [as] to draw people to himself, and that without any conscious effort, as to number his friends by the hundreds.... It has been frequently said that he had no enemies." Clarke continued by describing his "simple and abiding faith in humanity," his "intense brotherly love and affection.... He was never happier than when contributing to some one else's comfort and pleasure." A paragraph described his passionate fondness for flowers, and the article closed with praise for "his honesty, his loving kindness, his intensive optimism."

The Stevensons arranged funerals, as death certificates testify, for many near and distant relatives in the vicinity of Pocomoke, many who did not know they were members of the family.

274 ALFRED THOMAS BOSTON, son of Henry C. (115) and Leah (Adams) Boston, born Pitts Creek, Md. in 1840; died about 1879; mar. (Worc. Co. 16 Feb. 1864) Sally Ann Schofield, daughter of Elijah C. and Irena (Henderson) Schofield, born in or near Newtown, Md. about 1843; died, probably at Pitts Creek, before 28 Apr. 1885, when William M. Schofield was appointed guardian of her children, Olivia E., Elijah H., and Sallie J. Boston (Worc. Guardian Accts. TDP 1:184-86).

In 1869, after the death of his grandfather, A. Thomas Boston petitioned "that Henry Boston died, seized of certain lands" in answer to his petition, commissioners were appointed: Alfred D., Henry T., and Levin H. Merrill, and Urban White and John E. Brittingham, who reported that the real estate was not susceptible to division without loss; it was valued at $1609. A. Thomas Boston, "the eldest son," being 21, elected to take the whole and to pay the other parties their respective proportions, therefore, on 29 Nov. 1869 he was deeded the land, which he sold on 5 Oct. 1876 to Samuel K. Dennis for $1450, land which had been in his family for nearly a century and a half (Worc. Deeds ITM 1:151, 5:105). On 19 Mar. 1878 Alfred T. Boston secured a loan of $150 for which he issued a bill of sale to E. H. Clark of Newtown "for 10 sheep, 1 bay mare known as the Duer Mare, 1 wagon, 1 cow, also the proceeds of the strawberry crop growing on the premises" of Boston, the "said property to remain in the possession of said Boston so long as it pleases said Clark" (Worc. Deeds ITM 6:110). A. T. Boston was a farmer. He evidently died before 1880, for he is not listed in the census of that year.

275 JOSEPH LEVIN MILLS, son of John S. (119) and Mary A. (Scott) Mills, born Newtown, Md. 5 Feb. 1840; died Birmingham, Ala. 23 Dec. 1924; mar. (Worc. Co., Md. 20 Nov. 1862) Marietta Dickinson, daughter of James Tilghman and Mary Ann (Porter)

Dickinson (see ADAMS family), born Newtown, 7 Apr. 1844; died Brooklyn, Md. 20 Apr. 1899; both buried Methodist Protestant Cemetery, Pocomoke City (formerly Newtown), Md.

His mother having died eleven days after his birth and his father four years later, Joseph L. Mills was reared by his grandmother, Mrs. Leah Boston Mills, and for several years they lived in the household of her niece, Mrs. Anne Boston Stevenson (109) in Newtown. Joseph received his early education in private schools and academies, but because of poor health he discontinued his studies at 16 and for three years engaged in cabinet making for the exercise, in his leisure hours studying for the ministry with the Rev. J. K. Nichols.

Joseph was received into the Maryland Conference of the Methodist Protestant Church in 1860 and ordained in 1862. His first pastorate was in St. Michael's, Md., 1862-64, but ill health forced him to leave the ministry temporarily. In Newtown he engaged in teaching; in 1865 he organized the first public school there, with himself as principal and his wife as his assistant.

On 6 Jan. 1864 Joseph L. Mills, for $1550, sold to Levin A. Scott a tract of 147 acres held in part by Joseph from his father, John S. Mills (deceased), and deeded in part by his grandmother Leah Mills and his step-mother, Amelia E. Truitt, lands adjacent land of John P. Hargis on the road from Newtown to Horn Town, Va., near the Pitts Creek Presbyterian Church, about 4 1/2 miles from Newtown (Worc. Deeds GHR 1:47).

In 1866 Joseph returned to the ministry with a church in Salisbury, Md.; in 1874 he was transferred to Laurel, Del.; and in 1875 he was loaned by the Md. Conference to Montgomery, Ala., where he remained five years. He then served successively as pastor in Alexandria, Va. (1880-81), Frederick, Md. (1881-83), at 9th St. M. P. Church, Washington, D. C. (1883-87), Newark, N. J. (1887-89), Westminster, Md. (1889-93), then to St. James Circuit, near Chestertown, Md.; Brooklyn, Md.; S. Baltimore, and finally to Wye Circuit, near Centerville, Md., after which he returned to Montgomery, Ala., where he remained until retirement in 1914.

In 1878 he was awarded the degree of Doctor of Divinity by the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Alabama. He was a Mason and an Odd Fellow. He was a member of the Board of Trustees of the Md. Annual Conference; Secretary of the Baltimore Book Directory for several years; member and, at his retirement, President of the Faculty of Instruction of the Md. Conference; President of the Board of Governors of the Md. Conference and of the Westminster Theological Seminary. He was also representative a number of times to the General Conference for Maryland. His obituary in The Methodist Protestant of Jan. 7, 1925, praised him as "a man of splendid natural endowments . . . , a man of strong convictions, . . . of genial disposition, . . . a gentleman of the old school, courteous to everyone he met. He was a great pastor in his time. His people knew they had in him a friend and they delighted to welcome him to their homes. . . . He was intensely loyal to his church. . . . He had a fine voice, strong and deep. . . . When he was deeply moved, he was impassioned in his utterance. As a preacher, he was forceful and eloquent. . . . Having lived the life himself, he knew how to tell others how to live it."

(122) and Cecilia (Guyton) Boston, born Baltimore, Md. 31 Aug. 1863; died at his home, 148 Fifth Ave., New York City, 8 Mar. 1935; buried St. Paul's Church, Eastchester, Mt. Vernon, N. Y.; mar. (St. Mark's Church, W. Orange, N. J. 29 Sept. 1900) Ethel Gustava Lyon, daughter of Edward and Katherine (Taylor) Lyon, born New York City, 22 Apr. 1878.

Charles A. Boston attended Baltimore City College and Johns Hopkins University and received his LL. B. from the University of Maryland (1886). He was admitted to the bar of Md. that same year and in 1888 moved to New York, where he became for some time a member of the legal firm of Baldwin and Boston, but later he was a member of the firm of Hornblower, Miller and Garrison, with offices at 15 Broad St., New York, where he was a law partner of former Governor Nathan L. Miller. He was director and chairman of the Committee on Professional Ethics of the New York County Lawyers' Association, and later (1932-34) president of the Association. He was vice-president of the Society of Medical Jurisprudence, and in Nov. 1930 he was elected president of the American Bar Association, of which he had been a member since 1907. He was an intimate friend of Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes.

He was a writer and speaker on legal, constitutional, and medico-legal and ethical subjects and was one of the three permanent members of the Legal Advisory Board for the City of New York under the Selective Service Law and Regulations in World War I. According to his lengthy obituary in the New York Times, "He was one of the foremost champions of ethics within the legal profession. He advocated the introduction of an ethics oath like the Hippocratic oath of the medical profession. He could not understand why ethics should not be taught by law instructors, and said: 'Instruction in legal ethics is instruction in right professional conduct and begets adherence to a standard of propriety as a guide, and not a course in telling receptive but crafty youths how they may exercise their professional privileges to the promotion of injury and wrongdoing without encountering a specific rule to penalize it. The principles of legal ethics are the fruits of experience and have their roots deep in the past.' ... Mr. Boston frequently criticized what he considered to be unjust laws. For instance, he said that the New York State divorce law, permitting divorce only for adultery, was uncivilized, and he denounced 'purity laws' and 'heartless' administration of the immigration laws. [He] was attacked sharply by the Women's Christian Temperance Union when, addressing the convention of the American Bar Association at Atlantic City in 1931, he said that George Washington was a defender of whisky and an opponent of prohibition." His obituary also described many of his other numerous legal activities. He appeared in several issues of Who's Who in America.

C. O. Boston, unlike several of his brothers who fought for the North, never entered into the War of Secession, but remained at home taking care of dependents. He remained neutral in attitude, saying he "could not take arms against Uncle Sam," but he felt that the South should have been reimbursed for their slaves. He was the farmer of the family; when his father died (1862) he spent a year with his uncle, William Oglesby, in Daviess Co. learning farming methods. He was a frugal, industrious, strong, modern farmer. His pioneer two-story double log house, which was the popular type of that day, built on land inherited from his father, was replaced some 18 years later by a large, two-story modern brick house. His farm was well kept and very productive.

C. O. Boston was a Democrat in politics. He enjoyed considerable local influence, acting as trustee for the district school and as road overseer, serving on many juries in the county court, as director and stockholder in the McLean Co. Bank, and as Elder in the Christian Church. These details of his life he related to his daughter, Mrs. Thorpe, in 1925; the material is in the possession of his grandson, F. O. Townes.

Children, by second marriage (born near Beech Grove, McLean Co., Ky.):

341 ANDREW JACKSON BOSTON, son of William (144) and Virginia (Oglesby) Boston, born Jefferson Co., Ky. 2 Mar. 1844; died Mason, Tex. 4 Apr. 1922; mar. (Louisville, Ky. 9 May 1867, according to family record; no record in Louisville courthouse) Parthenia Tinsley, daughter of Ben Tinsley (b. 4 Nov. 1822; d. 26 Aug. 1865) and his wife, Julia Jane E. Watts (b. 18 June 1822; d. 16 Apr. 1848) of Yelvington, Ky.; she was born at Keokuk, Iowa, 5 May 1846; died Mason, Tex. 2 Aug. 1922. Andrew moved with his parents to Daviess (later McLean) Co. and grew up on his father's farm in the Horseshoe Bend of Green River, later helping to run the farm for his mother after his father's death. After his marriage he settled nearby in Beech Grove, where he was a grocer. In 1873 he moved his family to Burnet Co., Tex., and in 1875 to Mason Co., where he pre-empted a homestead of 320 acres. In 1899 he sold his farm and invested in a grocery business in Mason, but six months later, on 11 Jan. 1900, a fire destroyed the store; with no insurance, he suffered a total loss. Three years later he bought another farm five miles northeast of Mason, but drought resulted in poor crops. Discouraged, he returned to Mason, where he engaged in the feed business, later the freight business.
